Offering Statement

Respond to each question in each paragraph of this part. Set forth each question and any notes, but not any instructions thereto, in their entirety. If disclosure in response to any question is responsive to one or more other questions, it is not necessary to repeat the disclosure. If a question or series of questions is inapplicable or the response is available elsewhere in the Form, either state that it is inapplicable, include a cross-reference to the responsive disclosure, or omit the question or series of questions.

Be very careful and precise in answering all questions. Give full and complete answers so that they are not misleading under the circumstances involved. Do not discuss any future performance or other anticipated event unless you have a reasonable basis to believe that it will actually occur within the foreseeable future. If any answer requiring significant information is materially inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the Company, its management and principal shareholders may be liable to investors based on that information.

RISK FACTORS

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky: ①

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. Investors should not invest any funds unless they can afford to lose the entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

The Company may never receive a future equity financing or elect to convert the Securities upon such future financing. In addition, the Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a sale of the Company or an IPO. If neither the conversion of the Securities nor a liquidity event occurs, the Purchasers could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities are not equity interests, have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company's assets or profits and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its actions.

The Company's success depends heavily on the continued services and performance of its founders and a small team of approximately five full-time employees and 30 part-time employees. The loss of one or more key personnel could significantly disrupt operations, product development, and the Company's ability to execute its growth strategy. Given the technical complexity of robotics engineering, software development, and food service operations, replacing key team members with individuals possessing the necessary expertise and institutional knowledge would be difficult and time-consuming. The Company does not maintain key person life insurance on any of its personnel. Additionally, as the Company seeks to scale operations, open new locations, and support franchisees, it will need to attract and retain additional qualified employees in areas including engineering, operations, sales, and customer support. There can be no assurance that the Company will be successful in recruiting and retaining the personnel necessary to execute its business plan, and failure to do so could materially harm the Company's prospects.

The Company's business plan involves phased expansion, including increasing production of robotic units, launching a franchise program, opening flagship locations, and scaling operations regionally before expanding nationally. Managing this growth will place significant demands on the Company's management, operational, and financial resources. The Company will need to implement and improve operational, financial, and management systems and controls, expand facilities, and hire, train, and manage additional employees. The Company will also need to establish and maintain quality control and customer support infrastructure to service an expanding base of robotic units deployed across multiple locations and franchisees. Failure to manage growth effectively could result in operational inefficiencies, quality control issues, customer dissatisfaction, damage to the Company's brand and reputation, and increased costs. There is no assurance that the Company's systems, procedures, and controls will be adequate to support expanded operations, or that management will be able to effectively manage growth.

A significant component of the Company's growth strategy involves franchising its robotic café concept. The Company's success will depend in part on the operational and financial success of its franchisees, over whom the Company will have limited control. Franchisees may not operate their locations in accordance with the Company's standards, may provide poor customer service, or may fail to maintain equipment properly, any of which could damage the Company's brand reputation and negatively impact the entire franchise system. The Company's ability to attract and retain qualified franchisees is uncertain, and franchisee failures could result in lost revenue, increased support costs, and reputational harm. Additionally, the Company will need to develop and maintain comprehensive franchise support systems, including training, supply chain management, and ongoing operational assistance. If the Company is unable to provide adequate support to franchisees or if franchisees are unable to achieve profitability, the franchise program may fail to generate anticipated revenues and the Company's overall business prospects could be materially harmed.

The Company's robotic café systems incorporate complex hardware and software technologies, including robotics, automation systems, and a proprietary retail operating system. Continued development and improvement of these technologies is essential to the Company's competitive position and ability to meet customer expectations. The Company faces risks that its technology may not perform as expected, may contain undetected errors or bugs, or may not achieve the throughput, reliability, or quality standards required for commercial success. The Company's plans to integrate advanced features and reduce the form factor of its units involve significant engineering challenges and there is no assurance that these development efforts will be successful or completed on anticipated timelines. Additionally, rapid technological change in robotics and automation could render the Company's current technology obsolete or require significant additional investment to remain competitive. Failure to successfully develop, deploy, and maintain reliable technology could result in customer dissatisfaction, increased costs, and loss of competitive advantage.

The Company has incurred losses since inception and expects to continue incurring losses for the foreseeable future. The Company's path to profitability is uncertain and depends on achieving sufficient scale in unit sales, franchise fees, and recurring software and service revenues to cover its operating expenses, which include significant costs related to manufacturing, research and development, sales and marketing, and general and administrative expenses. The capital-intensive nature of the hardware business, combined with the costs of supporting franchisees and operating flagship locations, may result in continued losses even as the Company grows revenues. There is no assurance that the Company will ever achieve profitability or, if it does achieve profitability, that it will be able to sustain or increase profitability on a quarterly or annual basis. If the Company is unable to achieve and sustain profitability, investors may lose some or all of their investment.

