How We Make Money

Panda Wish makes money by earning a commission of 40% - 50% of each transaction. Our services are priced based on our market research & benchmarking our competitors.

Market

Our target market is people between the age of 18 and 45 who are consumers of the spas and the beauty salons services and they either live in the Philippines, or visit the country as tourists. Wellness tourism is the fastest growing part of the Philippines economy. The country has a population of 109 million and is positioned itself as a leader in the space and its market is growing at a rate of 45% tourism has been growing with a rate of 15% year over year prior to the pandemic.

Competitors

Our competitors in the Philippines are Zennya, and Goodwork. Both are operating in Manila. GoodWork is focused on home services (maintenance and cleaning with limited exposure to the Beauty & Wellness industry), while Zennya is a medical platform with limited offering in Spas services.

Our advantage over the competition :

- Accepting cash, neither of the platforms can use cash as payment method limiting their capability to expand in a country where cash is the main form of payment.
- Strategic partnership with hotels: Our platform will enable hotels to use our app as a replacement to their in house spa / beauty salon and earn commission.

The Uber of Spa Services
Panda Wish

Meet Mohammed Khonizi, the founder of Panda Wish

What inspired you to create your company?

In 2018, on a business trip to the Philippines and after a long flight, I tried to request a massage service, which was shockingly difficult despite the massive number of spas across the city. I realized the biggest challenge was communication between the clients and the therapists. As a business owner, I had a good income as a freelancer, I decided to build a platform that would connect the two.

good income as a freelancer, I decided to build a better solution that can make it easier for clients to request service while helping massage therapists to earn a good income.

What has been your favorite part about building your company?

My favorite part of building my company is knowing that it will make a difference and could have a life changing impact on others. Knowing that I helped create a solution to provide people with better income.

Also, the time where I get a chance to personally meet and hear the stories of the therapists telling me why they wanted to be a part of the Panda Wish community. I have witnessed how hard it is to make a living in the Philippines. I was moved and I got inspired.

What has been your biggest obstacle so far?

My biggest obstacle so far has been raising sufficient funds to complete the IOS app development and launch the operation in the Philippines.
