Restrictions on Transfer of the Securities Being Offered

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

- (1) to the Issuer;
- (2) to an accredited investor;
- (3) as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or
- (4) to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

NOTE: The term "accredited investor" means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person. The term "member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent" includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term "spousal equivalent" means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

17. What securities or classes of securities of the Issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the Issuer.

Class of Security	Securities (or Amount) Authorized	Securities (or Amount) Outstanding	Voting Rights	Other Rights
Class A Common Stock:	40,000,000	23,299,888	YES	NO
Class B Common Stock: (Securities to be issued in this Offering)	5,000,000	0	NO	NO
Preferred Stock:	10,000,000	1,692,400	YES	YES*

*Preferred Stock shareholders are projected to receive 100% of the profits of the company and a Preferred Interest of 10% APR until Preferred Shareholder receives his, her, or its ROC. The Company is obligated to take 100% of the net profits, if any, and distribute them to the Preferred Shareholders on a first-in first-out basis until the ROC and the Preferred Interest has been paid in full. Once the Preferred interest and ROC has been received by the Preferred Shareholder, he, she, or it will convert to common stock at a 1=1 basis. All common stock shareholders will defer their distributions until the Preferred Shareholders receive their ROC and their Preferred Interest.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

Securities being offered are the Class B Non-voting Common Stock, which is different from the Class A Common Stock with voting rights. Owners of the Class B Common Stock are entitled with no voting rights.

The Class B Common Stock is also different from the Preferred Stock. Preferred Stock shareholders are projected to receive 100% of the profits of the company and a Preferred Interest of 10% APR until Preferred Shareholder receives his, her, or its ROC. The Company is obligated to take 100% of the net profits, if any, and distribute them to the Preferred Shareholders on a first-in first-out basis until the ROC and the Preferred Interest has been paid in full. Once the Preferred interest and ROC has been received by the Preferred Shareholder, he, she, or it will convert to common stock at a 1=1 basis. All common stock shareholders will defer their distributions until the Preferred Shareholders receive their ROC and their Preferred Interest.

Purchasers should note that the securities offered are entitled no anti-dilution rights (other than proportionate adjustments for stock splits and similar events) and therefore future equity financings may dilute their ownership percentage in the Issuer.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the Issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As the owners of the Class A Common Stock with voting rights, the principal shareholders identified above are having the majority of the voting rights of the Issuer.

The Purchasers (the “Investors”) of the securities offered, as holders of Class B Common Stock with no voting rights, may not be able to exert influence on the decisions made by the principal shareholders, with which the Investors disagree, or that negatively affect the value of the Purchasers’ securities in the Company. The Investors generally do not control day-to-day business decisions or management of the Issuer and the Investors’ interests may conflict with those of the principal shareholders and there is no guarantee that the company will develop in a way that is advantageous to the Investors.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the Issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

Important Disclaimer:

As the Issuer is a startup company with a limited history of operation, lacking of material assets and has conducted no prior sales of securities except to its founders and initial shareholders, the reliability, accuracy and appropriateness of the valuation methods used in this section in determining the valuation of the securities being offered is not guaranteed. The valuation methods used in this section do not infer that the Issuer assumes any fiduciary duties and should not be construed as financial, legal or tax advice. In addition, such valuation methods should not be relied upon as the only valuation methods. The Issuer cannot guarantee the reliability, accuracy and appropriateness of these valuation methods.

Valuation of Our Class B Common Stock

Our Class B Common Stock is valued based on an Enterprise-Value-to-Revenue Multiple of publicly traded companies, recent IPOs and M&A transactions within the video broadcasting/streaming and multimedia content production industry. Our board of directors believes the use of an Enterprise-Value-to-Revenue Multiple, which is a common valuation approach used by the financial industry in valuation assessments, provides a reasonable estimate for the valuation of our company as a whole, and hence our Class B Common Stock, although there are inherent uncertainties related to the assumptions used in this method of valuation.

To smooth out market fluctuations due to market volatility of the stock market, and to ensure that our valuation is reflecting the current market valuation assessment in the industry we are operating, we use the Median Enterprise-Value-to-Revenue Multiple of publicly traded companies, recent IPOs and M&A transactions within the video broadcasting/streaming and multimedia content production industry in Q4 2021 as the benchmark of valuation.

The Median Enterprise-Value-to-Revenue Multiple of publicly traded companies, recent IPOs and M&A transactions within the Video Streaming and Content industry was 4.1x in the Q4 2021¹.

The America's Real Deal TV show debuted in September 2020 and we expect to realize the full potential of our network effect starting from 2022. Therefore, we use the projected revenue for the fiscal year 2022 to calculate our enterprise value.

The projected revenue takes into consideration the unique characteristics of the business we are operating and the reach of the audience through the America's Real Deal TV show. Our projected revenue in 2023 is estimated to be US$ $6,656,000, which is a sum of the following:

- ISM Referral Fees
- Booth Fees, Affiliate Referral Fees
- Advertising/Sponsors
- Product Sales

¹ Cogent Valuation's Quarterly Industry Update Reports 2021 Q4: Cogent Valuation identified Video Streaming and Content publicly traded companies IPOs, and recent M&A transactions within the Video Streaming and Content industry, which provides a basis for market and transaction pricing that can be used by an enterprise in estimating market sentiment and its impact on the enterprise's value. As of December 31, 2021, the median EV/Revenue Multiple was 4.1x.

Valuation of the Class B Common Stock of Jumpstart Main Street Corporation

Enterprise Value of America's Real Deal:

= Projected Revenue x Quarterly Average of Median EV-to-Revenue Multiple

= $6,656,000 x 4.1 = $27,289,600

Enterprise Value per share:

= Enterprise Value / Issued Number of Shares (Common Stock + Preferred Stock) Prior this Offering:

= $27,289,600 / 24,992,288

= $1.09

The actual offering price of the Class B Common Stock is $1.00 (One dollar).

The above valuation does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other third-party organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation.

Investors should be aware that the above valuation methodology uses estimates and assumptions that require significant subjective judgments and could be materially affected by a number of objective and subjective factors, including the Company's actual operating and financial performance, external market conditions, business developments, and the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or sale. Significant changes to the key assumptions used in the valuation could result in different valuations of the Company.

