("AFFL", the "Company," "we," "us", or "our"), is offering on a best efforts basis up to $4,100,000 worth of Series A-2 Preferred Stock (the "Offering") of the Company (the "Securities"). Purchasers of Securities are sometimes referred to herein as "Purchasers". The minimum target offering is $25,000 (the "Target Amount"). Unless the Company raises at least the Target Amount by May 1, 2022 (the "Offering Deadline"), no Securities will be sold in this Offering, investment commitments will be cancelled, and committed funds will be returned. The Company will accept oversubscriptions in excess of the Target Amount for the Offering up to $4,100,000 (the "Maximum Amount") on a first come, first served basis. If the Company reaches its Target Amount prior to May 1, 2022, the Company may conduct the first of multiple closings, provided that the Offering has been posted for 21 days and that investors who have committed funds will be provided notice five business days prior to the close. The minimum amount of Securities that can be purchased is $100 per Purchaser (which may be waived by the Company, in its sole and absolute discretion). The offer made hereby is subject to modification, prior sale and withdrawal at any time.

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this Offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

RISK FACTORS

The SEC requires the Company to identify risks that are specific to its business and its financial condition. The Company is still subject to all the same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking). Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently more risky than more developed companies. You should consider general risks as well as specific risks when deciding whether to invest.

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

Projected financial data is included in this Form C; projections are frequently inaccurate. We include projected financial data in our investor deck. Those projected results will only be achieved if the assumptions they are based on are correct. There are many reasons why the assumptions could be inaccurate, including customer acceptance of our products, competition, general economic conditions and our own inability to execute our plans. Potential investors should take the assumptions in consideration when reading those projections, and consider whether they think they are reasonable.

The development and commercialization of the Company's products and services are highly competitive. It faces competition with respect to any products and services that it may seek to develop or commercialize in the future. Its competitors include major companies worldwide. The sports entertainment market is an emerging industry where new competitors are entering the market frequently. Many of the Company's competitors have significantly greater financial, technical and human resources and may have superior expertise in research and development and marketing approved services and thus may be better equipped than the Company to develop and commercialize services. These competitors also compete with the Company in recruiting and retaining qualified personnel and acquiring technologies. Smaller or early stage companies may also prove to be significant competitors, particularly through collaborative arrangements with large and established companies. Accordingly, the Company's competitors may commercialize products more rapidly or effectively than the Company is able to, which would adversely affect its competitive position, the likelihood that its services will achieve initial market acceptance and its ability to generate meaningful additional revenues from its products and services.

The Company's expenses will significantly increase as they seek to execute their current business model. The company will be ramping up cash burn to execute on its strategy to launch pro teams, promote revenue growth, further develop R&D, and fund other Company operations after the raise. Doing so could require significant effort and expense or may not be feasible.

The Company projects aggressive growth in 2023. If these assumptions are wrong and the projections regarding market penetration are too aggressive, then the financial forecast may overstate the Company's overall viability. In addition, the forward-looking statements are only predictions. The Company has based these forward-looking statements largely on its current expectations and projections about future events and financial trends that it believes may affect its business, financial condition and results of operations. Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other important factors that may cause actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements.

The outbreak of the novel coronavirus, COVID-19, has adversely impacted global commercial activity and contributed to significant declines and volatility in financial markets. The coronavirus pandemic and government responses are creating disruption in global supply chains and adversely impacting many industries. The outbreak could have a continued material adverse impact on economic and market conditions and trigger a period of global economic slowdown. The rapid development and fluidity of this situation precludes any prediction as to the ultimate material adverse impact of the novel coronavirus. Nevertheless, the novel coronavirus presents material uncertainty and risk with respect to the Funds, their performance, and their financial results.

The financial statements include a "going concern" note. As shown in the accompanying financial statements, the Company incurred a net loss of $1,881,740 during the year ended December 31, 2020, and as of that date, the Company's net deficit was $7,986,953. In addition, the Company had a cash flow deficit from operating activities of $709,275. Those factors create a substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for the year following the date the financial statements are available to be issued. The Company's management has evaluated these conditions and has proposed a plan to improve their cash flows by starting their regular business operations and raising additional financing. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern and meet its obligations as they become due may be precluded by their inability to raise capital. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.

