Company Background

In 2015, No Limit Fantasy Sports, LLC was formed, in order to enter the rapidly expanding fantasy sports market. Seed funding was secured, the development team was formed, and within 9 months, a working platform was delivered. As Bitcoin and the entire cryptocurrency space evolved, it became evident that crypto and online gaming platforms were a perfect combination. Seeking a clear advantage, our company set out to form what is now known as No Limit Coin. By 2019, No Limit Fantasy Sports was operating for three years, and considered a mature company, ready to seek additional funds from investors. As the environment changed in 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the funding plans shifted. The company, along with the NoLimit community in Florida, decided to fundraise with the key goal of a sports betting platform operating in the United States.

CEO, Rafael Groswirt

A telecom veteran for over 20 years, Rafael Groswirt founded Alliance Payphone Inc. in 2000. He developed software to monitor and repair over 250,000 payphones nationwide, in addition to long distance services.

His love for technology and sports led him to develop and patent one of the first automated poker tables, featuring Johnny Chan as one of the partners: US PATENT #

In March 2015, No Limit Fantasy Sports, LLC was formed and began to introduce a set of new tools and games related to Fantasy Sports. Two years later, during the development of the No Limit Fantasy platform, the ideal pairing was created with the cryptocurrency, NoLimitCoin (NLC2). NLC2 was designed to power fantasy sports platforms, like ours and others.

Market Information

In 2018, the United States Supreme Court declared online sports gambling federally legal, allowing states to individually set regulations and licensing requirements. We can easily see the impact that such a ruling had on other companies within our space, mainly DraftKings. This company was having a hard time breaking through, with only fantasy sports as a main source of income, but as soon as sports betting was legalized, the outlook changed immediately.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

Suddenly, DraftKings was the hottest investment on Wall Street, leading to a successful $4 billion valuation IPO, only to see their value balloon to $20 billion dollars by December of 2020 and $35B in 2021. They are currently only operating in four states, yet the market has placed an evaluation that is expecting tremendous growth in this space.

No Limit Technology, Inc. has a forward-looking goal to reach success comparable to DraftKings. We seek to compete for major parts of the market that are now investing in DraftKings. There are other operators in the states that have already been approved, but DraftKings has used the public markets to raise money, which is the model we want to follow.

Market sizes

1. Fantasy Sports (DFS): $3 Billion
2. US Sports Betting: $150+ Billion
3. Online Casino: $5 Billion
4. Online Poker: 4 Million players, generating $3 Billion in rake per year.

We are targeting a $200B business with the efficiencies of crypto

Existing Platforms

Nolimitfantasysports.com and nolimitcoinpoker.com have existing player bases, and are tested, operational, and ready to expand. These platforms will be transferred to No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc. upon formation, along with resources needed to operate and grow. In the past three years, these platforms have exhibited a large potential for growth. For example, during the NFL season, we were reaching over 1000 fantasy sports entries per week. Further growth is dependent on expanding the marketing budget.

New platforms

With the formation of the new company, existing platforms will be re-launched, as well as prepared for the current marketplace. A live online casino, a sports book and skill games will be added to the family of platforms. These will either be operated under the Curacao company, or the US operating company (yet to be formed), once the US licenses are provided.

From BetConstruct

We have preliminarily selected BetConstruct as our platform provider, but the final decision will be made once resources are secured, and other options are studied further. It is our intention to lease the live casino, as well as sports book and skill games, from BetConstruct. An example of a site using BetConstruct's products is vbet.com.

NO★LIMIT BETTING PROTOCOL

We will develop a betting exchange on top of the No Limit Betting Protocol, to allow large scale sports betting operators to exchange bets. The success of such a platform will not only depend on funding, but also on our ability to compete with existing exchanges, such as <https://www.betfair.com/exchange/plus/> and other already-liquid markets. At the same time, we will tap into those markets and bridge crypto players with fiat markets. We wish to form bridges into fiat markets, while also taking advantage of the benefits of cryptocurrency. This portion of the project will occur after the retail sportsbook deployment from BetConstruct.

Legal Considerations

This project has the ultimate goal of becoming a U.S. sports betting operator. Once money is raised, applications will be filed in various states for sports betting, fantasy sports, and poker. It will be a top priority for the company to secure sports betting licenses in as many U.S. states as possible. The company is currently pursuing the acquisition of sports betting licenses in the U.S. states that have already passed legislation. All accounting within the organization will be done in accordance with U.S. tax laws. This goes for all companies under the No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc. umbrella.

The cost to process a state license can vary from $150,000 to $10,000,000, as well as yearly compliance and legal fees. The money raised in the first three rounds will not be sufficient to secure licenses in many states. Only 1 or 2 states will be targeted for Sports and DFS licenses in these rounds. We need the future rounds, which will lead us to larger money raises where we will be able to secure licenses in all possible states. Securing licenses in all states for DFS, Sports and Poker could cost millions of dollars. Future successful rounds are required, and not guaranteed! There is no guarantee we will be awarded the licenses.

 About Featured Snippets  Feedback

The USA sports gambling market was recently legalized, which has allowed various operators to process their licenses. It will be our goal to apply as well, and secure state gaming licenses for sports and poker in the USA. We are also seeking to expand our fantasy sports market, by seeking licenses in more individual states. We currently operate in half of the US states, and would be able to enter the other half with such licenses.

Online Poker in US

Poker will continue to be a platform in our ecosystem, and it will be developed in the ways needed to expand profitability.

- WSOP/888 US is currently the only poker site that shares online poker players between all three legal online poker states (NJ, Nevada & Delaware).
- PokerStars only has players in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Curacao

A company in Curacao has been formed as a subsidiary of No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc. will allow us to operate online gaming platforms under local law, in terms of operation and a base. Curacao is a chosen location because online sports betting platforms are not legal in the USA, unless you have a specific gaming license in each specific state. The main goal of this project is to operate sports betting platforms internationally, and in the USA.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

Competitors: DraftKings and FanDuel

DraftKings vs. FanDuel: States available

DFS is a legal pastime in the majority of the US, but some states aren't on board yet.

DraftKings and FanDuel blocks users from participating in the following states:

- Arizona
- Hawaii
- Idaho
- Louisiana
- Montana
- Nevada
- Washington state

In the states where DraftKings and FanDuel are up and running, there is no question on the legality.

Both operators are also up and running with sports betting in the same states, for the time being, with additional states to follow as legalization issues settle.

Here are the states where both DraftKings and FanDuel are open for sports betting:

- Indiana
- New Jersey
- Pennsylvania
- West Virginia

DraftKings vs. FanDuel: What are the differences?

For those new to DFS, DraftKings and FanDuel might seem like the same thing. However, there are several distinct differences.

Both offer similar game types and have similar roster requirements, but there are scoring nuances between the platforms.

For example, DraftKings offers scoring bonuses when players in your lineup achieve certain milestones, e.g., a 300+ yard passing game in the NFL or a double-d FanDuel does not.

While there are differences, the companies are in line with several key metrics. Let's take a look at who offers what in several key categories:

be an operator in the online sports betting market, which is projecting to reach over $150 Billion. There was an initial REG CF round of $106,900, due to procedural requirements for a new company, it was our limit. We concluded our internal audit which made our company eligible to raise up to $5M per year under reg CF. Further rounds will be needed to reach all targets. This round we will seek $4,900,000..

In these early rounds, we seek money to organize, develop and promote this company on all of the new platforms, and prepare for further funding rounds. Fundraising will be conducted according to SEC regulations, with a future goal of a public stock listing. All stock will be voting stock. The company encourages full shareholder involvement in decisions regarding the direction of the company.

Valuation

The pre-money valuation displayed below is the result of the weighted average of different methods. The use of several methods is a best practice in company valuation, as looking at the business from different perspectives results in a more comprehensive and reliable view.

These methods are compliant with IPEV (International Private Equity Valuation) Guidelines and each of them will be explained in more detail in the following pages of the report.

More information on the weights can be found in the Appendix.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc Valuation Report

Qualitative methods

Scorecard Method: $ 7,259,347

This method was conceived by William H. Payne of Ohio TechAngels group and endorsed by the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation. The valuation of the startup depends on how different this is from the assumed average of a set of comparable companies from the same region.

Startups' qualitative traits are divided in 6 criteria, compared with the assumed traits of the average company, and given a score according to whether it over- or under-performs the assumed average company. These scores are multiplied by weights that represent the impact of the criteria on the valuation. The sum of these weighted scores multiplied by the average valuation leads to the company's pre-money valuation.

Normalized scores of the company for each criteria

Parameters

Average valuation (United States): $ 4,493,213

Weights of the criteria

Strength of the team: 30%

Size of the Opportunity: 25%

Strength and protection of the product/service: 15%

Competitive Environment: 10%

Strategic relationships with partners: 10%

Funding required: 10%

/// Please see appendix for data sources, defaults, and breakdown of the traits

The valuation is not a conservative evaluation, but one based on all funding rounds being fully funded and within expected times. There is a risk that these funding rounds are not fully funded, which would affect the valuation estimate. See the "Risk Factors" section in this Form C.

VERY HIGH END VALUATION THAT REQUIRES ALL FUNDING ROUNDS AND PERFECT EXECUTION AND IS NOT GUARANTEED BY MANAGEMENT.

VC Method

Premoney Valuation: $ 2,901,838,803

The VC (Venture Capital) method is one of most common approaches among financial practitioners in the private company market. The startup is given the valuation that will grant investors a predetermined return at the exit.

The potential exit value of the company is computed with an industry-based EBITDA multiple. The valuation is equal to this value discounted by a required ROI (Return On Investment). This depends on the startup's stage of development, higher for early stage riskier companies, lower for more mature ones. It is the minimum rate that will allow investors to have positive returns from portfolios where most companies fail and gains come from a selected few.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc Valuation Report

DCF Methods

The DCF (Discounted Cash Flow) methods represent the most renowned approach to company valuation, recommended by academics and a daily tool for financial analysts. The valuation is the present value of all the free cash flows to equity the startup is going to generate in the future, discounted by its risk.

These methods weight the projected free cash flow to equity by the probability the startup will survive. Then, the flows are discounted to present by a rate that represents risks related to industry, size, development stage and profitability. Lastly, an illiquidity discount is applied to the sum of the discounted cash flows to compute the valuation.