Moreover, the projected revenue used above is an estimation based on subjective judgments by the management and is not calculated or derived by any scientific methods or financial analysis models. The assumptions behind the estimation may not be true and accurate and, therefore, the estimate and hence the derived valuation are subject to various biases. Investors should not invest in our company solely based on these estimates and valuation.

Methods for how the securities may be valued by the Issuer in the future:

We will value the securities to be issued including during subsequent corporate actions through the following methods:

- PUBLICLY TRADED COMPARABLES
 - Revenue, EBITDA and EBIT multiples for comparable companies in the U.S.

- Multiples based on LTM figures and ongoing estimates.
- Multiples paid in similar to our business and

- DISCOUNTED CASH FLOW ANALYSIS

- Intrinsic value to based on the present value of projected cash flows on our operating business

- PRECEDENT TRANSACTIONS

- Multiples paid in similar and comparable companies.
- Premiums paid in public deals in the U.S. and for media companies in the U.S.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the Issuer?

- Purchasers of the securities in this Offering have limited rights to demand distributions (e.g. dividends) from the Issuer.
- The majority owner may make a decision that the Purchasers consider bad and put Purchaser's interest in the Issuer at risk.
- Although, as Common Stockholders, the Purchasers would be entitled to a share of any proceeds from a sale of the entire business, the Purchasers may not veto the sale even though the price of sale is below its fair valuation. Moreover, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.
- Since the securities in this Offering are not publicly traded and are subject to restrictions on resale or transfer including holding period requirements, the securities in this Offering are illiquid.
- The Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled to no voting rights and therefore they are not entitled to exert influence in the affairs of the company or the composition of its board of directors.
- The Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled to no anti-dilution rights (other than proportionate adjustments for stock splits and similar events) and therefore future equity financings may dilute their ownership percentage in the Issuer.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions:

a. Additional Issuances of Securities

Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled to no anti-dilution rights (other than proportionate adjustments for stock splits and similar events) and therefore future equity financings may dilute their ownership percentage in the Issuer.

b. Issuer Repurchases of Securities

The Issuer could be authorized to repurchase the company's issued securities subject to the approval of the company's board of directors. Purchasers of the securities may not impede the Issuer's right to repurchase its securities from other shareholders. Moreover, the repurchase could be made at a price much lower than the company's business value or its fair valuation, which could be indicative of the resale price of the securities thereafter.

c. A Sale of the Issuer or of Assets of the Issuer

Although as Common Stockholders the Purchasers would be entitled to a share of any proceeds from a sale of the entire business, the Purchasers may not veto the sale even though the price of sale is below its fair valuation. Moreover, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.

d. Transactions with Related Parties

Transactions with related parties are transactions between the Issuer or any of its subsidiaries and a connected person. These transactions include both capital and revenue nature transactions. They may be one-off transactions or continuing transactions. Purchasers should be aware that these transactions may create conflicts of interest between themselves and the Issuer. One such relationship is with the production company, to be created and owned by the Executive Producers of America's Real Deal (the "Production Company"). The Production Company will receive $100K or more per 22 to 30 minute episode to produce, edit, and prepare for distribution each season and special edition of America's Real Deal. The Production Company agrees to cover all costs associated herewith including location, film, audio, insurances, script writing, design, set(s), editing, setting up finished episodes on all America's Real Deal distribution channels, and $10,000 per episode allocation for talent. The Production Company has this agreement not by way of an arms-length transaction but rather because it is to be owned by Executive Producers of America's Real Deal. The Production Company may profit even if the show they produce doesn't.

24. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the Issuer:

As of December 31, 2021, the Company had Loan Payable amounted to $762,942 at 8% annum. The Loan will be matured on December 31, 2023. The loan is provided by Independent Stock Market Corporation which is majority-owned by Adam Brandley.

25. What other exempt offerings has the Issuer conducted within the past three years?

The Company conducted a private placement offering of its preferred stock under Rule 506(c) of Regulation D. The offering ended on May 31, 2022 and the Company raised $190,000.00.

26. Was or is the Issuer or any entities controlled by or under common control with the Issuer a party to any transaction since the beginning of the Issuer's last fiscal year, or any currently proposed transaction, where the amount involved exceeds five percent of the aggregate amount of capital raised by the Issuer in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act during the preceding 12-month period, including the amount the Issuer seeks to raise in the current offering, in which any of the following persons had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest:

- a. any director or officer of the Issuer;
- b. any person who is, as of the most recent practicable date, the beneficial owner of 20 percent or more of the Issuer's outstanding voting equity securities, calculated on the basis of voting power;
- c. if the Issuer was incorporated or organized within the past three years, any promoter of the Issuer; or
- d. any immediate family member of any of the foregoing persons.

Yes, and these transactions are disclosed as the preferred offering ending December 31, 2021.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE ISSUER

27. Does the Issuer have an operating history?

The Issuer started its operation in May 2013.

28. Describe the financial condition of the Issuer, including, to the extent material, liquidity, capital resources and historical results of operations.

The following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and related notes that appear in this Form C/A. In addition to historical consolidated financial information, the following discussion contains forward-looking statements that reflect our plans, estimates, and beliefs. Our actual results could differ materially from those discussed in the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause or contribute to these differences include those discussed below and elsewhere in this Form C/A, particularly in “Risk Factors.”

America’s Real Deal Operation History and Results

Since January, 2017 operations, procedures, policies, and revenue has changed. New systems are in place to help take America’s Real Deal to the next level. In October of 2017 and June of 2018 we held our annual pitch events with Kevin Harrington and Forbes Riley and began the filming for Season One of America’s Real Deal. We edited and in March of 2020 we released eight episodes on Facebook Watch and ROKU, as well as our website.

Discussion of Operation

As of May 2022, we have contracted with David Meltzer, Andrew Roettger, and Janice Howroyd to be our celebrity mentors on the show, and Marie Osmond as the Host of the show. These contracts are for the first season only.

Distribution relationships include Fox Business paid programming, Youtube and Facebook Watch, as well as ROKU, Apple TV, Amazon Fire, and Android TV.

