About

I am the Chief Operating Officer and President of Oxford Hounds Inc. Our company is a direct to consumer men's luxury apparel and accessories company that crafts its products from only the finest Italian materials and workmanship at well below competitive MSRP's.

I have spent my entire life in this space as our former family business, Swank Inc, was the largest mens accessories company in the world that spanned an illustrious 115 years of successful operations.

My background is deeply rooted in the financial and operational component of the business having spent the better part of 20 years in this capacity. I also have an in depth knowledge of applying social media marketing to drive consumer engagement and conversion with a keen understanding of managing customer acquisition cost and LTV.
