Respond to each question in each paragraph of this part. Set forth each question and any notes, but not any instructions thereto, in their entirety. If disclosure in response to any question is responsive to one or more other questions, it is not necessary to repeat the disclosure. If a question or series of questions is inapplicable or the response is available elsewhere in the Form, either state that it is inapplicable, include a cross-reference to the responsive disclosure, or omit the question or series of questions.

Do not discuss any future performance or other anticipated event unless you have a reasonable basis to believe that it will actually occur within the foreseeable future. RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

Disruptions in the Company's manufacturers' systems or losses of manufacturing certifications could adversely affect sales and customer relationships. Any significant disruptions in the Company's operations for any reason, including regulatory requirements, lost certifications, licenses or registrations, power interruptions, fires, hurricanes, war or threats of terrorism, could disrupt our manufacture of products adversely affecting sales and customer products, adversely affecting sales and customer relationships.

Regulatory matters governing our industry could have a significant negative effect on our business. The Company operates in a market subject to governmental regulation. The United States Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau regulates the manufacture of distilled spirits on the Federal level, and requires the maintenance of a bond before operations begin and while operations continue. The Colorado Department of Revenue, Liquor and Tobacco Enforcement Division regulates the manufacture and sale of distilled spirits on the State level, and should the Company choose to market either craft distilled spirits in other states in the future or ship its spirits to other states, then such activity would also be governed by the laws of the applicable states. The Company's projections assume that the Company will be successful in maintaining the requisite licensure. Should the Company violate any of the licensing requirements from time to time, this could prove very costly to the Company and might result in closure of the business. In addition, the Company cannot predict whether new legislation or regulation governing its activities will be enacted by legislative bodies or promulgated by agencies regulating our activities, or what the effect of any such legislation or regulation on our business would be. Any such developments could, however, change or limit the way the Company does business, result in the imposition of additional taxes and/or costs, require reformulation of some products to meet new standards, additional or different labeling or other new requirements. Any such new legislation or regulation, including changes to existing laws and regulations, could have a material adverse effect on our financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

The Company relies on third-party suppliers for ingredients that it cannot manufacture; Cost of expansion of the Distillery may exceed projections. The Company purchases from third-party suppliers all the ingredients for its products. While the Company believes these ingredients to generally be abundant, suppliers and vendors may not provide these ingredients and products in the quantities requested, in a timely manner or at a price we are willing to pay. An unexpected interruption of supply could materially adversely affect our financial position, results of operations or cash flows. An interruption in supply of key ingredients or packaging components (such as bottles and barrels) that we are unable to remedy could result in our inability to deliver our products on a timely basis, which, in turn, could have a material adverse effect on our financial position, results of operations or cash flows. The anticipated cost of equipment, installation, design and build out of the expansion of the facility may be higher than projected. While Management believes that it has an accurate estimate of the remaining costs to expand the Distillery, there is always a risk that there will be further cost or delay, which could adversely impact investment in the Company.

The Company may incur material product liability claims, which could increase its costs and adversely affect its reputation, revenues and results of operations. As a manufacturer and distributor of products designed for human consumption, the Company may be subject to product liability claims if the use of its products is alleged to have resulted in illness, injury or death. Its ingredients are classified as food items and generally are not subject to pre-market regulatory approval or clearance other than regulation as sale of alcoholic beverages. The Company's products could contain contaminated substances. Any product liability claim against the Company could result in increased costs and could adversely affect its reputation with customers, which in turn could adversely affect its business, results of operations, financial condition and value of its equity

With limited resources, the Company cannot assure you that it will effectively manage our growth. The Company's growth and expansion plan, which includes expanding product offerings, increasing its customers' base, and ultimately opening additional facilities, requires significant management time and operational and financial resources. There is no assurance that the Company has the operational and financial resources to manage its growth. Failure to adequately manage its growth could have a material adverse effect on business, results of operations and financial condition.

The Company is exposed to risks of operating a retail establishment, as well as risks related to borrowing monies and leasing property.

