Overview

Do you love Fantasy Football? Now is your chance to own stock in a new and exciting Fantasy Football online service!

There are literally tens of millions of fantasy players, but by and large they remain an unconnected unit. With MBFFL™, we not only offer exciting game play with chances to win top prize money with favorable odds, but this gameplay is encompassed within a social media type platform, bringing fantasy players under one roof.

Players can sign up for free receiving their own page within this community. Once there, interact with other players and celebrities, chat via message board and DM, and even customize and brand their own fantasy franchise, which includes designing their very own team helmet. Advertisers will be connected to players and celebrities.

Millionaire Bracket Fantasy Football League™ is an online gaming experience which capitalizes on the phenomenal growth of daily fantasy football with an NCAA-type bracket gameplay. MBFFL™ also serves a secondary purpose of bringing all fantasy football players together in a “Myspace” – “Skype-Like” social media platform.

MBFLL was started by Georgia attorney Charles E. Taylor who has always enjoyed the excitement and draw it had on him and his friends. There are very few times in the year that generate as much excitement as the start of the fantasy football season!

Some time ago, Charles joined Fan Duel and realized there was a plethora of games across all sports. However, after playing these games, Charles realized that, while fun, the chances of winning any money were EXTREMELY LOW. First, the sheer number of entries that he had to outscore was significant. Coupled with the fact that about 2% of players are categorized as "expert players" based on their experience and the information at their disposal. What's more is that these "experts" can submit multiple entries, making it that much harder for the average Joe to compete. While watching the NCAA March Madness bracket, he realized there was a better way for fantasy football by integrating the bracket concept where the playing field can be leveled and a player can win serious money without having to best every other player each week, that would certainly be a viable gaming proposition. Charles began to formulate the MBFFL™ business model, which led to this investment opportunity to join in this exciting venture.

The goal of MBFFL™ is to capitalize on the ever-increasing popularity of fantasy football by providing a niche playing platform that offers better odds to win top prize money and a more interactive game play, encompassed in a “Myspace - Like” social media platform encapsulating the fantasy football audience.

For investors, MBFFL™ is raising money to build the platform and launch the business in the spring of 2017. Each investor receives preferred stock, but even more exciting is our payback strategy for investors. Until we payback 10 times (10X) your investment, we will take 75% of our profits after a $2M reserve and pay these profits in dividends to our preferred stock investors.

Business Plan

The Company

Statistics show that 41.5 Million Americans play fantasy football. Sites like Fan Duel, and Draft Kings have proven the concept of online fantasy sports. Analysts estimate this market grow to $70 Billion in the coming years.

MBFLL is launching a new service that focuses on fantasy football and combines the best features of the existing sites with the bracket concept of March Madness to deliver a new and unique experience with higher payouts. In addition, our model includes more interaction with players, a higher payout, and now gives Investors like you an opportunity to own stock in the company, and become a player.

- Estimated 14.4 Billion in entry fees by the year 2020
- The 2 largest players in this industry (Fan Duel and Draft Kings) have already raised 88 million and 76 million dollars in funding to date from investors such as NBC, Comcast, KKR, and Disney.

MBFLL Services

Bracket League™

Head to Head Bracket. $150 for the Bracket League™ to enter a line-up before week 1 of the NFL season. The winners proceed to the next rounds and the losers automatically enter the common pool. Week 2, the remaining players select a new line up and play in another head to head match up, with the winners progressing to the next round, and losers being entered into the common league. In the common league, users submit their line-up each week and win $10,000 for the top 10 finishers, $5,000 for the next 10 finishers, down to $1,000 for finishers 26-50.

The great benefit is that a user need only beat one team per week to advance. Once the user advances past round (week) 7, they enter the money rounds, where the prize money gets incrementally higher each week after week 7, culminating with a million-dollar grand prize and a half-million dollar second prize. The common league also lets you continue to play. Gauntlet Room™ (to be introduced 2.0)

Soon to come is the Gauntlet Room™ where users can set their line-up and their purse “or money” they want to “bet” on their lineup and have a head to head battle with another user or group. The winner takes all (minus 5% for the house).

