PicMii does not make investment recommendations and no communication through this website or in any other medium should be construed as a recommendation for any security offered on or off this investment platform. Equity crowdfunding investments in private placements, Regulation A, D and CF offerings, and start-up investments in particular are speculative and involve a high degree of risk and those investors who cannot afford to lose their entire investment should not invest in start-ups. Companies seeking startup investments through equity crowdfunding tend to be in earlier stages of development and their business model, products and services may not yet be fully developed, operational or tested in the public marketplace. There is no guarantee that the stated valuation and other terms are accurate or in agreement with the market or industry valuations. Additionally, investors may receive illiquid and/or restricted stock that may be subject to holding period requirements and/or liquidity concerns. In the most sensible investment strategy for start-up investing, start-ups should only be part of your overall investment portfolio. Further, the start-up portion of your portfolio may include a balanced portfolio of different start-ups. Investments in startups are highly illiquid and those investors who cannot hold an investment for the long term (at least 5-7 years) should not invest.

5. To calculate total voting power, include all securities for which the person directly or indirectly has or shares the voting power, which includes the power to vote or to direct the voting of such securities. If the person has the right to acquire voting power of such securities within 60 days, including through the exercise of any option, warrant or right, the conversion of a security, or other arrangement, or if securities are held by a member of the family, through corporations or partnerships, or otherwise in a manner that would allow a person to direct or control the voting of the securities (or share in such direction or control — as, for example, a cotrustee) they should be included as being "beneficially owned." You should include an explanation of these circumstances in a footnote to the "Number of and Class of Securities Now Held." To calculate outstanding voting equity securities, assume all outstanding options are exercised and all outstanding convertible securities converted.

Risk Factors

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

7. Material factors that make an investment in Dome Audio Inc. Speculative or Risky:

1. If the company is unable to raise additional capital on acceptable terms, it may be unable to complete planned prototypes, testing, production, etc., or otherwise commercialize its products.
2. Because the company expects to generate operating losses for the foreseeable future, it may not achieve profitability for some time, if at all. The company is in an early stage of development and, therefore, has a limited history of operations.
3. Because the company is focused on product development, the company has not generated any product revenues to date. The company has incurred losses each year of its operations and expects to continue to incur losses for the foreseeable future.
4. There can be no assurance that the company will ever generate sufficient commercial sales or achieve profitability. Should this be the case, investors could lose their entire investment.
5. The company will require substantial future capital in order to continue to conduct the development and production activities necessary to bring the product to market. There can be no assurance that additional funding will be available on acceptable terms. Failure to satisfy our capital requirements will adversely affect the company's business, financial condition and results of operations because the company would be left without the capital required to complete product development, or establish sales, marketing and manufacturing capabilities.
6. The company is faced with all of the risks associated with a company in the early stage of development. In addition, the company's business is subject to numerous risks associated with a new company engaged in production of consumer electronics. Such risks include, among other things, competition from well-established and well-capitalized companies, and unanticipated production difficulties such product redesigns, failure to acquire quality components and parts on favorable prices, problems with product quality control, and product recalls.
7. The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any Securities offered or the terms of the Offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature. You should not rely on the fact that our Form C is accessible through the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's EDGAR filing system as an approval, endorsement or guarantee of compliance as it relates to this Offering.
8. Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company. The securities being offered have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act"), in reliance on exemptive provisions of the Securities Act. Similar reliance has been placed on apparently available exemptions from securities registration or qualification requirements under applicable state securities laws. No assurance can be given that any offering currently qualifies or will continue to qualify under one or more of such exemptive provisions due to, among other things, the adequacy of disclosure and the manner of distribution, the existence of similar offerings in the past or in the future, or a change of any securities law or regulation that has retroactive effect. If, and to the extent that, claims or suits for rescission are brought and successfully concluded for failure to register any offering or other offerings or for acts or omissions constituting offenses under the Securities Act, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or applicable state securities laws, the Company could be materially adversely affected, jeopardizing the Company's ability to operate successfully. Furthermore, the human and capital resources of the Company could be adversely affected by the need to defend actions under these laws, even if the Company is ultimately successful in its defense.

9. The Company has the right to extend the Offering Deadline, conduct multiple closings, or end the Offering early. The Company may extend the Offering Deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Minimum Amount even after the Offering Deadline stated herein is reached. While you have the right to cancel your investment up to 48 hours before an Offering Deadline, if you choose to not cancel your investment, your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering Deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you. If the Company reaches the target offering amount prior to the Offering Deadline, they may conduct the first of multiple closings of the Offering prior to the Offering Deadline, provided that the Company gives notice to the investors of the closing at least five business days prior to the closing (absent a material change that would require an extension of the Offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Thereafter, the Company may conduct additional closings until the Offering Deadline. The Company may also end the Offering early; if the Offering reaches its target offering amount after 21-calendar days but before the deadline, the Company can end the Offering with 5 business days' notice. This means your failure to participate in the Offering in a timely manner, may prevent you from being able to participate – it also means the Company may limit the amount of capital it can raise during the Offering by ending it early.