The tasting room is a retail establishment. There is a risk of injury to its patrons due to disorderly conduct or natural calamity either on premise or due to intoxication while operating a motor vehicle after leaving the tasting room. While the Company maintains general liability insurance and dram shop insurance, there can be no assurances that such insurance coverage will cover all risks or that the amount of insurance will cover all losses for which the Company may be held responsible. The Company has obtained a $350,000 line of credit from Chase Bank, NA, and must adhere to the covenants of its loan agreement as well as pay back the line of credit over time. Any business that is subject to leverage runs the risk that the added debt service obligations of the leverage could impair its ability to operate. In addition, the loan agreement prohibits incurring of additional indebtedness, which could limit the ability to borrow additional monies as necessary to keep the operations in place. The lender has provided the Company verbal assurances that the investor notes will not violate the additional borrowing restrictions, but as of the date of this Memorandum the Company has not received written confirmation to the same. The Company has issued substantial amounts of Investor Notes, Whiskey Notes, one large individual note and has also incurred credit card debt. Failure to generate sufficient capital when these obligations come due to pay them off could result in insolvency for the Company. In addition, should the Company be able to roll over any indebtedness when due, the cost of effecting such a roll over may adversely impact the Company. Similar to the above debt financing is that with a lease in place the Company has an ongoing obligation to remain current with respect to its rent and other lease obligations. Breach of the lease could result in loss of the business.

Since December 31, 2020 the spread of COVID-19 has severely impacted many local economies around the globe.

In many countries, businesses are being forced to cease or limit operations for long or indefinite periods of time. Measures taken to contain the spread of the virus, including travel bans, quarantines, social distancing, and closures of non-essential services have triggered significant disruptions to businesses worldwide, resulting in an economic slowdown. Global stock markets have also experienced great volatility and a significant weakening. Governments and central banks have responded with monetary and fiscal interventions to stabilize economic conditions. The duration and impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, as well as the effectiveness of government and central bank responses remains unclear currently. It is not possible to reliably estimate the duration and severity of these consequences, as well as their impact on the financial position and results of the Company for future periods.

The Company operates in a highly competitive industry, and failure to compete effectively could adversely affect market share, financial condition and growth prospects. The local and national craft distillery markets (both retail establishments and distribution of distilled spirits through wholesale and retail sale of bottled spirits) are highly fragmented. The principal elements of competition in the industry are product quality, price, selection and distribution channel offerings. Due to the numerous distilleries, products and brands in the market, as well as the additional competition caused by lower priced national, regional and local brands, it is becoming increasingly difficult to get name recognition and to differentiate one's products in the market or obtain distribution. The Company may not be able to compete effectively and its attempt to do so may require it to increase marketing and/or reduce prices, which may result in lower margins. Failure to effectively compete could adversely affect market share, revenues and growth prospects.

Investors will experience immediate and substantial dilution in the net tangible book value of the Membership Interests purchased in this Offering. Investors will experience immediate and substantial dilution because the price paid in this Offering will be substantially greater than the net tangible book value per interest of the Membership Interests acquired. This dilution is due in large part to the fact that Common Members paid no cash for their Membership Interests.

The amount and timing of distributions, if any, may vary. There are many factors that can affect the availability and timing of cash distributions paid to Members such as operating expense levels, as well as many other variables. The Company may not generate sufficient Operating Proceeds to pay any distributions to Members. The actual amount and timing of distributions, if any, will be determined by its Managers in their discretion, based on analysis of actual and expected cash flow, capital expenditures and investments, as well as general financial conditions. In addition, to the extent the Company invests in development of products that have significant capital requirements, inventory that requires aging or to fund expansion to additional facilities or expansion of distribution of products, its ability to make distributions may be negatively impacted, especially while raising capital and acquiring assets. If the Company cannot generate sufficient Operating Proceeds to fully fund distributions during any given period, some or all of its distributions for any period may be paid from retained cash flow or from cash flow from investing activities, including the net proceeds from the sale of assets.

Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team. The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel we require to successfully grow our business.

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 8: Avoid generalized statements and include only those factors that are unique to the issuer. Discussion should be tailored to the issuer's business and the offering and should not repeat the factors addressed in the legends set forth above. No specific number of risk factors is required to be identified.

The Offering

USE OF FUNDS

9. What is the purpose of this offering?

The Company intends to use the net proceeds of this offering for working capital and general corporate purposes, which includes the specific items listed in Item 10 below. While the Company expects to use the net proceeds from the Offering in the manner described above, it cannot specify with certainty the particular uses of the net proceeds that it will receive from this Offering. Accordingly, the Company will have broad discretion in using these proceeds.

