HOW TWIN PIKES STARTED

Twin Pikes Roastery was born in 2015, just outside of St. Louis, Missouri. As the founder of Twin Pikes Roa micro-roastery that supplies freshly roasted coffee at fair prices. I started my journey with a 1kg coffee roa my quest to learn the craft of coffee roasting. I would later form a partnership with my friend, Matt Macher Pikes Roastery to life.

Risk Factors

You Might Lose Your Money

When you buy a certificate of deposit from a bank, the Federal government (through the FDIC) guarantees a Note is not like that at all. The ability of Twin Pikes Roastery to make the payments you expect, and ultimately depends on a number of factors, including many beyond our control.

Roastery or become unable to work, Twin Pikes Roastery (and your investment) could suffer substantially.

Financial Forecasts Risks

The financial forecasts provided by us herein are reasonable forecasts by us based upon assumption of various assumptions regarding operations. The validity and accuracy of these assumptions will depend in Twin Pikes Roastery and the key persons will have no control. Changes in assumptions or their underlying forecasts. To the extent that the assumed events do not occur, the outcome may vary significantly from there can be no assurance that the actual operating results will correspond to the forecasts provided here a recently established entity and therefore has a short operating history from which forecasts could be pro

Inability to Sell Your Investment

The law prohibits you from selling your securities (except in certain very limited circumstances) for 12 months after that one-year period, a host of Federal and State securities laws may limit or restrict your ability to sell your securities. If you attempt to sell, you will likely have difficulty finding a buyer because there will be no established market. Given the nature of your investment, you may be required to hold your investment for its full term.

The Company Might Need More Capital

Twin Pikes Roastery might need to raise more capital in the future to fund/expand operations, buy property, hire employees, market its services, pay overhead and general administrative expenses, or a variety of other reasons. There is no assurance that additional capital will be available when needed, or that it will be available on terms that are not adverse to the interests of investors. If Twin Pikes Roastery is unable to obtain additional funding when needed, it could be forced to delay its business operations or cease operations altogether.

Changes in Economic Conditions Could Hurt Twin Pikes Roastery

Factors like global or national economic recessions, changes in interest rates, changes in credit markets, declining employment, changes in real estate values, changes in tax policy, changes in political conditions and other factors are unpredictable and could negatively affect Twin Pikes Roastery's financial performance. If at any event Twin Pikes Roastery ceases operations due to the foregoing factors, it can not guarantee that it will generate revenue in the future.

No Registration Under Securities Laws

The Notes will not be registered with the SEC or the securities regulator of any State. Hence, neither Twin Pikes Roastery nor the Notes are subject to the same degree of regulation and scrutiny as if they were registered.

Incomplete Offering Information

Title III does not require us to provide you with all the information that would be required in some other kind of offering.

Conflict of Interest With Companies and Their Management

In many ways, your interests and the interests of Twin Pikes Roastery's management will coincide: you both want the business to be as successful as possible. However, your interests might be in conflict in other important areas, including the Roastery to act conservative to make sure they are best equipped to repay the Note obligations, while you might want to act aggressively to invest in the business. You would like to keep the compensation of managers low, while management would like to keep it as high as possible.

Future Investors Might Have Superior Rights

If Twin Pikes Roastery needs more capital in the future and takes on additional debt or other sources of financing, they might issue securities with rights superior to yours. For example, they might have the right to be paid before you are, to receive larger amounts of dividends, to have a larger voice in management, or otherwise.

The Company is Not Subject to the Corporate Governance Requirements of the National Securities Exchange Act

Any company whose securities are listed on a national stock exchange (for example, the New York Stock Exchange) is subject to the rules about corporate governance that are intended to protect investors. For example, the major U.S. stock exchanges require companies to have an audit committee made up entirely of independent members of the board of directors (i.e., directors with no material relationships with Twin Pikes Roastery or management), which is responsible for monitoring Twin Pikes Roastery's financial reporting. Twin Pikes Roastery will not be required to implement these and other investor protections.

You Have a Limited Upside

Notes include a maximum amount you can receive. You cannot receive more than that even if Twin Pikes Roastery becomes more successful than your initial expectations.

You Do Have a Downside

Conversely, if Twin Pikes Roastery fails to generate enough revenue, you could lose some or all of your money.

Payments and Return Are Unpredictable

Because your payments are based on the revenue of Twin Pikes Roastery, and the revenue of Twin Pikes Roastery can disappear altogether) unpredictably, it is impossible to predict how much you will receive and when. And because the revenue is unpredictable, so is your ultimate return.

The Notes Are Unsecured and Uninsured

The Notes are not secured by any collateral, nor are they guaranteed or insured by the FDIC or any other entity.

Real Estate Risk

Twin Pikes Roastery is still in the process of securing a location to lease, which will be necessary to conduct business. If Roastery is unable to find and secure a location that is adequate, investors may lose some or all of their investment.

Limited Operating History

Twin Pikes Roastery is a newly established entity and has little history for prospective investors to consider.

This information is provided by Twin Pikes Roastery. Mainvest never predicts or projects performance, and does not provide any financial information. For additional information, review the official Form C filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission. This is a preview. It will become public when you start accepting investment.

Investor Discussion

Twin Pikes Roastery isn't accepting investments right now, but is trying to get a sense of how they should be structured. We need to provide any money, and we won't be accepting money or selling securities, until all of its forms will be filed with the SEC to ultimately invest. All investments will must be done through Mainvest.com. Once the offering goes live, you will be able to choose.
