Respond to each question in each paragraph of this part. Set forth each question and any notes, but not any instructions thereto, in their entirety. If disclosure in response to any question is responsive to one or more other questions, it is not necessary to repeat the disclosure. If a question or series of questions is inapplicable or the response is available elsewhere in the Form, either state that it is inapplicable, include a cross-reference to the responsive disclosure, or omit the question or series of questions.

Be very careful and precise in answering all questions. Give full and complete answers so that they are not misleading under the circumstances involved. Do not discuss any future performance or other anticipated event unless you have a reasonable basis to believe that it will actually occur within the foreseeable future. If any answer requiring significant information is materially inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the Company, its management and principal shareholders may be liable to investors based on that information.

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

> The Company is an early stage company incorporated in March 2018. Accordingly, the Company's operations are subject to all the risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise, including potential operating losses. Any investment in the Company must be considered in light of the risks, expenses and difficulties frequently encountered by companies in an early stage of development in new and rapidly evolving markets. In addition to being subject to all of the risks associated with the creation of a new business, the Company will be subject to factors impacting business generally, such as general economic conditions, increasing government regulatory activity, scarcity of resources, and competition. No assurance can be given as to the ultimate success of the Company. The likelihood of the success of the Company must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications and delays frequently encountered in connection with the formation of a new business.
> The Company will continue its research and development activities for its initial product and begin its production operations. Though development is planned and budgeted based on experience, it is uncertain that the initial financing will be sufficient to establish that the initial product line is financially viable, in which case additional financing will be required. If the Company is successful, the Company will certainly have to obtain further additional capital beyond this financing round to expand inventory and distribution reach. As such, it is absolutely certain that the Company will need additional financing. The ability of the Company to secure future capital will depend on many factors, including continued progress in product success, the cost of manufacturing and production, market requirements, advertising costs and fluctuations in raw material prices.
> Participant is committed to offering a safe, effective, durable, and affordable products. Achieving these design goals is notoriously difficult. Though our first product, Product1, is showing excellent potential and we have vast experience in this product category, we may encounter substantial delays in solving design problems, in organizing trials, solving problems related to preparation of mass manufacture, or other supply chain problems, which would cause a delay of revenue.
> Expanding our international presence is an important aspect of our plans for growth. With those efforts come potential costs and risks that could impact our business success. We may need to devote substantial time and resources to opening branch offices in foreign countries, learning to satisfy the preferences and needs of foreign markets, understanding and complying with local laws and regulations applicable to our business, protecting our intellectual property rights, and navigating foreign tax laws that could be financially detrimental. We may not be able to meet our goals for international expansion.
> Participant is subject to all of the business risks and uncertainties associated with any new business enterprise, including under-capitalization, cash shortages, limitations with respect to personnel, financial and other resources, lack of significant revenue and the risk that we will not achieve our growth objectives. If sales revenue from any product is insufficient, if we are unable to develop and commercialize any of our potential product candidates, or if our product development is delayed, we may require a bridge loan.
> Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team. The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company. Though we will carry Key Person Insurance, there can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel required to successfully grow our business. Insurance payout may need to be used to cover obligations to investors.
> Ryota Yamada is a part-time officer. As such, it is likely that the company will not make the same progress as it would if that were not the case.
> Wayne Hanson is a part-time officer. As such, it is likely that the company will not make the same progress as it would if that were not the case.
> In regards to user safety, wheelchairs are in the lowest risk category, a Class 1 medical device according to the FDA, and require approval before sales. The team has extensive experience in achieving FDA and other regulatory body approval; however, regulatory processes are a serious hurdle in the progress toward sales that must be acknowledged. Participant currently has only one product candidate, which is still in development, and we have not obtained authorization from the FDA to commercially distribute the device in the United States, or a CE Mark for commercial distribution in Europe. The regulatory framework in lower income countries typically follows FDA or CE standards, but may require time consuming registration before market entry. A delay of approval or registration in a market will delay revenue from that market and may adversely impact Participant's financial performance.
> Though planned and budgeted, the process of obtaining regulatory authorization is expensive and time-consuming and can vary substantially based upon, among other things, the type, novelty of a product, and the regulatory framework of the market concerned. Changes in regulatory policy, the enactment of additional regulations, or changes in regulatory review for each submitted product application may cause delays in the authorization of a product candidate or rejection of a regulatory application altogether. Participant is very active in standards committees and bodies which contribute to regulatory developments. As lower income country markets are evolving quickly, changes are common. These changes may result in new openings or closing of some markets. This will certainly impact Participant's revenue and financial performance.
> For Product1, in lower income countries, there is limited market awareness of the product category, supportive pediatric wheelchairs/strollers. The market education job is shared with many NGOs and multilateral actors, such as the World Health Organization. Buyer's ability to discriminate between low and high quality products, as well as overall demand, is related to the effectiveness of this market education activity. A slower than anticipated advancement in product category awareness will have a negative impact on Participant's financial performance, especially during and after Year 3 when sales growth is expected.
> For Product1, the product category at the intended price point is not strongly contested. If a competitor were to enter the market, this may significantly impact our growth and resulting revenue.
> To become an attractive addition to distributor's catalogs, Participant will need to develop additional products which cover other product categories. To achieve this cumulative effect and become a strong alternative to the existing high price competitors, additional product development is needed and this must be done in a timely fashion or growth in sales and market share will not meet expectations, especially in Year 4 and after.