Beginning in July 2018, the Company entered into credit agreements to issue unsecured convertible notes (the "2018 Notes"). Upon issuance, the 2018 Notes had a stated interest rate of 1.5% per month (18% per annum). In January 2019, the 2018 Notes were amended to increase the interest rate to 2% per month (24% per annum).

Beginning in March 2019, the Company entered into credit agreements to issue unsecured convertible notes (the “2019 Notes”). Upon issuance, the 2019 Notes had a stated interest rate of 2% per month (24% per annum). Interest on the 2018 Notes and the 2019 Notes (collectively referred to herein as the “Convertible Notes”) is payable monthly in arrears and is not payable in cash; rather, all interest is payable in the form of warrants exercisable into Preferred Stock of the Company. The number of warrants accruing each month is based on the value of the interest owed by the Company divided by the price of the Preferred Stock at the end of each month. As of December 31, 2020 and 2019, accrued interest in the amount of $2,049,941 and $1,089,941 related to 7,467,804 and 3,143,484 Preferred Stock on an as converted basis, respectively, were not yet issued related to the 2018 Notes. As of December 31, 2020 and 2019, accrued interest in the amount of $330,602 and $138,602 related to 1,425,297 and 560,445 Preferred Stock on an as converted basis, respectively, were not yet issued related to the 2019 Notes.

At the option of each lender, the Convertible Notes may be converted into Preferred Stock on January 1, 2022 or any date thereafter so long as the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Convertible Notes exceeds zero. Each lender also may convert the aggregate principal balance of the Convertible Notes to Preferred Stock in lieu of receipt of a prepayment of principal from the Company. The conversion rate is 0.72 Preferred Stock per dollar of outstanding principal of the Convertible Notes. The Convertible Notes mature on December 31, 2022 with no principal payments due prior to maturity.

As of December 31, 2020 and 2019, the Company had outstanding debt under the 2018 Notes of $3,136,000. As of December 31, 2020 and 2019, the Company had outstanding debt under the 2019 Notes of $1,664,000.

Between August 2021 and December 2021, the Company entered a Bridge Loan totaling $925,000. The loan’s maturity date is December 31, 2024 and has a stated interest rate of 3% annually, payable in warrants. The loan is convertible at the price of the Series A-2 Preferred Stock beginning January 1, 2022. The loan holds a premium, the amount due at or before Maturity, or the amount that can be converted, is 110% of principal for Tranche 1 ($370,000) and 120% of Tranche 2 ($555,000), plus interest. Tranche I is to be prepaid back first; then Tranche II. As of March 1, 2022], we estimate the total outstanding amounts of the loans with interest is $925,000.

The Company has conducted Related Party Transactions. As of December 31, 2020 and 2019, $2,300,000 of the Convertible Notes were held by related parties of the Company. Additionally, in August 2021, the Company entered into a Bridge Loan totaling $925,000 with related parties of the Company.

The Company does not have formal advisor agreements in place with all listed advisors. Advisor agreements typically provide the expectation of the engagement, services, compensation, and other miscellaneous duties and rights of the Company and advisor. These individuals may not be compensated for their expertise and advice. There is no guarantee that advisor agreements will be entered into.

Risks Related to the Securities

The Series A-2 Preferred Stock will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Series A-2 Preferred Stock may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney. You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Series A-2 Preferred Stock. Because the Series A-2 Preferred Stock have not been registered under the 1933 Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Series A-2 Preferred Stock have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the 1933 Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Series A-2 Preferred Stock may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Series A-2 Preferred Stock in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

A majority of the Company is owned by a small number of owners. Prior to the Offering the Company’s current four individuals and/or entities beneficially own approximately 65.72% of the Company. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under Delaware law, these owners may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company’s management and policies. Some of these persons may have interests that are different from yours. For example, these owners may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, these owners could use their voting influence to maintain the Company's existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