Through our live pitch events we have vetted hundreds of willing and qualified companies from which we have selected contestants vetted by Independent Stock Market Corporation, (ISM) for our Season One of America’s Real Deal.

We have received and accepted a bid from highly creative and experienced producers to assist us in pre and post-production activities, as well as consult during the production of the TV series itself. With the experience of our pilot season we are confident that we will be prepared to create a powerful production team.

Revenues

There were no revenues from the pilot season, as it was to test the team and the concept and determine the best adjustments necessary to ideally make an even better production for our Season One.

Cost of Goods Sold and Operating Expenses

Cost of Goods Sold

Our cost of goods sold consists primarily of expenses associated with the delivery and distribution of the custom products we anticipate selling to those watching our TV show. Using the production company we anticipate the costs of the show to be $100,000 per 22 to 30 minute episode and any additional talent.

We do not have the costs, nor the percentages of such goods, as we anticipate ramping that up in July 2022 as we get ready to air the TV show.

Operating Expenses

In 2021, our operating expenses, $17,833

Total operating expenses in the past 4 years:

2018 $725,281 to mainly film the pilot,

2019 $88,971, to mainly edit the pilot

2020 $28,130 to mainly distribute the pilot

2021 $17,833 to mainly salaries and wages

Net Income

In 2021, there was a net loss of: $61,430, including interest expenses of $43,597

There is a net operating loss of: $1,838,118 since 2014.

Cash flows

Net cash used by operating activities was $15,770.

We had zero cash used in investing activities.

We recorded $15,000 net cash provided by financing activities, which was solely due to net proceeds from capital contribution.

Our historical results and cash flows are not representative of what Investors should expect in the future.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our principal sources of liquidity are our cash and cash equivalents, and cash generated from operations. Cash and cash equivalents consist primarily of cash on deposit with banks and investments in money market funds and U.S. government and U.S. government agency securities.

The Company raised $190,000.00 from a private placement offering ending on May 31, 2022. The proceeds from the offering were used for pilot season production, operations, creation of app/website, season one production marketing, public relations, and events, and consulting and legal fees.

Commitments

There are no current commitments of investments other than verbal from a large private equity fund and a substantial broker/dealer firm. Neither can be relied upon by the potential investor to invest.

Funding of Operations, Capital Expenditure and Future Financing

The Company expects to fund its operations and capital expenditure requirements from operating cash flows, cash and cash equivalents, proceeds from this Offering and credit facilities. We may raise additional funds through public or private equity offerings or debt financings, but there can be no assurance that we will be able to do so on acceptable terms or at all.

New business developments or other unforeseen events may occur, resulting in the need to raise additional funds. There can be no assurances regarding the business prospects with respect to any other opportunity. Any other development would require us to obtain additional financing.

Although the Company expects that there will be a growth in revenue in the coming years, Investors should be aware that historical results and cash flows are not representative of the future.

The Company is seeking a minimum of $50,000 in this Offering, which would improve the Company's liquidity and balance sheet, but whether or not receiving these funds and any other additional funds is not necessary to the viability of the business in the next 12 months and we expect that the Company's available cash together with the proceeds of the Offering would be enough to finance the production of the show but not the editing, distribution, or marketing. Additional funds would be required.

Appendix A - BUSINESS AND ANTICIPATED BUSINESS PLAN

BUSINESS PLAN

Executive Summary

Our reality TV series introduces business ideas to the viewing audience, allowing everyone to back or contribute to the projects of their choice through crowdfunding.

Although entrepreneurs pitch their projects to qualified judges, as in the popular series Shark Tank and Gags to Riches, in our show the television audience, not the judges, purchases products and makes investments.

Millions of Americans have pledged money in exchange for cool new products from businesses that have promoted their projects through crowd-funding sites like Kickstarter and RocketHub. In fact, during Q4, 2013, raising funds through non-equity crowd-funding sites accounted for 8% of all capital-raising activities with 44% of those investments spent on startup businesses.

Beginning in 2022, our audience will engage at unprecedented levels as they “vote with their wallets” for the opportunity to have a financial interest in the outcome of the projects promoted. The show provides multiple ways to participate such as voting, purchasing products, becoming a member of our studio audience and investing in companies.

America’s innate desire to encourage and support innovative entrepreneurs is allowed to flourish on our show. Because of prior stipulations forbidding the public promotion of private stock, our process for building a television and online audience willing and able to invest their disposable income has only been permitted by the JOBS Act, is a law intended to encourage funding of small businesses in the United States.

The audience will be guided through all the risks of investing - including the reality that they could lose all of their money, and if they don’t lose it, it could be several years before they see a return. They are taught not to borrow money to invest, and not to use grocery, rent or emergency funds to invest.

Join us as we jumpstart America’s economy by giving small businesses and entrepreneurs the promotional and capital push they need to succeed!

America's Real Deal:

A reality TV show for entrepreneurs & the millions of people who support them!

Our goal is to provide national television and online exposure, start-up/growth capital and world-class mentoring needed for entrepreneurs and small businesses to succeed.

We will accomplish this by introducing millions of online consumers, television viewers, regional supporters, local family and friends, and accredited investors to pre-qualified, entertaining, competent business owners. The show combines America's generosity with hard-working American ingenuity.

America's Real Deal utilizes a combination of three media platforms all of which have been proven to be vastly successful in their individual areas of expertise.

1. Successful Investment Reality Shows

Shows like Shark Tank, The Profit, and Gags to Riches demonstrate America's fascination with quality, non-vetted and vetted investment opportunities. These television shows invite the public to watch others invest in projects in which the viewers themselves aren't given the opportunity to invest. They also expose the public to exciting products that viewers may want to purchase without being given the option to do so.

~ OUR TWIST ~

Unlike these investment-oriented reality shows, we allow our online and television audience the ability to financially support the projects we showcase by letting them "Vote with their Wallets,"™ by donating, pre-purchasing products or buying a portion of the project's company through SEC-registered funding portals. The viewers, not the TV personalities, will be the investors.

2. Successful Online Crowdfunding Platforms

Online funding platforms like Kickstarter, RocketHub, Indiegogo and hundreds of other websites have assisted millions of people spending billions of dollars helping start-up companies by either donating to their cause or by pre-purchasing their yet-to-be-manufactured products.