The intellectual property protection in some of the intended markets is weak. Participant maintains relatively low margins, which is protective by decreasing the payoff of copying by competitors. However, Participant's products may become copied causing revenue problems, as well as other problems.

Participant is innovating and producing new intellectual property. However, the manual wheelchair product space is aged and new intellectual property is not always possible. We regard our intended and future intellectual property as important to our success, and we intend to rely on patent law to protect our proprietary rights. Despite our precautions, unauthorized third parties may copy certain portions of our devices or products or reverse engineer or obtain and use information that we regard as proprietary. We may seek additional patents in the future. We do not know if any future patent application will be issued with the scope of the claims, we seek. Patents that we receive may be challenged or invalidated. Thus, we cannot assure that any intellectual property rights that we may receive can be successfully asserted in the future or that they will not be invalidated, circumvented or challenged. Any failure to protect our proprietary information and any successful intellectual property challenges or infringement proceedings against us could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial performance.

Unexpected foreign currency fluctuations between the US Dollar and Chinese Yuan could negatively impact our costs related to manufacturing or R&D respectively. Initially, Participant will perform all manufacturing activities in China and, initially, will not be diversified.

Participant uses a number of off-shore consultants, particularly in South America. Currency fluctuations can increase the burden to the company for maintaining consistent actual compensation.

Due to market shaping activities by AT Scale (referenced as 'lessons learned from combating the global HIV/AIDs epidemic") demand in lower income countries is expected to rise. If this does not work out, then revenues will be below projections, especially in the long term after Year 3.

Participant intends to market wheelchairs as Over The Counter products, direct to customers from manufacturer. Wheelchairs require significant customization and user training. In more resourced settings like the USA, this is typically done via specialized vendors. In less resourced settings, specialist vendors are not used. Participant will develop products which are more simple and easy to provide. And, Participant will develop support materials which will empower users for self-help. The effectiveness of these support materials and the adoption of Participant's new method will impact sales volume, especially in the US and Canada markets.

Cross subsidy marketing in the USA and lower income countries can be challenging. Participant assumes, based on buyer response to date, that one base model can be successfully marketed in multiple markets. If this is not actually effective in the USA then, Participant's products will not gain market share. This risk is mitigated by setting a low forecast.

The global market appears to be entering a period of rapid growth. This may attract entry by experienced competitors with significant capital from more expensive markets. This may result in sales below expectations and adversely impact financial performance.

Participant is a strong candidate for a number of different grants (free money from AID agencies or philanthropic foundations). In regards to our short term budget, significant grant funding is not necessary and would be supplemental for advancement of special projects. The arrival time and size of these awards is uncertain. Also, the awards have complex reporting requirements which can complicate operations and increase HR costs

Transition into a production localization strategy requires continued improvement in industrial 3D printing technology, which is outside of Participant's scope. Though there is great incentive for third party vendors to create this capability, this is a challenging project which does not have a reliable delivery date.

Participant intends to launch Product1 globally with an emphasis on sales in the USA and sales to NGOs, with whom Participant has existing relationships. In addition, Participant intends an opportunistic approach to distributors in Middle Income Countries. The complexity of sales in this manner may be a challenge.

Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team. The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel we require to successfully grow our business.

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 8: Avoid generalized statements and include only those factors that are unique to the issuer. Discussion should be tailored to the issuer's business and the offering and should not repeat the factors addressed in the legends set forth above. No specific number of risk factors is required to be identified.