Your ownership of the Series A-2 Preferred Stock may be subject to dilution. Purchasers of Series A-2 Preferred Stock will have a right of first refusal to participate in future securities offerings of the Company. If the Company conducts subsequent offerings of preferred membership interests or securities convertible into preferred membership interests, issues membership interests pursuant to a compensation or distribution reinvestment plan or otherwise issues additional membership interests, investors who purchase Series A-2 Preferred Stock in this Offering who do not participate in those other issuances will experience dilution in their percentage ownership of the Company's outstanding membership interests. Furthermore, Purchasers may experience a dilution in the value of their Series A-2 Preferred Stock depending on the terms and pricing of any future membership interest issuances (including the Series A-2 Preferred Stock being sold in this Offering) and the value of the Company's assets at the time of issuance.

The Securities will be equity interests in the Company and will not constitute indebtedness. The Securities will rank junior to all existing and future indebtedness and other non-equity claims on the Company with respect to assets available to satisfy claims on the Company, including in a liquidation of the Company. Additionally, unlike indebtedness, for which principal and interest would customarily be payable on specified due dates, there will be no specified payments of dividends with respect to the Securities and dividends are payable only if, when and as authorized and declared by the Company and depend on, among other matters, the Company's historical and projected results of operations, liquidity, cash flows, capital levels, financial condition, debt service requirements and other cash needs, financing covenants, applicable state law, federal and state regulatory prohibitions and other restrictions and any other factors the Company's board of managers deems relevant at the time. In addition, the terms of the Securities will not limit the amount of debt or other obligations the Company may incur in the future. Accordingly, the Company may incur substantial amounts of additional debt and other obligations that will rank senior to the Securities.

There can be no assurance that we will ever provide liquidity to Purchasers through either a sale of the Company or a registration of the Securities. There can be no assurance that any form of merger, combination, or sale of the Company will take place, or that any merger, combination, or sale would provide liquidity for Purchasers. Furthermore, we may be unable to register the Securities for resale by Purchasers for legal, commercial, regulatory, market-related or other reasons. In the event that we are unable to effect a registration, Purchasers could be unable to sell their Securities unless an exemption from registration is available.

The Company does not anticipate paying any cash dividends for the foreseeable future. The Company currently intends to retain future earnings, if any, for the foreseeable future, to repay indebtedness and to support its business. The Company does not intend in the foreseeable future to pay any dividends to holders of its Series A-2 Preferred Stock.

Any valuation at this stage is difficult to assess. Unlike listed companies that are valued publicly through market-driven stock prices, the valuation of private companies, especially startups, is difficult to assess and you may risk overpaying for your investment. In addition, there may be additional classes of equity with rights that are superior to the class of equity being sold.

If you fail to vote your shares, the company's board of directors may vote them instead. The terms of the Series A-2 Preferred Stock set forth in the company's amended and restated certificate of incorporation includes a voting procedure. If holders of Series A-2 Preferred Stock fails to take action to vote the holders' shares within a specified period of time, in certain circumstances, the company's Board will be authorized to vote on behalf of such shares that failed to vote in the Board's discretion. See "The Offering and The Securities – Additional Provisions."

Investors in this offering must vote their shares to approve of certain future events, including our sale. The subscription agreement that investors will execute in connection with the offering contains a "drag-along provision" related to the sale of the company whereby investors and their transferees agree to vote any shares they own in the same manner as the majority holders of our other classes of voting stock. Specifically, and without limitation, if the board of directors and majority holders of our other classes of stock may determine to sell the company, depending on the nature of the transaction, investors will be forced to sell their stock in that transaction regardless of whether they believe the transaction is the best or highest value for their shares, and regardless of whether they believe the transaction is in their best interests. Furthermore, if the consideration in such a sale includes securities and an investor's receipt of such securities requires registration or qualification under securities laws or the provision to the investor of any information other than such information as would generally be available in an offering under Regulation D, the company may instead pay the investor in cash in lieu of such securities. See "The Offering and The Securities – Additional Provisions."