The value of cash flows beyond the projected ones is represented by the TV (Terminal Value) and the way it is calculated is the difference between the following two methods.

DCF with LTG: $ 1,427,209,555

The DCF with LTG (Long Term Growth) assumes the cash flows beyond the projected ones will grow forever at a constant rate based on the industry and computes the TV accordingly.

Parameters	Long term growth: 2.50 %	Discount rate	Survival rates	Year 4: 56.85 %
	Illiquidity discount: 12.98 %	Risk free rate: 1.82 %	Year 1: 79.60 %

Weights of the methods

The default weight of each method is determined by Equidam based on the stage of development, and they are shown below. They can be manually adjusted by the company.

Default weights of the 5 methods

Stage of development	Checklist Method	Scorecard Method	VC Method	DCF with LTG	DCF with Multiples
Idea stage	38%	38%	16%	4%	4%
Development stage	30%	30%	16%	12%	12%
Startup stage	15%	15%	16%	27%	27%
Expansion stage	6%	6%	16%	36%	36%

No Limit Technology... stage of development: Expansion stage

These are determined according to the following principles:

- Qualitative information is more important in early stage companies, where performance uncertainty is extremely high, so qualitative methods are weighted in more
- The investors' view is equally important across all stages, so the weight of the VC method does not change
- Quantitative information is more reliable in later stages, when a company already has a proven financial track record. Therefore, it is possible to use the DCF methods more extensively as projected results get founded in past performance

Player Acquisition Costs

Player acquisition costs vary from platform to platform and can range from as low as $5, to as high as $150. Efforts are being made (through groups) to bring large player groups, which would significantly lower the acquisition cost.

USA Sports Betting Licenses

The first US sports betting licenses will cost at least $150,000 per state, which means we will need at least 2 rounds of funding to complete the first license. Even if a license is achieved, a deal with a land based casino as a partner is required. Future licenses can cost as high as $10,000,000 and require the completion of further funding rounds to reach more US states. There is no guarantee licenses will be secured.

Other International Gaming Licenses

There are other jurisdictions that would be beneficial for the company to establish licenses, such as Malta, UK and others.

We are now able to operate DFS in 25 states, and require state licensing for DFS in the rest of the states.

How do shareholders make money, and when do they get paid?

It is expected that profitability will take at least 2 years, and growth requirements make it difficult to determine when profits will start to be distributed to shareholders. Multiple exit strategy scenarios could provide shareholders with an exit, including profitability and dividends, potential acquisition by another company, or the listing of our company in US public markets, such as NASDAQ.

Binance Smart Chain Migration

Recent months have seen a spike in fees on Ethereum's ERC-20 protocol. This has made it very expensive to do swaps on Uniswap, and to farm Uniswap LP (Liquidity Provider) tokens. At the same time, Binance has successfully deployed their own smart chain (Binance Smart Chain), which is fully compatible with Ethereum's Solidity programming language. BSC aims to resolve the high fee issues on Ethereum, which it does. For this reason, we have chosen to move to BSC instead of the ERC-20 protocol for now. Ethereum 2.0 will likely fix the fee issues currently present on their network, and when that happens, we will also deploy on Ethereum and list NLC on Uniswap.

Online Gaming Markets

The online gaming and sports betting industries have achieved substantial recognition in the last few years. The rising attention levels have further enabled exponential growth in the online gaming markets. Furthermore, global conditions such as the COVID-19 pandemic have escalated the growth of the online gambling markets.

Sports betting continues to witness exponential growth, with billions of dollars invested in the space. The sports betting market is currently worth $100 billion. For a long time, the market has continued to be dominated by DraftKings, a prominent player in the sports betting industry with a market cap of $18 billion. Moreover, the industry has achieved considerable growth since countries began to legalize the activity and market of sports betting. In some countries, there are also various legal online betting platforms, which will supplement the sports betting market's growth in the near future.

Similar to DraftKings, which currently dominates 4 states, NLC is focused on building an ecosystem that will operate across the globe by applying for licenses in various countries.

The online gambling market's size has considerably evolved in the last five years. Research suggests that the online gaming market has increased from $4.2 billion in 2016, to more than $300 billion in 2018, in the United States alone. These figures are expected to grow at an exponential rate in the upcoming years.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

As per market statistics, the online gaming market was valued at $151 billion in 2019, and is expected to grow at a CAGR of 9.17% over the forecast period of 2020-2025. Another report states that the online gambling market is expected to nearly double by 2023. As per this analysis, the online gambling market's size will reach nearly $100 billion by 2023. Moreover, some studies also show much more substantial growth in the next five years. As per a market report, the online gaming market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 16.5% from the duration of 2020 to 2026.

This has led to the development of online casinos offering multiple games to players and gamblers. However, traditional online casinos are highly centralized and controlled by intermediaries. As the online gaming platforms are centralized, they charge high fees to the players. Moreover, there is a lack of transparency, as well as trust, between a player and the gaming platform. This leads to the development of unfair practices, lack of proper tools to vet gaming results, multiple intermediaries taking a cut from player's money, and therefore an undesirable experience in the gaming ecosystem.

We plan to revolutionize the online gaming experience by leveraging advanced tools of blockchain technology, to enable an optimal experience for the multiple stakeholders of the gaming ecosystem. With this purview, we have introduced the NLC Betting Protocol, an innovative system that provides an optimal experience for multiple stakeholders, using a network of smart contracts.

NLC Betting Protocol (Patent Pending)

NO★LIMIT BETTING PROTOCOL

The NLC Betting Protocol aims to revolutionize the gaming and gambling ecosystems by providing the best experience to gamers, developers, and users of the NLC network. It leverages the best features of multiple blockchains, including Ethereum and Polkadot, to enable access to a fair, trustless, transparent, and innovative experience.

The protocol intends to remove intermediaries and centralized organizations, to facilitate a direct arrangement between multiple stakeholders of the online gambling network. Moreover, the protocol brings efficiency to the ecosystem by lowering the fees and enabling near-instant transactions.

NLC Betting Protocol leverages a smart contract mechanism to bind the stakeholders in a five-way contract. The funds of an individual bet are locked inside a trustless smart contract network, such that the smart contract code automates the process of distribution to stakeholders in a fair and transparent manner.

NLC In Polkadot Ecosystem

The NLC migration will allow stakeholders to retrieve the best features from the Ethereum and Polkadot blockchain networks. The migration will enable the existing chain to bridge with the ERC ecosystem, along with a bridge to the Polkadot ecosystem, to perform the advanced smart contract operations of the betting protocol. Tokens will enter and exit the DOT parachains, and move back to the ERC wallets seamlessly. The bridges will also facilitate interaction with multiple swap platforms in the DeFi ecosystem. With Polkadot, the pace of innovation for the NLC Betting smart contract protocol can be significantly accelerated.

The NLC Betting Protocol is the heart of an ecosystem that will interact with the Polkadot network. The Polkadot network enables the development of the NLC Betting Protocol's smart contracts, which will reside on Polkadot's substrate network. This will further allow us to perform multiple on-chain activities using the network of parachains of the Polkadot ecosystem. Moreover, with the Polkadot ecosystem, the on-chain activities will be much more viable, incur low transaction fees, and won't be susceptible to the bottlenecks of Ethereum.

- 1. The current NLC2 coin and chain will continue to operate through 2021. During the two-way wrapper period, the original coin will be transferable to the ERC-20 chain and back using NLCSwap.com.
- 2. During the two-way conversion period, a portal will mint one NLC ERC-20 token when an NLC2 coin is received, and inversely one NLC2 coin when one NLC ERC-20 token is returned. This process uses smart contracts similar to Wrapped Bitcoin.

Wrapped Bitcoin

To leverage the benefits of Bitcoin in decentralized finance and other applications, a concept of Wrapped Bitcoin is introduced. Wrapped Bitcoin (WBTC) refers to tokenized Bitcoin on the Ethereum blockchain. Each WBTC is backed by an actual Bitcoin (BTC) with its smart contract designed such that the value of one WBTC equals one BTC.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

Wrapped Bitcoin provides the opportunity to leverage the best out of two protocols, i.e. Bitcoin's price value and Ethereum's programmability. This further allows an individual to leverage their Bitcoins for different applications of decentralized finance or DeFi. WBTC is an ERC-20 token that can be easily integrated into Ethereum's dApps, DeFi protocols, and smart contracts. Moreover, WBTC provides the liquidity of Bitcoin into DeFi protocols, and thus creates an opportunity to provide Bitcoin's liquidity as collateral for borrowing assets.

Wrapped Bitcoin Website

<https://wbtc.network/>

Although launched in January 2019, Wrapped Bitcoin witnessed an exponential growth in the second and third quarters of 2020. In October 2020, the Bitcoin locked on the Ethereum blockchain reached $1 billion. In November 2020, it had more than $2.1 billion in locked Bitcoin, ready to explore the DeFi protocols built on the Ethereum blockchain network.

<https://coinmarketcap.com/currencies/wrapped-bitcoin/>

The NLC Betting Protocol smart contract uses the smart contracts of Wrapped Bitcoin to leverage the advantages of the ERC-20 ecosystem. A user receives one NLC ERC-20 token in exchange for one NLC2 token. Each NLC ERC-20 token is backed by an equivalent amount of NLC2 token through the mechanism of smart contracts. The automated contracts ensure that the value of one NLC ERC-20 token is pegged to an NLC2 token. The NoLimitCoin protocol leverages Wrapped Bitcoin smart contracts, so as to ensure a resilient process of tokenizing the NLC2 coin on the Ethereum blockchain. The ERC-20 ecosystem will also open up new methods for the NLC coin to interact with other applications, smart contracts, and protocols of the Ethereum blockchain network.

