Sterling Transportation, Inc. DBA Top Shelf Tours

Business Plan 02/14/2021

1.0 Executive Summary

The purpose of this business plan is to raise $207,000 for Top Shelf Tours while showcasing the expected financials and operations over the next three years. Sterling Transportation, Inc. ("the Company") is an Indiana-based corporation that will provide transportation services via its fleet of party buses and other vehicles to customers in its targeted market. The Company was founded in 2016 by Rob Zajac who owns 100% of the common stock.

1.1 Business Model

As stated above, the Company is actively engaged in providing chauffeuring and transportation services to residents within its local market. At startup, the business has provided transportation services for tourist rides to area wineries and breweries, ‘Nights Out’ rentals, prom, and wedding party rentals.

Mr. Zajac currently has five party buses that hold 12-14 passengers comfortably. The Company will price its services on a per seat basis for the various tours and on either a per hour or a per trip basis for other services depending on the client’s transportation needs. The third section of the business plan will further describe the services offered by The Company.

Presently, there are some competitors in the local market dedicated to offering similar brewery tours and are noted in another section of this plan. There are no other companies dedicated to offering the mix of services in the manner the Company pursues.

We follow the motto, “Underpromise and Overdeliver” as much as possible, which has been key to our very high customer satisfaction rating.

1.3 Mission Statement

Sterling Transportation, Inc.’s mission is to become the recognized leader in its targeted market for party bus services in the Central Indiana area.

1.4 Management Team

Mr. Zajac has been the exclusive manager of the Company since inception. Growth has necessitated someone to handle some of the operational duties at least on a part-time basis starting in the summer of 2021.

1.5 Expansion Plan

The Founder expects that the business will aggressively expand during the first three years of operation. Mr. Zajac intends to implement marketing campaigns that will effectively target individuals and corporations within the target market.

Top Shelf Tours currently has five buses and has plans to acquire several more to handle additional public brewery tours and growth in outlying markets.

2.0 Strategic and Market Analysis

2.1 Industry Analysis

According to the latest Limousine, Charter, and Tour Fact Book, in 2014 limousine and chauffeuring operations provided over $3.3 billion dollars a year to the general US economy. The industry employs more than 27,000 people, and provides annual payrolls that exceed $600 million dollars per year. The growth rate of this industry has remained in step with that the general growth of the country's GDP. In 2015, there were 12,106 operators in the country, of which 55% were operators with 10 or less vehicles, and 85% of all operators reported the same revenue or revenue growth from the previous year.

The Company feels that by maintaining a diversified base, it can generate revenues despite the current economic conditions in the United States. While the Indianapolis limousine industry's revenue is predominately driven by business and travel, small party bus companies can indeed compete very productively with their larger counterparts. This ability, of course, is dependent upon their marketing strategies and the effectiveness of that marketing.

The Company believes that limousines are not where the market is anymore. Party buses and Sprinters are gathering much more importance, as these vehicles can carry more people and the passengers can spread out and stand up. Our emphasis will always be on these types of vehicles.

2.2 Customer Profile

Management expects a broad range of customers to contact the Company for use of the Company's limo bus and limousine services. Customers will range from tour seekers, concert goers, pub crawlers, prom attendees, bachelor/bachelorette party goers, and wedding parties. As such, it is difficult to quantify the exact demographic profile of the "average" customer of Sterling Transportation, Inc.

However, our market can be segmented into a handful of primary categories: craft brewery and/or winery enthusiasts, concert goers, prom attendees, and people interested in bus rentals for parties or nights out. Secondary markets for bachelor/bachelorette parties and wedding parties exist, though we will not actively pursue them. Bachelorette parties tend to irritate the owners of our breweries and wineries, and weddings do not really follow our four-hour minimum standard. We will gladly accept them if they book.

2.3 Competitive Analysis

There are numerous Indianapolis-area companies offering brewery, winery, and night out limo bus experiences. A few companies focus on specific markets, but most let the customers do whatever they want for their booking.

