RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

In addition to the risk that have been identified in Here Today Brewing, LLC's Subscription Agreement and related company documents, the following risk factors exist:

Limited operating history.

Our operating history is limited and there can be no assurance that we will be able to undertake our business plan for the long term, or that we would become consistently profitable, or that the results so far of our bar group are indicative of the results that we may be able to achieve in the future with this brewery.

Small management team.

We were founded by Chris Elford, our CEO. Our success is heavily dependent upon the continued involvement of Chris Elford as well as our operations team of Mario Cortes, our head brewer, and Dave Riddile, head of operations and marketing. Loss of the services of either of these individuals, or any other key personnel, could have a material adverse effect upon our business, financial condition or results of operations. Additionally, our success depends on our ability to recruit, hire, train and retain other highly qualified technical and managerial personnel. Competition for qualified employees in our industry is intense, and the loss of any of such persons - or an inability to attract, retain, and motivate any additional highly skilled employees required for our activities - could have a materially adverse effect on the company.

Competition from other breweries.

According to the Brewers Association, a not-for-profit trade association dedicated to small and independent American brewers, between 2012 and 2017, the number of craft breweries in operation in the U.S. grew from 2,475 to 6,372. While we are content with brewing small batches with limited distributions, we still compete for market share. Should we be unable to set ourselves apart from this competition, our financial results may be negatively impacted.

Competition from a number of large and small companies, some of which have greater resources than we do.

In many cases, our competitors in the craft beer industry have longer operating histories, established ties to the market and consumers, greater brand awareness, and greater financial, technical and marketing resources. Our ability to compete depends, in part, upon a number of factors outside our control, including the ability of our competitors to develop alternatives that consumers prefer. If we fail to successfully compete in our markets, or if we incur significant expenses in order to compete, our financial results would be negatively impacted.

Ability to maintain and enhance our product image.

Due to the intense competition of our industry, it is critically important for us to maintain and enhance the image of our existing and new products. We want customers to come visit our locations because they associate us with good products, or pick our products out of a crowded store shelf because they know they will get a product they like. The image and reputation of our products may be impacted for various reasons including litigation, complaints from regulatory bodies or consumers resulting from quality failure, illness or other health concerns. Such concerns, even when unsubstantiated, could be harmful to our image and the reputation of our products.

We need to increase brand awareness.

If we fail to successfully promote our brand name or if we incur significant expenses promoting and maintaining our brand name, our financial results may be negatively impacted.

Any disruption in brewing activities could have a material adverse effect on our financial results.

A major disruption to our facilities could have a material adverse effect on our ability to supply our products to our restaurants and distributors. If such an event were to occur, we could experience a material adverse effect on our financial results.

We have preferred suppliers and any interruption in their operations could impact our operations.

We have relationships with suppliers for such things as beverage containers, malts, and hops—essential ingredients for making and distributing beer. While we would be able to find alternative suppliers if required, any disruption in the operations of our current suppliers could negatively impact our operations.

We could experience licensing, legal, or regulatory problems.

If we experience the loss of any licenses, or have the terms of our licenses changed by legislation, our financial results may be negatively impacted.

We are subject to federal regulation of our products.

In the U.S., there is an extensive body of law and regulation covering alcoholic beverages. Among other things, these regulations control the alcohol content of our beers and the labels we use on our packaging. Should we violate any of these provisions, we could incur fines or other penalties that would negatively impact our financial results. Additionally, in the event of government shutdowns, we may not receive timely approval for packaging labels, potentially delaying the release of new and seasonal products.

We could experience increased expenses without a corresponding increase in revenues.

As with many businesses, there are operational and financing expenses we encounter that are not tied to generating revenue. Factors which could increase those operating and financing expenses include, but are not limited to (1) increases in the rate of inflation, (2) increases in taxes and other statutory charges, (3) changes in laws, regulations or government policies which increase the costs of compliance with such laws, regulations or policies, (4) significant increases in insurance premiums, (5) increases in borrowing costs, and (5) unexpected increases in costs of supplies, goods, materials, construction, equipment or distribution. Should our expenses increase as a result of any of these factors, our financial results could be negatively impacted as we may not experience a corresponding increase in revenues.

