About

Versatile entrepreneur, investor, and storyteller focused on energy and climate transition. Multi-disciplinary and experienced across multiple sectors, I am a firm believer that solutions that improve user experience and durably remove carbon will be critical components of economic growth and positive climate impact in the coming years.

Founder and CEO at Little Leaf Farms, LLC

October 21, 2010, Paul was senior to Sameer but didn't manage Sameer directly

"I got to know Sameer after my Company acquired Think-21, which he co-founded and ran. While he was with Harvest, Sameer had a strong eye for identifying and sourcing new business opportunities. He is adept at developing new markets in an important, emerging clean technology sector. Sameer has keen instincts and is able to synthesize information quickly, allowing him to understand the big picl ...see more

Sustainable Investor

August 12, 2010, Kate managed Sameer directly

Sameer is passionate, hard-working, smart, and a pleasure to work with. He is a good marketer, visionary, and communicator. In the past year at Harvest Power he garnered enthusiasm in various markets for high solids anaerobic digestion and conducted excellent research and analysis on the complex dynamics in these markets.

Retired / consultant

June 22, 2009, Sameer was David's client

Sameer and I worked together to develop the marketing for Think21, and I found him both tenacious and very diligent. Sameer possesses great vision and focus, his energy and drive enable him to maintain the pace that is required to develop successful start-ups. I am sure Think21 will do well with his passion and insight.