There are four companies offering brewery tours as their primary service:

- Indy Brew Bus
 - o This is the first brewery tour company and the market leader
 - o Based out of Zionsville
 - o Operates at least three small converted school buses, all seat 14
 - o Hires craft beer enthusiasts as drivers/guides
 - o Picks up at Northside, Broad Ripple, Downtown, and Southside
- The BrewsLine
 - o Based out of Fishers
 - o Operates a schoolbus/shuttle bus
 - o Picks up at Northside and Southside

There is one local company offering winery tours exclusively:

- deTours Indiana Wines
 - o Mainly in the southern half of the state
 - o Usually has packages of three or four wineries plus a lunch stop
 - o $175 per person
 - o Shuttle bus

Several companies market themselves as ‘party bus’ companies:

- Ale Force One
 - o Ran by Indiana On Tap
 - o One very nice bus, with two TVs and a bar
 - o $550 for four hours
- Broad Ripple Party Bus
 - o Some buses bigger than 14-passenger
 - o Old buses and not very good reviews
 - o Cash only, and must pay the driver in full for the whole trip

3.0 Market Analysis Summary

There are many limousine companies to serve the Indianapolis area. The goal of Sterling Transportation must be to segment this market and concentrate the company's marketing efforts those which are not receiving much attention from competing services. The areas that make the most sense for the Company to direct its marketing approach are:

- Concert shuttles: This is a large, virtually untapped market. Top Shelf has several stops picked out to pick up single-seat purchasers, and we take them to Ruoff Music Center in Noblesville. There has been a lot of demand for this service, and it is a big revenue generator in the warmer months. We have been filled to capacity for many shows, and we have other venues that we could pursue as well.
- Brewery Tours: The craft beer industry in Indiana is maturing, but people still love the idea of visiting locations that they have never been to before. Top Shelf really needs to pursue this market better, as more hits to the website are for brewery tours than any other service offered. We typically get too busy with our full bus rentals to pursue this effectively.

We currently offer a public winery tour seat on Friday nights and Saturdays for $40, and we go to four breweries.

- Winery Tours: While most Indianapolis area transportation companies offer these types of tours as full bus rentals, very few actually stress them. No companies handle these tours on a per-seat basis as they do the brewery tours, instead a whole bus needs to be rented by one group.

We currently offer a public winery tour seat on Sundays for $40, and we go to three wineries.

- Day Out/Night Out: This segment is a large one for Top Shelf, and consists of birthday parties, anniversary parties, or just getting a group of friends together to go out. They may want to go to breweries, wineries, bars, restaurants, or any number of things, but they rent the whole bus.

We currently offer bus rentals any time during the week for $570. Our biggest opportunity is rentals bus rentals during the week for corporate events.

Concert Shuttles: Our most popular service in the warmer months is our concert shuttles. We pick people up from Greenwood to Indianapolis and take them to Ruoff Music Center in Noblesville. It is our most labor-intensive effort due to the number of hours. Top Shelf charges $40 per seat for each show.

- Weddings
- Proms

Maximum Amount	1,070,000	$1,070,000	$984,400

3.1 Market Segmentation

It makes sense for the Company to direct its marketing approach at these segments. The craft beer and winery industries in Indiana are garnering more and more attention, and interest is growing. While most Indianapolis area transportation companies offer these types of tours, we pride ourselves on being among the best.

3.2 Target Market Segment Strategy

Most of the limousine service competition in the area is concentrated in the corporate, airport transfer, and wedding transportation market segment. While these segments have steady demand for the limousine service, the high level of competition has eroded the margins. The entry of firms like Uber and Lyft has caused a significant deterioration of market share among limousine companies as well. Further, incumbent competitors have advantages of vehicle fleets larger than Sterling Transportation.

Consequently, the Company will selectively focus its marketing strategy on the alcohol tourism industry and also aggressively advertise Nights Out and proms to keep the vehicles busy during idle times. Such customers will require reliable, on time pick-ups and knowledgeable drivers. At the same time, competition in these segments is very low. Sterling Transportation has achieved a competitive advantage by entering these markets and establishing the reputation of being a reliable service provider. We have achieved this by providing premium services to the targeted customer base and relying on customer referrals to generate new leads, as well as advertising.

3.3 Market Needs

The customer needs in the party bus transportation market that we'll be filling are quite diverse. For these clients, limousine services save time and effort compared to using public transportation or personal vehicles. Prom and Night Out party clients are more interested in the social status associated with the limousine service; however, this segment is less loyal and shops around for the best value. Further, the wine, spirits, and beer tourism segment, which is currently underserved, does not only need spacious and comfortable accommodation during the trip, but also benefits from a driver who can serve as a guide as well.

4.0 Management Summary

The management of the company will be undertaken by the owner, Rob Zajac until managers can be hired to fulfill the needed roles.