Your ability to transfer your securities may be limited. The subscription agreement that investors will enter into contains a "market stand-off" provision applicable to shares of the Series A-2 Preferred Stock in the event of an initial public offering, which may limit or delay an investor's ability to transfer shares of Common Stock for a period of time surrounding such an offering.

The subscription agreement has a forum selection provision that requires disputes be resolved in state or federal courts in the State of New York, regardless of convenience or cost to you, the investor. In order to invest in this offering, investors agree to resolve disputes arising under the subscription agreement in state or federal courts located in the State of New York, for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon the agreement, including those related federal securities laws. Section 22 of the Securities Act creates concurrent jurisdiction for federal and state courts over all suits brought to enforce any duty or liability created by the Securities Act or the rules and regulations thereunder. We believe that the exclusive forum provision applies to claims arising under the Securities Act, but there is uncertainty as to whether a court would enforce such a provision in this context. Investors will not be deemed to have waived the company's compliance with the federal securities laws and the rules and regulations thereunder. This forum selection provision may limit your ability to obtain a favorable judicial forum for disputes with us. Alternatively, if a court were to find the provision inapplicable to, or unenforceable in an action, we may incur additional costs associated with resolving such matters in other jurisdictions, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition or results of operations.

Investors in this offering may not be entitled to a jury trial with respect to claims arising under the subscription agreement, which could result in less favorable outcomes to the plaintiff(s) in any action under the agreement. Investors in this offering will be bound by the subscription agreement, which includes a provision under which investors waive the right to a jury trial of any claim they may have against the company arising out of or relating to the agreement, including any claims made under the federal securities laws. By signing the agreement, the investor warrants that the investor has reviewed this waiver with his or her legal counsel, and knowingly and voluntarily waives the investor's jury trial rights following consultation with the investor's legal counsel.

If we opposed a jury trial demand based on the waiver, a court would determine whether the waiver was enforceable based on the facts and circumstances of that case in accordance with the applicable state and federal law. To our knowledge, the enforceability of a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver in connection with claims arising under the federal securities laws has not been finally adjudicated by a federal court. However, we believe that a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver provision is generally enforceable, including under the laws of the State of New York, which governs the agreement. In determining whether to enforce a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver provision, courts will generally consider whether the visibility of the jury trial waiver provision within the agreement is sufficiently prominent such that a party knowingly, intelligently and voluntarily waived the right to a jury trial. We believe that this is the case with respect to the subscription agreement. You should consult legal counsel regarding the jury waiver provision before entering into the subscription agreement.

If you bring a claim against the Company in connection with matters arising under the agreement, including claims under the federal securities laws, you may not be entitled to a jury trial with respect to those claims, which may have the effect of limiting and discouraging lawsuits against the Company. If a lawsuit is brought against the company under the agreement, it may be heard only by a judge or justice of the applicable trial court, which would be conducted according to different civil procedures and may result in different outcomes than a trial by jury would have had, including results that could be less favorable to the plaintiff(s) in such an action.

Nevertheless, if the jury trial waiver provision is not permitted by applicable law, an action could proceed under the terms the agreement with a jury trial. No condition, stipulation or provision of the subscription agreement serves as a waiver by any holder of the Company's securities, or by the Company, of compliance with any substantive provision of the federal securities laws and the rules and regulations promulgated under those laws.

In addition, if the convertible notes are transferred, the transferee is required to agree to all the same conditions, obligations and restrictions applicable to the shares or to the transferor with regard to ownership of the Shares, that were in effect immediately prior to the transfer of the Shares, including but not limited to the subscription agreement.

BUSINESS

Description of the Business

AFFL is the premier Flag Football organization in the world, offering Men's and Women's Professional events, youth leagues and content.

Flag Football is the fastest growing team sport in the US over the last ten years, now exceeding Lacrosse, Ice Hockey and Rugby combined in participation, according to the SFIA. Five years ago tackle football exceeded flag football by 1M players. Today, flag exceeds tackle by 1.5M. How can there be a sport that is already so big, and growing so quickly, that lacks the aspirational leagues that are so common in every other sport?