~ OUR TWIST ~

While other crowdfunding portals do not have a television presence, we do. Instead of only allowing non-accredited investors the chance to donate or pre-purchase products, our reality TV show lets anyone 18 and older own a part of the companies we showcase through SEC-registered funding portals, whether they are accredited or not.

3. Successful Regional Audition & Networking Events

Reality TV shows like American Idol and So You Think You Can Dance demonstrate how communities can come together, when given the opportunity to share their talents with the world. Additionally, area business expos have been a consistent means for networking for generations and continue to provide real excitement for first time attendees and long-time sponsors.

~ OUR TWIST ~

We combine the energy of the regional reality TV show auditions by offering live regional pitch events all over the country which also provide networking opportunities for business owners who compete for the chance to market their product in front of a national audience should they be selected to pitch their project on our reality TV show.

Crowdfunding Explained

Crowdfunding is one of the most powerful marketing and capital-raising tools available to small business owners. As it applies to businesses, it entails the enlistment of a ‘crowd’ of people (invited by entrepreneurs) to ‘fund’ a specific project through donations, purchasing finished products or by pre-purchasing yet-to-be-created products.

Utilizing the social benefits available online, the America’s Real Deal non-equity crowd-funding platform allows friends, neighbors and family members of entrepreneurs the ability to financially support their projects.

Then, crowdfunding exponentially expands the overall social reach of the projects by providing those same friends, neighbors and family members with simple ways to share their favorite projects with their own unique lists of social contacts.

Crowdfunding plays a significant role in determining an entrepreneur’s next step. If successful, he assumes the task of manufacturing and delivering projects to those individuals who have pre-ordered his products.

If unsuccessful, it’s time to find out why: Was there not enough social interaction; did the video fail to adequately promote the features and benefits of the project; are changes needed in management;

what can be changed about the product or presentation to increase the possibilities for future success; will television exposure catapult this project?

Currently, millions of online crowdfunding participants are contributing billions of dollars into projects promoted online through organized crowdfunding websites. The following table shows actual data and future estimates and is provided by the Crowdfunding Professional Organization (CfPA).

Crowdfunding Data & Future Estimates
YEAR	DATA TYPE	REVENUE
2011	Actual	$1.5 Billion
2012	Actual	$2.7 Billion
2013	Estimates	$5 Billion
2014	Estimates	$10 Billion

In 2014, for example, projects posted on Kickstarter raised $335 million in non-equity crowdfunding in the United States alone. According to CfPA, the world-wide trend shows continuous increases in crowdfunding. America's Real Deal expects to participate in this growing movement and help it exponentially expand by promoting several crowd funding opportunities on national television to millions of viewers every week through our entrepreneurial-focused reality TV show.

Donation / Sponsorship-based Crowdfunding

Equity Crowdfunding

Many entrepreneurs may just use our non-equity crowdfunding portal to acquire donations and to pre-sell their products. However, a participating entrepreneur may want to pitch his company through our reality TV show and raise funds through our strategic funding portal and broker dealer partners.

The 2012 JOBS Act has been made fully functional through the SEC. It is expected that millions of Americans with disposable income will be able to invest in private companies.

After companies that have been featured on America's Real Deal have received money from crowd-funding through selling their products and gained capital from selling equity in their business through through SEC-registered funding portals through our show, they should be in a position to grow.

For the first time on television, crowdfunding and private equity funding opportunities will be available to the masses. Entrepreneurs will be able to receive the funding capital, world-class mentoring and national exposure they need to succeed.

We expect to provide entrepreneurs with the exposure currently offered by television shows like Shark Tank and Gags to Riches, while providing a way for the American public, not just a few TV personalities, with the ability to participate online and with their mobile devices. America's Real Deal will do for entrepreneurs and small business owners what American Idol does for singers!

Testing our Model

While waiting until the rules and regulations were in place with equity crowdfunding, we decided to test the format of the show. On May 16-17, 2014, at beautiful Thanksgiving Point, Utah, we tested our business model by creating a television set and assembling it in a building that comfortably accommodated the 150+ energetic, regional entrepreneurs who participated.

We had all the cameras and lighting that you would expect for a reality TV show. We even invited Bill Webb, Director of Photography for the #1 Drama on television show NCIS to help.

We had local business professionals who pre-screened entrepreneurs. Many of the project owners weren't quite ready to go in front of our judges to pitch their projects. 40% of the business owners that registered were able to pitch their projects to three competent judges consisting of Amy Rees, David Bradford and Ross Shafer.

From the two day event, we learned that many things were right with our model. One of the things we got right was to provide the opportunity for business owners and entrepreneurs to network with each other, with business professionals and with our judges.

Dozens of new, valuable, key relationships were formed at the event. We had marketing professionals, business development teams and several industry leaders sharing their expertise with the entrepreneurs who came.

Another thing we got right was the process of training entrepreneurs on how to properly give their pitches.

Our group of investors and seasoned business owners assisted them with the right words and body language so that the entrepreneur could perform their pitch with confidence and clarity when they went in front of the judges. Many of the attending project owners thanked us for giving them that opportunity.

We also found several areas of our reality television model that could be improved upon. One area was the format of the show. It was set up so that the top 20 projects would compete each week for a chance to stay on the air during the following week's episode, similar to the 'Survivor' model.

There were a couple of issues with this model, including the substantial expense of keeping entrepreneurs, judges and our film crew fed and housed for three months. Another issue with this model was the fact that the show ended each week by displaying the losers for that episode, instead of promoting a winning project.

When the rules and regulations of equity crowdfunding were set by the SEC we were ready to film our pilot season. We did that in August 2018 in oh-so-hot but oh-so-beautiful

Dallas/Ft. Worth, Texas. We filmed eight episodes. Put in on Roku and Facebook Watch and had over 500,000 combined episode viewers. You can see the pilot episodes on our website, AmericasRealDeal.com

We wanted to do better – and these test runs helped us find ways that we could improve our model.

1. We created a more competitive model. Now, every segment has additional suspense – more action with continuity and purpose for each aspect of the show. Instead of one set we have six.
2. We created weekly and season winning projects so that each episode would highlight winners, not losers – chosen by the viewing audience and our celebrities on our website and on TV as well as receiving an America's Real Deal investment in their projects' businesses.
3. Before, there were hundreds of companies per season. The focus for the majority of the season was exclusively on those twenty projects, with a couple of online entities squeezing in if they performed really well.