3. NLCSwap.com and the NoLimitCoin Web Wallet will serve as the central portal for the coin conversion process. It will manage the conversions, token minting, and burning that will maintain continual circulation over the multiple-chain scenario (NLC2 and Wrapped NLC token).
4. By creating an NLC ERC-20 token, users gain immediate access to the existing ERC-20 ecosystem. NLCSwap.com will serve as the central point of exchange between the token and the NLC platform. In 2022, the two-way process will be discontinued and all remaining NLC2 coins will move to the ERC-20 token. By creating the wrapper, we can incrementalize the move over a one-year period to allow for a seamless transition.
5. The ERC-20 ecosystem will enable interoperability with marquee wallets such as UniSwap, Ledger, Tezos, Metamask, and others. NLC will become more widely accessible through both decentralized (DEX) and centralized exchanges, as well as ERC-20 gaming decentralized applications (dApps).

DeFi Industry

The DeFi industry has exploded with new applications and protocols serving different use-cases. The DeFi space has grown from $1 billion in February 2020, to more than $13 billion in November 2020. One of the emerging applications of DeFi is decentralized exchanges (DEXs). Decentralized exchanges facilitate the trading of cryptocurrency assets without any central entity or intermediary organization. These platforms are built on blockchain networks and operated through smart contracts.

Uniswap Decentralized Exchange

The popularity of decentralized exchange networks has subsequently raised the aggregated trading volume on these platforms. The aggregated trading volume on DEXs grew from $5 billion in July 2020 to more than $25 billion in September 2020. The trading volumes on decentralized exchanges grew by more than 1,132% in the second and third quarters of 2020. Some of the advantages offered by DEX platforms include easy accessibility, yield farming opportunities, transparent operations, and lower fees.

Uniswap is a leading decentralized exchange, accessed for trading cryptocurrency assets. The trading volume on Uniswap grew from $1 million per day in June 2020 to nearly $1 billion per day in September 2020. It accounts for more than 50% of the aggregated trading volume performed on DEXs. Uniswap accounted for more than 65% of the total trading volume on DEXs in September 2020. Moreover, Uniswap's trading volume surpassed one of the most prominent cryptocurrency exchanges in September 2020.

- 6. Access to more exchanges, starting with UniSwap, will make NLC a widely accessible coin.

- 7. Creating an ERC-20 bridge to the Polkadot (DOT) parachain will enable access to the Polkadot network and parachains, including the DOT smart contract operations, while off the ERC-20 chain. The DOT parachain will be used as an ERC-20 sidechain to execute complex smart contracts, and perform many on-chain acts. For example, burning coins when fees are collected can be difficult to do on an ERC-20 chain if they are less than one U.S. cent. The DOT parachain enables sidechains to allow for minute, but essential tasks in perpetuity.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

Polkadot is an open-source interoperability relay system between independent chains. It allows siloed chains that operate on their own, to access larger, more widely-used, or more secure chains and services like data oracles from Chainlink, NXM smart contract insurance contracts, EOS, Tron, and others, through existing and newly-created Polkadot bridges called 'parachains.' This process is similar to having NLC wrapped in DOT. Going forward, NLC will have the capability to be traded on all DEXs, beyond just NLCswap.com.

Polkadot.

ECOSYSTEM

What is Polkadot?

Polkadot is an open-source blockchain project that enables separate blockchains to become interconnected by Polkadot's application-specific sub-chains called "parachains." The Polkadot project was founded by the Web3 Foundation, a Swiss Foundation that facilitates and supports building blocks for a user-friendly decentralized web. Polkadot's network and market value is supported by its native "DOT" token which has three primary objectives: network governance, token staking, and bonding.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

Polkadot looks to build a decentralized web that empowers users. The network is built to connect private and consortium chains, public, and permissionless networks, oracles, and other applications yet to be built. Polkadot's decentralized platform aims to provide an interview that allows independent blockchains to trustlessly exchange information and transactions over Polkadot's relay chain.

The Polkadot logo is written in a black, cursive, handwritten-style font. The word "Polkadot" is followed by a small red dot at the end of the word.

The Web3 Foundation partners with other entities to help build Polkadot and develop other Polkadot-based applications. The Web3 Foundation also provides grants for the development of Polkadot, as well as fosters synergies between different entities and interested developer groups.

How Does Polkadot Work?

- Scale: Polkadot is a sharded multichain network, which allows it to process many transactions across several chains simultaneously. This parallel transactional processing enables scalability. Sharded chains on the Polkadot network are called “parachains” because they operate on the network in parallel to each other.
- Specialization: Each blockchain on Polkadot can craft a specific design optimized for a specific use case. Through building on the Substrate development framework, developer teams can create and customize their novel blockchain faster and more effectively.
- Interoperability: Networks and applications on Polkadot can exchange information, transactions, and services similar to apps on a smartphone. Polkadot provides interoperability and cross-chain communication, allowing users to send and receive information between chains.
- Governance: Users and communities on Polkadot can customize their blockchain's governance to their needs and, of course, vote on issues that relate to the blockchain's rules and protocols. These models can be upgraded as the network evolves and the platform's ecosystem changes over time.
- Upgrade: Polkadot enables forkless upgrades, allowing blockchains to evolve and adapt as new technologies or applications become available.

8. Use DOT as a sidechain to ERC-20.

The Polkadot protocol allows interoperability between its network and other blockchain networks. The NLC protocol plans to leverage this interoperability factor, to capitalize on the best features from the ERC-20 and DOT networks.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

DOT chain will be used as a side chain for performing the operations within smart contracts. Moreover, this enables the processing of smart contract operations, without being subjected to the congestion and/or high transaction fees of the Ethereum blockchain. Tokens will only be moved back and forth once a user exits the game. Furthermore, the NLC landscape also allows users to seamlessly engage with tokens, without the need to manually conduct any operation.

The user can seamlessly connect and integrate their wallets with the DOT ecosystem without any hassle. All transactional operations will be conducted on the Polkadot network without any major transactional fees. At the same time, a user will receive their ERC-20 tokens in their wallet when a game is exited.

- 9. The PolkaDot ecosystem will act as a bridge into larger chains for specific uses, such as ChainLink for real world data; NXM to establish smart contract insurance for big bets, and other chains to extend into their DEXs. The NLC protocol will begin on the Moonbeam parachain, which will run on DOT. Moonbeam is a layer-development language on its own parachain. Additionally, the DOT sister-chain 'Kusama' is used to test mainnet solutions before they move to DOT.

Moonbeam

NoLimitCoin leverages Moonbeam, a part of the Polkadot ecosystem, to provide developers with accessibility to the blockchain tools (such as smart contracts). It is a smart contract platform that provides alternatives to developers, so they can engage with familiar Ethereum development tools.

The Polkadot network uses the Substrate framework to build decentralized applications and smart contracts on its platform. However, the framework is a bit complex when it comes to defining rules for tokenomics of a protocol, governance, and incentive for nodes of the blockchain network. Moonbeam enables developers to build decentralized applications and smart contracts on the Polkadot ecosystem, by using familiar Ethereum development tools.

The mechanism enables a seamless and effective way to migrate the existing decentralized applications of Ethereum to the Polkadot ecosystem. Moreover, new decentralized applications can also be built using the development tools of the Ethereum blockchain. With Moonbeam, it becomes easier to engage in cross-chain interoperability to access applications of different blockchain networks.

NoLimitCoin can access the Moonbeam ecosystem to facilitate cross-chain interoperability between Ethereum and Polkadot networks. Moreover, Moonbeam enables access to users, assets, and the low transaction fees of the Polkadot ecosystem. These low fees enable decentralized applications like ours to become much more scalable. It will also allow NoLimitCoin to access Ethereum ecosystems, such as Metamask and Truffle.

NLC will start on the Parathread and eventually move to its own Parachain.

ChainLink

Smart contracts are embedded codes that enable automated execution when certain conditions are met. For smart contracts to function in an automated manner, they require oracles to supply data in order for them to execute events. With the growing popularity of DeFi protocols, the need for off-chain data that supplies the required information to smart contracts became even more evident. ChainLink aims to incentivize data providers (oracles) to supply external information to smart contracts running on blockchain networks.

ChainLink acts as a bridge between data sources and smart contract networks, to further enable a smart contract to execute based on a reliable source of information. Every oracle within the Chainlink network is incentivized to provide accurate data, since a reputation score is assigned to each. Moreover, the network is incentivized through its native token, which is awarded to the nodes in exchange for supplying reliable information to smart contracts.

The Polkadot ecosystem has integrated ChainLink into its development infrastructure, to grant developers access to decentralized oracles. It has integrated with Substrate-based parachains to bring the network of oracles to the Polkadot network. This enables Polkadot developers to access ChainLink oracles for input and output events for their smart contracts. Decentralized oracles of ChainLink can run securely and reliably on the Polkadot network without the need to deploy any external oracles. This further eliminates the concerns of time-delays, unreliable data, the security of information, and additional expenses.

www.nolimitgaming.us

A ChainLink parachain would let Polkadot's parachains and dApps access virtually any external, real-world resource. This integration of ChainLink and Polkadot opens up a multitude of possibilities and use-cases for NoLimitCoin. This will allow NLC smart contracts to access the ChainLink protocol and utilize its oracle network. Polkadot will allow NLC to connect and interact with ChainLink's oracle technology, allowing NLC to access previously off-chain data on Link's network, particularly results of games, matches, or other events currently available for betting on NLC's platform.

By accessing the ChainLink mechanism, NoLimitCoin will have the ability to offer additional security and transparency guarantees to its users. This will provide NLC access to a secure, transparent, and fully automated oracle solution that supplies consistently accurate updates. Moreover, through ChainLink, NLC can apply the proven solutions of ChainLink oracles to its own ecosystem. The integration of ChainLink and Polkadot allows NLC to use all types of off-chain data, and systems, to trigger contract execution.

<https://chain.link/>

Kusama Network

The Kusama Network, Polkadot's canary network, allows developers to detect vulnerabilities and weaknesses in how an application performs on the Polkadot ecosystem. It is an advanced testnet for developers to experiment with new features, and test them, before deploying on the Polkadot network.

The Kusama network provides developers with different tools for them to build an application, try DOT bridges, blockchain explorers, and others. The network maintainers of Kusama network help developers and new users engage with its ecosystem. It basically serves as R & D for a blockchain application before its actual deployment on the Polkadot platform.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

The NLC platform plans to access the Kusama network tool as a part of the Polkadot ecosystem, to enable resilience in its application infrastructure. Moreover, this will help NoLimitCoin to explore vulnerabilities and weaknesses in its infrastructure before its actual deployment on the Polkadot network. It serves as a proving ground before NLC plans to deploy its parachain on the Polkadot network. It will also enable a real environment for NLC to test Polkadot's governance, staking, nomination, and validation functionalities.