Changes in employment laws or regulations could harm our performance.

Changes in federal or state laws impacting our relationships with our employees could adversely affect our operating results, including changes to minimum wage requirements, overtime pay, healthcare reform and the implementation of various federal and state healthcare laws, unemployment tax rates, workers' compensation rates, citizenship requirements, union membership, etc.

Employee misconduct.

We, like any business, are exposed to the risk of employee fraud or other misconduct. Misconduct by employees could include intentional or negligent failures to comply with laws or regulations, provide accurate information to regulators, comply with applicable standards, report financial information or data accurately or disclose unauthorized activities to management.

Economic conditions.

Changes in the general economic climate could have a detrimental impact on discretionary consumer spending and on our revenue. If the economy experiences recessionary pressures, many consumers are likely to reduce spending on alcoholic beverages, especially craft beers which sell at a premium price. Such an occurrence could have a material adverse effect on our financial results.

You will not have any influence on the management of the company.

The day to day management, as well as big picture decisions, will be made exclusively by our executive officers and directors. You will have no right to vote on issues of company management and will not have the right or power to take part in the management of the company and will not be represented on the board of directors of the company. Accordingly, no person should purchase our units unless he or she is willing to entrust all aspects of management to our executive officers and directors.

An investment in our shares is speculative and there can be no assurance of any return on investment.

Investors will be subject to substantial risks involved in an investment in the company, including the risk of losing their entire investment. An investment in our units is speculative and may not result in a positive return. Investors should only invest an amount that they are willing to lose entirely.

Our management has broad discretion with regards to the use of proceeds in this offering.

Our management is entrusted to make decisions in the best interest of the company. That includes using their discretion when applying the proceeds of this offering to our operations. While we state what our intended uses might be, changed circumstances and the emergence of opportunities may result in uses of proceeds that differ from what is disclosed here.

There is no trading market for our units.At present, there is no active trading market for our units and we cannot assure that a trading market will ever develop.

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of large public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurances that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect that if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements, we will incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time.

Political:

A shift in the U.S. and international political climate could make it more challenging to sell our products in various markets and/or obtain the materials needed to create our products.

Tourism:

A portion of our future success depends on tourism on the Seattle waterfront. Construction projects and other factors may reduce the level of tourism-based foot traffic and perhaps have an adverse effect on the company.

Natural Disaster:

An earthquake, flood, or other natural disaster could occur that would destroy our entire facility.

Pandemic:

A pandemic could cause a shut down of businesses, causing an unavoidable loss of business.

Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team. The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel we require to successfully grow our business.

DELIVERY & CANCELLATIONS

11. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

Book Entry and Use of XX Investments LLC as Transfer Agent and Custodian. Investments will be in book entry form. This means that the investor will not receive a certificate representing his or her investment. Each investment will be recorded in the books and records of our transfer agent, XX Investments LLC. XX Investments LLC will act as custodian and hold legal title to the investments for investors that enter into a Custodial and Voting Agreement with XX Investments LLC and will keep track of those investors' beneficial interests in the investments. In addition, investors' interests in the investments will be recorded in each investor's "My Investments" screen. The investor will also be emailed again the Investor Agreement and, if applicable, the Custodial and Voting Agreement. The Investor Agreement and, if applicable, the Custodial and Voting Agreement will also be available on the "My Investments" screen.

Details regarding an investor's right to cancel are detailed in the Subscription Agreement; a summary, however, appears below:

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment).

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned.

An Investor's right to cancel. An Investor may cancel his or her investment commitment at any time until 48 hours prior to the offering deadline.

If there is a material change to the terms of the offering or the information provided to the Investor about the offering and/or the Company, the Investor will be provided notice of the change and must re-confirm his or her investment commitment within five business days of receipt of the notice. If the Investor does not reconfirm, he or she will receive notifications disclosing that the commitment was cancelled, the reason for the cancellation, and the refund amount that the investor is required to receive. If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the Investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the Investor's funds will be returned within five business days.

