Taras Vodyanyy

CEO and Co-founder of Sirocco Energy.
San Francisco, California, United States

Summary

My mission in Sirocco Energy is to make urban wind generation accessible and reliable, eliminating current negative implications such as noise, vibration, and expensiveness. We want to give people an opportunity to produce and use their power, while making a positive contribution to the environment, securing themselves and gaining energy independence.

Experience

Sirocco Energy

Chief Executive Officer

September 2016 - Present (6 years 7 months)

Пalo-Аlto, Калифорния, Соединенные Штаты Америки

Sirocco Energy has developed a new kind of wind generator designed for the urban environment. As a linear wind generator, Sirocco wind turbines have a more efficient principle of work, which produces important advantages over traditional wind turbines: high efficiency, low noise and vibration, easy installation, low price and aesthetic design.
