Curious!

I started PersonaFi because I wanted to help more people seek prosperity through investing. After years of speaking to thousands of people about their personal finances, I've concluded that wealth is created through ownership in a company (stock), ownership in real estate, or even your own small business. I've worked with C-level execs and people that made 50k. Lifestyle yes did play a factor but the biggest factor was ownership! Today the news about Peter Thiel had me thinking...Who here would be interested in owning a piece of our community by investing in our company, PersonaFi ??

(Disclosures)

- 1. This isn't a solicitation at this time but to gauge interest
- 2. I wouldn't be able to accept an investment offer at this time
- 3. Anyone's expressed interest isn't an obligation or commitment of any kind.