Within five business days of cancellation of an offering by the Company, the Company will give each investor notification of the cancellation, disclose the reason for the cancellation, identify the refund amount the Investor will receive, and refund the Investor's funds.

The Company's right to cancel. The Investment Agreement you will execute with us provides the Company the right to cancel for any reason before the offering deadline.

If the sum of the investment commitments from all investors does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the time of the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.

In addition, we may cap at 450 the total number of investors who will be allowed to invest through the offering that are not "accredited investors," as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933. In the event that more than 450 non-accredited investors are initially accepted into an offering in step (2) described in Question 11, the Company may cancel investments based on the order in which payments by Investors were received, or other criteria at the discretion of the Company, before the offering deadline.

Ownership and Capital Structure

THE OFFERING

13. Describe the terms of the securities being offered.

Priced Round: $1,714,285.71 pre-money valuation

See exact security attached as Appendix B, Investor Contracts

Here Today Brewing, LLC is offering up to 10,700 Class B Membership Units, at a price per unit of $100.0.

The campaign maximum is $1,070,000 and the campaign minimum is $734,000.

The Class B members will initially be allocated 70% of the company's net profits; and, when the managers make a distribution, 70% of it will be made to the Class B members until those Class B members are essentially repaid (or, as our accountants and lawyers told us to say...until their "capital accounts are zeroed out"). Class A members will be allocated and receive distributions of 30%.

Once Class B members are "zeroed out," the allocation and distribution formula will change: Class B members will be allocated 30% of the company's net profits, and Class A members will be allocated 70%; and, when the managers make a distribution, 30% of it will go to Class B members, and Class A members will get the remaining 70%.

Non-Voting Units; Grant of Proxy. The Investor acknowledges that the Units being acquired do not have voting rights except as may be required by law and that major actions may be taken without the vote of the holders of the Units. The Investor, and any successors or assigns of the Investor (to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law) appoints the Custodian as the sole and exclusive attorney and proxy of the Investor, with full power of substitution and resubstitution, to vote and exercise all voting and related rights (to the fullest extent that Investor is entitled to do so), if any, with respect to all of the Units of the Company that now are or hereafter may be beneficially owned by Investor, and any and all other Units or securities of the Company issued or issuable in respect thereof on or after the date hereof (collectively, the "Proxy Units") in accordance with the terms of this Section. The Proxy Units beneficially owned by Investor as of the date hereof constitute the Units being acquired under this Agreement. Upon Investor's execution of this Agreement, any and all prior proxies (other than the proxy granted int his Section) given by Investor with respect to the Proxy Units are hereby revoked and Investor agrees not to grant any subsequent proxies with respect to the Proxy Units or enter into any agreement or understanding with any person to vote or give instructions with respect to such subject matter in any manner inconsistent with the terms of this Agreement as long as the Proxy Units are outstanding. The proxy granted under this Section 8 is irrevocable (to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law), is coupled with an interest sufficient in law to support an irrevocable proxy and is granted pursuant to this Agreement. The attorney and proxy named above is hereby authorized and empowered by proxy, at any time, to act as Grantor's attorney and proxy to vote the Proxy Units, and to exercise all voting and other rights of Grantor with respect to the Proxy Units (including, without limitation, the power to execute and deliver written consents and the right to consent to any actions constituting protective provisions or other veto rights in the Company's Operating Agreement or elsewhere), at every annual, special or adjourned meeting of the members of the Company and in every written consent in lieu of such meeting. All authority herein conferred shall survive the death or incapacity of Investor and any obligation of Investor hereunder shall be binding upon the heirs, personal representatives, successors and assigns of Investor. The proxy granted in this Section is coupled with an interest as aforesaid and is irrevocable. This irrevocable proxy may not be amended or otherwise modified without the prior written consent of the Investor and the proxy.

Repurchase. If the Company determines, in its sole discretion, that it is likely that within six months the securities of the Company will be held of record by a number of persons that would require the Company to register a class of its equity securities under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, as required by Section 12(g) thereof, the Company shall have the option to repurchase the Units from the undersigned for the greater of (i) the Purchase Price and (ii) the fair market value of the Units, as determined by an independent appraiser of securities chosen by the Company (such repurchase, the "Repurchase," and such greater value, the "Repurchase Value"). Such independent appraiser shall be regularly engaged in the valuation of securities. The foregoing repurchase option terminates upon a Change of Control or Dissolution Event.

