Hi [Fname],

In our last investor update, I emphasised that 2025 is a milestone year, and I am doubling down on that now with some important news.

Today, we're kicking off another equity crowdfunding campaign, this time utilizing the Wefunder platform, enabling us to reach a wider pool of investors. Prior to going live with the Wefunder audience, we are offering our earliest investors first access to invest at the same preferred terms as the last round.

Thanks to your continued support, the company is clearly more valuable than a year ago. We have shown an operating profit since Q2 of 2025, while continuing to invest in innovation. This round will give us the flexibility to accelerate rapid growth opportunities with recurring revenue business services, international expansion and other opportunities that will clearly maximize shareholder value.

Thank you for being part of our journey as an investor. Your support has helped make all our success possible!