10. How does the issuer intend to use the proceeds of this offering?

If we raise: $100,003

Use of Proceeds: 92.5% towards expansion of wholesale markets, 7.5% towards Wefunder fees

If we raise: $617,999

Use of Proceeds: 60.7% to expansion construction, 28% to working capital and debt reduction, 3.8% towards additional distillery assistant, 7.5% towards Wefunder fees

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 10: An issuer must provide a reasonably detailed description of any intended use of proceeds, such that investors are provided with an adequate amount of information to understand how the offering proceeds will be used. If an issuer has identified a range of possible uses, the issuer should identify and describe each probable use and the factors the issuer may consider in allocating proceeds among the potential uses. If the issuer will accept proceeds in excess of the target offering amount, the issuer must describe the purpose, method for allocating oversubscriptions, and intended use of the excess proceeds with similar specificity. Please include all potential uses of the proceeds of the offering, including any that may apply only in the case of oversubscriptions. If you do not do so, you may later be required to amend your Form C. Wefunder is not responsible for any failure by you to describe a potential use of offering proceeds.

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment).

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned.

An Investor's right to cancel. An Investor may cancel his or her investment commitment at any time until 48 hours prior to the offering deadline.

If there is a material change to the terms of the offering or the information provided to the Investor about the offering and/or the Company, the Investor will be provided notice of the change and must re-confirm his or her investment commitment within five business days of receipt of the notice. If the Investor does not reconfirm, he or she will receive notifications disclosing that the commitment was cancelled, the reason for the cancellation, and the refund amount that the investor is required to receive. If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the Investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the Investor's funds will be returned within five business days.

Within five business days of cancellation of an offering by the Company, the Company will give each investor notification of the cancellation, disclose the reason for the cancellation, identify the refund amount the Investor will receive, and refund the Investor's funds.

The Company's right to cancel. The Investment Agreement you will execute with us provides the Company the right to cancel for any reason before the offering deadline.

If the sum of the investment commitments from all investors does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the time of the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.

The Common Interests share pro rata with all Members of the Company other than the Class A and AA Members in all Operating Proceeds not allocable to the Class A and AA Preferred Interests, and shall be entitled to participate on a pro rata basis (based on number of all Membership Interests issued, regardless of class) with respect to Capital Transaction Proceeds, subject to the liquidation preference in favor of the Preferred Members as set forth in "Description of Capital Transaction Proceeds," below.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Agreement shall not be amended, and no action may be taken by the Managers, without the consent of each Member adversely affected if the amendment or action would: (i) modify the limited liability of a Member; (ii) alter the rights of any Member to receive Distributions specified in this Agreement; provided, however, that an alteration of Distributions shall be permitted (A) to the extent resulting from the issuance of additional Membership Interests in accordance with this Agreement or (B) if the alteration is applicable to all Members owning a class or series of Membership Interests (pro rata in accordance with relative Membership Interests of the class or series) if the amendment is approved by Members representing a majority of the Percentage Interests of the Members owning Membership Interests of the class or series; (iii) reduce the required vote or consent of the Members with respect to any matter in this Agreement; provided, however, that this Agreement may be amended to change the required vote or consent of Members with respect to a matter in this Agreement if the amendment is approved by Members constituting the required vote or consent theretofore required

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

None

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the unitholders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the value of the Investor's securities in the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, the unitholders may change the terms of the Operating Agreement for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The unitholders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. They may also vote to engage in new offerings and/or to register certain of the Company's securities in a way that negatively affects the value of the securities the Investor owns. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the Investor, leaving the Investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns. The unitholders have the right to redeem their securities at any time. Unitholders could decide to force the Company to redeem their securities at a time that is not favorable to the Investor and is damaging to the Company. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability. In cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional units, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risks described above, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

In the future, we will perform valuations of our common unit that take into account factors such as the following:

1. unrelated third party valuations of our common unit;
2. the price at which we sell other securities, such as convertible debt or preferred Unit, in light of the rights, preferences and privileges of our those securities relative to those of our common unit;
3. our results of operations, financial position and capital resources;
4. current business conditions and projections;
5. the lack of marketability of our common unit;
6. the hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management;
7. the introduction of new products;
8. the risk inherent in the development and expansion of our products;
9. our stage of development and material risks related to our business:

10. the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a sale of our company given the prevailing market conditions and the nature and history of our business;
11. industry trends and competitive environment;
12. trends in consumer spending, including consumer confidence;
13. overall economic indicators, including gross domestic product, employment, inflation and interest rates; and
14. the general economic outlook.

We will analyze factors such as those described above using a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value. For example, we may use methodologies that assume that businesses operating in the same industry will share similar characteristics and that the Company's value will correlate to those characteristics, and/or methodologies that compare transactions in similar securities issued by us that were conducted in the market.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company, and thus be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Management, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Management of the Company.

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional issuances of securities. Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from unitholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for unitholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company. If the Management of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its unitholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Some of the information contained in this discussion and analysis, including information regarding the strategy and plans for our business, includes forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. You should review the "Risk Factors" section for a discussion of important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the results described in or implied by the forward-looking statements contained in the following discussion and analysis.

