Is your IT driving you NORTH?
 Navaid Jamal on LinkedIn
 We engaged many of our prospects and clients about setting their direction. The answer did not surprise us. Many of them looked at their IT as their direction setter. It is true that IT is an integral part of every organization but, it is not what is setting your direction. Our point of view is that IT is merel...

Architect, Product Leader, Patented Inventor and Speaker

February 5, 2007, Michael managed Navaid directly

Navaid is a skilled engineer and a technical leader. He was responsible for a group of architectures at ADP as well as directing others in technical assignments and details. Navaid leads with a fine example, and displays an admirable integrity in his work. I would gladly work with Navaid again, and I strongly recommend him for any technical management position.