The Company will require substantial additional capital beyond this offering to fully execute its business plan, including expanding manufacturing capacity, opening new locations, developing the franchise program, and funding ongoing operations. While management estimates that the proceeds from this offering, together with existing cash reserves and anticipated revenues, will allow the Company to operate for an extended period, there can be no assurance that the Company's estimates are accurate or that additional financing will not be required sooner than anticipated. The Company does not currently have any commitments or arrangements for additional financing, and there is no assurance that additional capital will be available on acceptable terms, if at all. Any future equity financings will result in dilution to existing investors, potentially reducing their ownership percentage and the value of their investment. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing when needed, it may be required to delay, reduce, or eliminate planned expenditures, which could materially harm the Company's business prospects and ability to achieve its strategic objectives.

The Company faces significant competition in the coffee and food service industry from well-established chains, independent coffee shops, and emerging robotic café and automation companies. Established coffee chains have substantial financial resources, brand recognition, extensive distribution networks, and customer loyalty that the Company lacks. These competitors may be able to respond more quickly to market changes, devote greater resources to marketing and technology development, and offer more competitive pricing. Additionally, the robotic café and food service automation sector is attracting increasing interest and investment, and the Company faces competition from other startups and technology companies developing similar automated beverage solutions. Some competitors may have more advanced technology, greater manufacturing scale, or superior go-to-market strategies. The Company's ability to compete effectively will depend on factors including product quality and reliability, customer experience, pricing, brand recognition, and the ability to innovate and adapt to changing market conditions. If the Company is unable to compete effectively, it may lose market share, be forced to reduce prices, or fail to achieve anticipated growth, any of which could materially harm the Company's financial condition and prospects.

The success of the Company's business depends on market acceptance of automated, robotic coffee preparation as an alternative to traditional barista-made beverages. Consumer preferences in the coffee and food service industry are influenced by factors including taste, quality, customization, speed of service, price, and the overall customer experience. There is no assurance that consumers will embrace robotic-made beverages or that the Company's products will meet consumer expectations for quality and experience. Some consumers may prefer the human interaction and craftsmanship associated with traditional coffee shops and may be resistant to fully automated service. Additionally, the Company's target customers, including campuses, offices, transit hubs, and corporate clients, may be hesitant to adopt new technology or may have concerns about reliability, maintenance requirements, or return on investment. If the Company's robotic café concept does not achieve broad market acceptance, or if consumer preferences shift away from automated food service, the Company's growth prospects and financial performance could be materially adversely affected.

The Company's business depends on suppliers and manufacturers for critical components, materials, and finished goods necessary to produce and deploy its robotic café units. The Company may rely on a limited number of suppliers for specialized components such as robotic arms, sensors, control systems, and other hardware. Disruptions in the supply chain due to global events, natural disasters, geopolitical tensions, transportation challenges, or supplier financial difficulties could result in delays, increased costs, or inability to fulfill customer orders. The Company may also face challenges in sourcing coffee beans, consumables, and other supplies necessary for ongoing operations of deployed units and franchise locations. Any significant supply chain disruption could delay product launches, harm customer relationships, increase costs, and negatively impact the Company's revenues and reputation. Additionally, if the Company is unable to negotiate favorable terms with suppliers or if supplier costs increase significantly, the Company's margins and profitability could be adversely affected.

The Company's robotic café equipment and operations are subject to extensive federal, state, and local regulations governing food safety, health standards, equipment certification, and food service operations. The Company's equipment must comply with regulations and standards established by agencies such as the Food and Drug Administration, the Department of Agriculture, and state and local health departments, as well as industry standards such as NSF International certification. Compliance with these regulations requires significant time and expense, and the Company's plans include obtaining NSF certification and other necessary approvals. Changes to existing regulations or the adoption of new regulations could require modifications to the Company's equipment, increase compliance costs, or delay product launches. Different jurisdictions may have varying requirements, complicating the Company's ability to deploy units across multiple locations and support franchisees. Failure to comply with applicable food safety and health regulations could result in fines, penalties, product recalls, suspension of operations, or reputational harm. Any such regulatory action could materially adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition, and growth prospects.