The Gauntlet Room™ circumvents illegal gambling by allowing a head-to-head “bet” by assembling your own team to “wager” on.

MBFFL™ Game Fees and Prizing Structure

- MBFFL™ will have a unique Pay-Off Structure offering highly lucrative cash prizes on a weekly basis;
- $150 entry fees for the available “MBFFL™ Bracket League™”
- Users will have the option to submit multiple lineups (paying an entry fee for each lineup submitted).

MBFFL™ has two (2) separate cash prize models for both league types (Bracket League™ & Community League™):

- ✓ Prize Structure – MBFFL™ Bracket League™: The first seven (7) weeks, winners for each bracket will receive no cash rewards. From Week 8, each MBFFL™ Bracket League™ loser receives payment based on the following structure:

- ❖ Week 08 – $250
- ❖ Week 09 – $500
- ❖ Week 10 – $1,000
- ❖ Week 11 – $2,500
- ❖ Week 12 – $10,000
- ❖ Week 13 – $25,000
- ❖ Week 14 – $100,000
- ❖ Week 15 – $250,000
- ❖ Week 16 – $500,000 to the loser - $1 million to the Winner

- ✓ Prize Structure – MBFFL™ Community League™: In Community League's, the application will offer weekly cash rewards. The weekly prize format will be:

- ❖ Top Scorer – $25,000
- ❖ Position between 2 and 5 – $10,000
- ❖ Position between 6 and 10 – $5,000
- ❖ Position between 11 and 25 – $2,500
- ❖ Position between 26 and 50 – $1,000
- ❖ Position between 51 and 100 – $500

- MBFFL™ also offers Gauntlet Challenge™, the MBFFL™ Rake Rate will be 5% with the 95% balance going to the winner.

Success Factors

MBFFL™ is uniquely qualified to succeed for the following reasons:

- Our Service: We offer a more user-friendly, interactive gameplay with better odds of winning. We intend to be the first daily fantasy football league to offer the selection of IDP (Individual Defensive Players).
- Management Team: Our management team has unique experience in the industry that includes over 23 years of experience in the fantasy football arena.
- Operational Portal: We have developed systems that enable us to provide a high-quality service at a low cost.
- Marketing: We will capitalize on the millions of dollars being spent monthly to attract new users to the world of fantasy football. According to the Fantasy Sports Trade Association, an estimated 41.5 million Americans participated in fantasy sports last year, spending $11B dollars on entry fees, league dues, research, and hosting fees.

Financial Expectations

Below is an overview of our expected financial performance over the next five years: To achieve these projected revenues, we need to raise a minimum of $1,000,000 in financing through several rounds of financing we intend to seek over the coming months.

Each Bracket League™ will have 65,536 players with each player paying $150 for the 16-week 1-on-1 NFL competition season that we expect will generate $9,830,400 in revenue.

We project our revenues as follows:

Year	Number of Bracket Leagues	Total Revenue
1	4	$39,321,600
2	8	$78,643,200
3	12	$117,964,800
4	16	$157,286,400
5	20	$196,608,000

Over 25 Million people already play fantasy football daily. Of those player, we only need 65,536 per league, or 0.25% of the total market, for this business model to succeed. We are not looking for people to join fantasy football, only to tap into an existing market.