	# Of Units	Total Proceeds	Net Proceeds

Maximum Amount	1,070,000	$1,070,000	$984,400

4.1 Organizational Structure

The organizational structure is a simple one. Sterling Transportation will be run by Mr. Zajac, and all business decisions will be made by him and passed down to the employees. The business is organized as a C-corp and “Top Shelf Tours” is its DBA.

4.2 Personnel Plan

The buses will be driven by chauffeurs who are sought out when the company needs them. Drivers will be paid per hour (presently $20), with the clock starting when they start getting their bus ready for their trip and ending when their bus is clean again. Drivers work part time and are currently on a 1099 payroll status.

Mr. Zajac will be driving as little as possible, as he will instead be focused on the operations and growth of the enterprise. He typically needs to fight fires when the buses are running and can be used as a last resort if all drivers are unavailable.

An operations manager and a salesperson will be added to cover those roles as soon as possible and are described below.

It is assumed that the owner will increase his salary to allow for a transition from part time work to a more full-time role as business increases.

5.0 Sales and Marketing Plan

5.1 Services

Sterling Transportation will offer limo party bus tours in the Indianapolis/Greenwood area for customers seeking reliable transportation services. The company will expand its service offerings into the Indianapolis outlying areas and will also start specifically targeting customers who need funeral services, limousine services, and other transportation needs. There is less competition in these markets; and the customers are less price sensitive, which will allow Sterling Transportation to charge premium prices.

Expansion into Columbus, Bloomington, Carmel, etc. to launch our buses will take place as soon as possible.

5.2 Pricing Strategy

All of the Company’s pricing needs to remain consistent with the competition.

All public tours and shuttles will be priced at $40 per seat.

Other services, mainly prom rentals, weddings, and nights out, will be on an hourly basis and will match competitors’ pricing as much as possible. Currently, Top Shelf Tours is priced at $570 for four hours (not including driver tip), and $99 for each additional hour.

5.3 Promotion Strategy

Presently, Top Shelf Tours is primarily utilizing internet and social media advertising and relying on positive word-of-mouth advertising. We also place ad brochures in some of our partner breweries and wineries. Groupon is utilized for our slower offerings, and we've partnered with Match.com for singles tours in the past, too.

We realize that we need to get a bit aggressive in reaching people. We have had some positive experience with radio advertising, and though it is a bit expensive we may try that again. The avenues that we will be pursuing in the near future are:

- YouTube videos – We currently have some winery videos in production, and plan upon producing one per partner winery. We will start on breweries after those are complete if we some positive results.
- Visit Indy – We will join Visit Indy to get lists of conventions coming in town and to get on board with their present marketing.
- Direct Mail – We are producing postcards that will be mailed directly to area businesses to promote team outings during the weekdays. Also, we will be getting thank you and birthday postcards printed as well. This is seen as a relatively inexpensive way to get our reminder advertising out and hopefully fill the buses during the week.
- Public Relations – If possible, we would like to engage a local PR firm to get us in the news.
- Direct Contact – We need to keep in direct contact with area businesses such as restaurants and bars, our breweries and wineries, and local wedding venues. Having direct contact with the breweries and wineries will help in case there are issues with our stops that we need to address.
- Loyalty Card – We are working on a loyalty card for our brewery tours
- Chambers of Commerce – We've joined some in the past, but we need to make a concerted effort to market within them

6.0 Operations Plan

6.1 Key Operational Processes

Sterling Transportation, Inc, DBA Top Shelf Tours has partnered with PeekPro booking software to offer the website 24 hour booking capability. PeekPro takes no commission until a customer books on the platform, and also processes the credit card transactions itself for a very low 2.3% (+ 30 cent) fee.

The Company has a robust website that will give adequate information and allow bookings easily. There have numerous customer compliments regarding the website's ease of use and detailed information, especially our FAQ section.

Top Shelf Tours must also have a commanding presence in social media. A firm will also be retained to manage this portion in the near future.

At present, the Company owns five limo buses. All five fit 14 passengers (which is the limit for non-CDLs), but three of these buses are smaller and should be replaced. More buses need to be added to the fleet as well, as demand is outstripping our supply during peak season.