10. The Company's management may have broad discretion in how the Company uses the net proceeds of the Offering. Despite that the Company has agreed to a specific use of the proceeds from the Offering, the Company's management will have considerable discretion over the allocation of proceeds from the Offering. You may not have the opportunity, as part of your investment decision, to assess whether the proceeds are being used appropriately.
11. The Securities issued by the Company will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Securities may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply, and each Investor should consult with his or her attorney. You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Securities. Because the Securities offered in this Offering have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Securities have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be affected. Limitations on the transfer of the shares of Securities may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the shares of Securities in a private sale. Investors should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Investors in this Offering will be required to represent that they are purchasing the Securities for their own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.
12. Investors will not be entitled to any inspection or information rights other than those required by Regulation CF. Investors will not have the right to inspect the books and records of the Company or to receive financial or other information from the Company, other than as required by Regulation CF. Other security holders of the Company may have such rights. Regulation CF requires only the provision of an annual report on Form C and no additional information – there are numerous methods by which the Company can terminate annual report obligations, resulting in no information rights, contractual, statutory, or otherwise, owed to Investors. This lack of information could put Investors at a disadvantage in general and with respect to other security holders.
13. There is no present market for the Securities, and we have arbitrarily set the price. The offering price was not established in a competitive market. We have arbitrarily set the price of the Securities with reference to the general status of the securities market and other relevant factors. The Offering price for the Securities should not be considered an indication of the actual value of the Securities and is not based on our net worth or prior earnings. We cannot assure you that the Securities could be resold by you at the Offering price or at any other price.

14. Current trends indicate that the economic recovery process will begin soon. However, it is likely to be a slow process, and it will probably take several years to complete recovery, and full growth is achieved. We assess the risk of major depression to be low.
15. There is a high risk that new competitors will arrive in the relevant marketplace. Dome's continuous management improvement strategy and cost control methods will help us to stay on top of customer preference. The headphone customer buying patterns are not likely to significantly change over the next five years. Besides, the population growth predicted in the area will increase the chances to maintain and boost sales.
16. According to expert estimates, the inflation rate is likely to remain under control over the next five years. We have accounted for a 2 percent annual inflation rate. All of Dome's operations are in U.S. dollars, and both equipment and materials are manufactured in the United States and Taiwan. No currency risk is accounted for at the time of this writing.
17. U.S. taxation and economic policy changes: These changes are likely to occur, and it is not clear how they might influence Dome's financial performance. That is another reason why Dome estimates are conservative. This risk is high.
18. In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether the Company will successfully effectuate the Company's current business plan. Each prospective Investor is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other, the Risk Factors discussed above.
19. THE SECURITIES OFFERED INVOLVE A HIGH DEGREE OF RISK AND MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF YOUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT. ANY PERSON CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF THESE SECURITIES SHOULD BE AWARE OF THESE AND OTHER FACTORS SET FORTH IN THIS OFFERING STATEMENT AND SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OR HER LEGAL, TAX AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS PRIOR TO MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE SECURITIES. THE SECURITIES SHOULD ONLY BE PURCHASED BY PERSONS WHO CAN AFFORD TO LOSE ALL OF THEIR INVESTMENT.

Dome Audio Inc. ("Company") is offering securities under Regulation CF, through PicMii Crowdfunding LLC ("PicMii"). PicMii is a FINRA/SEC registered funding portal and will receive cash compensation equal to 3.5% of the value of the securities sold through Regulation CF. Investments made under Regulation CF involve a high degree of risk and those investors who cannot afford to lose their entire investment should not invest.

The Company plans to raise between $10,000 and $250,000 through an offering under Regulation CF. Specifically, if we reach the Minimum Raise Amount of $10,000, we may conduct the first of multiple or rolling closings of the offering early if we provide notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Total		$10,000		$250,000

10. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

In entering into an agreement on PicMii Crowdfunding's Funding Portal to purchase securities, both investors and the Company must agree that a transfer agent, which keeps records of our outstanding Common Stock (the "Securities"), will issue digital Securities in the investor's name (a paper certificate will not be printed) or that the Company is capable of maintaining investment records on their own. In Dome Audio's case, they will be managing their records on their own unless they decide to do otherwise in the future.