The Company's competitive position depends in part on its ability to protect its proprietary technology, including its robotic systems, software, retail operating system, and operational know-how. The Company relies on a combination of trade secrets, copyrights, trademarks, and confidential information to protect its intellectual property. However, the Company may not have obtained patent protection for all of its innovations, and there is no assurance that any patents, if filed, would be granted or would provide meaningful protection against competitors. Trade secret protection may be inadequate, particularly as employees, contractors, or partners may have access to proprietary information. The Company also faces the risk that competitors may independently develop similar technology or that the Company's intellectual property rights may be challenged or infringed upon. Additionally, the Company could face claims that its technology infringes on the intellectual property rights of others, which could result in costly litigation, licensing obligations, or the need to redesign products. Any failure to adequately protect the Company's intellectual property, or any intellectual property disputes, could harm the Company's competitive position and financial performance.

The securities being offered are Simple Agreements for Future Equity (SAFEs), which are not traditional equity or debt instruments. SAFEs do not have a maturity date and do not accrue interest. Investors will not receive equity in the Company unless and until a future equity financing or liquidity event occurs that triggers conversion of the SAFE. The terms and timing of any such conversion are uncertain and will depend on future events that may or may not occur, including the Company's ability to raise additional capital or achieve a liquidity event such as a sale or initial public offering. There is no guarantee that a conversion event will ever occur, and investors could hold SAFEs indefinitely without receiving equity or any return on their investment. Even if conversion occurs, the amount of equity investors receive will depend on the valuation cap, discount rate, and the terms of the future financing, which may result in investors receiving less equity than anticipated. The SAFE structure provides investors with limited rights and protections compared to traditional equity securities, and investors should carefully review the SAFE agreement to understand the terms and conditions of their investment.

An investment in the Company's securities is highly illiquid and should be considered a long-term investment. There is currently no public market for the securities, and none is expected to develop in the foreseeable future. The securities have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 or any state securities laws, and they may not be sold or transferred except pursuant to an applicable exemption from registration requirements. Even after the one-year holding period required under federal securities laws, investors may have difficulty finding buyers for their securities, and any sales that do occur may be at prices significantly below the amount invested. The Company has no obligation to facilitate a secondary market or to register the securities for resale. Investors should be prepared to hold their investment for an indefinite period and may never be able to liquidate their investment or recover any portion of their capital. The lack of liquidity may also prevent investors from responding to changes in the Company's financial condition or prospects.

In connection with this offering, the founder of the Company has designated themselves as the lead investor who will sign documents and make decisions on behalf of all investors in the special purpose vehicle. This arrangement creates a significant conflict of interest because the founder has interests both as an operator and decision-maker for the Company and as the representative of investor interests. The founder may have access to material non-public information about the Company's financial condition, operations, and prospects that is not available to other investors, and may use this information to make decisions that benefit the Company or the founder personally rather than investors collectively. Decisions regarding corporate actions, amendments to investment documents, or responses to Company proposals may be made by the founder in their capacity as lead investor without independent oversight or input from other investors. There is no independent third-party investor advocate representing the interests of crowdfunding investors, and investors will have no ability to remove or replace the founder as lead investor. This structure may result in decisions that are not in the best interests of investors, and investors will have limited recourse if they disagree with actions taken by the founder in their capacity as lead investor.

Yummy Future Inc. has a limited operating history in the emerging robotic café industry. While the Company has developed and deployed robotic coffee units and operated pilot locations to validate product-market fit, the business model combining hardware sales, franchising, and software licensing remains unproven at commercial scale. The Company's ability to achieve profitability depends on successful execution across multiple revenue streams, including unit sales to corporate clients, franchise development, and ongoing software and service revenues. There is no assurance that the Company's products will achieve broad market acceptance or that the business model will generate sufficient revenues to cover operating expenses and achieve profitability. The capital-intensive nature of hardware manufacturing, combined with the operational complexity of supporting franchisees and maintaining robotic units in the field, creates significant execution risk. If the Company is unable to validate its business model or achieve sustainable unit economics, investors may lose some or all of their investment.

The Company's business model is capital-intensive and depends on the design, manufacture, deployment, and ongoing maintenance of sophisticated robotic café equipment. Manufacturing robotic units requires significant upfront capital investment, complex supply chain management, and quality control processes. The Company faces risks related to manufacturing defects, equipment failures, supply chain disruptions, and the need for ongoing technical support and maintenance of deployed units. Robotic equipment operating in food service environments is subject to wear and tear, requires regular cleaning and maintenance, and may experience mechanical or software failures that could result in downtime and customer dissatisfaction. Any significant equipment failures, manufacturing delays, or inability to provide adequate maintenance and support could result in lost revenue, increased costs, customer attrition, and damage to the Company's reputation.

The Offering

USE OF FUNDS

9. What is the purpose of this offering?

The Company intends to use the net proceeds of this offering for working capital and general corporate purposes, which includes the specific items listed in Item 10 below. While the Company expects to use the net proceeds from the Offering in the manner described above, it cannot specify with certainty the particular uses of the net proceeds that it will receive from this Offering. Accordingly, the Company will have broad discretion in using these proceeds.