Overview

A Denver distillery making #everydamndrop in house. Fuel our growth into new markets!

Distillation is this beautiful balance of science, art, culinary, and chemistry. Getting nerdy into the details of the operation lets us control the flavor profiles of the spirit. Seeing that spirit go into bottles and then watching our patrons enjoy that drink with each other is the greatest reward we could ask for. Bonding over a good drink.

The Block Distilling Co. is a craft distillery in Denver, CO that makes all of our spirits in house. We make seasonal gin, whiskey, bourbon, vodka, liqueurs, and brandies. We run an onsite tasting room where we sell craft cocktails and bottles. We also self distribute our spirits to Colorado bars, restaurants, and liquor stores.

Milestones

The Block Distilling Company, LLC was incorporated in the State of Colorado in August 2015.

Since then, we have:

- 🥃 Raised $3.4M from angel investors.
- 🥃 Grew double digits 5 out of 6 years. Never had a down year.

- 🥃 Until 2023 demand always outpaced production. Now the volume is there to expand!
- 🥃 This round will focus on expansion outside of Colorado and into 6-10 states! Already underway.
- 🥃 $5.2M in sales since opening. Sold over 300,000 drinks & 100,000 bottles since opening.
- 🥃 All spirits have received prestigious awards by only top rated competitions (SWSC & Ascot)
- 🥃 Family owned, crafted, and operated.

Related Party Transaction

Refer to Question 26 of this Form C for disclosure of all related party transactions.

Liquidity & Capital Resources

To-date, the company has been financed with $1,931,642 in debt and $2,847,712 in equity.

After the conclusion of this Offering, should we hit our minimum funding target, our projected runway is 24 months before we need to raise further capital.

We plan to use the proceeds as set forth in this Form C under "Use of Funds". We don't have any other sources of capital in the immediate future.

We will likely require additional financing in excess of the proceeds from the Offering in order to perform operations over the lifetime of the Company. We plan to raise capital in 24 months. Except as otherwise described in this Form C, we do not have additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the offering. Because of the complexities and uncertainties in establishing a new business strategy, it is not possible to adequately project whether the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to enable us to implement our strategy. This complexity and uncertainty will be increased if less than the maximum amount of securities offered in this offering is sold. The Company intends to raise additional capital in the future from investors. Although capital may be available for early-stage companies, there is no guarantee that the Company will receive any investments from investors.

Runway & Short/Mid term Expenses

The Block Distilling Company, LLC cash in hand is $225,000, as of March 2024. Over the last three months, revenues have averaged $90,000/month, cost of goods sold has averaged $22,000/month, and operational expenses have averaged $110,000/month, for an average burn rate of $42,000 per month. Our intent is to be profitable in 12 months.

The Block completed a production expansion project in March of 2023 that increased potential volumes 6x the previous capacity putting the distillery in the 10 largest distilleries in the state of Colorado (over 100 total). The Block secured a loan from the Denver Economic Development Office.

The Block expects revenues to be over $750k total for the next 6 months generated by expansion into new markets outside Colorado and introduction of new products. The Block expects expenses to be approximately $750k as well putting the company at break even.

The Block is not profitable yet. Previous raises have always been used for production expansion because the capacity was not large enough to fuel the growth the company needed. Now that the equipment is operable and the construction is complete The Block now has the volume needed to supply the demand. This raise will provide the capital needed to increase sales to achieve profitability. A minimum of $300k is required to achieve profitability in 2024.

The Block will also be accepting investment through a simultaneous Reg D raise under the same terms as the WeFunder raise. This will cover the short term burn required throughout the campaign and allow the company to begin implementing the market expansion.

All projections in the above narrative are forward-looking and not guaranteed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO QUESTION 28: The discussion must cover each year for which financial statements are provided. For issuers with no prior operating history, the discussion should focus on financial milestones and operational, liquidity and other challenges. For issuers with an operating history, the discussion should focus on whether historical results and cash flows are representative of what investors should expect in the future. Take into account the proceeds of the offering and any other known or pending sources of capital. Discuss how the proceeds from the offering will affect liquidity, whether receiving these funds and any other additional funds is necessary to the viability of the business, and how quickly the issuer anticipates using its available cash. Describe the other available sources of capital to the business, such as lines of credit or required contributions by shareholders. References to the issuer in this Question 28 and these instructions refer to the issuer and its predecessors, if any.

