With a 98% open rate, texting is the next key player in marketing, sales, and SMBs support. Beetexting is a Business Class Team Texting (MaaP - Message as-a Platform) that gives your team the ability to communicate in the way your customers prefer. The sales & support team will love that they can tag contacts and send targeted broadcast messages to hundreds of phones. This is a powerful way to start hundreds of separate conversations with one simple feature. When the sales team text with your prospects, they're more likely to become customers!

Beetexting's team-centric tools and design make working as a team to serve your customers a breeze. Your team will love that they can have shared inboxes, internal team notes, claim and transfer threads, mark threads as resolved or open, send images, videos, or even paperwork via text, send invoices and accept simple & secure payments and use templated messages. When your team is texting with customers, your customers are happy! Check out beetexting.com for more info.