Competitive Comparison

	MB Fantasy Football	Draft Kings	Fan Duel
1. Compete against 80,000 – 100,000 players at a time		√	√
2. Compete against one player each week	√
3. Weekly winners auto progress for 17-week season – payout begins week 8	√
4. Week 16 winner receives $1 million, runner-up received $50,000	√
5. Weekly losers auto-join, for free, the MBFLL Community League for the remainder of the season. (1-on-1 weekly contests, 100 weekly cash prizes including a $25,000 top prize)	√
6. Defensive Players Points – Individual Defensive Players™ IDP (1 DL, 1 DL/LB, 1 LB, 2 CB/S)	√
7. Proprietary Social Network Connection ("skype-like" excitement via weekly head-to-head competition)	√
8. Weekly Winner Madness ("March-Madness-Like" excitement via weekly head-to-head competition)	√
9. Player MBFLL fantasy football social network page (unique fantasy football league gaming experience, unique player designed helmet, personalized players social media page, and celebrity players available for a fee)	√
10. Yearly League Play with Multiple leagues	√
11. $9 weekly ($150 per 16 week NFL season)	√
12. $25 weekly ($450 per 16 week NFL season)		√	√
13. Season long league removed from regulator scrutiny	√
14. Daily Play (Subject to ongoing legal action and regulation by each states Attorney General)		√

To put it in perspective, Fan Duel and Draft Kings have many weekly fantasy sports games, with their most popular game attracting over 300,000 players each week.

We offer better value, as our entry fee of $150 for our game equates to $8/week, as opposed to Fan Duel and Draft Kings, whose entry fee is $25 weekly for their high jackpot games.

Consider that Fan Duel generates over $75M per week, Draft Kings generates over $50M per week, and Yahoo Sports has $30M per week. Analysts believe this market will grow to $70B leaving a lot of room for companies offering new approaches like MBFLL.

Our Competitive Advantages

Millionaire Bracket Fantasy Football League™ is not positioning itself as a competitor of Fan Duel or Draft Kings. We view them as allies. The millions of dollars these companies spend on advertising attracts new customers to the world of fantasy sports and allows us to capitalize on the growing market by having a larger pool of already invested players in which to choose from. For example, consider Las Vegas. If a person is already a gambler, that person is more likely to play more than one game, because the games each offer something different. So the more “gamblers” that play fantasy football, the more likely aggregate industry revenues will rise. We intend to position ourselves as the niche fantasy football bracket game that offers higher odds of winning. However, our product is superior to the other fantasy football sites because we intend to offer our users a “social media” page similar to Myspace, where they can design their own team colors, logo, and unique team name. Users can also enjoy message rooms where they can get information on upcoming matchups, player status, and more. Lastly, users can connect online with other players and private message those connections.

Investment Opportunity

We think this is a wonderful opportunity for investors to join us at this stage. This is big market opportunity and we believe we can attract the players to make MBFLL a big success.

To reward our investors, should we raise our full goal of $1M, our investors will collectively own 10% of MBFLL. Our goal is to sell the business within 5 years, which we intend will provide these investors a return on their investment.

However, we don't want our investors to wait to start seeing a return on their investment, thus we plan a structured Preferred Dividend Payment Plan. Here is how that plan will work:

Once we are operating and earning a profit, we will reserve the first $2M of our net profits after all business expenses are paid to operate the business. Then, on an annual basis, 75% of any net profits earned above the $2M reserve will be distributed to our Preferred Shareholders until Ten Times (10x) their investment has been paid out. Should we meet our goals, we believe these terms collectively amount to a competitive investment opportunity. We hope that after reading these materials you will agree. Should you decide to invest, we invite you to tell your friends and invite them to join MBFLL.

Notes

Note *1: Each of the authorized shares of “preferred stock” of the Company above (together, the “Preferred Shares”) has certain unique rights (e.g. priority with respect to the payment of dividends, etc.) as identified in the Articles of Incorporation, which are subject to change pursuant to the terms of the Company Organizational Documents. Currently none of the Preferred Shares have been issued and the Offering is the first sale of any of the Preferred Shares.