That's where we come in. In our first two seasons, over 6,000 players representing over 600 teams registered to play. In both 2018 and 2019 the top 128 teams participated, playing all over the country and in Europe. Hundreds of talented amateurs were joined by some of the best to ever play in the NFL, including Mike Vick, Terrell Owens and Chad Ochocinco. Our Launch game has 2.8mm + YouTube views including over 750,000 completions of a 2-hour video. Our 11 games in 2018 on the NFL Network brought in over 1.1M viewers, leading to our current 2-year deal with CBS.

So many significant trends serve as tailwinds for our mission to bring Flag to the world: concerns about the safety of traditional football; the increasing value of sports franchises and sports content; the proliferation of digital distributors who desperately need content; the growth of fantasy; gamification and gambling; the increased identification of fans with individual starts as opposed to teams; the increased interest in Women's sports, and the continued organic growth of participation.

Flag is neither a replacement nor a criticism of the traditional game of tackle football. The AFFL and Flag Football stand on their own, offering entertainment that appeals to the most prized demographic in media, the under-34 crowd. We are resonating with the new breed of sports fan that wants a new game, presented in an innovative way using cutting edge technology.

Business Plan

Our business model is comprised of multiple sources of growth and revenue:

- Sponsorships and Licensing
 - Corporate Partnerships, Merchandise, Youth League
- Media
 - Live Games, Storytelling Content, Social Media
- Live Events
 - Participation, Attendance, On-Site Revenue
- City-Based Pro Teams (Launch 2023)

Our aim is to introduce five city-based Pro Teams in 2023 that we expect to offer for sale in 2023 and 2024. Upon launch, we expect the Pro Teams to be profitable, reducing the need for equity sales.

Litigation

None.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We will adjust roles and tasks based on the net proceeds of the Offering. We plan to use these proceeds as described below.

Offering Expenses

The use of proceeds for expenses related to the Offering is as follows:

- If the Company raises the Target Amount, it will use approximately 56% of the proceeds, or $14,000, towards offering expenses;
- If the Company raises the Maximum Amount through Regulation CF, it will use approximately 2.6% of the proceeds, or $105,000, towards offering expenses

The proceeds remaining after meeting offering expenses will be used as follows:

Use of Proceeds	% if Target Amount Raised	% if Maximum Amount Raised
League Operations thru 2023; including launch of city-based pro teams and women's and international events.	100%	100%

The above table of the anticipated use of proceeds is not binding on the Company and is merely a description of its current intentions.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Please see the financial information listed on the cover page of this Form C and attached hereto in addition to the following information. Financial statements are attached hereto as Exhibit B.

Operations

AFFL ASSOCIATES, INC. (the "Company") is an entertainment company presenting live events and content around the rapidly growing sport of Flag Football. The Company has intellectual property in the form of its trademarks and brand in addition to multiple patents both granted and pending. The Company's sources of revenue includes ticket sales, merchandise sales, food and beverage at live events, media rights, social media rights, advertising, sponsorship, and licensing.

During 2016 through 2019, the Company was in a pre-operating mode. 2020 plans were delayed due to COVID-19 restrictions that forced the Company to shut down all operations in March 2020.

Since December 31, 2020, the company has raised $808,486 in a Regulation CF offering and entered into Bridge Loans in the aggregate principal amount of $925,000. In 2021, the company's revenues increased significantly over 2020 revenues. Expenses remained consistent with 2020.

The Company is a Delaware Corporation. The members' liability is limited to the amount of capital contributed and liabilities that are personally guaranteed.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The proceeds from the Offering are essential to our operations. We plan to use the proceeds as set forth above under "Use of Proceeds", which is an indispensable element of our business strategy.

At December 31, 2020, we had approximately $338,558 in cash on hand. Since then we have financed our operations by loans, including a bridge loan (see "Capitalization" above) and from our prior offerings under Regulation CF and Regulation D.

The Offering proceeds will have a beneficial effect on our liquidity, as we have approximately $133,240 cash on hand as of January 31, 2022, which will be augmented by the Offering proceeds and used to execute our business strategy.

The Company currently does not have any additional outside sources of capital other than the proceeds from this Offering.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company does not intend to make any material capital expenditures in the future.