6.2 Business Milestones

Key employees

- An operations manager will be hired in the summer of 2021 or before. The operations manager will be in charge of the buses, drivers, and help with the bookings over the phone and website.
- A salesperson will visit the breweries, wineries, and local restaurants and bars on a regular basis and oversee some operations tasks like bookings. This person will acquire accounts with local businesses for team building. It is the goal to have this position filled by the fall of 2021 or before.
- Rob Zajac will oversee long-range planning once these positions are filled.

Key services

- Concert shuttles: $40 per seat
- Public Brewery and Winery Tours: $40 per seat
- Private bus rentals: $570 for four hours, $99 each additional hour

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

The company is still subject to all the same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking).

Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently more risky than more developed companies. You should consider general risks as well as specific risks when deciding whether to invest. General risks include exposure to liability claims or negative publicity. Any one or more of the foregoing occurrences could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations, or could cause our business to fail.

You can lose 100% of your investment. Many small business startups like the Company fail. Real estate is a risky venture and it may fail to achieve its goals or carry out its business plans. Each investor bears the risk of losing all or part of his/her/its investment.

Other economic and public health conditions in the markets in which we operate, including rising commodity and fuel prices, higher labor costs, natural disasters, terrorist attacks, outbreaks of public health pandemics or other diseases, or third party conduct could negatively impact our business. Various economic and public health conditions can have a significant negative impact on our business. Significant increases in the costs of other products, which are required by consumers, such as gasoline, home heating fuels, or groceries, may reduce discretionary spending by our target market, which would negatively impact our business. Economic conditions may also be negatively impacted by terrorist attacks, wars and other conflicts, increases in critical commodity prices, or the prospect of such events. Such a weakened economic and business climate, as well as consumer uncertainty created by such a climate, could harm our revenues and profitability. In addition to experiencing potentially lower or no revenues from our products during times of economic difficulty, in an effort to maintain sales during such times we may need to reduce the price of our products, increase our promotional spending, or take other steps to encourage consumer purchases of our products. Those steps may lower our net revenues, if any, decrease our operating margins, increase our costs and/or lower our profitability, to the extent it is ever achieved.

General economic conditions, including a prolonged weakness in the economy, may affect consumer purchases, which could adversely affect our sales. Our results of operations are dependent on a number of factors impacting consumer spending, including general economic and business conditions; consumer confidence; wages and employment levels; the housing market; consumer debt levels; availability of consumer credit; credit and interest rates; fuel and energy costs; energy shortages; taxes; and general political conditions, both domestic and abroad. Consumer product purchases, including purchases of our products, may decline during recessionary periods. A prolonged downturn or an uncertain outlook in the economy may materially adversely affect our business, revenues and profits.

Projections are speculative and are based upon a number of assumptions. Any projected financial results prepared by or on behalf of the Company have not been independently reviewed, analyzed, or otherwise passed upon. Such “forward-looking” statements are based on various assumptions, which assumptions may prove to be incorrect. Such assumptions include, but are not limited to (i) the future status of local, regional and international economies, (ii) anticipated demand for our products, (iii) anticipated costs associated with the development, marketing, sales and distribution of our products, and (iv) anticipated procurement and retention of a customer base. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that such projections, assumptions, and statements will accurately predict future events or actual performance. Any projections of cash flow should be considered speculative and are qualified in their entirety by the assumptions, information and risks disclosed in this Memorandum. Investors are advised to consult with their own independent tax and business advisors concerning the validity and reasonableness of the factual, accounting and tax assumptions. No representations or warranties whatsoever are made by the Company, its affiliates or any other person or entity as to the future profitability of the Company or the results of making an investment in the Shares. If our future projections end up being significantly different than currently projected, our business could be greatly impacted. Our business therefore may not be able to sustain itself without the projected future revenues. The business could be at risk of closing, and investors may therefore be at risk of losing their investments.

We may not effectively manage growth. The anticipated growth of the Company’s business will result in a corresponding growth in the demands on the Company’s management and its operating infrastructure and internal controls. While we are planning for managed growth, any future growth may strain resources and operational, financial, human and management information systems, which may not be adequate to support the Company’s operations and will require the Company to develop further management systems and procedures. There can be no guarantee that the Company will be able to develop such systems or procedures effectively on a timely basis. The failure to do so could have a material adverse effect upon the Company’s business, operating results and financial condition. Investors could therefore be at risk of losing their investments if growth is not managed effectively.

