

Hi Ian,

We are thrilled to invite you to invest in our business. Our Kickstarter community made it all possible in the first place, and we want to share our success with those who've supported us. Check out our Wefunder pitch to see the details and invest! www.wefunder.com/urbie

P.S. you will be investing in our entire company and not just Urbie Air, this includes current and future products. Our next product is a water filter similar to Brita but with many smart and cool features. Our products focus on tackling urban pollution, this includes (Air, Water, Light, and Noise).

We are still waiting to receive the PCB BOM (Build of Materials) components so we can start production and assembly of the electronic chips. This is due to the continued semiconductor shortages in the markets

<https://www.bbc.com/news/business-58230388>

We have used alternative brands in our BOM for the 10 PCB production samples we received, our electronics engineer will be testing them rigorously in the next week to see if they are as good as the original brand. If all goes well and he confirms that it's good, we believe we can bypass the shortages by ordering alternative brands. It's a bit risky, but this shortage doesn't seem to be going away anytime soon it is affecting even the car industry.

P.S., Good News...the major consumer goods company (can't mention the name due to confidentiality agreement) loved our product, we demonstrated it to them in Brussels two months ago in person. They sent us a draft offer, in short, they want to invest in our company in return for exclusivity rights to our IP.

And for those of you who expressed interest in investing in our company Urbie Inc., we're now LIVE on Wefunder equity crowdfunding www.wefunder.com/urbie, we've lowered the min. investment to $100.

We also made a short video of Urbie Air 2.0 which you will be receiving a free upgrade to as previously mentioned in earlier updates.