Additional details are contained in Here Today Brewing, LLC's Operating Agreement.

The Investor, and any successors or assigns of the Investor (to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law) appoints the Custodian as the sole and exclusive attorney and proxy of the Investor, with full power of substitution and resubstitution, to vote and exercise all voting and related rights (to the fullest extent that Investor is entitled to do so), if any, with respect to all of the Units of the Company that now are or hereafter may be beneficially owned by Investor, and any and all other Units or securities of the Company issued or issuable in respect thereof on or after the date hereof (collectively, the "Proxy Units") in accordance with the terms of this Section.
☐ No: Irrevocable voting proxy granted to XX Team.

16. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

This Agreement and the provisions contained herein may be amended, waived, discharged or terminated only by the written consent of the Investor and the Company.

RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER OF THE SECURITIES BEING OFFERED:

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

1. to the issuer;
2. to an accredited investor;
3. as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or
4. to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

NOTE: The term "accredited investor" means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person.

The term "member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent" includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term "spousal equivalent" means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

DESCRIPTION OF ISSUER'S SECURITIES

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Class of Security	Securities (or Amount) Authorized	Securities (or Amount) Outstanding	Voting Rights
Class B Membership Units	50,000	0	No
Class A Membership Units	40,000	5,143	Yes

Class of Security	Securities Reserved for Issuance upon Exercise or Conversion
Warrants:
Options:

Describe any other rights:

Class B Membership Units have liquidation preferences over Class A Membership Units in accordance with the terms of the Operating Agreement.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

The holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company could limit the Investor's rights in a material way. For example, those interest holders could vote to change the terms of the agreements governing the Company's operations or cause the Company to engage in additional offerings (including potentially a public offering).

These changes could result in further limitations on the voting rights the Investor will have as an owner of equity in the Company, for example by diluting those rights or limiting them to certain types of events or consents.

To the extent applicable, in cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional equity, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risk that an Investor's rights could be limited, diluted or otherwise qualified, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

Additional risks related to the rights of other security holders are discussed below, in Question 20.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the Class A Unitholders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the value of the Investor's securities in the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, the Class A Unitholders may change the terms of the Operating Agreement for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The Class A Unitholders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. They may also vote to engage in new offerings and/or to register certain of the Company's securities in a way that negatively affects the value of the securities the Investor owns. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the Investor, leaving the Investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns. The Class A Unitholders have the right to redeem their securities at any time. Unitholders could decide to force the Company to redeem their securities at a time that is not favorable to the Investor and is damaging to the Company. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability.In cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional equity, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risks described above, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

In the future, we will perform valuations of our common units that take into account factors such as the following:

1. unrelated third party valuations of our common units;
2. the price at which we sell other securities, such as convertible debt or preferred units, in light of the rights, preferences and privileges of our those securities relative to those of our common units;
3. our results of operations, financial position and capital resources;
4. current business conditions and projections;
5. the lack of marketability of our common units;
6. the hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management;
7. the introduction of new products;
8. the risk inherent in the development and expansion of our products;
9. our stage of development and material risks related to our business;
10. the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a sale of our company given the prevailing market conditions and the nature and history of our business;
11. industry trends and competitive environment;
12. trends in consumer spending, including consumer confidence;
13. overall economic indicators, including gross domestic product, employment, inflation and interest rates; and
14. the general economic outlook.

We will analyze factors such as those described above using a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value. For example, we may use methodologies that assume that businesses operating in the same industry will share similar characteristics and that the Company's value will correlate to those characteristics, and/or methodologies that compare transactions in similar securities issued by us that were conducted in the market.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company, and thus be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Management, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Management of the Company.