Our efficiency may be limited while our current employees and future employees are being integrated into our operations. In addition, we may be unable to find and hire additional qualified management and professional personnel to help lead us. There is competition for qualified personnel in the area of the Company’s activities, and there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to attract and retain qualified personnel necessary for the development of our business. If this business cannot effectively hire employees to help the company grow, the business could be at risk overall of not succeeding, and investors therefore may be at risk of losing their investment.

We expect our expenses to grow as the Company grows. Our expenses will increase as we build infrastructure to implement our business plan. For example, we may hire additional employees, expand our product offerings, and lease more space for our corporate offices. This poses a risk to the financial forecasts and current financial model of the Company.

The Company may require additional financing to support working capital needs. The Company may need to explore additional financing transactions that management determines are in the best interest of the Company, including, without limitation, commercial debt transactions, private offerings of debt or equity securities, a rights offering, and other strategic alternatives. Such additional financing may not be available to the Company, or, if available, the Company may be unable to undertake such additional financing on terms that are advantageous to the Company. If the Company fails to raise additional capital in such an offering, or through other fund raising efforts, such a failure could have a material adverse effect on the Company, and investors in this Offering could be at greater risk of losing their investments due to the inability of the business to proceed with enough working capital to effectively run the Company.

If the Company incurs commercial debt, there may be risks associated with such borrowing. If the Company incurs commercial indebtedness, a portion of its cash flow will have to be dedicated to the payment of principal and interest on such indebtedness. Typical loan agreements also might contain restrictive covenants, which may impair the Company's operating flexibility. Such loan agreements would also provide for default under certain circumstances, such as failure to meet certain financial covenants. A default under a loan agreement could result in the loan becoming immediately due and payable and, if unpaid, a judgment in favor of such lender which would be senior to the rights of shareholders of the Company. A judgment creditor would have the right to foreclose on any of the Company's assets resulting in a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operating results or financial condition.

Many of our competitors have greater brand recognition and greater financial, marketing and other resources. Many of our competitors have greater brand recognition, and greater financial, marketing, and other resources than the Company. This may place us at a disadvantage in responding to our competitors' pricing strategies, technological advances, advertising campaigns, strategic alliances, and other initiatives. Consequently, such competitors may be in a better position than the Company to take advantage of customer acquisition and business opportunities and devote greater resources to marketing and sale of their product offerings. There cannot be any certainty that the Company will be able to compete successfully. If the Company cannot break through and compete successfully, investors may be at risk of losing their investment.

Management has broad discretion as to the use of proceeds. The net proceeds from this Offering will be used for the purposes described under "USE OF PROCEEDS." The Company reserves the right to use the funds obtained from this Offering and the Debt Offering for other similar purposes not presently contemplated, which it deems to be in the best interests of the Company in order to address changed circumstances or opportunities. This poses a risk to an investor should they be relying on current use of proceeds forecasts for the investment as business conditions may require a change of the use of these funds.

Management has voting control of the Company. Management of the Company presently holds a majority of the issued and outstanding voting common stock in the Company. Due to their stock ownership and positions with the Company, the current officers will be in a position to continue to control the affairs and management of the Company after the Offering. Investors must rely entirely on our management to govern the affairs of the Company.

There may be unanticipated obstacles to the execution of the Company's business plan. The Company's business plans may change significantly. Our business plan is capital intensive. We believe that our chosen activities and strategies are achievable in light of current economic and legal conditions with the skills, background, and knowledge of our principals and advisors. Our management reserves the right to make significant modifications to its stated strategies depending on future events. Investors must be prepared for these potential modifications to stated strategies and understand the inherent risk to their investment that these modifications could pose.

Our accountant has included a "going concern" note in its review report. Our ability to remain in business is reliant on either generating sufficient cash flows, raising additional capital, or likely a combination of the two. Additionally, even if targeted funds are raised, it may be that we will see the need to raise additional funds in the near future.

Indebtedness of the Issuer. See attached financial documents. The Company has a debt accrual obligation of approximately $200,000 to Rob Zajac, who is an executive officer of Sterling Transportation. Any proceeds used to repay this obligation will not be available to the Company for other purposes, including making new or additional investments.

Shares are not guaranteed and could become worthless. The Shares are not guaranteed or insured by any government agency or by any private party. The amount of earnings is not guaranteed and can vary with market conditions. The return of all or any portion of capital invested in the Shares is not guaranteed, and the Shares could become worthless.