Nexus Mutual

Nexus Mutual is a crypto-based product designed to protect users against smart code vulnerabilities. It uses the power of Ethereum to protect users against bugs or attacks in smart contracts. It offers investors the ability to cover against activities in the cryptocurrency ecosystem.

The coverage is done through its native token, NXM. Additionally, Nexus employs a mechanism to keep the price of the token balanced, so as not to create problems with the guarantee. Smart contract coverage decreases risk, by providing security against events like the DAO hack, or Parity multi-sig wallet issues. Since it is a decentralized network, claims payments are enforced by token driven economic incentives, rather than placing trust in an insurance company.

NLC uses Nexus Mutual to enable insurance coverage for big bets. It protects users against any potential vulnerabilities that could be exploited by hackers in a smart contract's code. NXM, the native token of Nexus Mutual, can be leveraged by NLC as smart contract insurance for sizable bets or large exchanges on a token swap. It does this by providing users of smart contracts with cover against smart contract failure in a decentralized fashion.

DOT Bridges

Blockchain bridges are technologically driven, diverse chains that can communicate with each other. The Polkadot ecosystem enables two types of bridges that can adapt and support external blockchains as well as smart contracts.

DOT bridges facilitate cross-chain interoperability between different blockchain networks, including Tron and EOS. These bridges also facilitate cross-chain interoperability, and interactions between different decentralized applications and smart contracts. These networks can communicate and integrate into the Polkadot ecosystem.

DOT bridges allow parachains and parathreads to connect and communicate with external networks like Bitcoin. Bridges expand the interoperability of the network. Taking advantage of the DOT bridges, NLC can have access to other blockchain ecosystems. This also enables NLC to leverage other decentralized exchange platforms apart from Uniswap, and gain wider access to the customer base of DeFi. DOT bridges will also allow tokens to be swapped from one blockchain protocol into another in a seamless manner.

As the DOT network matures, they will have their own DEXs and Swaps. NLC will integrate with these DEXs, in addition to UniSwap.

10. Casinos or any gaming platforms.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

Initially, the platform will operate independently, but after a period of time, the token can be offered to outside betting game publishers through the use of a decentralized autonomous organization (DAO) on the NLC2 chain, to be reviewed and approved for use.

The NLC2 gaming platform offers three options:

- Staking
- Investing in a DeFi fund through Rake Farming
- Betting on the platform

Staking

The current staking percentage in NLC2 is 4%. While migrating to the ERC-20 token, the current nodes holding the coins will not be required to perform staking operations anymore. By terminating the staking operation, we essentially want to eliminate the inflation rate to zero. Eliminating the inflation will benefit the chain in long-term value.

In exchange for the 4% that was paid to nodes for staking in the NLC2 chain, we will compensate the stakeholders by paying them in the following manner. In the first year, the stakeholders will receive 20%, in the second year 15%, in the third year 10%, and so on and so forth. In a duration of five years, this will be subset to zero.

11. Staking Rewards

STAKING REWARDS

By ending staking after 5 years, we reach the full deflationary moment where no more coin is created via staking. Furthermore, anywhere from .05% to 1% of fees will be burned through the use of APIs. The exact amount of fees burned will be determined by governance (community vote), and also by the total amount of daily bets on our network. Staking will be supported via MetaMask's web wallet, Ledger's and Trezor's hardware wallets, or any other ERC-20 wallet.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

Staking and Fees of burn from bookies cut

By the end of 2025, as the staking rewards will reach zero, there will be a substantial rise in the fees burnt. The 1% burn will accumulate in value with each passing year. As the circulation of the token is reduced, there will be an equivalent rise in its value. As the distribution reduces, the price of NLC token should subsequently rise.

DeFi Funding through Rake Farming

Sports bets will be limited to the amount on deposit with the sports platform providers. Because a no-risk model is used, the company is limited by the amount of capital available to take bets. In turn, investors will be offered the opportunity to self-fund liquidity via Rake Farming (RF). The terms of RF offered are flexible.

Through the smart contract betting protocol, a decentralized autonomous organization will be managed which offers benefits in a five-way contract. One group of stakeholders that can leverage the benefits of the smart contract, is publishers seeking liquidity for funding of their games.

For example, No Limit Fantasy Sports offered 50% of fees at the start to gain immediate access to funding. Therefore, a profit of 3% on a bet would be equally split, leaving 1.5% for the DeFi fund. Offers from game publishers will be reviewed for approval by a DAO of each fund. If approved, the capital raised is made available for betting and is considered risk-free, as a balanced betting book will be maintained with a guaranteed percentage model for the order flow. It is possible to make over 7% gross on sports betting. After sufficient actions on both sides are taken, the company can move to such a model to earn more on the bets in the longer-term.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

Betting

When the coin is purchased to make a bet, the bet will land in a smart contract and the money is then released when the winner is declared. The NLC Betting Protocol ensures that coins are released to all stakeholders of the smart contract, as appropriate. Each time the betting API is used, up to 1% of the fees are burned directly on the parachain.

- 12. The NLC Betting Protocol. This is the heart of our project and is designed to bring a trustless model to betting, where publishers with betting games can come and use the NLC token. They can even access our DeFi funds if they qualify for it, or if they are approved by the fund's DAO.

Once a bet is made, the NLC Betting Protocol smart contract locks the funds in a five-way contract. The five stakeholders/ participants of the smart contract protocol are as follows:

- A. Bettor A
- B. Bettor B
- C. Fees or rewards to NLC holders
- D. Fees to sports book operator

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

E. Fees to DeFi funder

The funds are locked in the smart contract.

The operations of the NLC smart betting protocol, which integrates each of the stakeholders and rewards them, are as follows.

- (a) Bettor A is on one side of the bet.
- (b) Bettor B is on the other side of the bet.
- (c) Through the smart contract, the fees are paid back to the holders in the form of a burn, ranging from .05% to 1%. While the fee doesn't get sent directly to the holders, the value is returned to them indirectly by reducing the NLC token supply.
- (d) The smart contract caters to the publishers that are willing to publish their game but lack a funding mechanism. The fund is operated through a decentralized autonomous organization to ensure transparency and trust in the funding mechanism.
- (e) Fees to the game publisher. If 1% of fees got burned, the remaining 99% would come back to the publisher through the smart contracts network.

13. Funds will be offered for different platforms to investors, and will be aggregated or granularized for investors, to the point that an investor may only want to participate in a specific betting contest or casino table.

The DeFi funds will offer simple selections to investors, who will have the ability to direct the funds to different potential rake-producing games.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

www.nolimitgaming.us

14. In 2022, we will end the 2-way swap from ERC-20 to NLC2. So holders will have 1 year to move their NLC coin to the ERC-20 token and even be able to trade back and forth.

Creating a WNLC or Wrapped NLC2 will enable immediate access to the ERC-20 ecosystem and eliminate the risk of losing accessibility and liquidity on exchanges. This transition will also allow users to store NLC on hardware wallets and the process can be implemented gradually. Phase 1 would keep both chains and as the token becomes more viable, parachains working and gas under control, then we can discontinue the old chain and continue growth. However, we will not discard the original chain just yet, as the modus operandi is cross-chain interoperability. Our contention is to preserve the original chain as a backup and part of the system, and by creating a wrapped NLC, we can then access all blockchain ecosystems -- first ERC-20, then Moonbeam/Polkadot, and more.

Implementation of Smart Contract Betting Protocol

The multi-way smart contract betting protocol is set to be deployed in strategic phases. In the first phase, a prominent centralized platform (BetConstruct.com) will implement a traditional sports betting platform. However, in the first phase, the smart contract will not be leveraged.

In the second phase, a matching system with decentralized protocols and smart contracts will be developed. In this phase, the smart contract betting protocol will generate fees from the bets placed, and will distribute them to their respective stakeholders.

Role of Bookmakers in NLC Ecosystem

The NLC ecosystem also plans to integrate 'bookmakers' along with publishers and developers in the sports betting landscape. The decentralized autonomous organization will vet potential bookmakers, and vote to determine if they may enter the NLC ecosystem. Unknown publishers may need to offer an additional percentage of fees to leverage the NLC landscape for sports betting activities. Subsequently, a bookmaker needs to deposit an equivalent amount of his proposed betting limits. This can be done via direct deposits or from DeFi funds in exchange of fees.

For bookmakers looking to secure funding from the NLC ecosystem, they may access it via the DeFi funds. The bookmaker or developer needs to put in a proposition to the DAO, which will then result in voting. Also, the bookmaker will be able to accept bets in exchange for a percentage of fees. The decentralized protocol allows a bookmaker to directly access the NLC sports betting ecosystem without any intermediaries.

The gaming operator or bookmaker can take advantage of any of the four options offered on the NLC ecosystem.

No Limit Technology Holdings, Inc

1. A betting pool that offers a guaranteed 4% from any order flow without any risks to the principal amount.
2. An option of a traditional order book, balancing one action with another order book. Whilst this option carries a certain amount of risks in case of a large bet, there is an alternative to shift to the previous option. With this option, there is a potential of 5% net gains.
3. A combination of betting protocol and an outside order book to balance the book. The process can be automated along with setting limits.
4. When the betting protocol is used on both sides of the bet, the ideal and best-case scenario.

An operator or bookmaker can indulge in any of the options, and NLC will offset as per the option chosen. Moreover, this presents opportunities to the bookmakers, who often have to indulge in informal methods for sports betting. Furthermore, the NLC protocol presents opportunities for small operators to access and leverage the capital of the multi-billion dollar betting world.

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

Crowdfunding for early stage companies is relatively new. Crowdfunding (defined as online offerings of the securities of early stage companies to retail investors) is a relatively new industry that has only started to develop with the SEC's adoption of the applicable regulations. Early stage companies may be slow to adopt crowdfunding as a method of capital formation, which would mean fewer deals for investors to choose from and less research for us to prepare. Alternatively, investors may be slow to adopt crowdfunding as a viable investment substitute, which would mean fewer early stage companies raising money and a smaller potential customer base. As a result, a risk exists that we acquire fewer customers or acquire customers at a slower pace than we anticipate.

