We passionately believe that pet owners desire to provide their pets with the same healthy and long lifestyle that they expect for themselves. Its founder, Janel Young, MBA is an animal advocate, health enthusiast, as well as a previous pet and business owner. Nava Pets was formed in 2013 to bring these unique pet products into the marketplace. Expansion and growth funding from the Tory Burch 100K Fellow Program will be used to hire additional staff, upgrade manufacturing equipment, increase product inventory for new retailers, and marketing/ branding.

Product/Service Description:

Most of today's pet owners treat their pets as family members and are interested in purchasing products of the same quality and healthy ingredients that they would expect for themselves. As a pet owner, maintaining clean grooming for your dog or cat is a daily responsibility. This includes keep their fur skin healthy, odor free, and eliminating common pests such as fleas and ticks. If not treated properly, poor grooming could lead to long term health issues for the pet as well as the owner they live with.

In response, Nava Pets launched a new organic line of pet care products. The Nava Pets line consists of the following:

- 1) Organic Dry Pet Conditioning Shampoos;
- 2) Organic Dry Flea & Tick Shampoos;
- 3) Organic Liquid Shampoos; (Pet/Dog/Horse)
- 4) Organic Pet-Itch Relief Oil and Spray;

- 5) Organic Pet Ear Itch Relief and Dog Stain Removal;
- 6) Organic Pet Paw Balm;
- 7) Organic Grooming Kits;
- 8) Organic Food Supplements
- 9) Organic/Natural Pet Treats and Food (Various Flavors)

Using the finest certified organic and food grade ingredients, we created a unique herbal blends that are gentle and safe for pets. We carefully selected each ingredient based on supportive research of their healthy or repellent benefits and created a balance formula that is appropriate for all types of dogs and cats. That's why our products are fresh and simple, containing no oils, artificial ingredients or fragrances. Many of our herbal ingredients are well known and currently being used in other organic pet products or recognized as supplements by natural, holistic or preventative health specialists.

Business Plan/Strategy:

Ninety-one (91%) percent of pet owners consider their animals a part of the family, according to a recent online poll by Packaged Foods in 2010, a market research firm in Rockville, Md., and nationwide sales reflect that. Sales of non-food natural and organic pet supplies increased 107 percent, to $356 billion, between 2004 and 2009, with revenues expected to reach $885 million in 2015.

Based upon these additional findings, Nava Pets was clearly able to identify the following market niche which to launch its product line to:

Sales of non-food natural and organic pet supplies.

This market segment is certainly large enough to handle another product entry and Nava Pets could remain a standing competitor. Industry experts report that the pet products industry is competitive and highly fragmented with no clear brand leadership, and underutilized marketing opportunities.

Nava Pets' marketing strategy is to provide high-quality naturally organic products that are effective to pet care needs while being environmentally and socially responsible. We want our products to be the standard by which similar products will be measured in our target market.

Strategic Assumptions:

Our customers treat their pets as family members and care about their health and well-being.

Many of our end-users have high quality expectations for their pets because of their lifestyle selection of food and non-food goods.

Products adopted by the commercial markets and online channels will lead to brand establishment, acceptance and recognition.

Individual consumers will more readily use our products due to the natural and organic components.

Profits will be used for new product development and incremental improvements for existing products, and to expand our marketing and sales efforts to establish our line as a national brand.

At Nava Pets, we realize strategic distribution is imperative for us to establish brand presence, product recognition and a strong competitive advantage. After careful research and market testing, we determined our distribution will be primarily driven by the following objectives: a) to broaden market coverage; b) enlisting product support with retail partners and c) establishing many channel outlets nationally. These channels are divided into three main categories:

Offering Disclosure

1) Direct/Online Sales; 2) Retailers (Wholesalers) and 3) Distributors. Each will channel will progress in phases over a three year period. These level phases are subject to demand, channel types, and market share.