OTHER MATERIAL INFORMATION

31. In addition to the information expressly required to be included in this Form, include:

- (1) any other material information presented to investors; and
- (2) such further material information, if any, as may be necessary to make the required statements, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

The Company is using the services of XX as part of its offering. XX is comprised of XX Investments, LLC, XX Team LLC, and the Lead Investors who provide services on behalf of XX Team LLC. The services of XX are available to companies that offer securities through Wefunder Portal LLC and to investors who invest in such companies through Wefunder Portal, but XX is not affiliated with Wefunder Portal or its affiliates.

XX Investments is the Company's transfer agent and also acts as custodian, paying agent, and proxy agent on behalf of all investors that enter into the Custodial and Voting Agreement with XX Investments through the Wefunder Portal website ("Investors"). XX Investments holds legal title to the securities the Company issues through Wefunder Portal (which are uncertificated) on behalf of Investors. Investors, in turn, hold the beneficial interests in the Company's securities. XX Investments keeps track of each Investor's beneficial ownership interest and makes any distributions to the Investors (or other parties, as directed by the Investors).

In addition to the above services, at the direction of XX Team, XX Investments votes the securities and take any other actions in connection with such voting on behalf of the Investors. XX Investments acts at the direction of XX Team, because XX Team holds a power of attorney from each Investor that has entered into the Investor Agreement to make voting decisions on behalf of that Investor. XX Investments will not charge Investors for its services. XX Investments does charge the Company $1,000/year for services; however, those fees may be paid by Wefunder Inc. on behalf of the Company.

As noted, XX Team holds a power of attorney from each Investor that has entered into the Investor Agreement to make voting decisions on behalf of that Investor. Pursuant to the power of attorney, XX Team will make voting decisions and then direct XX Investments to vote and take any other actions in connection with the voting on Investors' behalf. XX

Team will act, with respect to the Company, through our Lead Investor, who is a representative of XX Team. As compensation for its voting services, each Investor authorizes XX Investments to distribute to XX Team 10% of any distributions the Investor would otherwise receive from the Company. XX Team will share its compensation with our Lead Investor. XX Team, through our Lead Investor, may also provide consulting services to the Company and may be compensated for these services by the Company; although, fees owed by the Company may be paid by Wefunder Inc. XX Team will share its consulting compensation with our Lead Investor.

The Lead Investor is an experienced investor that we choose to act in the role of Lead Investor, both on behalf of the Company and on behalf of Investors. As noted, the Lead Investor will be a representative of XX Team and will share in compensation that XX Team receives from the Company (or Wefunder Inc. on the Company behalf) or from Investors. The Lead Investor will be chosen by the Company and approved by Wefunder Inc., and the identity of the Lead Investor must be disclosed to Investors before Investors make a final investment decision to purchase the Company's securities. Investors will receive disclosure regarding all fees that may be received by the Lead Investor. In addition to the fees described above, the Lead Investor may receive compensation if, in the future, Wefunder Advisors LLC forms a special purpose vehicle ("SPV") for the purpose of investing in a non-Regulation Crowdfunding offering of the Company. In such a circumstance, the Lead Investor may act as a portfolio manager for that SPV (and as a supervised person of Wefunder Advisors) and may be compensated through that role. Although the Lead Investor may act in multiple roles and be compensated from multiple parties, the Lead Investor's goal is to maximize the value of the Company and therefore maximize the value of the Company's securities. As a result, the Lead Investor's interests should always be aligned with those of the Investors.

Investors that wish to purchase the Company's securities through Wefunder Portal must agree to (1) hire XX Investments to serve as custodian, paying agent, and proxy agent with respect to the Company's securities; (2) give a power of attorney to XX Team to make all voting decisions with respect to the Company's securities; and (3) direct XX Investments to share 10% of the Investor's distribution from the Company with XX Team. The Company may waive these requirements for certain investors with whom the Company has a pre-existing relationship.

The XX arrangement described above is intended to benefit the Company by allowing the Company to reflect one investor of its capitalization table (XX Investments) and by simplifying the voting process with respect to the Company's securities by having one entity (XX Team), through one person (the Lead Investor), make all voting decisions and having one entity (XX Investments) carry out XX Team's voting instruments and any take any related actions. The XX arrangement also is intended to benefit Investors by providing the services of an experienced Lead Investor (acting on behalf of XX Team) who is expected to make value-maximizing decisions regarding Investors' securities. XX Team (acting through the Lead Investor) may further benefit both the Company and Investors by providing consulting services to the Company that are intended to maximize both the value of the Company's business and also the value of its securities.