Preferred Payments: The holders of the Preferred Shares, as a group, will be entitled to receive the following preferential payments (a “Preferred Payment” and collectively the “Preferred Payments”):

- Once (and for so long as) the aggregate amount of funds in the Company Reserve exceeds the Reserve Amount, the holders of Preferred Shares will, as a group, be entitled to receive seventy-five percent (75%) of any and all quarterly net cash flows thereafter generated by the Business in excess of such Reserve Amount (respectively, a “Non-Liquidating Preferred Payment”), until each of the holders of the Preferred Shares have received an aggregate amount of dividends equal to ten times (10x) their initial investment amount (the “Trigger Date”); and
- If either the Company as a whole is sold (i.e. in connection with a Drag Along, as discussed below) or substantially all of the assets of the Company are sold, the holders of Preferred Shares will, as a group, be entitled to receive ten percent (10%) of the net proceeds from such sale (respectively, a “Liquidating Preferred Payment”).

For the avoidance of doubt it should be noted that: (a) any and all Preferred Payments made by the Company will be paid to the holders of ALL classes of Preferred Shares, not just the Shares made part of the Offering, in the manner, order and priority described below; and (b) the term “Trigger Date” with respect to the holders of a particular class of Preferred Shares, as used in Article II, Section 7 below, will mean the date that all holders of such class of Preferred Shares receives the above ten times (10x) return on their initial investment.

It is anticipated that, if the Company raises the full $1M, the Shares purchased by investors will represent one hundred percent (100%) of the issued and outstanding “Preferred-A3” shares of the Company (and, until other Preferred Shares are sold, 100% of the issued and outstanding Preferred Shares of the Company) and, in total, approximately ten percent (10%) of the total issued and outstanding equity interests of the Company; and the Common Shares will represent, in total, approximately ninety percent (90%) of the total issued and outstanding equity interests of the Company.

Principal Security Holders

Below is a description of the current security holders of the Issuer with 20% or greater ownership.

Name of Holder	Class of Security	Number of Securities Held	% of voting power prior to the Offering
Charles E. Taylor	Common A-1 Voting	75,100	100%

How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of securities identified above? Preferred A-3 is only one class of security with no voting rights. Additional common or preferred stock may be issued and dilute all existing shareholders.

Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer? Yes, Preferred stock is non-voting and the current issued common stock is voting stock with control over decision making.

How could the exercise rights held by the principal shareholders identified above effect the purchasers of the securities being offered? The founders hold a majority of the shares and voting rights which provides them the ability to take actions on behalf of all shareholders. This includes management decisions, debt instruments, declaring a dividend and the future sale or closing of the business. The shareholders from this offering will have a minority interest.

How are the securities being offered valued? Valuation has been determined by comparisons to companies in this market, and based on future revenue projections using a discounted cash flow method.

What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer? The founder will have a majority of the shares and voting rights after the offering is completed. This provides them the ability to make management decisions which are in the best interest of the company and shareholders.

What are the risks to purchaser associated to corporate actions: (including additional issuance of securities, issuer repurchase of securities, a sale of the issuer or assets of the issuer, or transactions with related parties)? Should the company need additional capital this may come in the form of Debt which would be senior to all equity positions in the company. If a new equity offering is made, the company will issue more shares which may dilute the value of existing shares. It's possible, depending on the circumstances, that the new equity could have provisions more favorable than the existing class. At the current time none of these future financings are contemplated by management.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

The Issuer is not aware of any material legal proceeding in which the Issuer, any of its affiliates, or any of its property is currently a party or subject to legal proceedings.

Risk Factors

Below is a discussion of the specific risk factors associated with an investment in the Issuers securities. Additional, more general risks factors are part of the Jumpstart Micro disclosure on the Funding Portal.