Distribution Phases:

Level 1 - Target independent natural food stores, pet boutiques of 100 locations or less and other independent online pet channels directly, through small distributors or outsourced sales reps and manufacturing reps (i.e. Tree of Life, Sweet Bay, Amazon.com and Wag.com).

Level 2 - Target independent, regional or national retail chains of natural food stores, pet stores of 300 locations or less directly, online and through mid-large size pet or natural food sales brokers/reps, manufacturing reps and distributors. As well as continue expanding other independent online partnerships (i.e. Publix, Whole Foods, PETCO and All Natural Pet Store).

Level 3 - Target national retail chains of natural food stores, pet stores of 500 locations or more directly, online and through mid-large size pet or natural food sales brokers/reps, manufacturing reps and distributors. This would include securing shared distribution through selective discount retailers and/or exclusive private label contracts (i.e. Walmart, Kroger, Whole Foods, Target, PetSmart and Petco). Start expanding into selective international retail markets that are within our target market group (i.e. UK).

Target Customers/Current Customer Base:

Nava Pets' will market individuals and/or families whose central focus is creating a healthy lifestyle for their whole family. Their pets are included within that family unit. The potential for those individual consumers is strong because 55% of U.S. households own a cat or dog. Based upon the 2010 Census report, that number represents 154,782,078. They associate, research, and advocate good living tied to organic and local food or non-food products. Always expecting to buy high quality ingredients that work as preventative agents to heal the body, yet love vivid tastes or smells. Pets' desires are perceived similar to their owners and their parents are willing and able to purchase these products in hopes for them to live a long life as well. Much of their shopping experiences consist of stores or online marketplaces that feature products that abide to a certain green standard, transparency, and branding. Nava Pets will establish sales and distribution channels with these criteria to ensure mass availability of our line. While there are many competitors who sell similar dry shampoo products, very few offer an organic line that works for both dogs and cats. Many pet owners determine purchases based on its usage, type of ingredients used, and costs. At Nava Pets, we believed our organic line meets and exceeds these traits as well as the unique blend offers a competitive niche.

Competition/Competitive Advantages/Barriers to Entry:

We have many competitors in the pet products industry. However, the following list below is a sample of major competitors that sell similar dry powder shampoo product as well as estimates of their product penetration that is currently available for sale. However only two (2) of these brands would qualify as non-food natural and organic pet supplies. Most of these brands are done by private labeled manufacturing; so product specific market penetration analysis is not readily available. A price comparison analysis was also done and the Nava Pets' line is within that competitive mean rate. The mean rate was $1.87 per ounce.

- Naturvet - Petco and Pet Supermarket Stores, Online Retailers
- Only Natural Pet - Only Natural Pet Store, Petco Online only, Online Retailers
- Four Paws Magic Coat - Petco, PetSmart and Pet Supermarket Stores, Online Retailers
- Zodiac, Petco and PetSmart stores, Online Retailers
- ECOSS - Online Retailers, Whole Foods, Walmart, Petco

Current consumer buying habits for pet supplies are driven primarily by the products' functionality, ingredients and price level.

As pet owners become more aware of product recalls, harmful artificial and chemical additives; there's a strong, growing demand for natural/organic pet supplies that provide preventive and healthy treatments. As a result, Nava Pets' pet care line is within great timing of market entry.

For example, our dry pet conditioning shampoos are the first USDA certified Organic Dry Shampoo that requires NO WATER use for bath time. This eliminates most negative effects on pet skin, while resulting in ridging odors, healthy fur growth or repelling fleas and ticks. Our formulated blends consists of minimum of 70% certified organic, human grade, and fair trade ingredients. Our competitors use artificial ingredients and fragrances, which can have toxic or deadly effects over long term use. We designed our products specifically to address those pet health/wellness needs. Finally, a portion of our proceeds goes towards various pet rescues to promote pet health awareness and adoptions.