Trends and Uncertainties

After reviewing the discussion and presentation of the steps the Company intends to take, potential Purchasers should consider whether achievement of each step within the estimated time frame is realistic in their judgment. Potential Purchasers should also assess the consequences to the Company of any delays in taking these steps and whether the Company will need additional financing to accomplish them.

The financial statements are an important part of this Form C and should be reviewed in their entirety. The financial statements of the Company are attached hereto as Exhibit B.

Valuation

Based on the Offering price of the Securities, the pre-Offering value ascribed to the Company is approximately $20,000,000.

Before making an investment decision, you should carefully consider this valuation and the factors used to reach such valuation. Such valuation may not be accurate and you are encouraged to determine your own independent value of the Company prior to investing.

As discussed in "Dilution" below, the valuation will determine the amount by which the investor's stake is diluted immediately upon investment. An early-stage company typically sells its securities (or grants options over its securities) to its founders and early employees at a very low cash cost, because they are, in effect, putting their "sweat equity" into the Company. When the Company seeks cash investments from outside investors, like you, the new investors typically pay a much larger sum for their securities than the founders or earlier investors, which means that the cash value of your stake is immediately diluted because each unit of the same type is worth the same amount, and you paid more for your shares than earlier investors did for theirs.

There are several ways to value a company. None of them is perfect and all of them involve a certain amount of guesswork. The same method can produce a different valuation if used by a different person.

Liquidation Value - The amount for which the assets of the Company can be sold, minus the liabilities owed, e.g., the assets of a bakery include the cake mixers, ingredients, baking tins, etc. The liabilities of a bakery include the cost of rent or mortgage on the bakery. However, this value does not reflect the potential value of a business, e.g. the value of the secret recipe. The value for most startups lies in their potential, as many early-stage companies do not have many assets (they probably need to raise funds through a securities offering in order to purchase some equipment).

Book Value - This is based on analysis of the Company's financial statements, usually looking at the Company's balance sheet as prepared by its accountants. However, the balance sheet only looks at costs (i.e. what was paid for the asset), and does not consider whether the asset has increased in value over time. In addition, some intangible assets, such as patents, trademarks or trade names, are very valuable but are not usually represented at their market value on the balance sheet.

Earnings Approach - This is based on what the investor will pay (the present value) for what the investor expects to obtain in the future (the future return), taking into account inflation, the lost opportunity to participate in other investments, the risk of not receiving the return. However, predictions of the future are uncertain and valuation of future returns is a best guess.

Different methods of valuation produce a different answer as to what your investment is worth. Typically, liquidation value and book value will produce a lower valuation than the earnings approach. However, the earnings approach is also most likely to be risky as it is based on many assumptions about the future, while the liquidation value and book value are much more conservative.

Future investors (including people seeking to acquire the Company) may value the Company differently. They may use a different valuation method, or different assumptions about the Company's business and its market. Different valuations may mean that the value assigned to your investment changes. It frequently happens that when a large institutional investor such as a venture capitalist makes an investment in a company, it values the Company at a lower price than the initial investors did. If this happens, the value of the investment will go down.

Additional Provisions

Preferred Stock Protective Provisions

Under our Certificate of Incorporation, so long as 33% of the Company's initially issued shares of Preferred Stock (or, if converted or exchanged, such class of stock into which the Preferred Stock may be converted or exchanged) are outstanding, approval of a majority of the shares Preferred Stock, shall be required to (i) alter the rights, powers or privileges of the Preferred Stock set forth in the Charter or Bylaws, in a way that adversely affects the Preferred Stock; (ii) authorize or create any new class or series of capital stock having rights, powers or privileges, that are senior to or on parity with any series of Preferred Stock; (iii) redeem or repurchase any shares (other than pursuant to employee or consultant agreements); (iv) liquidate or dissolve, including any sale of the company or substantially all of its assets or agree to do any of the foregoing. In the event that an insufficient number of shares of Preferred Stock cast a vote on the matter following a seven day notice period, any unvoted shares shall be voted via proxy by the Board of the company, either for or against, in the same proportion as the votes that have been received prior to the expiration of the notice period; provided, however, if less than 33% of the Preferred Stock vote, there will be an additional seven day period.