Lack of Operating History. The Company was formed in 2021. As such, the Company has a limited amount of historical operations from which an investor in this Offering may use to evaluate the Company's forward operations.

We depend on a small management team headed by the CEO, Rafael Groswirt. We depend on the skill and experience of contracted team members sourced by the CEO. Currently the Company has one employee who had entered into an employment agreement with the Company.

Control By Management. Rafael Groswirt, President and CEO holds the controlling interest in the Company's Common Stock. Mr. Groswirt, at the conclusion of this Offering, will continue to hold a majority of the Company's common stock.

The Company will likely need to raise additional money in the future. We will likely need additional capital to fully execute our business model. If we can't raise additional capital or find a way to fund the continued growth of our operations we will cease operating and you may lose your entire investment in the Shares. Even if we do successfully raise more funds after this Offering, the terms of any future offering could result in a reduction in value of your investment in the Company, as later stage investors may get more favorable terms.

It is difficult for us to accurately predict our earnings potential. Because of our short operating history, it is more difficult to accurately assess growth rate and earnings potential. It is possible that our Company will face many difficulties typical for early stage companies.

We could become subject to regulation. Our business model involves providing retail investors with online gambling content powered by crypto currency. Since we do not offer investment advice or analysis nor make investment recommendations in our research reports, we have not registered as an investment adviser with any state or federal securities regulators. If we do become subject to regulation, we do not know the time and expense it would take to manage such compliance issues.

General Risks Associated with an Early Stage Company

As a new company we have a limited operating history. The Company was organized on January 2021. We have a limited operating history upon which you may evaluate our business and prospects. We are in the early stages of our business and have not yet commenced full-scale operations. Accordingly, we are in the initial revenue phase, and our activities to date have involved research and development, business planning, market testing and efforts to raise startup capital. Our business and prospects must be considered in light of the risk, expense and difficulties frequently encountered by companies in early stages of development, particularly companies in highly competitive and regulated and evolving markets such as gambling and crypto. If we are unable to effectively allocate our resources and generate sales, or obtain and grow our customer base, our business operating results and financial condition would be adversely affected and we may be unable to execute our business plan, and our business could fail. Investors could therefore be at risk of losing their investment.

We expect losses in the foreseeable future. Excluding the effect of any future non-operating gains, we expect to incur losses for the foreseeable future and, if we ever generate revenues, or have profits, we may not be able to sustain them. Our expenses will increase as we build an infrastructure to implement our business model. For example, we may hire additional employees, expand information technology systems, In addition, we plan to significantly increase our operating expenses to:

- fully develop and broaden our technology and product offerings;
- acquire customers
- explore opportunities and alliances with other companies; and
- facilitate business arrangements.

Our success is dependent on our key personnel. We believe that our success will depend on the continued employment of our primary manager and hiring additional talented senior management and key personnel. If one or more members of our senior management were unable or unwilling to continue in their present positions, our business and operations could be disrupted and this could put the overall business at risk, and therefore investors could be at risk of losing their investments.

Projections are speculative and are based upon a number of assumptions. Any projected financial results prepared by or on behalf of the Company have not been independently reviewed, analyzed, or otherwise passed upon. Such “forward-looking” statements are based on various assumptions, which assumptions may prove to be incorrect. Such assumptions include, but are not limited to (i) the future status of local, regional and international economies, (ii) anticipated demand for our products, (iii) anticipated costs associated with the development, marketing, sales and distribution of our products, and (iv) anticipated procurement and retention of a customer base. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that such projections, assumptions, and statements will accurately predict future events or actual performance. Any projections of cash flow should be considered speculative and are qualified in their entirety by the assumptions, information and risks disclosed in this circular. Investors are advised to consult with their own independent tax and business advisors concerning the validity and reasonableness of the factual, accounting and tax assumptions. No representations or warranties whatsoever are made by the Company, its affiliates or any other person or entity as to the future profitability of the Company or the results of making an investment in the Shares. If our future projections end up being significantly different than currently projected, our business could be greatly impacted. Our business therefore may not be able to sustain itself without the projected future revenues. The business could be at risk of closing, and investors may therefore be at risk of losing their investments.

We may not effectively manage growth. The anticipated growth of the Company's business will result in a corresponding growth in the demands on the Company's management and its operating infrastructure and internal controls. While we are planning for managed growth, any future growth may strain resources and operational, financial, human and management information systems, which may not be adequate to support the Company's operations and will require the Company to develop further management systems and procedures. There can be no guarantee that the Company will be able to develop such systems or procedures effectively on a timely basis. The failure to do so could have a material adverse effect upon the Company's business, operating results and financial condition. Investors could therefore be at risk of losing their investments if growth is not managed effectively.

Our efficiency may be limited while our current employees and future employees are being integrated into our operations. In addition, we may be unable to find and hire additional qualified management and professional personnel to help lead us. There is competition for qualified personnel in the area of the Company's activities, and there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to attract and retain qualified personnel necessary for the development of our business. If this business cannot effectively hire employees to help the company grow, the business could be at risk overall of not succeeding, and investors therefore may be at risk of losing their investment.

We expect our expenses to grow as the Company grows. Our expenses will increase as we build infrastructure to implement our business plan. For example, we may hire additional employees, expand our product offerings, and lease more space for our corporate offices. This poses a risk to the financial forecasts and current financial model of the Company.

The Company may not reach its sales goals. The Company has forecasted its capitalization requirements based on sales goals and cost containment measures; any reduction to these forecasts could make it difficult for the company to achieve its projected growth, which would affect available cash and working capital, ultimately affecting the Company's financial condition. This could put the investor at risk of losing their investment.

The Company may require additional financing to support working capital needs. The Company may need to explore additional financing transactions that management determines are in the best interest of the Company, including, without limitation, commercial debt transactions, private offerings of debt or equity securities, and other strategic alternatives. Such additional financing may not be available to the Company, or, if available, the Company may be unable to undertake such additional financing on terms that are advantageous to the Company. If the Company fails to raise additional capital in such an offering, or through other fund raising efforts, such a failure could have a material adverse effect on the Company, and investors in this Offering could be at greater risk of losing their investments due to the inability of the business to proceed with enough working capital to effectively run the Company.

If the Company incurs commercial debt, there may be risks associated with such borrowing. If the Company incurs commercial indebtedness, a portion of its cash flow will have to be dedicated to the payment of principal and interest on such indebtedness. Typical loan agreements also might contain restrictive covenants, which may impair the Company's operating flexibility. Such loan agreements would also provide for default under certain circumstances, such as failure to meet certain financial covenants. A default under a loan agreement could result in the loan becoming immediately due and payable and, if unpaid, a judgment in favor of such lender which would be senior to the rights of shareholders of the Company. A judgment creditor would have the right to foreclose on any of the Company's assets resulting in a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operating results or financial condition.

Many of our competitors have greater brand recognition and greater financial, marketing and other resources. Many of our competitors have greater brand recognition, and greater financial, marketing, and other resources than the Company. This may place us at a disadvantage in responding to our competitors' pricing strategies, technological advances, advertising campaigns, strategic alliances and other initiatives. Consequently, such competitors may be in a better position than the Company to take advantage of customer acquisition and business opportunities, and devote greater resources to marketing and sale of their product offerings. There cannot be any certainty that the Company will be able to compete successfully. If the Company cannot break through and compete successfully, investors may be at risk of losing their investment.

Management has broad discretion as to the use of proceeds. The net proceeds from this Offering will be used for the purposes described under "USE OF PROCEEDS." The Company reserves the right to use the funds obtained from this Offering for other similar purposes not presently contemplated, which it deems to be in the best interests of the Company in order to address changed circumstances or opportunities. This poses a risk to an investor should they be relying on current use of proceed forecasts for the investment as business conditions may require a change of the use of these funds.

Management has voting control of the Company. Management of the Company presently holds a majority of the issued and outstanding voting common stock in the Company. Due to their stock ownership and positions with the Company, the current officers will be in a position to continue to control the affairs and management of the Company after the Offering. Investors must rely entirely on our management to govern the affairs of the Company.

There may be unanticipated obstacles to the execution of the Company's business plan. The Company's business plans may change significantly. Our business plan is capital intensive. We believe that our chosen activities and strategies are achievable in light of current economic and legal conditions with the skills, background, and knowledge of our principals and advisors. Our management reserves the right to make significant modifications to its stated strategies depending on future events. Investors must be prepared for these potential modifications to stated strategies and understand the inherent risk to their investment that these modifications could pose.

Failure to adapt to technological changes may render our technology obsolete or decrease the attractiveness of our solutions to our customers. Although we believe our current technology and processes will be suitable for operations well into the foreseeable future, if new industry standards and practices emerge, or if competitors introduce new solutions embodying new services or technologies, our technology and processes may become obsolete. Our future success will depend in part on our ability to:

- fully develop and enhance our smart second screen technology;
- develop and potentially license new solutions and technologies that address the needs of our prospective customers; and
- respond to changes in industry standards and practices on a cost-effective and timely basis.

We must continue to enhance the features and functionality of our technology and product offerings. The effective performance, reliability and availability of our technology and product offerings are critical to our reputation and our ability to attract and retain users and customers. If we do not continue to make investments in product development and, as a result, or due to other reasons, fail to attract new and retain existing customers and investors, this could significantly decrease the value of our products and services to all customers and stakeholders. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in developing, marketing and selling new products and services that meet changing demands, that we will not experience difficulties that could delay or prevent the successful development, introduction, and marketing of these products and services, or that any new products and services and their enhancements will adequately meet the demands of the marketplace and achieve market acceptance.