Our product has other sustainable, competitive advantages such as:

The company intends to focus its initial sales efforts directly and through distribution outlets to establish product reliability and brand recognition for the company aggressively. This strategy will generate less net profit per bag, but increase sales due to higher volumes. The company will identify and work with these prospects directly and with industry representatives to secure clients. Sales directly to individual consumers will be serviced through the company's website, through catalogs and select online marketplaces that are company operated (i.e. eBay, Amazon, Bonanza).

Initially, Nava Pets will manufacture product line in batches of 500lbs. and ship out orders directly to individuals, drop ship, and wholesale clients. Order processing, manufacturing, delivery and shipping will be managed using electronic data interchange (EDI) methods to minimize order processing times, facilitate order tracking and optimize customer and vendor information management will also be done internally. All shipping vendors (i.e. USPS, FedEx, and UPS) will be used based upon client's order size, location, and required order delivery time.

To ensure that we are meeting (and hopefully exceeding) customers' expectations, consumers will be asked to complete a satisfaction survey, products reviews and social media regarding the level of service received from the beginning of the sales process to delivery and installation (where applicable), including follow-up and future service needs.

Nava Pets USDA Conditional Shampoos is the First Organic Dry Shampoo launched. Each product is Eco-friendly, GMO Free, and Leaping Bunny approved.

This line is designed specifically for the pets' health/wellness needs; while providing pet-friendly scents that smell pleasant to the owners too. All of our food and non-food production are Veterinarian Approved, PH Balanced and provide nutritional value.

Market Size:

The overall Supplies/OTC Medicine market demand for natural and organic pet products or services from manufacturers is expected to reach an estimated record yearly growth of close to 6%; reaching close to $6 billion by 2015. More specifically, sales of non-food natural and organic pet supplies increased 107 percent, to $356 million, between 2004 and 2009, with revenues reaching $885 million in 2015-2016.

Nava Pets' product would be marketed within the pet supplies segment. After careful research study, the following factors have contributed to the Supplies/OTC Market success and growth:

- 1) U.S. household expenditures on pet products and services have outpaced spending in most other consumer categories.
- 2) Past combined growth rate of 87.5% during the periods of 1994-2004 shows demand remains strong.
- 3) Market driven by humanization of pets within U.S. households.
- 4) Trending shifts towards natural and preventive health practices and products for pets will continue to fuel market growth.

One marketing company, Market Research, states that "inadequate marketing has resulted in annual sales returns well below the level this market should deliver," which indicates that growth in this market could be much stronger if marketing efforts were more sophisticated than they are in the current fragmented markets.

Based on our industry research, we think we have opportunities to attract customers from the following market groups:

- Natural food stores
- Pet Stores/Boutiques
- Individual consumers

The first two groups were selected because they offer growth outside of the "usual" pet products consumer; their reception of the product will help in establish product distribution, brand awareness and influence individual consumer purchases.

Ninety-one (91%) percent of pet owners consider their animals a vital part of the family, according to a recent online poll by Packaged Foods in 2010; sales of non-food natural/organic pet supplies increased 107 percent, to $356 billion, between 2004 and 2009, with revenues expected to reach $885+ million by 2015. The largest number potential pool of buyers for these products are individual consumers. Industry experts estimate that more than 55% of U.S. households own at least one pet cat or dog; many own multiple pets. The 2010 Census reported a total population of 281,421,960; 55% of that number represents our potential individual consumer market, 154,782,078 with a household income greater than $55,000. This group is driven by experience, information in all aspects of their lives; focusing on a healthy vision of family life. They desire natural, organic or locally sourced food and shop at farmers markets, specialty retailers, and online that cater to them.

Projections:

The sales forecast table shows Nava Pets has taken a conservative scenario approach for the next three years of operations. Our start-up year reflects growth estimates of what may occur when introducing a new product to the mass market. Sales may fluctuate due to weather seasons, flea/tick cycles as well as new product demand or budgetary cycles from individual and commercial clients.

Individual consumer sales may also fluctuate seasonally, but we are estimating flat monthly sales for all market segments with minimum annual sales growth of 10% on average of the low and high end industry expert sales forecasts. This time table is flexible and can be accelerated based on demand.