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional issuances of securities. Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from unitholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for unitholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company. If the Management of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its unitholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations together with our financial statements and the related notes and other financial information included elsewhere in this offering. Some of the information contained in this discussion and analysis, including information regarding the strategy and plans for our business, includes forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. You should review the "Risk Factors" section for a discussion of important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the results described in or implied by the forward-looking statements contained in the following discussion and analysis.

Overview

Here Today is first and foremost a brewery--making beer largely for onsite consumption and a limited amount of canned and bottled beer sold out the door as well as kegs sold to a curated list of influencer bar and restaurant accounts. Second, we are a bar and restaurant--serving lunch and dinner to locals and tourists alike.

In five years we want to be a landmark operation on the waterfront, expanding our brewing production significantly. We want to be a household name in the local and regional beer scene as a destination brewery experience. Our goal, however, is always gentle controlled growth. We want to grow in a way that enables us to stay true to our core values of great liquid and even better hospitality. Our number one goal is for people to remember how good they felt when they visited us!

Given the Company's limited operating history, the Company cannot reliably estimate how much revenue it will receive in the future, if any.

Milestones

Here Today Brewing, LLC was formed in the State of Washington in June 2019.

Since then, we have:

- Become a part of a beautiful craft brewpub
- Contributed to the new Seattle waterfront
- Gotten perks like dinners and secret beers

Historical Results of Operations

Our company was organized in June 2019 and has limited operations upon which prospective investors may base an evaluation of its performance.

- Revenues & Gross Margin. For the period ended December 31, 2019, the Company had revenues of $0
- Assets. As of December 31, 2019, the Company had total assets of $3,316, including $0 in cash.
- Net Loss. The Company has had a net loss of $1,744 for 2019.
- Liabilities. The Company's liabilities totaled $5,060 for 2019.

Related Party Transaction

Refer to Question 26 of this Form C for disclosure of all related party transactions.

Liquidity & Capital Resources

To-date, the company has been financed with $5,060 in debt.

After the conclusion of this Offering, should we hit our minimum funding target, our projected runway is 8 months before we need to raise further capital.

We plan to use the proceeds as set forth in this Form C under "Use of Funds". We don't have any other sources of capital in the immediate future.

We will likely require additional financing in excess of the proceeds from the Offering in order to perform operations over the lifetime of the Company. We plan to raise capital in 6 months. Except as otherwise described in this Form C, we do not have additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the offering. Because of the complexities and uncertainties in establishing a new business strategy, it is not possible to adequately project whether the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to enable us to implement our strategy. This complexity and uncertainty will be increased if less than the maximum amount of securities offered in this offering is sold. The Company intends to raise additional capital in the future from investors. Although capital may be available for early-stage companies, there is no guarantee that the Company will receive any investments from investors.

Runway & Short/Mid Term Expenses

Here Today Brewing, LLC cash in hand is $0, as of September 2020. Over the last three months, revenues have averaged $0/month, cost of goods sold has averaged $0/month, and operational expenses have averaged $0/month, for an average burn rate of $0 per month. Our intent is to be profitable in 12 months.

We have had no changes in our revenues as we have not opened for business yet, but we have utilized legal and architectural services necessary to get us to this point which will be accounted for in 2020 filings.

We will not have any revenues until we begin doing business, which we want to happen in June 2021, assuming we can start building in January/February of 2021. Our expenses are all opening related and can be seen detailed in our business plan.

We expect to need a total of $1M to open doors and generate revenues by June 2021. If we do not raise that full amount, we will continue to raise from investors in our network. Six months after the raise, we hope to have generate $136,381 in revenue and incur $81,588 in expenses.

We do not have additional sources of capital to rely on outside of this offering. If we need to find additional capital contributions we would do an additional raise or potentially secure a loan for our equipment.

OTHER MATERIAL INFORMATION

31. In addition to the information expressly required to be included in this Form, include:

- (1) any other material information presented to investors; and
- (2) such further material information, if any, as may be necessary to make the required statements, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

The Company is using the services of XX as part of its offering. XX is comprised of XX Investments, LLC, XX Team LLC, and the Lead Investors who provide services on behalf of XX Team LLC. The services of XX are available to companies that offer securities through Wefunder Portal LLC and to investors who invest in such companies through Wefunder Portal, but XX is not affiliated with Wefunder Portal or its affiliates.