The Shares are restricted securities and a market for such securities may never develop. Investors should be aware of the potentially long-term nature of their investment. Each purchaser of Shares will be required to represent that it is purchasing such securities for its own account for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution. Purchasers may be required to bear the economic risks of the investment for an indefinite period of time. The Company has neither registered the Shares, nor any other securities under the Securities Act. Consequently, shareholders may not be able to sell or transfer their securities under applicable federal and state securities laws. Moreover, there is no public market for the Company's securities, such a market is not likely to develop prior to a registration undertaken by the Company for the public offering of its securities for its own account or the account of others, and there can be no assurance that the Company will ever have such a public offering of its securities. Ultimately, each investor's risk with respect to this Offering includes the potential for a complete loss of his or her investment.

We will present only unaudited financial statements, which may not be reliable. In addition to the audited financial statement presented with this Offering Statement, we expect to prepare financial statements on a periodic basis.

Our pro forma financial statements rely on assumptions that may not prove accurate. Certain pro forma financial information may be provided to prospective investors for illustrative and informational purposes only. In preparing the pro forma financial statements, we have made certain assumptions concerning our business and the market, which may not be accurate.

Investors may suffer potential loss on dissolution and termination. In the event of a dissolution or termination of the Company, the proceeds realized from the liquidation of assets, if any, will be distributed in the priority established by applicable law, but only after the satisfaction of claims of creditors. Accordingly, the ability of an investor to recover all or any portion of its investment under such circumstances will depend on the amount of funds realized and claims to be satisfied therefrom.

Shares are subordinate equity interests. The Shares purchased in this offering will constitute equity interests, which will be subordinate to all of our current and future indebtedness with respect to claims on our assets. In any liquidation, all of our debts and liabilities must be paid before any payment is made to the holders of our Shares.

The shares are unlikely to be able to be pledged as collateral. The Shares will not usually be acceptable as collateral for loans. The Shareholders may not receive cash or other liquid consideration sufficient to pay taxes resulting from such a disposition. Furthermore, absent a public market, Shares generally cannot be sold for an amount based on their economic value as determined by the fair market value of the underlying property. The Shares have not been registered under federal or state securities laws, and we do not plan on, and are under no obligation to provide for, a registration of the Shares in the future. In addition, any transfer of the Shares or an interest therein must satisfy the requirements set forth in various Company agreements with shareholders that restrict the ability to transfer Shares.

Future capital needs; Dilution. The Company believes that the net proceeds of the Offering of the Shares will be sufficient to fund the implementation of the Company's business plan, operations and growth for the foreseeable future, assuming that this offering reaches the maximum amount. Shares offered hereby and that the revenue forecasts for the first 12 months are substantially achieved. Nevertheless, in the event that additional capital is required, no assurance can be given that additional financing will be available at all or on terms favorable to the Company. If adequate funds were not available to satisfy either short or long term capital requirements, the Company may be unable to continue in business, with a resulting loss of all or part of investments made by the Company's investors. Moreover, if additional equity securities are issued in connection with future financings, the ownership percentages of then shareholders could be diluted. Dilution of ownership percentages may also occur as a result of equity securities issued pursuant to possible sales or grants to existing shareholders, officers, managers, consultants, advisors, and/or employees.

Additional unforeseen risks. In addition to the risks described in this section, "RISK FACTORS," and elsewhere in this Memorandum, other risks not presently foreseeable could negatively impact our business, could disrupt our operations and could cause the Company to fail. Ultimately, each investor in the Shares bears the risk of a complete and total loss of his/her/its investment.

Management has broad discretion as to the use of proceeds. The net proceeds from this Securities Offering will be used for the purposes described under "USE OF PROCEEDS." The Company reserves the right to use the funds obtained from this Offering for other similar purposes not presently contemplated, which it deems to be in the best interests of the Company in order to address changed circumstances or opportunities. This poses a risk to an investor should they be relying on current use of proceeds forecasts for the investment as business conditions may require a change of the use of these funds.

Public health epidemics or outbreaks could adversely impact our business. In December 2019, a novel strain of coronavirus (COVID-19) emerged in Wuhan, Hubei Province, China. While initially the outbreak was largely concentrated in China and caused significant disruptions to its economy, it has now spread to several other countries and infections have been reported globally. The extent to which the coronavirus impacts our operations will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted with confidence, including the duration of the outbreak, new information which may emerge concerning the severity of the coronavirus and the actions to contain the coronavirus or treat its impact, among others. In particular, the continued spread of the coronavirus globally could adversely impact our operations, and could have an adverse impact on our business and our financial results.

