About

Growing up in an entrepreneurial family is why I was fixated on having my own businesses... so like Walt Disney, I left Kansas for California to make my mark as an entrepreneur in the entertainment field. I quickly met Hollywood pr ... see more

Education

University of Hard Knocks (and various private preparatories)

Street Smarts, Honorary Doctorate of Inventrepreneurialism (self-bestowed)

1999 – 2008

Activities and Societies: Learned how to develop marketable products for global audiences (and how to invent and protect ideas); learned how to build relationships with major players (in order to delegate and be more successful); learned how to raise private capital; learned how to launch and operate businesses (and how not to); learned how to spot 'strokes, jokes and flakes;' learned how to see the 'bigger picture' while simultaneously micro-managing; learned how to learn; learned the value of knowing what I want...

I recommend two books to anyone who has further goals to reach: Think and Grow Rich (by Napoleon Hill); The Science of Getting Rich (by Wallace Wattles).