We may experience defects and system failures with respect to our technology solutions, which would harm our business and reputation and expose us to potential liability. Further, the technology solutions underlying our products and services may in the future contain undetected errors or defects when first introduced or when new versions are released. In addition, we, or our customers, may experience difficulties in installing or integrating our technologies on platforms (such as iPhones and other smart phones) used by our customers. Defects in our technology solutions, errors or delays in development of our technology and products, or other difficulties could result in:

- interruption of business operations;
- delay in market acceptance;
- additional development and remediation costs;
- diversion of technical and other resources;
- loss of customers;

Competitors may develop and deploy superior technology and product offerings. We expect that current competition will intensify. Barriers to entry are relatively minimal, and competitors can offer products and services at a relatively low cost. We must compete for a share of a set base of players. Several companies offer competitive solutions that compete with our products and services. We expect that additional companies will offer competing solutions on a stand-alone or combined basis in the future. Furthermore, our competitors may offer products or services that are superior to, or have greater market acceptance than, the solutions that we offer. If we are unable to compete successfully against our competitors and/or other products, we may fail.

We operate in intensely competitive and dynamic industries, and our ability to successfully competing and continuing to grow our business depends on our ability to respond quickly to market changes and changing technologies and to bring competitive new solutions and services to market in a timely fashion. Development of new proprietary technology or products is complex, entails significant time and expense and may not be successful. We cannot guarantee that we will be able to introduce new solutions or products on schedule, or at all, nor can we guarantee that such solutions or products will achieve market acceptance. Moreover, we cannot guarantee that errors will not be found in our new solution releases or products before or after commercial release, which could result in solution or product delivery redevelopment costs, harm to our reputation, lost sales, license terminations or renegotiations, product liability claims, diversion of resources to remedy errors and loss of, or delay in, market acceptance.

We may need to reduce the price of our products, increase our promotional spending, or take other steps to encourage consumers to use our products. Those steps may lower our net revenues, if any, decrease our operating margins, increase our costs and/or lower our profitability, to the extent it is ever achieved.

If our technology or products are found to infringe the proprietary rights of others, we may be required to change our business practices or redevelop our products, and may also become subject to significant costs and monetary penalties. As our technology and products develop, we may become increasingly subject to infringement claims. We are developing proprietary technologies and leasing others, processes, software, and products relating to online games although reasonable efforts will be taken to protect the rights to our intellectual property, the complexity of international trade secret, copyright, trademark and patent law, coupled with our limited resources and the demands of quick delivery of products and services to market, create risk that our efforts will prove inadequate. Further, the nature of the second screen mobile accessories business demands that considerable detail about our innovative products be exposed to competitors. We also may license technology from third parties and it is possible that it could become subject to infringement actions based upon the technology licensed from those third parties. We will generally obtain representations as to the origin and ownership of such licensed technology; however, this may not adequately protect us. Any claims, whether with or without merit, could:

- be expensive and time-consuming to defend;
- cause us to cease making, licensing or using technology that incorporate the challenged intellectual property;
- require us to redesign our products, if feasible;
- divert management's attention and resources; and
- require us to enter into royalty or licensing agreements in order to obtain the right to use necessary technologies.

If we incur costly litigation and our personnel are not effectively deployed, the expenses and losses incurred may increase, and our business will suffer material adverse effects, or may fail.

Financial risks. The online gambling market is heavily regulated. In an economic down-turn or change in laws where we operate, could decrease demand. Moreover, as a small entity with limited resources, we are very susceptible to market forces, and we may encounter downstream financing difficulties that could threaten solvency. Additionally, the business may not achieve sufficient scale or profitability to realize a liquidity event through IPO or acquisition, which could limit or prevent a return on investment for our investors.

General economic conditions, including a prolonged weakness in the economy, may affect consumer purchases, which could adversely affect our sales. Our results of operations are dependent on a number of factors impacting consumer spending, including general economic and business conditions; consumer confidence; wages and employment levels. A prolonged downturn or an uncertain outlook in the economy may materially adversely affect our business, revenues and profits.

Risks Associated with an Investment in a “best efforts” offering. This Offering is being made on a “best efforts” basis with a minimum number of Shares required to be sold. As subscriptions are accepted (and any required rescission periods expire), the subscription funds will be available for use by the Company immediately for its intended use of proceeds. Subscriptions are irrevocable (after expiration of any rescission period) and subscribers will not have the opportunity to have their funds returned notwithstanding any future lack of success in recruiting other investors. Accordingly, initial subscribers will necessarily have a greater degree of risk. The Company has not engaged the services of an underwriter with respect to the Offering, and there is no guarantee that any number of Shares are sold and proceeds will be realized by the Company.

There is a minimum $50,000 capitalization for this offering and investors’ subscription funds will be used by us only after the target is reached. There is a minimum capitalization required in this Offering. There is no assurance that all or a significant number of Shares may be sold in this Offering. We will use investors’ subscription funds as soon as they are received. If only small portions of the Shares are placed, then we may not have sufficient capital to operate. There is no assurance that we could obtain additional financing or capital from any source, or that such financing or capital would be available to us on terms acceptable to us. Under such circumstances, the project would need to be scaled down, and would have a material adverse effect on our business. If the minimum $50,000 is not reached the funds will be returned and offering cancelled.

Shares are not guaranteed and could become worthless. The Shares are not guaranteed or insured by any government agency or by any private party. The amount of earnings is not guaranteed and can vary with market conditions. The return of all or any portion of capital invested in the Shares is not guaranteed, and the Shares could become worthless.

Future capital needs; Dilution. The Company believes that the net proceeds of the Offering of the Shares will be sufficient to fund the implementation of the Company’s business plan, operations and growth for the foreseeable future, assuming that it sells all shares offered hereby and that the revenue forecasts for the first 12 months are substantially achieved. Nevertheless, in the event that additional capital is required, no assurance can be given that additional financing will be available at all or on terms favorable to the Company. If adequate funds were not available to satisfy either short or long term capital requirements, the Company may be unable to continue in business, with a resulting loss of all or part of investments made by the Company’s investors. Moreover, if additional equity securities are issued in connection with future financings, the ownership percentages of then shareholders could be diluted. Dilution of ownership percentages may also occur as a result of equity securities issued pursuant to possible sales or grants to existing shareholders, officers, managers, consultants, advisors, and/or employees and require a simple majority vote to add stock.

We are relying on certain exemptions from registration. The Shares are being offered for sale in reliance upon certain exemptions from the registration requirements of the Securities Act and applicable state securities laws. If the sale of the Shares were to fail to qualify for these exemptions, purchasers may seek rescission of their purchases of the Shares. If a number of purchasers were to obtain rescission, the Company would face significant financial demands, which could adversely affect the Company as a whole, as well as any non-rescinding purchasers.

The Shares are restricted securities and a market for such securities may never develop. Investors should be aware of the potentially long-term nature of their investment. Each purchaser of Shares will be required to represent that it is purchasing such securities for its own account for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution. Purchasers may be required to bear the economic risks of the investment for an indefinite period of time. The Company has neither registered the Shares, nor any other securities under the Securities Act. Consequently, shareholders may not be able to sell or transfer their securities under applicable federal and state securities laws. Moreover, there is no public market for the Company's securities, such a market is not likely to develop prior to a registration undertaken by the Company for the public offering of its securities for its own account or the account of others, and there can be no assurance that the Company will ever have such a public offering of its securities. Ultimately, each investor's risk with respect to this Offering includes the potential for a complete loss of his or her investment.

We may be required to register under the Securities Exchange Act. The Company will be required to conform to the rules and regulations promulgated under the various federal and state securities laws applicable to the conduct of its business. Management does not believe that the Company's activities, as presently contemplated, will require registration or qualification of the Company with any federal or state agency.

The Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 could, should the Company take such action, make the Company's entrance into the public market difficult and expensive. In the wake of well-publicized corporate scandals associated with Enron and WorldCom involving management self-dealing and accounting fraud, in July 2002, President Bush signed into law the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act—the most far reaching legislation affecting the federal securities laws since they were created in the 1930's—impacts everything from the role of auditors to public reporting of stock trades by management, from committee independence to reporting of off-balance sheet transactions, and from officer loans to employee whistle-blowing.

Public and registered companies are facing dramatic changes in disclosure and corporate governance requirements under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, and under new and proposed rules from the SEC, NASDAQ and the NYSE. While these new rules and regulations do not generally cover private companies, their influence on private companies is being felt in the following ways:

- A private company will become subject to the Sarbanes-Oxley Act upon filing a registration statement with the SEC in anticipation of an IPO.
- The Sarbanes-Oxley Act may result in increased scrutiny of a private company being considered for acquisition by a public company.
- In order to conduct an IPO, a private company would need to evaluate its organization against the requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and develop a compliance program.
- Full compliance with the Sarbanes-Oxley Act – which can be time-consuming and expensive – can significantly slow the efforts of private companies such as the Company that may seek to enter the public markets.

The Offering price is arbitrary. The price of the Shares offered has been arbitrarily established by the Company, without considering such matters as the state of the Company's business development and the general condition of the industry in which it operates. The price of the Shares bears little relationship to the assets, net worth, or any other objective criteria of value applicable to the Company.

Additional unforeseen risks. In addition to the risks described in this section, other risks not presently foreseeable could negatively impact our business, could disrupt our operations and could cause the Company to fail. Ultimately, each investor in the Shares bears the risk of a complete and total loss of his/her/its investment.

Our future revenue and operating results are unpredictable and may fluctuate significantly. It is difficult to accurately forecast revenues and operating results and they could fluctuate in the future due to a number of factors. These factors may include: our ability to develop and make profitable products; generate cash flow from consulting services; the amount and timing of operating costs; competition from other market participants that may reduce market share and create pricing pressure; and adverse changes in general economic, industry and regulatory conditions and requirements. Our operating results may fluctuate from year to year due to the factors listed above and others not listed. At times, these fluctuations may be significant.

Our aggressive growth strategy may not be achievable. For the foreseeable future, we intend to pursue an aggressive growth strategy for the expansion of our business, and our future operating results will depend largely upon our ability to adequately capitalize our company and develop successful products, find suitable investments and acquisitions, develop our business, build key relationships and successfully develop and manage our business. Our ability to grow will depend upon many factors, including our ability to identify and invest in businesses that have products and services that are in demand, to identify and enter new markets, and to obtain adequate capital resources on acceptable terms. Any limitations on our ability to accomplish any of these and other goals will have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial objectives. There is no assurance that our operations will be successful or achieve anticipated or any operating results.