Based on current economic indicators, we set the direct cost of sales to increase at a minimum rate of 5% for the first three years of operation. This too is flexible and can be adjusted based on changes in the economy. Cost of sales includes manufacturing, packaging and delivery costs.

Business Model:

The products are sold in the price range of $8.99 - $15.99 while the cost of manufacturing is in cents, providing a high profit margin.

Executives:

The management team of Nava Pets consists of a unique partnership with the principal owner, external counsel, professional consultants and an advisory board. VII. RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk therefore an investor should not invest any funds in this Offering unless he or she can afford to lose his or her entire investment. In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the Issuer and the terms of the Offering, including the merits and risks involved. These Securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, the authorities have not passed upon the accuracy of the terms of the Offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature. The Securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the SEC has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

Business Risks:

The Issuer was recently formed, therefore the Issuer must be considered an early stage business and, consequently, has limited financial and operating history. Potential Investors should be aware of the difficulties normally encountered by a new enterprise, many of which are beyond the Issuer's control. Investment in a start-up company such as the Issuer is inherently subject to many risks, and investors should be prepared to withstand a complete loss of their investments. There is nothing at this time upon which to base an assumption that the Issuer's business strategy, to the extent that it has been formulated, which is subject to change at the discretion of management and as to which no representations or warranties have been made, will prove successful. There is no assurance that a business plan can be implemented or, if implemented, that the proposed business will be able to operate profitably. The Issuer may modify and/or "pivot" its business plans and strategies as management pursues strategies that it believes to be in the best interests of the Issuer. In addition, as a result of the startup nature of its business, the Issuer might sustain operating expenses in excess of its operating revenues, notwithstanding that the financial projections provided in the Disclosure indicate the potential for earnings. Due to the lack of a substantial operating history, it is not possible to identify or describe all of the risks that will confront the investors in the Issuer, and investors must be prepared to lose any and all of their investment in the Issuer. The Issuer's prospects must be considered in light of the risks, expenses and difficulties frequently encountered by companies in their early stage of development. Such risks include, but are not limited to, possible inability to respond promptly to changes in a rapidly evolving and unpredictable business environment, the risk of inability to manage growth, limited financial resources, highly competitive industry, delays in reaching goals, difficulty recruiting talent, etc.

Reputation Risks:

Success of the business also depends on its customer satisfaction and brand perception as well as the Issuer's ability to adjust to new the customers' preferences. Risks related to public perception of the Issuer include word-of-mouth criticism, web blogs, social media posts and reviews, other Internet-based websites. Most of the websites do not filter or check accuracy of the published content therefore there is a risk of inaccurate information being posted about the Issuer on Internet websites. The harm may be immediate without affording the Issuer an opportunity to redress or correction.

Economic Downturns:

Financial difficulties of the end users/customers to which the Issuer expects to sell its services may adversely affect the Issuer's revenues, costs and collections. If the economy is poor generally, then collectability of receivables may be adversely affected, causing an increase in aged receivables and/or a reduced collection rate. Issuer's profits could be adversely affected if the Issuer is forced to write off uncollectible accounts. In addition, economic downturns could adversely affect the fiscal health of key customers/clients or impair their ability to continue to operate during a recessionary period, which would decrease the Issuer's revenues unless the Issuer is able to replace any lost business. The instability or tightening in the credit markets could impair the Issuer's ability to obtain financing as and when needed. The Issuer has limited working capital and there may not be sufficient financial resources available to carry out planned operations. There is also no assurance that positive cashflow will ever occur. There can be no assurance that the Issuer will raise the target capital in this or another Offering. The Issuer's working capital requirements may also be subject to changes in the Market, Economy or business plan.