Now, America's Real Deal will showcase 4 different entrepreneurs and their projects each episode. With a competition starting with 16, then a top 8, final 4 and a Champion.

This change in format allows us to feature an additional 16 entrepreneurs every season – giving many more individuals the opportunity to share their ideas with the world.

This change will allow our funding platform to fill up quicker with more projects that have aired on television and more enthusiasm to share their fund-raising campaigns with their friends, family and social contacts.

4. Initially, television viewers and online consumers could vote, donate, pre-purchase and invest in projects featured on the show (and they still can), but our television studio, much like Shark Tank's studio, did not have a studio audience. Now it feels more like a live show with dozens of people watching, voting, asking questions, giving a life-line to projects that would otherwise have to leave the show, while contributing in many ways to a more entertaining, more interactive peer-to-peer format.

The studio audience will have access to digital devices with apps downloaded onto them. These apps will allow them to vote which projects they like most, which they would buy or invest in, and which project they want to save as a potential winner.

Votes from judges and the studio audience will be tabulated and shown to the television audience. The dynamic of having a studio audience will bring a high level of energy into each pitch presentation as votes, laughs and applause help the judges provide the appropriate feedback to project owners who can take that information to improve their business models.

Entrepreneurial Participation Fees

One of our core beliefs is that there are not enough organizations willing to help the American entrepreneur. Of those that are able to help, few of them are willing to do so without first getting compensated for their efforts.

For those selected to pitch their projects on our show, there are no up-front out-of-pocket costs to participate, other than legal and accounting compliance. We provide entrepreneurs with the opportunity to make money before they spend it.

Entrepreneurs face many challenges when starting or growing a business. America's Real Deal commits to help them in three key areas:

1. Obtaining an Education in Business

Our goal is to mentor, train, encourage and coach entrepreneurs through our professional business community, our preferred partners, our reality TV show, our judges and celebrities and online videos and informational packets.

Even entrepreneurs who do not join any of our funding platforms can access many of our videos and training material at no charge to improve their business acumen.

2. Publicity

Through our online platform, television show and social media outlets, we expect to provide ample opportunity for entrepreneurs to strut their stuff in front of hundreds of thousands and eventually millions of consumers, viewers, accredited investors and social enthusiasts.

3. Non-Equity and Equity Capital Resources

Entrepreneurs are expected to bring their own family, friends, customers and social contacts to participate on America's Real Deal's crowdfunding platforms. ARD has leads from other entrepreneurs and from its extensive marketing efforts, including investment leads, to assist entrepreneurs in their quest to raise the capital their business projects need. ARD also coaches founders to market their product, team and market, refining their business model, achieving product/market fit, and scaling the startup into a high growth business, etc.

Distribution Contacts

We have had positive discussions with networks and digital platforms.

There are many factors in our favor as we approach filming:

Our talented actors and successful entrepreneurs who are the key to our television ratings have had ample experience with various national networks.

Successful shows like Shark Tank, The Profit and Gags to Riches prove the likelihood of our show succeeding. We take the best of these shows and then add the benefits of increased online participation through non-equity and equity crowdfunding, which puts the network executives at ease; especially when they consider our entertaining talent and celebrity guests.

We have already recorded a full pilot season.

The life expectancy of a reality television show may be longer than many people think. We are projecting to run a minimum of 10 seasons, but expect that our investors will receive a full return of interest and principle after the third season. You will note that most of the reality TV shows mentioned are still on the air and will more than likely extend the number of seasons listed in this table.

Reality TV Show	TV Channel	Year Premiered	Number of Seasons
Real Housewives	BRAVO	2006	33
Real World	MTV	1992	28
Survivor	CBS	2000	26
Cops	FOX	1989	26
Amazing Race	CBS	2001	23
Dancing w/ the Stars	ABC	2005	18
Big Brother	CBS	2000	15
American Idol	FOX	2002	14
Cheaters	KUCW	1999	14
The Apprentice	NBC	2004	14
Hell's Kitchen	FOX	2005	11
Myth Busters	DISC	2003	11
Shark Tank	ABC	2009	13

Shark Tank, for example, has had significant success. All indicators show that it will continue to air for several more seasons.

These projections do not take into account Licensing Agreements. Consider that all over the world, countries or regions will want to license our show for their inventors and innovators while utilizing our funding platforms for an annual licensing fee.

Conversations with other countries who are interested in replicating our innovative, entertaining model have already begun.

Revenue Sources

As discussed earlier, we anticipate that there will be substantial television revenue from commercials, product placement and key sponsors. This revenue will increase with each season we air the show, as its popularity increases.

Online real estate, valuable because of the non-stop, significant traffic, will also be sold to sponsors, product placement partners and others. Affiliate partners will also participate in this lucrative area where promoting quality products that can assist entrepreneurs in running a more successful, more productive company is a win for us, a win for our partners and a win for the entrepreneur!

We will also receive as revenue up to 25% percent of retail product sales made from our app and website links to the participating companies.

For example, if one project successfully sells $100,000 of products on our platforms, we will receive up to $25,000. Should only 100 projects do the same, during our pilot season, ARD would receive up to $2.5 million.

When clients are referred to our affiliates and preferred partners for financial & tax planning, coaching, and other services, America's Real Deal could also receive referral fees.

Entrepreneurs also pay fees for the opportunity to pitch their project on America's Real Deal to investors.

Appendix B - RISK FACTORS

Investing in the Company is very risky. Investors should be able to bear a complete loss of their investments. They should carefully consider the following factors, including those listed in the accompanying business plan and other factors inherent to investing in privately-held entities.

A. Development Stage Business

ARD (the Company) is a dba of Jumpstart Main Street Corporation which commenced operations in 2013 and is organized as a C-Corp under the laws of the State of Utah. Accordingly, the Company has no history upon which an evaluation of its prospects and future performance can be made. The Company's proposed operations are subject to all the business risks associated with new enterprises. The likelihood of the Company's success must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the expansion of a business, operation in a competitive industry, the continued development of advertising, promotions and a corresponding customer base and its reliance on its affiliated entities Independent Stock Market Corporation (ISM) and America's Crowd Fund LLC (ACF). Adam Brandley has a key majority ownership roll in each of these entities in addition to the Company, and these Collaboration Agreements (available upon request) were not the result of an arms-length relationship or independent negotiations. Mr. Brandley and others could profit from the other entities even if this Company is not profitable.