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. An investor should not invest any funds in this Offering unless he or she can afford to lose his or her entire investment. In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the Issuer and the terms of the Offering, including the merits and risks involved. These Securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document. The SEC does not pass upon the merits of any Securities offered or the terms of the Offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature. These Securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the SEC has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

Need to Raise Additional Capital:

The Company anticipates that the proceeds received from this initial $100,000 offering may not be sufficient to cover all initial expenses of the business (i.e. the initial operating Costs and the ongoing expenses) and will not be sufficient to fund all future expenses of the Company, and that the Company will need to raise additional capital in later offerings until it successfully raises the entire $1 Million management believes is needed to fully capitalize the Company. Should any of the assumptions contained herein prove to be inaccurate, the Company may fail and/or you may recognize a loss of all or a part of your investment in the Shares.

Lack of Diversification; Single Asset Risk:

The Company is a newly-formed entity with no significant assets and no prior existing business which has been formed for the sole purpose of conducting the MBFLL business ("Business"). As a result, the sole asset of the Company will be its interest in the Business and the proprietary rights (if any) in the products and services offered in connection with the Business.

Any investment in a company that only owns a single asset will be materially affected by the value of such asset and any substantial decline in the value of such asset would be detrimental to the holding company. Accordingly, the Company's investments are not diversified and the Company is subject to a greater risk of loss than if its investments were diversified. If the value of the Business is materially adversely affected and/or fails to monetize as anticipated, it will be materially detrimental to the success and profitability of the Company and you will recognize a loss of all or a part of your investment in the Shares.

No Operating History; No Material Assets:

A significant capital infusion is necessary, and subsequent capital infusions may be necessary, in order to make the Company's business plan viable. Further there can be no assurance that the proposed Business will be profitable. Accordingly, there is no guarantee that the Company will ever realize any significant operating revenues, or that its operations ever will be profitable and you may lose all, or a substantial part, of your investment in the Shares.

Key Personnel:

The Company (and ultimately the Business) operations and viability will be highly dependent on the efforts of certain existing key personnel of the Company. If the Company were to lose the services of such existing key personnel, or any of them for whatever reason, and it was unable to locate suitable replacements the Company's (and ultimately the Business) operations and profitability may be materially adversely affected and you may recognize a loss of all or a part of your investment in the Shares.

In addition, the Company's (and ultimately the Business) operations and viability will be highly dependent on the ability of the Company to attract and retain certain quality sales, marketing and other operational personnel, in the future. As the market for such personnel in the Georgia and surrounding markets is highly competitive, there is no guaranty that the Company will be able to attract or retain the quality personnel necessary to achieve its Business objectives. If the Company is unable to attract and/or retain such necessary personnel, the Company's (and ultimately the Business) operations and profitability may be materially adversely affected and you may recognize a loss of your investment in the Shares.

Additional Capital:

The Company expects that the amount of the Initial Operating Costs will be sufficient to establish the Business and to fund the Company's initial operation. However, the amount of the Initial Operating Costs, while made in good faith, is only an estimate and the Company may be required to raise additional capital in the future to develop its Business as intended. To the extent additional capital is required, there can be no guaranty that such capital will be available on acceptable terms, if at all. If the Company needs additional capital and it is unable to obtain such capital from non-equity sources, it may be forced to sell additional shares of stock (including, possibly, additional Shares), which would dilute the ownership of the then current shareholders and/or adversely affect their percentage participation in any future dividends payable by the Company. To the extent necessary capital cannot be obtained by the Company through any method, it could have a material adverse effect on the Company's (and ultimately the Business) operations and profitability and you may recognize a loss of your investment in the Shares.

Uncertainty of Exit Plans:

While MBFLL's management intends to seek opportunities for the Company to be acquired by another business, there is no planned or expected exit strategy with respect to the sale (or other transfer or divestment of) of any of the shares that are the subject of this offering. . As a result, you will be expected to hold your Shares for an indefinite period of time.

