

SAM FOX

I have 15 years experience being on set as a professional actor and for the last 6 years I have been writing, producing, directing, editing and acting in my own content under the production company Foxy Films as well as working freelance production for others. I am involved in most aspects ranging from production assistant to executive producer, following the project in all stages of development from pre-production, production, post-production, delivery and marketing of media content. My last film "Wowzers" has been accepted into several film festivals and has won three categories at LA Film Awards as well as Best Film at We Make Movies International and Sick N' Wrong Film Festival. I am organized, motivated, a mean multitasker, and take initiative.