Regulatory Risks:

Aspects of the Issuer's business and product/service may be regulated at the local, state, and federal levels both in the USA and other countries and may be subject to local, state, and federal laws and regulations. The Issuer may be subject to state, local, and federal regulations regarding labor conditions, safety in the workplace, healthcare and other human resource issues. The nature and scope of future legislation, regulations and programs cannot be predicted. While the Issuer anticipates to be in compliance with all applicable governmental regulations, there still may be risks that such laws and regulations may change with respect to present and future operations. Such changes may increase the costs or put the operations of the Issuer on hold. The Issuer is responsible for compliance with the laws and regulations and for obtaining and maintaining all required permits and licenses. Such compliance may be time consuming and costly, and such expenses may materially affect the future ability to generate revenue and reach profitability or grow.

Management Risks:

The business of the Issuer will be greatly dependent upon the participation of its Officers and Directors and other key personnel. The officers and directors have experience in businesses that appear to be relevant as background for their work for the Issuer, but, nonetheless, it is difficult or impossible to evaluate whether or not they can effectively manage the Issuer and its business. There is no assurance that management and key personnel have the adequate skills to enable the Issuer to earn income or make profits on its operations or investments. Investors should consider the credentials and experience of management and the effect thereof on the Issuer's prospects. The Issuer will need to hire additional management and key personnel as the Issuer grows in order to properly manage the business. There are no assurances that the qualified personnel can be hired and, if hired, can be retained. The loss, incapacity or unavailability for any reason of the services of any Officers, Directors or key personnel would materially adversely affect the conduct of the Issuer's business and its startup and continued operation. The Issuer's principal competitors may have greater financial resources than those available to the Issuer and thus in a better position to attract "talent." Furthermore, management may have significant conflicts in the future based on various factors including conflicts of interests, other investments and business ventures participation.

Competition Risks:

In general, the market in which the Issuer is operating is competitive. Many of the factors that will affect the Issuer's ability to compete will be beyond the Issuer's control. In general, the Issuer's potential competitors may have longer operating histories, greater brand recognition and significantly greater financial, marketing and other resources than the Issuer and that their superiority to the Issuer in these areas will likely continue into the future. Barriers to entry for new competitors of the Issuer may be low, and current and new competitors may launch competitive services at a relatively low cost. Further, there is a substantial risk that current and future services (if any) offered by the Issuer will not be desired by the market targeted by the Issuer for various reasons, including pricing and changes in technology. The Issuer may not be able to reach a critical mass of customers/clients, in which case the Issuer's revenues may not be sufficient to pay the expenses associated with having its products manufactured and sold and/or the Issuer's general and administrative expenses, generally. The Issuer's ability to remain competitive may depend in part upon its ability to develop new and enhanced services/products and to introduce these services in a timely and cost-effective manner. In addition, service introductions or enhancements by the Issuer's competitors or the use of other technologies could cause a decline in revenue for the Issuer's existing services.

Market Risks:

Although the Issuer believes that the market for what it offers will continue to exist, there can be no assurance that a profitable market will exist or continue to exist or that it will grow. Potential investors must consider that, even if markets exist or arise, there is no assurance that the Issuer will be able to reach a profitable level of operations selling to such markets. Furthermore, the market may be rapidly changing, industry standards may evolve. There is a risk that the Issuer may not be able to respond to a fast-changing market and technology requirements in a timely and low-cost manner. There can be no assurances that the Issuer shall be successful in selecting, developing, and marketing new services or in enhancing its existing services. Failure to do so successfully may adversely affect the issuer's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Growth Risks:

The Issuer expects to expand its operations in the foreseeable future. The anticipated growth could place a significant strain on the Issuer's management, operational and financial resources, especially given the fact that the Issuer's operating costs and revenues are unpredictable and are affected by many factors, including the ones beyond the Issuer's control. Effective management of the anticipated growth shall require expanding the Issuer's management and financial controls, hiring additional appropriate personnel as required, and developing additional expertise by existing management personnel. However, there can be no assurances that these or other measures will be implemented by the Issuer and shall effectively increase the Issuer's capabilities to manage such anticipated growth or to do so in a timely and cost-effective manner. In addition, the Issuer may have limited ability to diversify or expand its activities and product/service which may mean that there will be less spreading of risks that may occur in some other businesses. Moreover, management of growth is especially challenging for a company with a short operating history and limited financial resources.

