Education

The University of the Arts
Bachelor's degree, Industrial Design
2003 – 2008

The Industrial Design program at the University of the Arts will fuel your passion for discovery and development. The research-based program focuses on people and their needs. You'll learn to observe and analyze—all while learning how designers can make a difference in the world. From defining problems to conceptualizing solutions and building prototypes, you'll engage with others and the world around you.