Conflicts of Interest and Affiliated Companies:

The Bylaws allow the Company's shareholders, the members of the Board (and their affiliates) and the Officers (and their affiliates) to own an interest in, or otherwise be involved (directly or indirectly) with the management of, other companies. Further, the Company may, from time to time (subject to the terms of the Bylaws), do business with one or more entities owned by (or otherwise affiliated with and/or under the direct or indirect control of) one or more such related parties, provided such agreements will substantially reflect commercially reasonable terms. Notwithstanding the forgoing, contracts between the Company and such affiliated entities have inherent conflicts of interest and such agreements will not be the result of arms' length negotiations or third-party bidding and may not represent industry standard terms.

Liability of Management:

The Bylaws provide that it may indemnify the members of the Board and its Officers, employees and agents (and former directors, Officers, employees and agents). Consequently, the ability of a plaintiff to impose liability on such persons may be impaired in whole or in part. In the opinion of the SEC, however, indemnification for liabilities arising under the 1933 Act is against public policy and, therefore, ineffective.

Third Party Providers:

The Company intends to outsource the majority, if not all, of the development of its three (3) offered online fantasy football games and social network products primarily by utilizing known outsource groups and to engage an unrelated party to perform quality control with respect to its products. As a result, the Company will be highly dependent on the availability of the necessary outsource service providers, as well as certain third party quality control service providers, and there is a risk that one or more of the same may not be available at any given time. Further, to the extent the Company contracts with one or more third party outsource service providers to develop MBFLL™, there is no guaranty that the Company can do so under favorable terms or, to the extent it does negotiate favorable terms, that such terms will not be adversely modified in the future. If the Company is unable to engage these third party outsource service providers necessary to conduct its Business as intended, or is unable to obtain such services on commercially reasonable terms, the Company's (and ultimately the Business) operations and profitability may be materially adversely affected and you may recognize a loss of your investment in the Shares.

Intellectual Property:

The success of the Company will depend, in material part, on the proprietary nature of its online services. As a standard practice, the Company intends to obtain such legal protections as the Board deems appropriate to protect its intellectual property. Nevertheless, there is no guaranty that the Company's intellectual property will not be infringed upon (in whole or in part) by third-parties. To the extent the proprietary nature of the Company's online fantasy football league and social network products and/or intellectual property is materially compromised, the Company's (and ultimately the Business) operations and profitability may be materially adversely affected and you may recognize a loss of your investment in the Shares.

Market Risks:

Unknown Future Competition:

The Company believes that its online fantasy football league play combined with its online social network component it intends to offer as part of its Business are, and will be, unique not yet seen in the existing online fantasy football market and will exist in a product class of its own. However, the Company's unique three (3) online fantasy football games are designed to be used in competition with existing daily play online fantasy football offerings and thus the Company may be considered to be within the online fantasy football business, which is highly competitive. Further, while the Company anticipates a significant “first-mover” advantage with respect to its combined online social network and fantasy football league Business, profitable first-movers always attract new market entrants. Such new market entrants will most likely include new potential direct/indirect competitors, some of whom may have considerably greater financial, human and other resources, experience and/or name recognition in comparison to the Company. Given the potentially significant competition in the subject market, there is no guaranty that the proposed Business will be successful in the long run.

Possible Future Governmental Regulation:

Each player of Company’s online fantasy football Bracket League™ will pay $150 in advance for the entire 16-week NFL/MBFFL™ season. Weekly Bracket League™ winners advance within the Bracket League™ while weekly Bracket League™ losers are auto-registered, at no additional cost, and advance to play in Company’s Community League™ with its weekly cash winners. All MBFFL™ players have a chance to play and win each week of the 16-week NFL/MBFFL™ season. Company’s social network component, including a unique me play Myspace-like user interface, enhances the experience. As a result, and because Company’s online fantasy football league experience is about the season-long experience and not just weekly competitions Company does not believe that it, or its intended products, will be subject to direct regulation by any federal, state or local agency. However, as the online fantasy sports industry is receiving attention from the Attorneys General of many states and may become highly regulated, there is no guaranty that the Company and/or its products will not be subject to some form of regulation in the future. Such regulations may result in the Company being forced to pay unbudgeted compliance costs or, in the worst case scenario, begin prohibited from offering one or more of its products entirely. In either case, the Company’s (and ultimately the Business) operations and profitability may be materially adversely affected and you may recognize a loss of your investment in the Shares.

