I always felt like Hakan could be juggling; burning torches, running chainsaws, and cuddly kittens, and all-the-while have the capacity to nudge gently and occasionally on each of his team members top priorities. He adds an elegant, ambient efficiency, and focused energy to the operational machinery of everything within his purview.

In addition, Hakan cares deeply about building great business. He is honorable, good-hearted, and fiercely competitive. I had a lot of fun working with him, and would enjoy doing it again.