10. How does the issuer intend to use the proceeds of this offering? ⓘ

If we raise: $50,000

Use of Proceeds: If only the minimum target amount is raised, expected use of proceeds is approximately 41% product development, 23% hiring and payroll, 13% sales and marketing, 15.1% working capital and general corporate purposes, 7.9% Wefunder fee and related offering expenses. The issuer intends to prioritize essential operating execution and near-term milestones, and management may reallocate among categories based on hiring pace, customer demand, market conditions, and timing of expenditures.

If we raise: $2,000,000

Use of Proceeds: At the higher funding level, expected use of proceeds is approximately 25% product development and technology, 20% hiring and payroll, 23% sales and marketing, 24.1% working capital, operating reserves, and strategic initiatives, 7.9% Wefunder fee and related offering expenses. Additional proceeds are expected to support broader growth and reserve initiatives, and management may reallocate among categories, including in oversubscription scenarios, based on strategic priorities, business conditions, and timing of expenditures.

DELIVERY & CANCELLATIONS

11. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

Book Entry and Investment in the Co-Issuer. Investors will make their investments by investing in interests issued by one or more co-issuers, each of which is a special purpose vehicle ("SPV"). The SPV will invest all amounts it receives from investors in securities issued by the Company. Interests issued to investors by the SPV will be in book entry form. This means that the investor will not receive a certificate representing his or her investment. Each investment will be recorded in the books and records of the SPV. In addition, investors' interests in the investments will be recorded in each investor's "Portfolio" page on the Wefunder platform. All references in this Form C to an investor's investment in the Company (or similar phrases) should be interpreted to include investments in a SPV.

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline.

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be canceled and the committed funds will be returned.

An investor's right to cancel. An Investor may cancel his or her investment commitment at any time until 48 hours prior to the offering deadline.

If there is a material change to the terms of the offering or the information provided to the Investor about the offering and/or the Company, the Investor will be provided notice of the change and must re-confirm his or her investment commitment within five business days of receipt of the notice. If the Investor does not reconfirm, he or she will receive notifications disclosing that the commitment was cancelled, the reason for the cancellation, and the refund amount that the investor is required to receive. If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the Investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the investor's funds will be returned within five business days.

Within five business days of cancellation of an offering by the Company, the Company will give each investor notification of the cancellation, disclose the reason for the cancellation, identify the refund amount the Investor will receive, and refund the Investor's funds.

The Company's right to cancel. The Investment Agreement you will execute with us provides the Company the right to cancel for any reason before the offering deadline.

If the sum of the investment commitments from all investors does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the time of the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.

Ownership and Capital Structure

THE OFFERING

13. Describe the terms of the securities being offered.

To view a copy of the SAFE you will purchase, please see Appendix B, Investor Contracts. The main terms of the SAFEs are provided below.

The SAFEs. We are offering securities in the form of a Simple Agreement for Future Equity ("SAFE"), which provides Investors the right to Preferred Stock in the Company ("Preferred Stock"), when and if the Company sponsors an equity offering that involves Preferred Stock, on the standard terms offered to other Investors.

Conversion to Preferred Equity. Based on our SAFEs, when we engage in an offering of equity interests involving Preferred Stock, Investors will receive a number of shares of Preferred Stock calculated using the method that results in the greater number of Preferred Stock:

- the total value of the Investor's investment, divided by
 - the price of Preferred Stock issued to new Investors multiplied by
 - the discount rate (80%), or
 - if the valuation for the company is more than $73,000,000.00 (the "Valuation Cap"), the amount invested by the Investor divided by the quotient of
 - the Valuation Cap divided by
 - the total amount of the Company's capitalization at that time.
- For investors up to the first $160,000.00 of the securities, investors will receive a valuation cap of $60,030,000.00 and a 20% discount. Wefunder VIP investors will be entitled to these terms for the entire duration of the offering, even if the threshold limit noted above is met.

Additional Terms of the Valuation Cap. For purposes of option (ii) above, the Company's capitalization calculated as of immediately prior to the Equity Financing and (without double-counting, in each case calculated on an as-converted to Common Stock basis):

- Includes all shares of Capital Stock issued and outstanding;
- Includes all Converting Securities;
- Includes all (i) issued and outstanding Options and (ii) Promised Options; and
- Includes the Unissued Option Pool, except that any increase to the Unissued Option Pool in connection with the Equity Financing shall only be included to the extent that the number of Promised Options exceeds the Unissued Option Pool prior to such increase.