If we make mistakes or have unforeseen things happen to us, our suppliers or the world, we can make little or no profit and can be driven out of business.

THE BOTTOM LINE:

Investment in the securities of smaller companies can involve greater risk than is generally associated with investment in larger, more established companies. All investments can result in significant or total loss of your loan and/or investment. If we do well, the stock should do well also, yet life offers no guarantees and neither can we. If we make mistakes or have unforeseen things happen to us, our suppliers or the world, we can make little or no profit and can be driven out of business. We cannot guarantee success, return on investment, or repayment of loans.

Please only invest what you can afford to lose.

The valuation of the company has been performed based on the issuers' qualitative and financial information, including but not limited to: 1. the quality, size and experience of the management team; 2.- the market of reference and business model; 3. the product/service and customers' feedback; 4. - the presence of strategic partnerships as well as external investors; 5. - the presence of relevant IP and/or legal risks; 6. - the current financial performance of the company; 7. - the projected financial performance of the company.

These methods are combined in a weighted average that applies the weights (see above image) according to the stage of development of the company (assessed by the valuation software), giving more emphasis on the 2 qualitative methods for early-stage businesses, and vice versa.

The company has elected to go with a slightly more conservative valuation of $2,000,000.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

The right to demand current distributions from an operating business is limited. A majority owner, if she is committed to avoiding any distributions to a minority owner, can usually avoid making any distributions of profits. By establishing generous reserves for future expenses, paying a salary to herself or her relatives at the high range of what is reasonable, pre-paying expenses, investing in new business or new equipment, leasing expensive cars, etc., a majority owner can spend enough that there are rarely any profits to be distributed. So long as the expenses are not grossly unreasonable, the investor, probably, won't be able to force the company to allow you to share in any of the current income of the company.

No right to participate in any management decisions of the company. The majority owner may make a decision that the investor think is bad and puts your interest in the company at risk. The investor may see the majority owner running the company into the ground. The investor can try to convince him that it is the wrong decision, but he doesn't have to take your calls.

The investor has limited rights, if any, to have your interest bought out. You may want to cash out your interest and do other things with the money. State law may give you the right to force the company to buy you out, but these rights are limited.

While the investor would be entitled to a share of any profits on sale of the entire business, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions including:

- Additional issuances of securities:

Following the investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interest to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the investor in the Company. The Investor might have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional capital needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and the objectives of the Company.

- Issuer repurchases of securities:

The company may have the authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

- A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer:

As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders.

- Transactions with related parties:

The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and the Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring and interest in the company, the investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

24. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

Creditor(s)	Amount Outstanding	Interest Rate	Maturity Date	Other Material Terms

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2020

1. Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Description of Business and Basis of Presentation

Sterling Transportation Incorporated was formed on May 24, 2016 in the State of Indiana. The financial statements of Sterling Transportation Incorporated (which may be referred to as the "Company", "we," "us," or "our") are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). The Company's headquarters are located in Whiteland, Indiana.

The Company is actively engaged in providing chauffeuring and transportation services to residents within its local market. The business provides transportation services for tourist rides to area wineries and breweries, 'Nights Out' rentals, prom, and wedding party rentals.

Risks and Uncertainties

The Company's business and operations are sensitive to general business and economic conditions in the U.S. A host of factors beyond the Company's control could cause fluctuations in these conditions. Adverse conditions may include: public health epidemics or outbreaks, recession, downturn or otherwise, government policies. These adverse conditions could affect the Company's financial condition and the results of its operations.

There are no assurances that management will be able to raise capital on terms acceptable to the Company. If we are unable to obtain sufficient amounts of additional capital, we may be required to reduce the scope of our planned development, which could harm our business, financial condition, and operating results. The balance sheet does not include any adjustments that might result from these uncertainties.

Going Concern and Management's Plans

Covid-19 epidemic has hit hard Company's revenues. The Company strongly believes in their business model, they have tight handle on their expenses and once the economy goes back to normal, revenue is forecasted to increase.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements is in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates. It is reasonably possible that changes in estimates will occur in the near term.

Accounting Method

The Company's financial statements are prepared using the accrual method of accounting. In accordance with this method of accounting, revenue is recognized in the period in which it is earned and expenses are recognized in the period in which they are incurred. All revenue and expenses that are applicable to future periods are presented as deferred income or prepaid expenses on the accompanying balance sheets.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents consist primarily of cash and in overnight money market funds.

