SPORTS AT THE SERVICE OF COMMUNITY

Community is at the heart of the Los Angeles SuperStars and the Champions Basketball League. Our teams will help bring sports and the community together.

What is extra special about the Champions League is that every single player to be a part of the League has committed to serving their community. The communities where they grew up, played in college and played professionally. They'll feel great and you'll feel great for helping make it possible. These memories will travel on and off the court.

Leadership from the SuperStars and other Champions League teams will empower community youth and their parents, teaching about nutrition and well-being, good sportsmanship, and the importance of a healthy lifestyle.

The SuperStars will host camps, clinics and school programs across the Los Angeles public school system year-round. So when fans become owners, their participation supports a greater good.

REVOLUTIONARY FAN EXPERIENCE

From SuperStars Board of Directors

Like many of you, I wanted to be a team owner. Be part of something great. Entertain and have fun and be a hero for my community. This is that opportunity.

The SuperStars, the league's Los Angeles team, is composed entirely of former NBA players, including All-Stars and a Championship front office.

The team is part of the Champions League, playing games during NBA off-season, taking over the summer. ESPN is our broadcast partner.

The SuperStars are also part of our mission to connect with local schools across the country. Since early 2016 we have worked with with school districts in New York and will roll this out in LA next, and we will change lives of kids for the better, on a regular basis. See the video above for more on this great, great mission using fantastic players who the kids love!

You can be an owner. Being a fan is great, but the special privileges of ownership are now available to you. I invite you to join us with the SuperStars and help us build a great basketball team, have a ton of fun and improve our communities together.