There is a possibility that the Company could sustain losses in the future. There can be no assurances that the Company will ever operate profitably.

B. Inadequacy of Funds

Gross offering proceeds of a minimum of $50,000 and a maximum of $1,070,000 may be realized. Management believes that such the minimum will assist in funding the filming of Season One, while the maximum proceeds will capitalize and sustain the Company sufficiently to allow for the implementation of the Company's Business Plan. If only a fraction of this Offering is sold, or if certain assumptions contained in Management's business plan prove to be incorrect, the Company may have inadequate funds to fully develop its business and may need debt financing or other capital investment to fully implement the Company's business plans.

C. Dependence on Management & Talent

In the early stages of development, the Company's business will be significantly dependent on the Company's management team. The Company's success will be particularly dependent upon: Adam Brandley and other officers, directors and producers. The loss of these individuals could have a material adverse effect on the Company. The Talent, David Meltzer and Janice Howroyd will each receive 10% of the net profits of the seasons in which they provide their full services. Thus, the remainder will flow to the Company to cover its expenses and distribute working capital to cover 110% of the next season's production, marketing, management and operations costs with the remaining profits to the Preferred Shareholders first. Some celebrities may negotiate ownership vesting in the Company, such vesting would cause a dilution to all shareholders. We may have additional judges with similar or more expensive agreements which could adversely affect the shareholders. The Board may elect to spend additional capital and resources to improve the quality of the show which could reduce the amount of profits being split to the Preferred and Common stock shareholders.

D. Risks Associated with Expansion

The Company plans on expanding its business by attracting more companies and investors for future series and increasing the number of seasons and /or episodes each year. Any expansion of operations the Company may undertake will entail risks. Such actions may involve specific operational activities, which may negatively impact the profitability of the Company. Consequently, shareholders must assume the risk that such expansion may ultimately involve expenditures of funds beyond the resources available to the Company at that time and management of such expanded operations may divert management's attention and resources away from its existing operations. All of these factors and others may have a material adverse effect on the Company's present and prospective business activities of creating a reality TV show for entertainment purposes only. We expect that ISM will provide qualified companies to appear on the show but we cannot guarantee the vetting and quality of such companies, and therefore we are at risk if some companies are not vetted correctly.

E. Customer Base and Market Acceptance

The company's customer base consists of small business and start up businesses which have a good business idea, but require additional funding and increased public awareness. The other half of the market base is potential investors and contributors who are looking for investment opportunities and quality products to purchase. While the Company believes it can further develop the existing customer base and develop a new customer base through the marketing and promotion of the website, the inability of the Company to further develop such a customer base could have a material adverse effect on the Company. Although the Company believes that its product matrix and its affiliated interactive e-commerce website offer advantages over competitive companies and products, no assurance can be given that Company's products and affiliated e-commerce website will attain a degree of market acceptance on a sustained basis or that it will generate revenues to the Company sufficient for sustained profitable operations. These affiliated e-commerce websites are managed by the Independent Stock Market Corporation (ISM) which Adam Brandley has a key majority ownership roll in, in addition to the Company, and the Collaboration Agreement between ISM and the Company was not the result of an arms-length relationship or negotiations.

F. Competition

Some of the current competition for ARD (the Company) includes the following:

- ABC's Shark Tank where businesses compete to receive financial investments from six wealthy business investors called 'Sharks'.
- A & E/Rocket Hub's "Project Startup" where startup businesses listed on Rocket Hub's Crowd Funding website are chosen to compete on television for contributions to the startup business. Contributors receive rewards for contributing depending upon the amount contributed.
- Discovery Channel's Billy Bob's Gags to Riches, where the owner of Billy Bob Teeth company listens to pitches from what they call 'rednecks' at his double-wide trailer and invests in companies that spark his interest.
- Entrepreneur.com's Going Public has just recently aired. It allows the audience to invest in companies going public. Viewers can't purchase products and there is no social vote. Also, as we understand it, they are not letting the investors in early before they go public.
- America's Big Deal on the USA network, sells products but no investment opportunity from the viewers.

While there does exist some current competition, management believes that the Company's format has several advantages. Unlike other shows, the expert coaches on the TV show episodes will help and advise the business owners as well as help potential investors and contributors to see the company's potential. These mentors will not be required to invest their own money in the companies, but rather focus on helping business owners and prospective investors. The investors must decide after reading the disclosures available on affiliated funding portals, linked from the Company's website but not on the Company's website, if the company is a good investment. Accredited and non-accredited investors will be able to invest in the businesses and can purchase their products and contribute to the company being presented on the TV show episodes, receiving rewards based upon the amount of the purchase or contribution. However, there is the possibility that new competitors could seize upon the Company's business model and produce competing production with a similar focus. Likewise, these new competitors could be better capitalized than the Company, which could give them a significant advantage. There is the possibility that the competitors could capture significant market share of the Company's intended market.

G. Trend in Consumer Preferences and Spending

The Company's operating results may fluctuate significantly from period to period as a result of a variety of factors including: competition, debt service and principal reduction payments, and general economic conditions. There is no assurance that the Company will be successful in marketing its production, or that the revenues from the investments and contributions to companies on the show will be significant. Consequently, the Company's revenues may vary by season, and the Company's operating results may experience fluctuations.

H. Risks of Borrowing

If the Company incurs additional indebtedness, a portion of its cash flow will have to be dedicated to the payment of principal and interest on such indebtedness. Typical loan agreements also might contain restrictive covenants, which may impair the Company's operating flexibility. Such loan agreements would also provide for default under certain circumstances, such as failure to meet certain financial covenants. A default under a loan agreement could result in the loan becoming immediately due and payable and, if unpaid, a judgment in favor of such lender which would be senior to the rights of shareholders of the Company. A judgment creditor would have the right to foreclose on any of the Company's assets resulting in a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operating results and/or financial condition.