Property and Equipment, Net

Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Depreciation is computed using a double declining mid-month convention method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, which for furniture and fixtures, fleet and most computer equipment ranges primarily from five to seven years.

Any assets less than thousand dollars are expensed. In addition, repairs and maintenance performed on fleet, equipment or software are expensed as incurred.

Deferred Tax Asset

The Company accounts for income taxes in accordance with FASB ASC No. 740 (formerly SFAS No. 109) "Accounting for Income Taxes", which requires an assets and liability approach to financial accounting and reporting for income taxes. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are computed annually for differences between the financial statements and tax basis of assets and liabilities that will result in taxable or deductible amounts in the future based on enacted tax laws and rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2016-02 (Topic 842) "Leases." Topic 842 supersedes the lease requirements in Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) Topic 840, "Leases." Under Topic 842, lessees are

As a part of the CARES Act, SBA is authorized to pay 6 months of principal, interest, and any associated fees that borrowers owe for all 7(a), 504, and Microloans reported in regular servicing status (excluding PPP loans). This debt relief to borrowers was originally dependent on the loan being fully disbursed prior to September 27, 2020 and does not apply to loans made under the Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) program.

These original provisions were amended on December 27, 2020 through the Economic Aid to Hard-Hit Small Businesses, Non-Profits and Venues Act (Economic Aid Act). All other provisions for initial debt relief remained the same.

Additional Debt Relief Assistance

The Economic Aid Act also authorized additional debt relief payments to 7(a), 504, and Microloan borrowers beyond the 6-month period prescribed in the CARES Act. The level of assistance varies based on when the loan was approved and will begin on or after February 1, 2021. <https://www.sba.gov/funding-programs/loans/coronavirus-relief-options/sba-debt-relief>

(a) The Subscriber hereby appoints the Chief Executive Officer of the Company (the “CEO”), or his or her successor, as the Subscriber’s true and lawful proxy and attorney, with the power to act alone and with full power of substitution, to, consistent with this instrument and on behalf of the Subscriber, (i) vote all Securities, (ii) give and receive notices and communications, (iii) execute any instrument or document that the CEO determines is necessary or appropriate in the exercise of its authority under this instrument, and (iv) take all actions necessary or appropriate in the judgment of the CEO for the accomplishment of the foregoing. The proxy and power granted by the Subscriber pursuant to this Section are coupled with an interest. Such proxy and power will be irrevocable. The proxy and power, so long as the Subscriber is an individual, will survive the death, incompetency and disability of the Subscriber and, so long as the Subscriber is an entity, will survive the merger or reorganization of the Subscriber or any other entity holding the Securities. However, the Proxy will terminate upon the closing of a firm-commitment underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 covering the offer and sale of Common Stock or the effectiveness of a registration statement under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 covering the Common Stock. The CEO is an intended third-party beneficiary of this Section and has the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though he or she was a party hereto.

(b) Other than with respect to the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the CEO, in his or her capacity as the Subscriber’s true and lawful proxy and attorney pursuant to this Section (collectively, the “Proxy”), the Proxy will not be liable for any act done or omitted in his, her or its capacity as representative of the Subscriber pursuant to this instrument while acting in good faith, and any act done or omitted pursuant to the written advice of outside counsel will be conclusive evidence of such good faith. The Proxy has no duties or responsibilities except those expressly set forth in this instrument, and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities on behalf of the Subscriber otherwise exist against the Proxy. The Subscriber shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Proxy from and against any and all losses, liabilities, damages, claims, penalties, fines, forfeitures, actions, fees, costs and expenses (including the fees and expenses of counsel and experts and their staffs and all expense of document location, duplication and shipment) (collectively, “Proxy Losses”) arising out of or in connection with any act done or omitted in the Proxy’s capacity as representative of the Subscriber pursuant to this instrument, in each case as such Proxy Losses are suffered or incurred; provided, that in the event that any such Proxy Losses are finally adjudicated to have been directly caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Proxy, the Company shall reimburse the Subscriber the amount of such indemnified Proxy Losses to the extent attributable to such gross negligence or willful misconduct (provided that the Proxy’s aggregate liability hereunder shall in no event exceed the Purchase Price). In no event will the Proxy be required to advance his, her or its own funds on behalf of the Subscriber or otherwise. The