Uncertainty Due to Securities Market and National Economy:

Over the last several years, the national economy has been volatile due to high unemployment, exceedingly high national debt and deficits, and an unpredictable stock market. Due to the foregoing volatility, as well as the inherent uncertainty involved with the securities market and the economy as a whole, there can be no accurate predictions concerning the return to you on your investment in the Shares.

Investment Risks:

Possible Loss of Entire Investment:

An investment in the Shares involves a high degree of risk and there is no guaranty that the Company will be profitable. As a result, you may suffer a substantial (or even a complete) loss of your investment in the Shares. ACCORDINGLY, YOU SHOULD NOT PURCHASE SHARES IF YOU CANNOT AFFORD THE LOSS OF YOUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT.

Limited Voting Rights and Control:

The holders of the Shares will have very limited voting rights and, accordingly, will have little to no effective control over, or direct input into, the management or decisions of the Company.

Illiquid Investment; Long-term Nature of Investment:

The Company has not registered, is not under any obligation to register, and does not intend to register the Shares with any regulatory authorities at any time in the future. As a result, the Shares are, and will be, extremely illiquid which materially impairs the ability of holders of the Shares to easily dispose of their Shares should the need arise. Further, there currently is no market for the Company’s Shares and it is highly unlikely that any such market will develop in the near future. Although it may be possible, after a period of time, under certain limited circumstances and subject to the terms of the Shareholder Agreement, to dispose of the Shares, you should not expect a market for the Shares will exist at any time in the future. Accordingly, due to the restrictions on transferability of, and the lack of any market for, the Shares an investment in the Shares is long-term and you will probably will not be able to liquidate your investment in the Shares in the event of an emergency or for any other reason (at least not in a timely manner and/or without a substantial loss of your investment).

ACCORDINGLY, YOU SHOULD NOT INVEST IN THE SHARES UNLESS YOU: (a) HAVE NO NEED FOR LIQUIDITY WITH RESPECT TO YOUR INVESTMENT IN THE SHARES; (b) HAVE NO INTENTION TO RESELL THE SHARES; AND (c) HAS THE ABILITY TO HOLD YOUR INVESTMENT INDEFINITELY.

Dividends:

The Company's sole expected source of distributable cash will be the cash flow, if any, generated from the Business which is in excess of the Reserve Amount. While the Company intends to pay certain dividends in the future, there can be no assurance that cash flow and/or profits from the Business (or otherwise) will allow such dividends to be made.

Arbitrary Determination of Offering Price:

The Offering Price of the Shares has been arbitrarily established by the Company based upon its present and anticipated financing needs with respect to the Business and bears no material relationship to the Company's present financial condition, assets, book value, projected earnings, or any other generally accepted valuation criteria.

Tax Audits:

The Company's tax return (particularly because the Company is a new entity) may, at some point, be audited by the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS"). The costs incurred in connection with any such an audit, and any ensuing administrative or legal proceedings, may adversely affect the profits, if any, from the Company's operations and/or the Company's cash flow. Furthermore, the Board, in its sole discretion, may settle or compromise any issues involved in an IRS audit, which may materially adversely affect your tax liabilities.

An audit of the Company's information return by the IRS may also result in an audit of your individual tax return. In the event of such an audit, the Company will not be obligated to pay any expenses incurred by you in connection therewith or with respect to any resultant litigation, regardless of whether or not the audit is caused by reason of you being a holder of the Shares, or otherwise.

Other Risks:

The foregoing is a summary of certain risks associated with the Company and its business AND IS NOT INTENDED TO BE COMPLETE.