Offering Disclosure

Financial Information Risks:

The Issuer's financial data presented with this Offering has been reviewed by The Florida Small Business Development Center at the University of Central Florida. Certain pro forma financial information provided to prospective investors is based on certain assumptions and industry benchmark which may not be accurate. Certain projected results of operations are hypothetical and based upon present factors thought by management to influence the operations. Projections do not, and cannot, take into account such factors adverse market fluctuations, unforeseeable events such as natural disasters, the terms and conditions of any possible financing, and other possible occurrences that are beyond the Issuer's ability to control or even to predict.

Intellectual Property Risks:

The Issuer's ability to compete effectively with other companies could depend, in part, on its ability to maintain the proprietary nature of its intellectual property. The Issuer's success may also depend, in part, on its ability to obtain and/or enforce intellectual property protection for these assets in the United States and other countries. The Issuer has no patents or other formal intellectual property protections through trademark registrations, patents or otherwise, but may pursue such protection in the future. The defense and prosecution of intellectual property suits may be both costly and time consuming even if the outcome is favorable to the Issuer. An adverse outcome could subject the Issuer to significant liabilities to third parties, require disputed rights to be licensed from third parties or require the Issuer to cease selling all or some of its products. There can be no assurances that others (a) may not independently develop the same or similar services, (b) otherwise obtain access to the Issuer's technology, or (c) develop their own technology that compete with the Issuer without infringing on the Issuer's intellectual property rights. There can be no assurances that confidentiality agreements entered into by the issuer's employees and consultants, advisors and collaborators, if any, will provide meaningful protection for the Issuer's trade secrets, know-how or other proprietary information in the event of any unauthorized use or disclosure of such trade secrets, know-how or other proprietary information.

Technology Risks:

The Issuer's business operations may include the use of digital technologies, including information systems, infrastructure and cloud applications. The maintenance of the Issuer's financial and other records is also dependent upon such technologies. Accordingly, its business will be dependent on the efficient and uninterrupted operation of computer hardware systems and the Internet. The Issuer's systems and operations will be vulnerable to damage or interruption from fire, flood, power loss, telecommunications failure, break-ins, earthquake and similar events. Any system interruptions that result in the unavailability of the Issuer's website or reduced processing performance would reduce the ability of the Issuer to manage its business and could, therefore, materially adversely affect the Issuer. The U.S. government has issued public warnings that indicate that such business information technology might be specific products of cyber security threats, including hacking, identity theft and acts of cyberterrorism. Many of the systems may not withstand the attacks and disaster recovery planning cannot account for and prevent all eventualities. There is a risk of potential corruption of the systems and loss of information stored which may result in the financial and other losses for the Issuer and could damage the company's public image.

Offering Disclosure

Insurance Risks:

The Issuer may not have all adequate insurances to cover the product/service liability claims and other risks related to the business. There can be no assurance that the Issuer will be able to obtain adequate insurance coverage or that it can be obtained at a reasonable cost. Even if the insurance is adequate and is customary for the Issuer's industry, losses could occur for uninsurable or uninsured risks or in amounts in excess of existing insurance coverage.

Indebtedness Risks:

The Issuer currently has no outstanding debt or payments due.

Third Party Providers Risks:

The Issuer may rely on services and products of third parties in its business operations. While there may be a control person appointed to oversee the services provided, the Issuer cannot control all the operations and risks in connection with using third party services and products. Interruption or issues with third party providers may negatively affect the Issuer's operations and growth as well as may require searching for new third party providers and covering extra costs.