The Company does not plan to pay dividends to its shareholders in the near future and there is no guarantee when it can be profitable enough to distribute earning or even if it will ever receive any profit from its operations so as to be able to declare and pay dividends to its shareholders. The principal investment objective of the Company is to make business profits that present opportunities for significant appreciation to the Company. It is anticipated that certain product research and development will be leveraged and will not provide the Company with any significant cash distributions until enough profit is generated for growth and distribution. Accordingly, the Company may not be able to pay dividends for the foreseeable future. There can be no assurance with respect to the amount and timing of dividends to the Company's shareholders, or that they will ever be made. The Company initially intends to retain cash from its operations to fund the development and growth of its business.

We will have broad discretion on how the net proceeds of this private placement are utilized. The Company has broad discretion on how to allocate the proceeds received as a result of this private placement and may use the proceeds in ways that differ from the proposed uses discussed in this Offering Statement. If the Company fails to spend the proceeds effectively, our business and financial condition could be harmed and there may be the need to seek additional financing sooner than expected.

Our pro forma financial statements rely on assumptions that may not prove accurate. Certain pro forma financial information may be provided to prospective investors for illustrative and informational purposes only. In preparing the pro forma financial statements, we have made certain assumptions concerning our business and the market, which may not be accurate.

Investors may suffer potential loss on dissolution and termination. In the event of a dissolution or termination of the Company, the proceeds realized from the liquidation of assets, if any, will be distributed in the priority established by applicable law, but only after the satisfaction of claims of creditors. Accordingly, the ability of an investor to recover all or any portion of its investment under such circumstances will depend on the amount of funds realized and claims to be satisfied therefrom.

We may not be able to protect our intellectual property. We intend to explore options for protection of certain intellectual property, primarily in the form of trademarks and trade secrets but have not made any filings to date. We anticipate developing certain trade secrets and may handle trade secrets that are the property of others.

Incidents of hacking, identity theft or cyberterrorism may adversely impact our operations.

Our business operations are and will continue to be dependent upon digital technologies, including information systems, infrastructure and cloud applications. The maintenance of our financial and other records is also dependent upon such technologies. The U.S. government has issued public warnings that indicate that such business information technology might be specific products of cyber security threats, including hacking, identity theft and acts of cyberterrorism. Our critical systems or the systems of our products may be vulnerable to damage or interruption from earthquakes, storms, terrorist attacks, floods, fires, power loss, telecommunications failures, computer viruses, computer denial of service attacks, or other attempts to harm the systems. Many of these systems will not be fully redundant, and disaster recovery planning cannot account for all eventualities. Deliberate attacks on, or unintentional events affecting, our systems or infrastructure, the systems or infrastructure of third parties or the cloud could lead to corruption or loss of our proprietary data and potentially sensitive data, delays in our operations, difficulty in completing and settling transactions, challenges in maintaining our books and records, environmental damage, communication interruptions, other operational disruptions and third party liability. Further, as cyber incidents continue to evolve, we may be required to expend additional resources to continue to modify or enhance our protective measures or to investigate and remediate any vulnerability to cyber incidents or natural disasters.

We may not have adequate insurance. Adequate insurance to cover product liability claims and other risks related to our business may not be available, or available only at an unacceptable cost. There can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain adequate insurance coverage or that it can be obtained at reasonable cost. As protection against such risks, we plan to secure and maintain insurance coverage against some, but not all, potential losses. Even if our insurance is adequate and customary for our industry, losses could occur for uninsurable or uninsured risks or in amounts in excess of existing insurance coverage. Company commits to securing director and officer liability insurance.

There is significant risk associated with the Company's indemnification of affiliated parties.

Our Directors and executive officer will be relieved of liability to the Company or our Shareholders for monetary damages for conduct as Directors and executive officers to the maximum extent permitted by US and State law. Further, our certificate of incorporation and bylaws permit us to indemnify, to the fullest extent provided or allowed by law, our Directors and executive officers against damages that we or our shareholders incur in connection with our business. We may also enter into indemnity agreements with our Directors and executive officers. The exculpation provisions contained therein may have the effect of preventing shareholders from recovering damages against our Directors and executive officers caused by poor judgment or other circumstances. The indemnification provisions may require us to use our assets to defend our Directors and executive officers against claims, including claims arising out of negligence, poor judgment, or other circumstances. Our Directors and executive officers may not be liable to the Company or shareholders for any act or omission performed or omitted by them in good faith on our behalf and in a manner reasonably believed by them to be within the scope of their authority and in our best interests. The Company will be required to indemnify the officers of the Company and certain persons affiliated therewith for losses, costs, liabilities and expenses incurred by such parties in connection with the business of the Company and investment decisions made on its behalf, except for actions taken in bad faith or which constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct. Such liabilities may be material and may have an adverse impact on the returns to the shareholders unless insurance proceeds are available. The indemnification obligations of the Company will be payable from the assets of the Company.

Key Employees do not have Employment Agreements.

As of the date of this Offering Statement, only one of the executive management are under an employment contract with the Company. It is anticipated that upon completion of this Offering, key personnel will enter into employment contracts with the Company.

There is no public market for the Shares and you will have to hold your Shares indefinitely, subject only to a private sale to a qualified counterparty that is exempt from registration, or a registration of your common shares, or a sale of the business. Currently, there is no public or other trading market for the Shares, and there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to facilitate a private sale of your Shares or that any other market will develop. Thus, there can be no assurance that you will be able to liquidate your investment in case of an emergency or if you otherwise desire to do so. Investment in the Shares is of a long-term nature. Accordingly, purchasers of Shares will bear the economic risk of investment for an indefinite period of time.

The shares are unlikely to be able to be pledged as collateral.

The Shares will not usually be acceptable as collateral for loans. The Shareholders may not receive cash or other liquid consideration sufficient to pay taxes resulting from such a disposition. Furthermore, absent a public market, Shares generally cannot be sold for an amount based on their economic value as determined by the fair market value of the underlying property. The Shares have not been registered under federal or state securities laws, and we do not plan on, and are under no obligation to provide for, a registration of the Shares in the future. In addition, any transfer of the Shares or an interest therein must satisfy the requirements set forth in various Company agreements with shareholders that restrict the ability to transfer Shares.

The Company may also end the Offering early.

If the Target Offering Amount is met after 21 calendar days, but before the Offering Deadline, the Company can end the Offering by providing notice to Investors at least 5 business days prior to the end of the Offering. This means your failure to participate in the Offering in a timely manner, may prevent you from being able to invest in this Offering – it also means the Company may limit the amount of capital it can raise during the Offering by ending the Offering early.

The Company has the right to conduct multiple closings during the Offering.

If the Company meets certain terms and conditions, an intermediate close of the Offering can occur, which will allow the Company to draw down on the proceeds committed and captured in the Offering during the relevant period. The Company may choose to continue the Offering thereafter. Investors should be mindful that this means they can make multiple investment commitments in the Offering, which may be subject to different cancellation rights. For example, if an intermediate close occurs and later a material change occurs as the Offering continues, Investors whose investment commitments were previously closed upon will not have the right to re-confirm their investment as it will be deemed to have been completed prior to the material change.

NOTE B- SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“US GAAP”). The Company’s fiscal year ends December 31.

Significant Risks and Uncertainties

The Company has evaluated its income tax positions and has determined that it does not have any uncertain tax positions. The Company will recognize interest and penalties related to any uncertain tax positions through its income tax expense.

The Company applies ASC 740 Income Taxes ("ASC 740"). Deferred income taxes are recognized for the tax consequences in future years of differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their financial statement reported amounts at each period end, based on enacted tax laws and statutory tax rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established, when necessary, to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. The provision for income taxes represents the tax expense for the period, if any and the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities. ASC 740 also provides criteria for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of uncertain tax positions. A tax benefit from an uncertain position is recognized only if it is "more likely than not" that the position is sustainable upon examination by the relevant taxing authority based on its technical merit.

The Company is subject to tax filing requirements as a corporation in the federal jurisdiction of the United States. The Company sustained net operating losses during fiscal year 2020. Net operating losses will be carried forward to reduce taxable income in future years. Due to management's uncertainty as to the timing and valuation of any benefits associated with the net operating loss carryforwards, the Company has elected to recognize an allowance to account for them in the financial statements, but has fully reserved it. Under current law, net operating losses may be carried forward indefinitely.

The Company is subject to franchise tax filing requirements in the State of Nevada.

Net Income Per Share

Net earnings or loss per share is computed by dividing net income or loss by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period, excluding shares subject to redemption or forfeiture. The Company presents basic and diluted net earnings or loss per share. Diluted net earnings or loss per share reflect the actual weighted average of common shares issued and outstanding during the period, adjusted for potentially dilutive securities outstanding. Potentially dilutive securities are excluded from the computation of the diluted net loss per share if their inclusion would be anti-dilutive.

Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

NO LIMIT TECHNOLOGY HOLDINGS, INC.

From time to time, new accounting pronouncements are issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board, or FASB, or other standard setting bodies and adopted by the Company as of the specified effective date. Unless otherwise discussed, the Company believes that the impact of recently issued standards that are not yet effective will not have a material impact on its financial position or results of operations upon adoption.

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU, 2014-09—Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606), or ASU 2014-09, and further updated through ASU 2016-12, or ASU 2016-12, which amends the existing accounting standards for revenue recognition. ASU 2014-09 is based on principles that govern the recognition of revenue at an amount to which an entity expects to be entitled to when products are transferred to customers. This guidance is effective for annual reporting periods, and interim periods within those years, beginning December 15, 2018 for non-public entities. The new revenue standard may be applied retrospectively to each prior period presented or retrospectively with the cumulative effect recognized as of the date of adoption. The adoption of ASU 2014-09 had no material impact on the Company's financial statements and related disclosures.

NOTE F- FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

Fair value is an exit price, representing the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants based on the highest and best use of the asset or liability. As such, fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. The Company uses valuation techniques to measure fair value that maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. These inputs are prioritized as follows:

Level 1 - Observable inputs, such as quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets;
Level 2 - Inputs, other than the quoted prices in active markets, that are observable either directly or indirectly, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities, or market-corroborated inputs; and
Level 3 - Unobservable inputs for which there is little or no market data which require the reporting entity to develop its own assumptions about how market participants would price the assets or liabilities.