I. Unanticipated Obstacles to Execution of the Business Plan

The Company's business plans may change significantly. Many of the Company's potential business endeavors are capital intensive and may be subject to statutory or regulatory requirements. Management believes that the Company's chosen activities and strategies are achievable in light of current economic and legal conditions with the skills, background, and knowledge of the Company's principals and advisors. Management reserves the right to make significant modifications to the Company's stated strategies depending on future events including events tied to the internet and/or our online funding platform affiliate ISM and other affiliated entities.

J. Management Discretion as to Use of Proceeds

The net proceeds from this Offering will be used for the purposes described under "Use of Proceeds." The Company reserves the right to use the funds obtained from this Offering for other similar purposes, not presently contemplated, which it deems to be in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders in order to address changed circumstances or opportunities. As a result of the foregoing, the success of the Company will be substantially dependent upon the discretion and judgment of Management with respect to application and allocation of the net proceeds of this Offering. Investors for the shares offered hereby will be entrusting their funds to the Company's Management, upon whose judgment and discretion the investors must depend, which may include revising this offering as needed.

K. Control by Management

As of February 1, 2022, the Company's Controlling Shareholders owned approximately 78% of the Company's outstanding shares. Upon completion of this Offering, the Company's Controlling Shareholders will be able to continue to control the Company. Investor shareholders will own a minority percentage of the Company and will not have voting rights. Investor shareholders may not have the ability to control either a vote of the Company's Controlling Shareholders or any appointed officers or board members. See "Controlling Shareholder" section.

L. Return of Profits

The Company intends to retain any future earnings to fund operations for future productions. A shareholder will be entitled to receive revenue profits proportionate to the amount of shares held by that shareholder. The Company's controlling shareholders and /or Board of Directors will determine a profit distribution plan based upon the Company's results of operations, financial condition, capital requirements and other circumstances. This is set up to attempt to ensure the show continues building momentum without needing to raise additional capital to dilute the shareholders further.

As part of talent expenses, the Talent, David Meltzer and Janice Howroyd can each receive 10% of the net profits of the TV broadcast advertising and/or production revenue in the season they provide their full services as an expense prior to Preferred or common stock shareholders distributions. This will be managed with a season by season limited liability company that will receive the TV revenues, cover all of the expenses for that season, including the talent, with the remainder returning to the Company. All transaction revenue, referral revenue, licensing and equity will not be part of the season by season entities, but will stream directly into the Company.

M. No Assurances of Protection for Proprietary Rights; Reliance on Trade Secrets

In certain cases, the Company may rely on registration with the Screen Writers Guild, trade secrets to protect intellectual property, corporate affiliations' proprietary technology and processes, which the Company has contracted, acquired, and/or developed or may develop in the future. There can be no assurances that the registration, Collaboration Agreements with affiliated entities or secrecy obligations will be honored or that others will not independently develop similar or superior products or technology. The protection of intellectual property and/or proprietary technology through claims of trade secret status has been the subject of increasing claims and litigation by various companies both in order to protect proprietary rights as well as for competitive reasons even where proprietary claims are unsubstantiated. The prosecution of proprietary claims or the defense of such claims is costly and uncertain given the uncertainty and rapid development of the principles of law pertaining to this area. The Company, in common with other firms, may also be subject to claims by other parties with regard to the use of intellectual property, technology information and data, which may be deemed proprietary to others.

N. Dilution

Additional Shares issued by the Company in the future will dilute a purchaser's investment in the Shares. Preference is given to Preferred Shareholders for distribution of profits before common stock shareholders.

O. Limited Transferability and Liquidity

To satisfy the requirements of certain exemptions from registration under the Securities Act, and to conform with applicable state securities laws, each investor must acquire his shares for investment purposes only and not with a view towards distribution. Consequently, certain conditions of the Securities Act may need to be satisfied prior to any sale, transfer, or other disposition of the shares. Some of these conditions may include a minimum holding period, availability of certain reports including financial statements from the Company, limitations on the percentage of shares sold and the manner in which they are sold. the Company can prohibit any sale, transfer or disposition unless it receives an opinion of counsel provided at the shareholder's expense, in a form satisfactory to the Company, stating that the proposed sale, transfer or other disposition will not result in a violation of applicable federal or state securities laws and regulations. No public market exists for the shares and no market is expected to develop. Consequently, owners of the shares may have to hold their investment indefinitely and may not be able to liquidate their investments in the Company or pledge them as collateral for a loan in the event of an emergency.

P. Long Term Nature of Investment

An investment in the shares may be long term and illiquid. As discussed above, the offer and sale of the shares will not be registered under the Securities Act or any foreign or state securities laws by reason of exemptions from such registration, which depends in part on the investment intent of the investors. Prospective investors will be required to represent in writing that they are purchasing the shares for their own account for long-term investment and not with a view towards resale or distribution. Accordingly, purchasers of shares must be willing and able to bear the economic risk of their investment for an indefinite period of time. It is likely that investors will not be able to liquidate their investment in the event of an emergency.

Q. No Current Market for Shares

There is no current market for the shares offered in this private Offering and no market is expected to develop in the near future.

R. Compliance with Securities Laws

The shares are being offered for sale in reliance upon certain exemptions from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, applicable Utah Securities Laws, and other applicable state securities laws. If the sale of shares were to fail to qualify for these exemptions, purchasers may seek rescission of their purchases of shares. If a number of purchasers were to obtain rescission, the Company would face significant financial demands, which could adversely affect the Company as a whole, as well as any non-rescinding purchasers.

S. Offering Price

The price of the shares offered has been arbitrarily established by the Company, considering such matters as the state of the Company's business development and the general condition of the industry in which it operates. The Offering price bears little relationship to the assets, net worth, or any other objective criteria of value applicable to the Company.

T. Lack of Firm Underwriter

The Shares are offered on a "best efforts" basis by the Controlling Shareholders of the Company or with compensation and on a "best efforts" basis through certain FINRA registered broker-dealers, which enter into Participating Broker-Dealer Agreements with the Company. Accordingly, there is no assurance that the Company, or any FINRA broker-dealer, will sell the maximum shares offered or any lesser amount.

