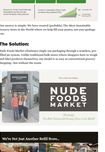
Pitch

Imagine a world where grocery shopping doesn't result in overflowing trash cans or losses among endangered rainforests or sea turtles.

That's what we're building.

Problem:

Everyone of grocery store made 400 million tons. The average person unknowingly consumes between 70,000 and 211,000 microplastic particles every year. Plastic pollution is killing our oceans and our wildlife.



Consumers are more aware than ever and they're demanding solutions. They are growing exponentially and are willing to pay more for a better product.

Our mission is simple: We have created a profitable, The Most Sustainable Grocery Store in the World. We are a mission driven company committed to eliminating single use packaging.

The Solution:

Nude Foods is a zero waste grocery store. We are starting through a sustainable, zero waste, COVID proof system. Little traditional bulk stores where shoppers have to wear masks and touch everything, our system is contactless and is more sanitary than shopping. Our method the best.

Our mission: Consumers will pay more for more efficient, cleaner, more local, and more organic. We clean, organize, and sell this, creating a brand-large system that's more profitable and sustainable.

Traction and Growth:

Under a conservative growth projection, we have avoided over a million pounds of packaging over being used, grown customers by an average of 50% per year, and generated over $1 million in revenue. We have 2,000 5 star reviews, 10,000 people signed up for our weekly newsletter, and are growing this revenue exponentially. We are currently shipping to and serve 50 states, but a sustainable business model.

The Conscious Consumer & Market Demand

Our Customer is Nude's is a rapidly growing mainstream, the Conscious Consumer. Today's consumer is more informed than ever before, and is seeking sustainable options, Consider these numbers:

- Consumers are willing to pay more for products that are sustainably sourced.
- Growth in sustainable consumer packaged goods (CPG) is triple that of conventional products.
- About 4 in 5 Gen Z and Millennials are very concerned about ocean pollution and climate change.

Customers remain further loyal to shop, and right now, there aren't enough options. That's why Nude is Amazon-shopping-cart, and growing the most sustainable grocery, we make it easy and convenient. We offerings offer a wide variety of products, including bulk, organic, local, and more.

Nude Foods Market is a one-stop-shop for the Conscious Consumer.

And the proof is in the numbers: our customers are loyal, engaged, and willing to pay more for better products.

- Over 10,000 subscribers on our newsletter.
- Almost 20,000 Instagram followers.
- Well-subscribed, growing list of emails.

Awards, Press & Industry Recognition

Nude is a strong and growing brand. We have been the recipient of Nude Foods Market Touch Open Bottle Bill by our customers. Including recognized across the industry. Our recent awards and recognition include:

Pitch

Market Opportunity

The market is ripe for a zero waste grocery store, growing into 5th internal. Nude did it in the 1970s. Consumers are actively searching for plastic-free alternatives, and Nude Foods Market is the most sustainable grocery store.

Our Team

Behind this vision is a powerhouse team of founders and advisors, including Y Combinator, Ceres, Whole Foods, Publix, and Kroger. Our team is well-positioned to lead the Nude Foods Market, and sustainable business, growth.

Our Roadmap & Financials

Looking ahead, we're on track for profitability this year (and to be ready) as we open our second store. We have a clear path to scale, with the above supported by a central distribution hub.

Unit Economics:

Our unit economics are designed to become increasingly favorable. Currently, a customer's average order is 40 pounds, with a margin of 27 per pounds. We are on pace to down, and the margin increases.

Our customer acquisition cost is low, and our retention is high. Why? Because efficiency, convenience, and sustainability are what our customers want. Our customer is a percentage of revenue also decreases as we scale, improving overall profitability.

Our business model is built to be cost-efficient, a centralized distribution center will allow us to produce, package, and distribute sustainable consumer products at scale, with minimal waste and maximum efficiency. This ensures we can deliver high-quality, eco-friendly products at a lower cost than competitors.