The Offering

USE OF FUNDS

9. What is the purpose of this offering?

The Company intends to use the net proceeds of this offering for working capital and general corporate purposes, which includes the specific items listed in Item 10 below. While the Company expects to use the net proceeds from the Offering in the manner described above, it cannot specify with certainty the particular uses of the net proceeds that it will receive from from this Offering. Accordingly, the Company will have broad discretion in using these proceeds.

10. How does the issuer intend to use the proceeds of this offering?

If we raise: $150,000

Use of Proceeds: 60% towards tooling for mass production; 3% towards regulatory filings; 12% towards Research and Development; 10% to founder salaries; 10% towards marketing and advertising; 5% towards Wefunder fees

If we raise: $450,000

Use of Proceeds: 25% towards tooling for mass production; 1% towards regulatory filings; 30% towards Research and Development; 4% to founder salaries; 35% towards marketing and advertising; 5% towards Wefunder fees

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 10: An issuer must provide a reasonably detailed description of any intended use of proceeds, such that investors are provided with an adequate amount of information to understand how the offering proceeds will be used. If an issuer has identified a range of possible uses, the issuer should identify and describe each probable use and the factors the issuer may consider in allocating proceeds among the potential uses. If the issuer will accept proceeds in excess of the target offering amount, the issuer must describe the purpose, method for allocating oversubscriptions, and intended use of the excess proceeds with similar specificity. Please include all potential uses of the proceeds of the offering, including any that may apply only in the case of oversubscriptions. If you do not do so, you may later be required to amend your Form C. Wefunder is not responsible for any failure by you to describe a potential use of offering proceeds.

DELIVERY & CANCELLATIONS

11. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

If we reach our target offering amount prior to the deadline, we may conduct an initial closing of the offering early if we provide notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to the new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Wefunder will notify investors if we conduct an initial closing. Thereafter, we may conduct additional closings from time to time at our and Wefunder's discretion until the deadline date.

The following describes the process to invest in the Company, including how the Company will complete an Investor's transaction and deliver securities to the investor.

1. Investor Commitment. The Investor will submit, through Wefunder Portal, a requested investment amount. When doing so, the Investor will also execute an investment contract with the Company ("Investment Agreement"), using the Investor's electronic signature.
2. Acceptance of the Investment. If the Investor Agreement is complete, the Investor's commitment will typically be recorded within a few minutes. The commitment will also be available on the Investor's "My Investments" screen on the wefunder.com website. After the offering closes, the contract will be counter-signed by the Company. The executed investment contract will then be sent to the investor via email, and is also available to download on the "My Investments" screen.
3. Investor Transfer of Funds. Upon receiving confirmation that an investment has been accepted, the Investor will be responsible for transferring funds from a source that is accepted by Wefunder Portal into an escrow account held with a third party bank on behalf of issuers offering securities through Wefunder Portal.
4. Progress of the Offering. The Investor will receive periodic email updates on the progress of the offering, including total amounts raised at any given time, and will be notified by email and through the "My Investments" screen when the target offering amount is met.
5. Closing: Original Deadline. Unless we meet the target offering amount early, Investor funds will be transferred from the escrow account to the Company on the deadline date identified in the Cover Page to this Form C and the Company's Wefunder Portal Profile.
6. Early Closings. If the target offering amount is met prior to the original deadline date, we may close the offering earlier, but no less than 21 days after the date on which information about the Company, including this Form C, is posted on our Wefunder Portal Profile. We will reschedule the offering deadline, and at least five days prior to the new deadline, investors will receive notice of it by email and through the "My Investments" screen. At the time of the new deadline, your funds will be transferred to the Company from the escrow account, provided that the target offering amount is still met after any cancellations.
7. Book Entry. Investments may be in book entry form. This means that the Investor may not receive a certificate representing his or her investment. Each investment will be recorded in our books and records and will be recorded in each Investors' "My Investments" screen. The Investor will also be emailed the Investment Agreement again. The Investment Agreement will also be available on the "My Investments" screen. At the option of the Company, you may receive an electronic certificate.

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment).

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned.

An Investor's right to cancel. An Investor may cancel his or her investment commitment at any time until 48 hours prior to the offering deadline.