Funding Risks:

The Issuer's capital requirements depend on many factors, including factors that are difficult or impossible to predict. In order to effectively execute its business plan and pursue its business activities, the Issuer may need to raise additional capital in future investment rounds or other financings, which may include debt and/or equity and/or leasing transactions ("Future Rounds") or otherwise obtain financing. There can be no assurance that Future Rounds or any additional financing or capital will be available, and the Issuer cannot at this time accurately forecast the amount that will be needed, obtainable or obtained in Future Rounds. Even if the Future Rounds are raised or financing is available or the Issuer is able to raise other capital, the terms thereof may not be satisfactory to the Issuer or, in general, desirable or may be such that the Issuer cannot make a profit that would enable an investor to receive a return on his investment in the Issuer. Even if the Issuer raises Future Rounds and/or additional financing or capital is available through loans or other facilities, the Issuer will depend substantially upon the availability of cash flow from operations to stay in business. There is no assurance that the Issuer can generate cash flow when needed. In the event that the issuer's operations do not generate necessary cash flow and/or the Issuer cannot obtain additional funds if and when needed through other means, the Issuer may be forced to limit, curtail or cease its activities with a consequent loss to investors.

Relationships Risks:

The Issuer may have established or will establish certain relationships with other organizations and individuals. The Issuer may also need to re-establish and maintain these relationships in order to support its business operations. In some situations, the required relationships may not yet be identified. Furthermore, in some cases inability to enter into these relationships on satisfactory terms may delay the Issuer's operations or lead to increased expenses.

Employment Risks:

As of the date of this Offering, none of the management members are under employment contracts. It is anticipated that upon completion of this Offering key personnel may wish to enter into employment contracts with the Issuer. Members of the executive management team will become salaried once the Issuer has raised sufficient capital.

Use of Proceeds Risks:

Management will have unlimited discretion as to the allocation and use of the proceeds of this Offering and intends to use such proceeds for such expenses that it deems necessary or appropriate.

Debt Financing Risks:

The Issuer's debt service obligations may adversely affect its cash flow. As a result of any future debt obligations, the Issuer may be subject to: (i) the risk that cash from operations will be insufficient to meet required payments of principal and interest, (ii) restrictive covenants, including covenants relating to certain financial ratios, and (iii) interest rate risk. Although the Issuer anticipates that it will be able to repay or refinance any indebtedness when it matures there can be no assurance that it will be able to do so or that the terms of such refinancing will be favorable. The Issuer's leverage may have important consequences including the following: (i) its ability to obtain additional financing for payments of principal and interest; there was a (iii) but nothing listed

Offering Risks:

This Offering is made in reliance on an exemption from registration requirements and there is no guarantee that it will comply with the regulatory requirements for such exemption.

Offering Disclosure
NAVA PETS

Furthermore, these securities cannot be resold for a 12-month period after the Closing and there is no public or other trading market available yet for the securities offered herein. Investors in the securities offered in the Offering are not entitled to any voting right and do not have a say in the company's executive decision-making process.

Additional Unforeseen Risks:

In addition to the risks described in this section "RISK FACTORS," and elsewhere in this Offering Disclosure, other risks not presently foreseeable could negatively impact the Issuer, disrupt its operations and cause the Issuer to fail. Ultimately, each investor in the securities of this Offering bears the risk of a complete and total loss of his or her investment.

Business Specific Risks:

The Issuer might face changes in the state and federal laws in connection to any licensing required for sale of the products. The Issuer does not control such developments and will do everything possible to stay up to date on any changes and meet the requirements.

No Guarantee of Return on Investment:

There is no assurance that a Purchaser will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each Purchaser should read the Form C and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT ANALYSIS³

Review of 2016 Results

- The Company is generating solid, positive cash flows from operations. Net income and net profit margins are up, and areas of liquidity look strong at this specific time.
- Overall net profitability here is excellent. This means that the net profit margin is good even compared to what similar companies are earning. This puts the challenge on managers to make sure that they are moving money back into the company to improve future profitability. Managers should also make sure to put money aside to pay taxes on the extra earnings.

³ Analysis based on company financial statements provided. Industry benchmarks and analysis provided by Profitcents for NAICs 311111 – Dog and Cat Manufacturing Companies with revenues less than $1M.