Liquidity Events. If the Company has an initial public offering or is acquired by, merged with, or otherwise taken over by another company or new owners prior to Investors in the SAFEs receiving Preferred Stock, Investors will receive

- proceeds equal to the greater of (i) the Purchase Amount (the "Cash-Out Amount") or (ii) the amount payable on the number of shares of Common Stock equal to the Purchase Amount divided by the Liquidity Price (the "Conversion Amount")

Liquidity Priority. In a Liquidity Event or Dissolution Event, this Safe is intended to operate like standard nonparticipating Preferred Stock. The Investor's right to receive its Cash-Out Amount is:

Junior to payment of outstanding indebtedness and creditor claims, including contractual claims for payment and convertible promissory notes (to the extent such convertible promissory notes are not actually or notionally converted into Capital Stock);

On par with payments for other Safes and/or Preferred Stock, and if the applicable Proceeds are insufficient to permit full payments to the Investor and such other Safes and/or Preferred Stock, the applicable Proceeds will be distributed pro rata to the Investor and such other Safes and/or Preferred Stock in proportion to the full payments that would otherwise be due; and Senior to payments for Common Stock.

VIP BonusYummy Future (YC S19) will offer a discount to the normal terms listed in this Form C for all investments that are committed by investors who are part of Wefunder, Inc's VIP program. This means eligible Wefunder investors will receive a discount for any securities they purchased in this offering. For more specific details on the company's discount, please review the description of the terms above.

The discount is only valid until the offering closes. Investors eligible for the bonus will also receive priority if they are on a waitlist to invest and the company exceeds its maximum funding goal. They will be given the first opportunity to invest if space in the offering becomes available due to the cancellation or failure of previous investments.

Securities Issued by the SPVInstead of issuing its securities directly to investors, the Company has decided to issue its securities to the SPV, which will then issue interests in the SPV to investors. The SPV is formed concurrently with the filing of the Form C. Given this, the SPV does not have any financials to report. The SPV is managed by Wefunder Admin, LLC and is a co-issuer with the Company of the securities being offered in this offering. The Company's use of the SPV is intended to allow investors in the SPV to achieve the same economic exposure, voting power, and ability to assert State and Federal law rights, and receive the same disclosures, as if they had invested directly in the Company. While the Issuer may be required to pay an annual administrative fee for the maintenance of the SPV, investors should note the Company's use of the SPV will not result in any additional fees being charged to investors.

The SPV has been organized and will be operated for the sole purpose of directly acquiring, holding and disposing of the Company's securities, will not borrow money and will use all of the proceeds from the sale of its securities solely to purchase a single class of securities of the Company. As a result, an investor investing in the Company through the SPV will have the same relationship to the Company's securities, in terms of number, denomination, type and rights, as if the investor invested directly in the Company.

Voting RightsIf the securities offered by the Company and those offered by the SPV have voting rights, those voting rights may be exercised by the investor or his or her proxy. The applicable proxy is the Lead Investor, if the Proxy (described below) is in effect.

Proxy to the Lead InvestorThe SPV securities have voting rights. With respect to those voting rights, the investor and his, her, or its transferees or assignees (collectively, the "Investor"), through a power of attorney granted by Investor in the Investor Agreement, has appointed or will appoint the Lead Investor as the Investor's true and lawful proxy and attorney (the "Proxy") with the power to act alone and with full power of substitution, on behalf of the Investor to: (i) vote all securities related to the Company purchased in an offering hosted by Wefunder Portal, and (ii) execute, in connection with such voting power, any instrument or document that the Lead Investor determines is necessary and appropriate in the exercise of his or her authority. Such Proxy will be irrevocable by the Investor unless and until a successor lead investor ("Replacement Lead Investor") takes the place of the Lead Investor. Upon notice that a Replacement Lead Investor has taken the place of the Lead Investor, the Investor will have five (5) calendar days to revoke the Proxy. If the Proxy is not revoked within the 5-day time period, it shall remain in effect.

Restriction on TransferabilityThe SPV securities are subject to restrictions on transfer, as set forth in the Subscription Agreement and the Limited Liability Company Agreement of Wefunder SPV, LLC, and may not be transferred without the prior approval of the Company, on behalf of the SPV.

14. Do the securities offered have voting rights?

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No

15. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above?

See the above description of the Proxy to the Lead Investor.

16. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

Any provision of this Safe may be amended, waived or modified by written consent of the Company and either:

- the Investor or
- the majority-in-interest of all then-outstanding Safes with the same "Post-Money Valuation Cap" and "Discount Rate" as this Safe (and Safes lacking one or both of such terms will be considered to be the same with respect to such term(s)), provided that with respect to clause (ii):
 - the Purchase Amount may not be amended, waived or modified in this manner,
 - the consent of the Investor and each holder of such Safes must be solicited (even if not obtained), and
 - such amendment, waiver or modification treats all such holders in the same manner. "Majority-in-interest" refers to the holders of the applicable group of Safes whose Safes have a total Purchase Amount greater than 50% of the total Purchase Amount of all of such applicable group of Safes.

Pursuant to authorization in the Investor Agreement between each Investor and Wefunder Portal, Wefunder Portal is authorized to take the following actions with respect to the investment contract between the Company and an investor:

- Wefunder Portal may amend the terms of an investment contract, provided that the amended terms are more favorable to the investor than the original terms; and
- Wefunder Portal may reduce the amount of an investor's investment if the reason for the reduction is that the Company's offering is oversubscribed.

Restrictions on Transfer of the Securities Being Offered:

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

- to the issuer;
- to an accredited investor;
- as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or
- to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

NOTE: The term "accredited investor" means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person.

The term "member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent" includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term "spousal equivalent" means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

Description of Issuer's Securities

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Class of Security	Authorized	Outstanding	Voting rights
Class A Common Stock	9200000	9200000	☒
Class B Common Stock	800000	0	☒
Class of Security	Total Pool
Warrants	None
Options	800000

Describe any other rights:

Class A Common Stock carries 10 votes per share, while Class B Common Stock carries 1 vote per share.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

The holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company could limit the Investor's rights in a material way. For example, those interest holders could vote to change the terms of the agreements governing the Company's operations or cause the Company to engage in additional offerings (including potentially a public offering).

These changes could result in further limitations on the voting rights the Investor will have as an owner of equity in the Company, for example by diluting those rights or limiting them to certain types of events or consents.

To the extent applicable, in cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional equity, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risk that an Investor's rights could be limited, diluted or otherwise qualified, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

Additional risks related to the rights of other security holders are discussed below, in Question 20.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the shareholders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the value of the Investor's securities in the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, the shareholders may change the terms of the articles of incorporation for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The shareholders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. They may also vote to engage in new offerings and/or to register certain of the Company's securities in a way that negatively affects the value of the securities the investor owns. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the Investor, leaving the Investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns.

The shareholders have the right to redeem their securities at any time. Shareholders could decide to force the Company to redeem their securities at a time that is not favorable to the Investor and is damaging to the Company. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability.

In cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional stock, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

The initial amount invested in a SAFE is determined by the investor, and we do not guarantee that the SAFE will be converted into any particular number of shares of Preferred Stock. As discussed in Question 13, when we engage in an offering of equity interests involving Preferred Stock, Investors may receive a number of shares of Preferred Stock calculated as either (i) the total value of the Investor's investment, divided by the price of the Preferred Stock being issued to new Investors, or (ii) if the valuation for the company is more than the Valuation Cap, the amount invested divided by the quotient of (a) the Valuation Cap divided by (b) the total amount of the Company's capitalization at that time.

Because there will likely be no public market for our securities prior to an initial public offering or similar liquidity event, the price of the Preferred Stock that Investors will receive, and/or the total value of the Company's capitalization, will be determined by our board of directors. Among the factors we may consider in determining the price of Preferred Stock are prevailing market conditions, our financial information, market valuations of other companies that we believe to be comparable to us, estimates of our business potential, the present state of our development and other factors deemed relevant.

In the future, we will perform valuations of our stock (including both common stock and Preferred Stock) that take into account, as applicable, factors such as the following:

- unrelated third party valuations;
- the price at which we sell other securities in light of the relative rights, preferences and privileges of those securities;
- our results of operations, financial position and capital resources;
- current business conditions and projections;
- the marketability or lack thereof of the securities;
- the hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management;
- the introduction of new products;
- the risk inherent in the development and expansion of our products;
- our stage of development and material risks related to our business;
- the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a sale of our company given the prevailing market conditions and the nature and history of our business;
- industry trends and competitive environment;
- trends in consumer spending, including consumer confidence;
- overall economic indicators, including gross domestic product, employment, inflation and interest rates; and
- the general economic outlook.

We will analyze factors such as those described above using a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value. For example, we may use methodologies that assume that businesses operating in the same industry will share similar characteristics and that the Company's value will correlate to those characteristics, and/or methodologies that compare transactions in similar securities issued by us that were conducted in the market.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

An investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company, and thus be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

The marketability and value of the investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Board Of Directors, and the investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Board Of Directors of the Company.