Stock ownership is recorded in Dome Audio's electronic books and records, which may be kept online if directed by the Board, with issuance and transfers of stock made electronically.

11. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

You may cancel an investment commitment for any reason until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in the offering. PicMii will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). PicMii Crowdfunding will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment. If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled, and the committed funds will be returned.

12. Can the company perform multiple closings or rolling closings for the offering?

If we reach the target offering amount prior to the offering deadline, we may conduct the first of multiple closings of the offering early, if we provide notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Thereafter, we may conduct additional closings until the offering deadline. We will issue Securities in connection with each closing. Oversubscriptions will be allocated on a first come, first served basis. Changes to the offering, material or otherwise, occurring after a closing, will only impact investments which have yet to be closed.

Ownership and Capital Structure

The Offering

13. Describe the terms of the securities being offered.

This is an offering of Common Stock, under registration exemption 4(a)(6), in Dome Audio Inc.. This offering must raise at least $10,000 by December 31st, 2022 at 11:59pm ET. If this offering doesn't reach its target, then your money will be refunded. Dome Audio may issue additional securities to raise up to $250,000, the offering's maximum.

The securities are being issued without voting rights. However, so that the crowdfunding community has the opportunity to act together and cast a vote as a group when a voting matter arises, a custodian will cast your vote for you. Please refer to the custodian agreement that you sign before your purchase is complete.

Right to Receive Liquidation Distributions:

In the event of our liquidation, dissolution, or winding up, after the payment of all of our debts and other liabilities, and the satisfaction of the liquidation preferences granted to the holders of preferred stock should any be issued in the future, the holders of Common Stock and the holders of preferred stock will be entitled to share ratably in the net assets legally available for distribution to stockholders.

Additional Rights and Preferences:

Holders of Common Stock have no preemptive, conversion, anti-dilution or other rights, and there are no redemptive or sinking fund provisions application to Common Stock.

14. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above?

You are giving your voting rights to the custodian, who will vote the securities on behalf of all investors who purchases securities on the PicMii Crowdfunding Portal.

15. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

We may choose to modify the terms of the securities before the offering is completed. However, if the terms are modified, and we deem it to be a material change, we need to contact you and you will be given the opportunity to reconfirm your investment. Your reconfirmation must be completed within five business days of receipt of the notice of a material change, and if you do not reconfirm, your investment will be cancelled, and your money will be returned to you.

Restrictions on Transfer of the Securities Offered

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one-year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

- to the issuer
- to an accredited investor
- as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

- The term “accredited investor” means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person. The term “member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent” includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term “spousal equivalent” means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

Description of Issuer’s Securities

16. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Class of Security	Amount Authorized	Amount Outstanding	Voting Rights	Other Rights
Common stock	52,762,500	45,016,713	Yes	N/A

Options, Warrants and Other Rights

17. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of securities?

The company previously issued convertible debt to early seed investors in the aggregate principal amount of $180,500 ("Convertible Debt"). If converted, the Convertible Debt will dilute your ownership. Other than the Convertible Debt the company has no other outstanding convertible securities, such as options or warrants. The conversion price of the Convertible Debt is not a specific price or formula but is implied to be at market value. We are unable to calculate or advise you how many shares of our common stock will be issued when the debt is converted and therefore, we cannot project the extent of dilution. Some of the Convertible Debt is technically in default because the maturity date has passed. If some of the debt holders demand payment in cash it may deplete the Company's cash resources and decrease the value of your holdings.

18. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer? No.

19. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal owners identified in Question 5 above affect the purchasers of Securities being offered?

The holder of a majority of the voting rights in the company may make decisions with which you disagree, or that negatively affect the value of your investment in the company, and you will have no recourse to change those decisions. Your interests may conflict with the interests of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the company will develop in a way that is advantageous to you. For example, the majority shareholder may decide to issue additional shares to new investors, sell convertible debt instruments with beneficial conversion features, or make decisions that affect the tax treatment of the company in ways that may be unfavorable to you. Based on the risks described above, you may lose all or part of your investment in the securities that you purchase, and you may never see positive returns.

20. How are the securities being offered valued?

The securities being offered are valued at the issuer's discretion. An early-stage company typically sells its shares (or grants options over its shares) to its founders and early employees at a very low cash cost, because they are, in effect, putting their "sweat equity" into the company. When the company seeks cash investments from outside investors, like you, the new investors typically pay a much larger sum for their shares than the founders or earlier investors, which means that the cash value of your stake is immediately diluted because each share of the same type is worth the same amount, and you paid more for your shares than earlier investors did for theirs.