If there is a material change to the terms of the offering or the information provided to the Investor about the offering and/or the Company, the Investor will be provided notice of the change and must re-confirm his or her investment commitment within five business days of receipt of the notice. If the Investor does not reconfirm, he or she will receive notifications disclosing that the commitment was cancelled, the reason for the cancellation, and the refund amount that the investor is required to receive. If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the Investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the Investor's funds will be returned within five business days.

Within five business days of cancellation of an offering by the Company, the Company will give each investor notification of the cancellation, disclose the reason for the cancellation, identify the refund amount the Investor will receive, and refund the Investor's funds.

The Company's right to cancel. The Investment Agreement you will execute with us provides the Company the right to cancel for any reason before the offering deadline.

If the sum of the investment commitments from all investors does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the time of the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.

In addition, we may cap at 450 the total number of investors who will be allowed to invest through the offering that are not "accredited investors," as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933.   In the event that more than 450 non-accredited investors are initially accepted into an offering in step (2) described in Question 11, the Company may cancel investments based on the order in which payments by Investors were received, or other criteria at the discretion of the Company, before the offering deadline.

Ownership and Capital Structure

THE OFFERING

13. Describe the terms of the securities being offered.

The company is issuing promissory notes to investors. The principal amount of each note is the amount invested by the investor. The company will use 5% of its gross revenues to pay back principal on the notes. Each note will be paid back based on its pro rata share of all notes issued in this offering. The company will make interest payments to the investor quarterly. The company may prepay principal and interest at any time. The company will continue payments until investors have received 1.5x their principal investment (the repayment amount) , provided however that at any time the company may defer up to 1 such payments upon notice to the Lender.

Investors who fund the first $50,000.00 of the fundraise will receive 1.75x their principal.

Upon the occurrence of an event of default (as defined in each note), all unpaid principal, accrued interest and other amounts owing will automatically be immediately due, payable and collectible by the company pursuant to applicable law.

The notes do not provide investors with any voting rights in the company.

See exact security attached as Appendix B, Investor Contracts.

14. Do the securities offered have voting rights?

☐ Yes
☑ No

15. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above?

☑ Yes: No Voting Rights
☐ No

16. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

Any provision of this instrument (other than the Repayment Amount) may be amended, waived or modified as follows: upon the written consent of the Borrower the holders of a majority in principal of the Repayment Amounts of all Notes.

RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER OF THE SECURITIES BEING OFFERED:

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

1. to the issuer;
2. to an accredited investor;
3. as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or
4. to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

NOTE: The term "accredited investor" means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person.

The term "member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent" includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term "spousal equivalent" means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

DESCRIPTION OF ISSUER'S SECURITIES

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Class of Security	Securities (or Amount) Authorized	Securities (or Amount) Outstanding	Voting Rights
Common Stock	10000000	9000000	Yes

Class of Security	Securities Reserved for Issuance upon Exercise or Conversion
Warrants:
Options:

Describe any other rights:

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

Because the Investor holds no voting rights in the company, the holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company could limit the Investor's rights in a material way. For example, those interest holders could vote to change the terms of the agreements governing the Company's operations or cause the Company to engage in additional offerings (including potentially a public offering). These decisions could affect gross revenues and diminish payments made to Investors.

Based on the risk that the company may never realize revenues or face a Default Event, the Investor may never see any returns.

Additional risks related to the rights of other security holders are discussed below, in Question 20.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

None

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the unitholders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the gross revenues of the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, the unitholders may change the terms of the operating agreement for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The unitholders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the Investor, leaving the Investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns.

The unitholders have the right to redeem their securities at any time. Unitholders could decide to force the Company to redeem their securities at a time that is not favorable to the Investor and is damaging to the Company. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability.

In cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be negatively affected.
Based on the risks described above, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

The value of the promissory notes will be determined by the Company's senior management in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. For example, the notes may be valued based on principal plus anticipated interest payments over the course of the term of the note.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its management, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the management of the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional issuances of securities. Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company. If the Board Of Directors of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations together with our financial statements and the related notes and other financial information included elsewhere in this offering. Some of the information contained in this discussion and analysis, including information regarding the strategy and plans for our business, includes forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. You should review the "Risk Factors" section for a discussion of important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the results described in or implied by the forward-looking statements contained in the following discussion and analysis.

Overview

We make affordable assistive products, starting with a groundbreaking supportive wheelchair for children with Cerebral Palsy and similar conditions. Our product roadmap follows the World Health Organization's list of 50 Priority Products that is being used by many countries to guide their national insurance. Our products are durable, affordable, and high quality. Our mission is to increase the participation of people with disabilities in society.