Following the investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the investor in the Company. The investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the investor's interest in the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional issuances of securities. Following the investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the investor in the Company. The investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the investor, and create pressure on the investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders. Accordingly, the success of the investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company. If the Board Of Directors of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

24. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Overview of the Business and Financial Condition

Robotics company specializing in developing robotic-arm solutions for the food and beverage industry; operates three coffee shops (two in Champaign, IL and one in Palo Alto, CA via subsidiary Insomnia Water LLC).

We are an early-stage company and have incurred operating losses and negative cash flows from operations since inception. We expect to continue to incur operating losses in the near term.

As of August 1, 2026, we had cash and cash equivalents of approximately $300,000.

Our ability to continue operations is dependent on managing our expenses and, if necessary, obtaining additional financing.

This discussion should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and related notes included in this offering statement.

Business and Operating Uncertainty

Our business operates in an environment subject to various risks, uncertainties, and changing conditions, which makes it difficult to evaluate our business, financial condition, and prospects and may limit the comparability of our results of operations from period to period.

Financial Condition

As of the date of the financial statements included in this offering statement, our total assets were $1,616,000 and our current and non-current liabilities, as reflected in available financial statement fields, were $627,097.

Our financial statements reflect an early-stage company with limited operating history. Investors should not place undue reliance on historical financial information given the company's limited operating history and the likelihood that future results will differ from historical results.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of the date of the financial statements included in this offering statement, we had cash and cash equivalents of approximately $258,954.

Based on our current operations, we have a monthly net cash burn of approximately $17,000.

Our monthly net cash burn or profit may vary significantly from month to month due to the timing of receipts and expenditures and other short-term factors. As a result, period-to-period comparisons may not be meaningful.

Based on our current plan, we expect to have sufficient cash to fund operations for at least the next 12 months.

Our historical operations have been funded primarily through external financing.

Liquidity Assumptions

Our assessment of our liquidity and ability to fund operations is not a projection and is based on current assumptions regarding operating expenses, cash requirements, and capital needs. These assumptions may change, and actual results may differ materially due to changes in operating conditions, timing of receipts and payments, and other factors.

Dependence on Additional Financing

There can be no assurance that additional financing will be available on acceptable terms, or at all. If we are unable to raise additional capital when needed, we may be required to materially reduce or suspend operations.

Indebtedness and Capital Structure

As of the date of this offering statement, we had total outstanding indebtedness consisting of 1 loan and approximately $13,440 in aggregate principal obligations. The indebtedness consists of $13,440 (related party). The material terms of such indebtedness are described in Item 24 of this Form C.

(For the avoidance of doubt, SAFEs are not treated as indebtedness.)

During the past three years, we have conducted exempt offerings, resulting in the issuance of securities in aggregate amounts of approximately $1,019,441.

Known Trends, Events, and Uncertainties

Management is not currently aware of any known trends, events, or uncertainties that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or results of operations over the next 12 months.

The absence of a discussion of any particular trend, event, or uncertainty should not be interpreted to mean that such matters do not exist; rather, it reflects management's judgment based on information currently available.

Changes Since the Date of the Financial Statements

There have been no material changes in our operations or financial condition since the date of the financial statements included in this offering.

Impact of This Offering

The proceeds from this offering are expected to be used to We plan to use the funds raised to expand production of our robotic coffee units, integrate advanced features, and reduce the form factor to support large-scale deployment. We also intend to launch marketing campaigns to attract franchisees and corporate partners, establish. The timing and extent of our use of proceeds will depend on the amount of proceeds raised and future operating conditions. Additional detail regarding our planned use of proceeds is provided in Item 10 of this Form C.

There can be no assurance that the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to fund our operations or achieve our business objectives.

Certain information relevant to understanding our financial condition and liquidity is presented elsewhere in this offering statement, including in the financial statements, related notes, and the sections describing indebtedness and prior financings.

Forward-Looking Statements

This discussion contains forward-looking statements that are based on management's current expectations and assumptions. Actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by these statements.

OTHER MATERIAL INFORMATION

31. In addition to the information expressly required to be included in this Form, include: ⓘ

- (1) any other material information presented to investors; and
- (2) such further material information, if any, as may be necessary to make the required statements, in light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

The Lead Investor. As described above, each Investor that has entered into the Investor Agreement will grant a power of attorney to make voting decisions on behalf of that Investor to the Lead Investor (the "Proxy"). The Proxy is irrevocable unless and until a Successor Lead Investor takes the place of the Lead Investor, in which case, the Investor has a five (5) calendar day period to revoke the Proxy. Pursuant to the Proxy, the Lead Investor or his or her successor will make voting decisions and take any other actions in connection with the voting on investors' behalf.