This is an important metric. In fact, over time, it is one of the more important barometers that we look at. It measures how many cents of profit the company is generating for every dollar it sells. Track it carefully against industry competitors. This is a very important number in preparing forecasts. The higher the better.

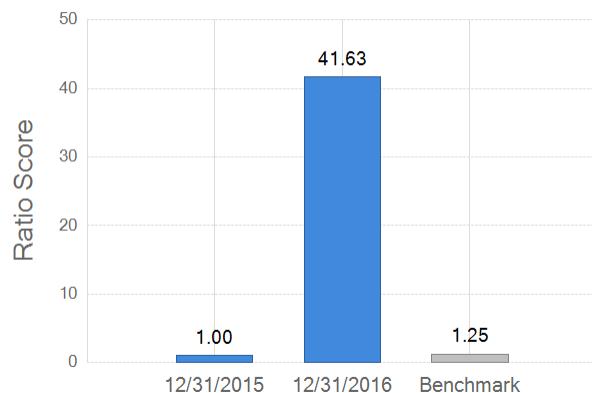

This number indicates the percentage of sales revenue that is not paid out in direct costs (costs of sales). It is an important statistic that can be used in business planning because it indicates how many cents of gross profit can be generated by each dollar of future sales. Higher is normally better (the company is more efficient).

- Liquidity ratios that the company should monitor as it continues to grow are shown below. Note that liquidity conditions are volatile and this analysis is looking at a given point in time. Accordingly, ratios should continue to be monitored over time.

Current Ratio

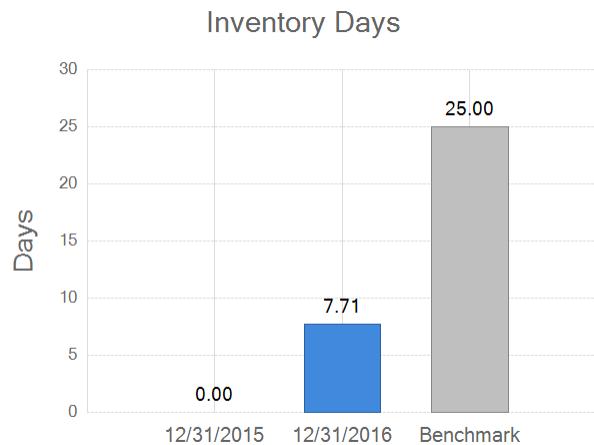

Quick Ratio

Generally, this metric measures the overall liquidity position of a company. It is certainly not a perfect barometer, but it is a good one. Watch for big decreases in this number over time. Make sure the accounts listed in "current assets" are collectible. The higher the ratio, the more liquid the company is.

This is another good indicator of liquidity, although by itself, it is not a perfect one. If there are receivable accounts included in the numerator, they should be collectible. Look at the length of time the company has to pay the amount listed in the denominator (current liabilities). The higher the number, the stronger the company.

Efficiency Ratios

This metric shows how much inventory (in days) is on hand. It indicates how quickly a company can respond to market and/or product changes. Not all companies have inventory for this metric. The lower the better.

- The company should regularly monitor accounts receivable for aged accounts. On a monthly basis, accounts receivable turnover/days should be monitored carefully along with the benchmarks above. The industry benchmark for accounts receivable collection is 15 Days⁴.
- The company should also regularly review the accounts payable days⁵ ratio which shows the average number of days that lapse between the purchase of materials and labor and the payment for them. It is a rough measure of how timely a company is in meeting payment obligations. The industry benchmark is 25 days.

Break-even Analysis

- Based on 2016 results, the amount of revenues to break-even is $186,079. For every $1.00 increase in fixed costs, sales must increase by $1.61 to break-even. Gross margin has a meaningful impact on the break-even point. For example, based on 2016 results, a 10% decline in Gross Margin (to 52%) would result in an increase in break-even sales to approximately $222,000.

⁴ Accounts receivable days is calculated as $(360 * (\text{Accounts Receivable} / \text{Sales}))$