In 5 yrs we hope for: 500,000 people served, a $30m valuation, 20 products, and $7m in profits.
We hope tp be a certified B-Corp with 25 employees and offices in Colombia, USA, Thailand, Indonesia, Jordan, Kenya, Nigeria, India.
We will have launched our 'factory in a box' which will be capable of producing our products to serve local demand with 3D printing. We will be a preferred source of disability products for UNICEF, ICRC, USAID, and many lower income country health systems.

Given the Company's limited operating history, the Company cannot reliably estimate how much revenue it will receive in the future, if any.

Milestones

Participant Assistive Products was incorporated in the State of California in March 2018.

Since then, we have:

- Strong team - 100 years of industry experience, 150 wheelchairs developed, two successful exits, and 100,000+ units sold
- Customers believe - Letters of Intent to buy over 2500 units per year
- Strategic manufacturing partnership - with Nissin Japan, the second largest wheelchair company in Japan
- Product1 fills a gap - in the market and there are few competitors in this middle-market niche
- Field trials demonstrate effectiveness - one complete, one in progress, and 17 booked
- Straightforward approvals - Product1 is an FDA Class 1 medical device, which we have completed many times.
- A lasting company - our intent is a solution on the scale of the need that stays on track, guided by our Benefit Corporation status

Historical Results of Operations

Our company was organized in March 2018 and has limited operations upon which prospective investors may base an evaluation of its performance.

- Revenues & Gross Margin. For the period ended December 31, 2018, the Company had revenues of $4,760. Our gross margin was 27.75%.
- Assets. As of December 31, 2018, the Company had total assets of $24,674, including $24,674 in cash.
- Net Loss. The Company has had net losses of $15,620 for 2018.
- Liabilities. The Company's liabilties totaled $40,264 for 2018.

Liquidity & Capital Resources

To-date, the company has been financed with $200,000 in debt and $20,700 in equity.

After the conclusion of this Offering, should we hit our minimum funding target, our projected runway is 12 months before we need to raise further capital.

We plan to use the proceeds as set forth in this Form C under "Use of Funds". We don't have any other sources of capital in the immediate future.

We will likely require additional financing in excess of the proceeds from the Offering in order to perform operations over the lifetime of the Company. We plan to raise capital in 14 months. Except as otherwise described in this Form C, we do not have additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the offering. Because of the complexities and uncertainties in establishing a new business strategy, it is not possible to adequately project whether the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to enable us to implement our strategy. This complexity and uncertainty will be increased if less than the maximum amount of securities offered in this offering is sold. The Company intends to raise additional capital in the future from investors. Although capital may be available for early-stage companies, there is no guarantee that the Company will receive any investments from investors.

Runway & Short/Mid Term Expenses

Participant Assistive Products cash in hand is $188,924, as of September 2019. Over the last three months, revenues have averaged $0/month, cost of goods sold has averaged $0/month, and operational expenses have averaged $3,000/month, for an average burn rate of $3,000 per month. Our intent is to be profitable in 24 months.

Since the date our financials cover, we have raised $200,000 from angel investors on a Revenue Share instrument. We started regular compensation for one founder and one regular contractor. We purchased a 3D printer ($7,000) and several prototypes of Product1. We need $150,000 in order to achieve mass production, get FDA approval, do a few marketing trips and advertising campaigns, etc.

We have access to additional investment from founders. We expect revenues from Product1 to begin in 3-6 months. We will begin monthly compensation for one additional founder.

Assuming we start mass pro in February and run the marketing plan, we will spend all of this raise by August. Assuming we are actually selling, then we will be OK to run indefinitely at a minimal level. To grow, we would need to raise again.

INSTRUCTIONS TO QUESTION 28: The discussion must cover each year for which financial statements are provided. For issuers with no prior operating history, the discussion should focus on financial milestones and operational, liquidity and other challenges. For issuers with an operating history, the discussion should focus on whether historical results and cash flows are representative of what investors should expect in the future. Take into account the proceeds of the offering and any other known or pending sources of capital. Discuss how the proceeds from the offering will affect liquidity, whether receiving these funds and any other additional funds is necessary to the viability of the business, and how quickly the issuer anticipates using its available cash. Describe the other available sources of capital to the business, such as lines of credit or required contributions by shareholders. References to the issuer in this Question 28 and these instructions refer to the issuer and its predecessors, if any.