The Lead Investor is an individual that is chosen to act in the role of Lead Investor on behalf of Investors that have a Proxy in effect. The Lead Investor will be chosen by the Company and approved by Wefunder Inc. and the identity of the initial Lead Investor will be disclosed to Investors before Investors make a final investment decision to purchase the securities related to the Company.

The Lead Investor can quit at any time or can be removed by Wefunder Inc. for cause or pursuant to a vote of investors as detailed in the Lead Investor Agreement. In the event the Lead Investor quits or is removed, the Company will choose a Successor Lead Investor who must be approved by Wefunder Inc. The identity of the Successor Lead Investor will be disclosed to Investors, and those that have a Proxy in effect can choose to either leave such Proxy in place or revoke such Proxy during a 5-day period beginning with notice of the replacement of the Lead Investor.

The Lead Investor will not receive any compensation for his or her services to the SPV. The Lead Investor may receive compensation if, in the future, Wefunder Advisors LLC forms a fund ("Fund") for accredited investors for the purpose of investing in a non-Regulation Crowdfunding offering of the Company. In such circumstances, the Lead Investor may act as a portfolio manager for that Fund (and as a supervised person of Wefunder Advisors) and may be compensated through that role.

Although the Lead Investor may act in multiple roles with respect to the Company's offerings and may potentially be compensated for some of its services, the Lead Investor's goal is to maximize the value of the Company and therefore maximize the value of securities issued by or related to the Company. As a result, the Lead Investor's interests should always be aligned with those of Investors. It is, however, possible that in some limited circumstances the Lead Investor's interests could diverge from the interests of Investors, as discussed in section 8 above.

Investors that wish to purchase securities related to the Company through Wefunder Portal must agree to give the Proxy described above to the Lead Investor, provided that if the Lead Investor is replaced, the Investor will have a 5-day period during which he or she may revoke the Proxy. If the Proxy is not revoked during this 5-day period, it will remain in effect.

Tax Filings. In order to complete necessary tax filings, the SPV is required to include information about each investor who holds an interest in the SPV, including each investor's taxpayer identification number ("TIN") (e.g., social security number or employer identification number). To the extent they have not already done so, each investor will be required to provide their TIN within the earlier of (i) two (2) years of making their investment or (ii) twenty (20) days prior to the date of any distribution from the SPV. If an investor does not provide their TIN within this time, the SPV reserves the right to withhold from any proceeds otherwise payable to the investor an amount necessary for the SPV to satisfy its tax withholding obligations as well as the SPV's reasonable estimation of any penalties that may be charged by the IRS or other relevant authority as a result of the investor's failure to provide their TIN. If applicable, the Company may also be required to pay Wefunder certain fees for the preparation of tax filings. Such fees and the Company's obligation to deliver required tax documents are further specified in the related Tax Services Agreement ("TSA").

Investors should carefully review the terms of the SPV Subscription Agreement for additional information about tax filings.

Potential Dissolution of the SPV. The Company has agreed that it will pay an administrative fee and / or certain tax fees to Wefunder, in addition to delivering required tax information in the manner prescribed by the TSA, where applicable. Failure to pay such fees or provide Wefunder with required tax information could result in the dissolution of the SPV (an "SPV Dissolution Event"). Subsequent to an SPV Dissolution Event, the securities held by the SPV would be distributed directly and proportionally to the individual investors. This could create administrative complexities, as investors would need to manage the securities themselves rather than having them held and administered by the SPV. Additionally, the unplanned distribution of securities may not align with investors' intended investment strategy or asset allocation.

Upon an SPV Dissolution Event, the Investor hereby consents to and agrees to accept direct assignment of the SPV's rights and obligations under any investment agreements between the SPV and the Company that is located in the Form C or C/A offering materials. The Investor acknowledges they will be bound by all terms and conditions of such agreements as if they were an original party thereto.

ONGOING REPORTING

32. The issuer will file a report electronically with the Securities & Exchange Commission annually and post the report on its website, no later than:

120 days after the end of each fiscal year covered by the report.

33. Once posted, the annual report may be found on the issuer's website at:

<https://www.yummy-future.com/invest>

The issuer must continue to comply with the ongoing reporting requirements until:

1. the issuer is required to file reports under Exchange Act Sections 13(a) or 15(d);
2. the issuer has filed at least one annual report and has fewer than 300 holders of record;
3. the issuer has filed at least three annual reports and has total assets that do not exceed $10 million; or
4. the issuer or another party purchases or repurchases all of the securities issued pursuant to Section 4(a)(6), including any payment in full of debt securities or any complete redemption of redeemable securities; or the issuer liquidates or dissolves in accordance with state law.