XX Investments is the Company's transfer agent and also acts as custodian, paying agent, and proxy agent on behalf of all investors that enter into the Custodial and Voting Agreement with XX Investments through the Wefunder Portal website ("Investors"). XX Investments holds legal title to the securities the Company issues through Wefunder Portal (which are uncertificated) on behalf of Investors. Investors, in turn, hold the beneficial interests in the Company's securities. XX Investments keeps track of each Investor's beneficial ownership interest and makes any distributions to the Investors (or other parties, as directed by the Investors).

In addition to the above services, at the direction of XX Team, XX Investments votes the securities and take any other actions in connection with such voting on behalf of the Investors. XX Investments acts at the direction of XX Team, because XX Team holds a power of attorney from each Investor that has entered into the Investor Agreement to make voting decisions on behalf of that Investor. XX Investments will not charge Investors for its services. XX Investments does charge the Company $1,000/year for services; however, those fees may be paid by Wefunder Inc. on behalf of the Company.

As noted, XX Team holds a power of attorney from each Investor that has entered into the Investor Agreement to make voting decisions on behalf of that Investor. Pursuant to the power of attorney, XX Team will make voting decisions and then direct XX Investments to vote and take any other actions in connection with the voting on Investors' behalf. XX Team will act, with respect to the Company, through our Lead Investor, who is a representative of XX Team. As compensation for its voting services, each Investor authorizes XX Investments to distribute to XX Team 10% of any distributions the Investor would otherwise receive from the Company. XX Team will share its compensation with our Lead Investor. XX Team, through our Lead Investor, may also provide consulting services to the Company and may be compensated for these services by the Company; although, fees owed by the Company may be paid by Wefunder Inc. XX Team will share its consulting compensation with our Lead Investor.

The Lead Investor is an experienced investor that we choose to act in the role of Lead Investor, both on behalf of the Company and on behalf of Investors. As noted, the Lead Investor will be a representative of XX Team and will share in compensation that XX Team receives from the Company (or Wefunder Inc. on the Company behalf) or from Investors. The Lead Investor will be chosen by the Company and approved by Wefunder Inc., and the identity of the Lead Investor must be disclosed to Investors before Investors make a final investment decision to purchase the Company's securities. Investors will receive disclosure regarding all fees that may be received by the Lead Investor. In addition to the fees described above, the Lead Investor may receive compensation if, in the future, Wefunder Advisors LLC forms a special purpose vehicle ("SPV") for the purpose of investing in a non-Regulation Crowdfunding offering of the Company. In such a circumstance, the Lead Investor may act as a portfolio manager for that SPV (and as a supervised person of Wefunder Advisors) and may be compensated through that role. Although the Lead Investor may act in multiple roles and be compensated from multiple parties, the Lead Investor's goal is to maximize the value of the Company and therefore maximize the value of the Company's securities. As a result, the Lead Investor's interests should always be aligned with those of the Investors.

Investors that wish to purchase the Company's securities through Wefunder Portal must agree to (1) hire XX Investments to serve as custodian, paying agent, and proxy agent with respect to the Company's securities; (2) give a power of attorney to XX Team to make all voting decisions with respect to the Company's securities; and (3) direct XX Investments to share 10% of the Investor's distribution from the Company with XX Team. The Company may waive these requirements for certain investors with whom the Company has a pre-existing relationship.

The XX arrangement described above is intended to benefit the Company by allowing the Company to reflect one investor of its capitalization table (XX Investments) and by simplifying the voting process with respect to the Company's securities by having one entity (XX Team), through one person (the Lead Investor), make all voting decisions and having one entity (XX Investments) carry out XX Team's voting instruments and any take any related actions. The XX arrangement also is intended to benefit Investors by providing the services of an experienced Lead Investor (acting on behalf of XX Team) who is expected to make value-maximizing decisions regarding Investors' securities. XX Team (acting through the Lead Investor) may further benefit both the Company and Investors by providing consulting services to the Company that are intended to maximize both the value of the Company's business and also the value of its securities.