There are several ways to value a company, and none of them is perfect and all of them involve a certain degree of guesswork. Any of these methods, plus others, may be used to determine valuation in the future:

Liquidation Value — The amount for which the assets of the company can be sold, minus the liabilities owed, e.g., the assets of a bakery include the cake mixers, ingredients, baking tins, etc. The liabilities of a bakery include the cost of rent or mortgage on the bakery. However, this value does not reflect the potential value of a business, e.g., the value of the secret recipe. The value for most startups lies in their potential, as many early stage companies do not have many assets.

Book Value — This is based on analysis of the company's financial statements, usually looking at the company's balance sheet as prepared by its accountants. However, the balance sheet only looks at costs (i.e., what was paid for the asset), and does not consider whether the asset has increased in value over time. In addition, some intangible assets, such as patents, trademarks or trade names, are very valuable but are not usually represented at their market value on the balance sheet.

Earnings Approach — This is based on what the investor will pay (the present value) for what the investor expects to obtain in the future (the future return), taking into account inflation, the lost opportunity to participate in other investments, the risk of not receiving the return. However, predictions of the future are uncertain and valuation of future returns is a best guess.

Different methods of valuation produce a different answer as to what your investment is worth. Typically, liquidation value and book value will produce a lower valuation than the earnings approach. However, the earnings approach is also most likely to be risky as it is based on many assumptions about the future, while liquidation value and book value are much more conservative.

Future investors (including people seeking to acquire the company) may value the company differently. They may use a different valuation method, or different assumptions about the company's business and its market. Different valuations may mean that the value assigned to your investment changes. It frequently happens that when a large institutional investor such as a venture capitalist makes an investment in a company, it values the company at a lower price than the initial investors did. If this happens, the value of the investment would go down.

21. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

The company's Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws can be amended by the holders of a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of the Company. As minority owners, the crowdfunding investors are subject to the decisions made by the majority owners. The issued and outstanding shares of common stock give management voting control of the company. As a minority owner, you may be outvoted on issues that impact your investment, such as, among other things: (a) the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the company, or effecting any merger or consolidation; (b) amendment of any provision of the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws; (c) creation and issuance of other securities having rights, preferences or privileges senior to the common stock sold to the crowdfunding investors, or increasing the authorized number of shares of stock of the company; or (d) creation of any debt security.

22. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions including?

1. Additional issuances of securities
2. Issuer repurchases of securities.
3. A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer
4. Transactions with related parties

The authorization and issuance of additional shares of the company's common stock will dilute the ownership of the crowdfunding investors. As a result, if the company achieves profitable operations in the future, its net income per share will be reduced because of dilution, and the market price of the company's common stock, if there is a market price, could decline as a result of the additional issuances of securities. If the company repurchases securities, so that the above risk is mitigated, and there are fewer shares of common stock outstanding, the company may not have enough cash available for marketing expenses, growth, or operating expenses to reach our goals. If we do not have enough cash to operate and grow, we anticipate the market price of our securities would decline. A sale of the company or of all of the assets of the company may result in an entire loss of your investment. We cannot predict the market value of the company or its assets, and the proceeds of a sale may not be cash, but instead, unmarketable securities, or an assumption of liabilities. It is unlikely that in the near term, a sale would result in a premium that is significant enough over book value to generate a return to our investors. We may need to negotiate with a related party for additional capital. No assurance can be given that such funds will be available or, if available, will be on commercially reasonable terms satisfactory to us. Even if such financing is available, it may be on terms that are materially adverse to your interests with respect to dilution of book value, dividend preferences, liquidation preferences, or other terms.

23. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

Creditor(s)	Amount Outstanding	Interest Rate	Maturity Date
Private Investor (s)	$180,500	7%	December 25, 2020

*All notes can convert to equity at the discretion of the holder.

Problem

Headphones have become a permanent accessory for most people. During workouts, commutes, or even sitting at a desk, many people constantly listen to music, podcasts, Clubhouse, and various other media. Analytics suggest headphones are the fifth most consumed tech product on the market.

Having headphones in all of the time causes two problems:

1. Wearing headphones all the time can be damaging to our ears.
 2. Headphones are distracting, leading to dangerous situations, especially when behind the wheel of a car.
- Dome headphones' "open-ear" listening capability solves the problem of "closed-ear" headphone listening. On, in, and over-the-ear headphones (an intrinsic feature in all headphone brands on the market) pose two potential health and injury problems.