Right of First Refusal.

Under the subscription agreement, investors will have the right of first refusal to purchase the investor's Pro Rata Share of any New Securities (each as defined below) that the company may issue in the Next Financing. The investor will have no right to purchase any New Securities if the investor cannot demonstrate to the company's reasonable satisfaction that the investor is at the time of the proposed issuance of New Securities eligible to purchase such New Securities under applicable securities laws. An investor's "Pro Rata Share" means the ratio of (i) the number of shares of the company's Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the Series A-2 Preferred Stock owned by the investor, to (ii) that number of shares of the company's capital stock equal to the sum of (A) all shares of the company's capital stock (on an as-converted basis) issued and outstanding, assuming exercise or conversion of all options, warrants and other convertible securities and promissory notes, and (B) all shares of the company's capital stock reserved and available for future grant under any equity incentive or similar plan.

"New Securities" means any Common Stock or Preferred Stock, whether now authorized or not, and rights, options or warrants to purchase Common Stock or Preferred Stock, and securities of any type whatsoever that are, or may become, convertible or exchangeable into Common Stock or Preferred Stock; provided, however, that "New Securities" does not include: (a) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of any outstanding shares of Preferred Stock; (b) shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock issuable upon exercise of any options, warrants, or rights to purchase any securities of the Company outstanding as of the Agreement Date and any securities issuable upon the conversion thereof; (c) shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock issued in connection with any stock split or stock dividend or recapitalization; (d) shares of Common Stock (or options, warrants or rights therefor) granted or issued after the Agreement Date to employees, officers, directors, contractors, consultants or advisers to, the Company or any subsidiary of the Company pursuant to incentive agreements, stock purchase or stock option plans, stock bonuses or awards, warrants, contracts or other arrangements that are approved by the Board; (e) shares of the Company's Series A Preferred Stock issued pursuant to this Agreement; (f) any other shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock (and/or options or warrants therefor) issued or issuable primarily for other than equity financing purposes and approved by the Board; and (g) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable by the Company to the public pursuant to a registration statement filed under the Securities Act.

Drag Along

Holders of Series A-2 Preferred Stock are subject to a drag-along provision as set forth in the Subscription Agreement, pursuant to which, and subject to certain exemptions, each holder of shares of the Company agrees that, in the event the Company's board of directors, and a majority of both (i) the holders of the Company's common stock then outstanding, and (ii) the holders of a majority common stock that is issued and issuable upon conversion of the preferred shares vote in favor of a deemed liquidation event (e.g., merger or sale of the Company) and agree to transfer their respective shares, then all holders of shares will vote in favor of the deemed liquidation event and if requested perform any action reasonably required to transfer their shares.

Board Composition

Under the Certificate of Incorporation, the Board will consist of five members and one of whom will be independent under the terms of the Certificate. Under the Subscription Agreement, the investors will be required to vote for this Board Composition and failure to do so or a manner inconsistent with the Certificate will grant a proxy to the CEO for such vote.

What it means to be a minority holder

As an investor in Series A-2 Preferred Stock of the Company, your rights will be more limited than the rights of the holders of common stock who control the Company in regards to the corporate actions of the Company, including additional issuances of securities, Company repurchases of securities, a sale of the Company or its significant assets, or Company transactions with related parties. Even if your securities convert to common stock of the Company, investors in this offering will hold minority interests, potentially with rights less than those of other investors, and will have limited influence on the corporate actions of the Company.

Dilution

Even once the Series A-2 Preferred Stock convert into preferred or common equity securities, as applicable, the investor's stake in the Company could be diluted due to the Company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the Company issues more shares (or additional equity interests), the percentage of the Company that you own will go down, even though the value of the Company may go up. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture capital round or angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g. convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants) into stock.

If a company decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (though this typically occurs only if the company offers dividends, and most early stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, preferring to invest any earnings into the company).