The valuation techniques that may be used to measure fair value are as follows:

Market approach - Uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets or liabilities.

Income approach - Uses valuation techniques to convert future amounts to a single present amount based on current market expectations about those future amounts, including present value techniques, option-pricing models, and excess earnings method.

Cost approach - Based on the amount that currently would be required to replace the service capacity of an asset (replacement cost).

NOTE G- CONCENTRATIONS OF RISK

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to credit risk consist of cash and cash equivalents. The Company places its cash and cash equivalents with a limited number of high-quality financial institutions and at times may exceed the amount of insurance provided on such deposits.

(a) Inventions Retained and Licensed. Attached as Exhibit A to this agreement is a list of all intellectual property that the Employee made before his or her employment with the Company ("Prior Inventions") that belong to the Employee, that relate to the Company's proposed business, products, or research and development, and that are not assigned to the Company under this agreement. If no list is attached, the Employee represents that there are no Prior Inventions. If disclosure of any Prior Invention would cause the Employee to violate a prior confidentiality agreement, the Employee will not list the Prior Invention in Exhibit A, but will provide a name of the invention, a list of the party or parties it belongs to, and the explanation as to why full disclosure was not given.

If in the course of employment with the Company, the Employee incorporates into a Company product, process, or machine a Prior Invention owned by the Employee or in which the Employee has an interest, the Company will be granted and have a non-exclusive, royalty-free, irrevocable, perpetual, worldwide license to make, have made, modify, use, and sell that Prior Invention as part of or in connection with that product, process, or machine.

(b) Assignment of Inventions. The Employee shall disclose promptly in writing to the Company all Intellectual Property that the Employee has authored, made, conceived, or first actually reduced to practice, alone or jointly with others: (i) while the Employee is or was performing duties for the Company; (ii) during the Employee's employment with the Company, if it relates to the Company's areas of business or investigations; (iii) that results from or is suggested by any work that the Employee does for the Company or at the Company's request; or (iv) that was aided by the Employee's use of the Company's equipment, supplies, facilities, or trade secret information, whether or not during working hours. This Employee-created intellectual property is referred to in this agreement as "Inventions."

The Employee acknowledges that any Invention the Employee makes within the scope of and during his or her employment with the Company and that is protectable by copyright is a "work made for hire," as that term is defined in the United States Copyright Act.

(c) Maintenance of Records. The Employee shall keep and maintain adequate and current written records of all Inventions the Employee makes (solely or jointly with others) during the term of employment with the Company. The records may be in the form of notes, sketches, drawings, and any other format specified by the Company. The records will be available to and remain the sole property of the Company at all times.

(d) Patent and Copyright Registrations. The Employee shall help the Company or its designee, at the Company's expense, secure the Company's rights in the Inventions and any copyrights, patents, mask work rights, or other intellectual property rights relating to the Inventions in all countries, including by disclosing to the Company all pertinent information and data about any of those, by signing all applications, specifications, oaths, assignments, and all other instruments that the Company may deem necessary to apply for and obtain those rights and to assign and convey to the Company, its successors, assigns, and nominees the exclusive interest in those Inventions, and any copyrights, patents, mask work rights, or other intellectual property rights relating to those. When it is in the Employee's power to do so, his or her obligation to sign or cause to be signed any such instrument or papers will continue after the termination of this agreement. If because of the Employee's mental or physical incapacity or for any other reason the Company cannot secure a signature to apply for or pursue any application of any United States or foreign patents or copyright registrations covering Inventions or original works of authorship assigned to the Company as above, the Employee hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Company and its duly authorized officers and agents as the Employee's agents and attorneys in fact, to act for and on behalf of the Employee to sign and file those applications and do all other lawfully permitted acts to further the prosecution and issuance of patent or copyright registrations on them with the same legal force and effect as if signed by the Employee.

8. RETURN OF PROPERTY.

Within 30 days of the expiration or earlier termination of this agreement, the Employee shall return to the Company, retaining no copies or notes, all Company products, samples, models, property, and documents relating to the Company's business including reports, abstracts, lists, correspondence, information, computer files, computer disks, and other materials and copies of those materials obtained by the Employee during and in connection with his or her work with the Company. All files, records, documents, blueprints, specifications, information, letters, notes, media lists, original artwork or creative work, notebooks, and similar items relating to the Company's business, whether prepared by the Employee or by others, remain the Company's exclusive property.

9. USE OF TRADEMARKS.

The Company may use, reproduce, and distribute the Company's service marks, trademarks, and trade names (if any) (collectively, the "Company Marks") in connection with his or her employment. Any goodwill received from this use will accrue to the Company, which will remain the sole owner of the Company Marks. The Employee may not engage in activities or commit acts, directly or indirectly, that may contest, dispute, or otherwise impair the Company's interest in the Company Marks. The Employee may not cause diminishment of value of the Company Marks through any act or representation. The Employee may not apply for, acquire, or claim an interest in any Company Marks, or others that may be confusingly similar to any of them, through advertising or otherwise. At the expiration or earlier termination of this agreement, the Employee will have no further right to use the Company Marks, unless the Company provides written approval for each use.

10. INDEMNIFICATION.

(a) Indemnification by Employee. At all times after the effective date of this agreement, the Employee shall indemnify the Company from all damages, liabilities, expenses, claims, or judgments (including interest, penalties, reasonable attorneys' fees, accounting fees, and expert witness fees) (collectively, the "Claims") that the Company may incur and that arise from: (i) the Employee's negligence or willful misconduct arising from the Employee's carrying out of his or her obligations under this agreement; or (ii) the Employee's breach of any of his or her obligations or representations under this agreement.

(b) Indemnification by Company. At all times after the effective date of this agreement, the Company shall indemnify the Employee from all Claims that the Employee may incur arising from: (i) the Company's operation of its business; (ii) the Company's breach or alleged breach of, or its failure or alleged failure to perform under, any agreement to which it is a party; or (iii) the Company's breach of any of its obligations or representations under this agreement. However, the Company is not obligated to indemnify the Employee if any of these Claims result from the Employee's own actions or inactions.

11. FORCE MAJEURE.

A party will not be considered in breach or in default because of, and will not be liable to the other party for, any delay or failure to perform its obligations under this agreement by reason of fire, earthquake, flood, pandemic, explosion, strike, riot, war, terrorism, or similar event beyond that party's reasonable control (each a "Force Majeure Event").

However, if a Force Majeure Event occurs, the affected party shall, as soon as practicable: (a) notify the other party of the Force Majeure Event and its impact on performance under this agreement; and (b) use reasonable efforts to resolve any issues resulting from the Force Majeure Event and perform its obligations under this agreement.

12. CHOICE OF LAW; ATTORNEYS' FEES; EQUITABLE RELIEF.

(a) Choice of Law. The laws of the state of California govern this agreement (without giving effect to its conflicts of law principles).

(b) Choice of Forum. Both parties consent to the personal jurisdiction of the state and federal courts in Los Angeles County, California.

(c) Attorneys' Fees. If either party employs attorneys to enforce any rights arising out of or relating to this agreement, the losing party shall reimburse the prevailing party for its reasonable attorneys' fees.

(d) Equitable Relief. The Employee's breach of this agreement will cause irreparable harm to the Company and monetary damages may not be a sufficient remedy for an unauthorized disclosure of the Confidential Information. If the Employee discloses the Confidential Information in violation of this agreement, the Company may, without waiving any other rights or remedies and without posting a bond or other security, seek an injunction, specific performance, or other equitable remedy to prevent competition or further disclosure, and may pursue other legal remedies.

13. AMENDMENTS.

No amendment to this agreement will be effective unless it is in writing and signed by both parties. In order to amend the Company shall require express authorization from the Board of Directors and the Shareholders.

14. ASSIGNMENT AND DELEGATION.

(a) No Assignment. The Employee may not assign any of his or her rights under this agreement, except with the prior written consent of the Company. All voluntary assignments of rights are limited by this subsection.

(b) No Delegation. The Employee may not delegate any performance under this agreement, except with the prior written consent of the Company.

(c) Enforceability of an Assignment or Delegation. If a purported assignment or purported delegation is made, or if both are made, in violation of this section, it is void and they are void.

15. COUNTERPARTS; ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES.

(a) Counterparts. The parties may execute this agreement in any number of counterparts, each of which is an original but all of which constitute one and the same instrument.

(b) Electronic Signatures. This agreement, agreements ancillary to this agreement, and related documents entered into in connection with this agreement are signed when a party's signature is delivered by facsimile, email, or other electronic medium. These signatures must be treated in all respects as having the same force and effect as original signatures.

16. SEVERABILITY.

If any provision in this agreement is, for any reason, held to be invalid, illegal, or unenforceable in any respect, that invalidity, illegality, or unenforceability will not affect any other provisions of this agreement, but this agreement will be construed as if the invalid, illegal, or unenforceable provisions had never been contained in this agreement, unless the deletion of those provisions would result in such a material change that would cause completion of the transactions contemplated by this agreement to be unreasonable.

17. NOTICES.

(a) Writing; Permitted Delivery Methods. Each party giving or making any notice, request, demand, or other communication required or permitted by this agreement shall give that notice in writing and use one of the following types of delivery, each of which is a writing for purposes of this agreement: personal delivery, mail (registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return-receipt requested), nationally recognized overnight courier (fees prepaid), facsimile, or email.

18. WAIVER.

No waiver of a breach, failure of any condition, or any right or remedy contained in or granted by the provisions of this agreement will be effective unless it is in writing and signed by the party waiving the breach, failure, right, or remedy. No waiver of any breach, failure, right, or remedy will be deemed a waiver of any other breach, failure, right, or remedy, whether or not similar, and no waiver will constitute a continuing waiver, unless the writing so specifies.

19. ENTIRE AGREEMENT.

This agreement constitutes the final agreement of the parties. It is the complete and exclusive expression of the parties' agreement with respect to the subject matter of this agreement. All prior and contemporaneous communications, negotiations, and agreements between the parties relating to the subject matter of this agreement are expressly merged into and superseded by this agreement. Neither party was induced to enter this agreement by, and neither party is relying on, any statement, representation, warranty, or agreement of the other party except those set forth expressly in this agreement.