Hearing Degradation

Headphones that go over the listener's ears can damage hearing if used at high volumes for long periods. They are not as much of a risk as earbuds: Having the sound source in your ear canal can increase a sound's volume by 6 to 9 decibels — enough to cause some problems.

Headphones can cause damage to your ears the same way other loud noises do, resulting in what audiologists call "noise-induced hearing loss." Over time, the sounds from your headphones cause the hair cells in the cochlea to become stressed and fatigued. If they do not get time to recover, the damage can be permanent. Headphones do not even have to be extremely loud to damage your ears.

Injuries or Death from Distraction

According to recent studies, pedestrians killed or injured while wearing headphones have more than tripled in six years. More than half of the vehicles involved in the accidents were trains. Lichtenstein said that based on the data they collected, it is unclear whether these pedestrians were crossing train tracks. 70 percent of accidents resulted in deaths. Roughly 90 percent occurred in large cities. About a third of the vehicles' drivers reported sounding a horn as a warning before the crash.

Solution

Dome Audio's multi-patented headphones provide open and closed ear (when suitable) listening options and therefore radically reduces SA (Situational Awareness) deficits and subsequent bodily injuries associated with conventional (closed-ear) headphones, without compromising a full-fidelity audio experience, only found, until now, with conventional headphones. Dome's technology also solves the aesthetic limitations inherent in conventional headphones via its Dome "noise isolation" Covers. Not only can its fashionable look and design be changed instantly, but the option to go private (block out ambient noise), when appropriate, is just a click, click (pop on Covers) away.

Dome's four speakers (open ear system) allows audio content, e.g., music, navigation, news, or podcast, to be heard in full fidelity (unlike leading brands in bone conduction headphones having two speakers) while simultaneously hearing important ambient sounds in the environment. Dome headphones provide novel health and environmental safety features.

Business Model

Dome Audio deploys the 3 C's of Scarcity Marketing: Control, Cool, and Collaborations. Control: Dome intends to control its supply with limited product releases, thereby enticing consumer demand while proliferating its brand presence. Cool: Dome hopes to use its "Cool" factor to create a cult-like following to its products. Collaborations: Dome plans to collaborate with fashion brands, pop culture, influencers, ambassadors, athletes, and celebrities to transcend conventional headphones. As a result of the 3 C's, Dome Audio plans to touch a broad spectrum of collaborators across various industries, thereby benefiting from collaborators' social media following and subsequently optimizing Dome's brand equity. Dome Audio generates revenue via direct-to-consumer e-commerce.

Market Projection

The basic design and function of headphones had not changed since 1910 when Nathaniel Baldwin invented the first headphones. Over 100 years later, Apple acquired Beat's headphones, i.e., essentially the same design and function as Nathaniel Baldwin's original headphones, for 3.3 Billion dollars, in 2014.

Market Opportunity

Dome Audio created a multi-patented headphone with a unique ergonomic design and features to include quad fidelity, bone conduction speakers, detachable noise isolation covers, Bluetooth communication, and a mobile app.

Dome headphone's initial market entry is the 48% (almost 50%) of the market currently occupied by "others" (no name brands).

Competition

Based on analysis of the "over the head" headphone industry and competitive trends, Beats and Bose are the main relative competitors of Dome headphones. Both Beats and Bose have firmly established brands and will likely continue to maintain their market share. Apple is not nearly as recognized for "over the head" headphones and is not a strong contender in that market segment.

Unique to the Competition

Design Features: Dome headphones' aesthetic design is unlike any headphone on the market. The ergonomic fit that wraps around the ears is an obvious attention-getter.

Fidelity Features: Dome's four-point bone conduction transducers are placed around the ear instead of on, over, or in the ear. It is the first over-the-head, bone conduction headphone with more than two bone conduction speakers.

Versatility Features: Dome is the first headphone with detachable noise isolation covers. This feature allows open or closed mode listening. Dome Covers can easily change its fashionable look, i.e., color, features, and brand logos, on the fly.

Audio-wear Features: Dome Covers are an optimal platform for logo collaborations with notable fashion, auto, sports, and entertainment brands. Dome Audio has cracked the code on co-branding.

Brands and Influencers: Always seeking new ways to be relevant and stand out.

Brands love novel exposure in saturated markets, and influencers, from actors to athletes, always seek products that elevate their value. Headphones, the fifth most sold consumer electronic product, are ubiquitous, and for the most part, Bose, Beats, and Apple are brands garnering the most exposure. Many brands, such as Supreme, would likely engage in high-tech real estate, worn on consumers' heads, to promote their brand equity. Until the emergence of Dome Audio's triple patented technology, there has not been a headphone product that offers brands seamless exposure and endless opportunities.