The type of dilution that hurts early-stage investors mostly occurs when a company sells more shares in a "down round," meaning at a lower valuation than in earlier offerings. An example of how this might occur is as follows (numbers are for illustrative purposes only):

- In June 2021 Jane invests $20,000 for shares that represent 2% of a company valued at $1 million.
- In December, the company is doing very well and sells $5 million in shares to venture capitalists on a valuation (before the new investment) of $10 million. Jane now owns only 1.3% of the company but her stake is worth $200,000.
- In June 2022 the company has run into serious problems and in order to stay afloat it raises $1 million at a valuation of only $2 million (the "down round"). Jane now owns only 0.89% of the company and her stake is worth only $26,660.

This type of dilution might also happen upon conversion of convertible notes into shares. Typically, the terms of convertible notes issued by early-stage companies provide that in the event of another round of financing, the holders of the convertible notes get to convert their notes into equity at a "discount" to the price paid by the new investors, i.e., they get more shares than the new investors would for the same price. Additionally, convertible notes may have a "price cap" on the conversion price, which effectively acts as a share price ceiling. Either way, the holders of the convertible notes get more shares for their money than new investors. In the event that the financing is a "down round" the holders of the convertible notes will dilute existing equity holders, and even more than the new investors do, because they get more shares for their money.

If you are making an investment expecting to own a certain percentage of the Company or expecting each share to hold a certain amount of value, it's important to realize how the value of those shares can decrease by actions taken by the Company. Dilution can make drastic changes to the value of each share, ownership percentage, voting control, and earnings per share.

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of AFFL ASSOCIATES, LLC (the "Company"), which comprise the balance sheets as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and the related statements of income, changes in members' equity/deficit, and cash flows for the calendar year periods thus ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit of the Company's financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and the results of its operations, changes in members' equity/deficit and cash flows for the calendar year periods thus ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Going Concern

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in the Notes to the financial statements, the Company has suffered recurring losses from operations and has a net capital deficiency that raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's evaluation of the events and conditions and management's plans regarding these matters are also described in the Notes to the financial statements. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

7. SAFE investments

Between November 2019 and November 2020 the Company entered into SAFE agreements (Simple Agreement for Future Equity) totaling $863,000 in exchange for payments ranging from $2,500 to $500,000 from various individuals and a partnership. The SAFE agreements have no maturity date and bear no interest. The agreements provide the investors with right to future equity in the Company under terms of the agreements. The SAFE agreements become convertible into Company's Preferred Units at a 40% discount to the offering price per unit, subject to a valuation cap of $10,000,000 on the fully diluted capitalization of the Company, in the event of a qualified equity financing, which the agreements define as any transaction or series of transactions in which the Company issues units at a fixed pre-money valuation with the purpose of raising capital. Other events that would trigger termination of the agreements include liquidity and dissolution. If there is a liquidity event the investors, at their option, will either receive a cash payment equal to the remaining unpaid purchase amount divided by the liquidity price, or automatically receive from the Company the number of Common Units equal to the purchase amount divided by the fair market value of the Common Unit at the time of the liquidity event. 10. Going concern

As shown in the accompanying financial statements, the Company incurred a net loss of $1,881,740 during the year ended December 31, 2020, and as of that date, the Company's net deficit was $7,986,953. In addition, the Company had a cash flow deficit from operating activities of $709,275. Those factors create a substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for the year following the date the financial statements are available to be issued. The Company's management has evaluated these conditions and has proposed a plan to improve their cash flows by starting their regular business operations and raising additional financing. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern and meet its obligations as they become due may be precluded by their inability to raise capital. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.

11. Subsequent events

Reg CF Securities Offering

The Company has commenced the reservation period for a securities offering exempt from registration under Regulation CF. The securities offering is listed with an approved and qualified funding portal and they will receive compensation for the listing commensurate with its standard terms. The Company expects to begin accepting investments upon filing these the required Form C with the US Securities and Exchange Commission.

Management's Evaluation

Management has evaluated subsequent events through July 13, 2021, the date the financial statements were available to be issued. Based on this evaluation, no additional material events were identified which require adjustment or disclosure in the financial statements.