U. Projections: Forward Looking Information

Management has prepared some basic projections regarding the Company's anticipated financial performance. The Company's projections are hypothetical and based upon a presumed financial performance of the Company, the addition of a sophisticated and well-funded marketing plan and other factors influencing the Company's business. The projections are based on Management's best estimate of the probable results of operations of the Company, based on present circumstances, and have not been reviewed by the Company's independent accountants. These projections are based on several assumptions, set forth therein, which Management believes are reasonable. Some assumptions, upon which the projections are based, however, invariably will not materialize due to the inevitable occurrence of unanticipated events and circumstances beyond Management's control. Therefore, actual results of operations will vary from the projections, and such variances may be material. Assumptions regarding future changes in sales and revenues are necessarily speculative in nature. In addition, projections do not and cannot take into account such factors as general economic conditions, unforeseen regulatory changes, the entry into the Company's market of additional competitors, the terms and conditions of future capitalization, its affiliates and other risks inherent to the Company's business. While Management believes that the projections accurately reflect possible future results of the Company's operations as a reality TV show created for entertainment purposes only, those results cannot be guaranteed.

W. General Economic Conditions

The financial success of the Company may be sensitive to adverse changes in general economic conditions in the United States, such as recession, inflation, unemployment and interest rates. Such changing conditions could reduce demand in the marketplace for the Company's products. Management believes that the impending growth of the market, mainstream market acceptance and the TV production idea of the Company will insulate the Company from excessive reduced demand. Nevertheless, the Company has no control over these changes.

X. Securities Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) compliance

The SEC oversees the key participants in the securities world, including securities exchanges, securities brokers and dealers, investment advisors, and mutual funds. The SEC is concerned primarily with promoting the disclosure of important market-related information, maintaining fair dealing, and protecting against fraud. Crucial to the SEC's effectiveness in each of these areas is its enforcement authority. Each year the SEC brings hundreds of civil enforcement actions against individuals and companies for violation of the securities laws. Typical infractions include insider trading, accounting fraud, and providing false or misleading information about securities and the companies that issue them.

FINRA stands for the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, a non-governmental agency regulating the securities industry which used to be called the National Association of Securities Dealers.

Although the Company operates as a reality TV show created for entertainment purposes only, it must cooperate with its affiliated entity, the Independent Stock Market Corporation (ISM) which will provide connections and relationships with the funding portals and potentially work with a FINRA sanctioned Broker/Dealer firm(s) to receive and distribute the investment funds and an SEC authorized stock transfer agent. ISM will also work with an escrow service or have the investor invest directly with the issuer. The Company will not handle any investment capital between the investor and the issuer that is presented on our TV show episodes or funding portal and Broker/Dealer partners. Neither the Company nor ISM anticipates handling the investment funds. ISM and the Company do anticipate assisting the issuers in providing access to the potential investors the disclosure documents necessary to make a prudent decision and in cooperation with a Broker/Dealer firm(s). The Company will use its best efforts to comply with SEC and FINRA rules and regulations including not allowing business owners to make an earnings claim or material misstatement. The Company will disclose on the TV and online episodes that the content on the episodes are for entertainment purposes only and that the Company does not make any investment recommendations to potential investors. However, even with these disclosures and compliance and working with affiliated and independent entities there may be unforeseeable risks and expenses and penalties that the Company may endure to continue to comply and cooperate with the SEC and FINRA which could affect the success of the show and/or cause it to eliminate any elements related to investment as part of the TV show episodes based on old and new laws, rules or regulations and/or the interpretation of them by the SEC and FINRA.

Y. Changes in the television industry

The television industry is constantly changing due to the internet and the introduction of new cable companies, broadcast stations and online streaming avenues. The major networks do not have the dominance they once had. Because of this ever changing climate and fierce competition to deliver entertaining content the Company is at risk of diluted viewership and weak distribution. Although the Company believes it can succeed with just online distribution and national syndication that assumption is not based on past experience of the management team and so the assumption is a risk to the potential investors as this type of content distribution to create advertising revenue may not be adequate to support the operation of the Company.

(e) In the event of rejection of this subscription in its entirety, or in the event the sale of the Securities (or any portion thereof) is not consummated for any reason, this Subscription Agreement shall have no force or effect.

2. Purchase Procedure.

The Company represents and warrants to Subscriber that the following representations and warranties are true and complete in all material respects as of the date of each Closing Date, except as otherwise indicated. For purposes of this Agreement, an individual shall be deemed to have “knowledge” of a particular fact or other matter if such individual is actually aware of such fact. The Company will be deemed to have “knowledge” of a particular fact or other matter if one of the Company’s current officers has, or at any time had, actual knowledge of such fact or other matter.

(a) Organization and Standing. The Company is a Corporation duly formed, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Utah. The Company has all requisite power and authority to own and operate its properties and assets, to execute and deliver this Subscription Agreement, and any other agreements or instruments required hereunder. The Company is duly qualified and is authorized to do business and is in good standing as a foreign corporation in all jurisdictions in which the nature of its activities and of its properties (both owned and leased) makes such qualification necessary, except for those jurisdictions in which failure to do so would not have a material adverse effect on the Company or its business.

(b) Voting Rights. The Subscriber acknowledges and accepts the fact that the owners of the Shares are entitled to no voting rights and therefore they are not entitled to exert influence in the affairs of America’s Real Deal or the composition of its board of directors. The owners of the Shares are also entitled no anti-dilution rights (other than proportionate adjustments for stock splits and similar events) and therefore future equity financings may dilute their ownership percentage in America’s Real Deal;

(c) Eligibility of the Company to Make an Offering under Section 4(a)(6). The Company is eligible to make an offering under Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act and the rules promulgated thereunder by the SEC.

(d) Issuance of the Securities. The issuance, sale and delivery of the Securities in accordance with this Subscription Agreement has been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of the Company. The Securities, when so issued, sold and delivered against payment therefor in accordance with the provisions of this Subscription Agreement, will be duly and validly issued and outstanding and will constitute valid and legally binding obligations of the Company enforceable against the Company in accordance with their terms.

(e) Authority for Agreement. The execution and delivery by the Company of this Subscription Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby (including the issuance, sale and delivery of the Securities) are within the Company's powers and have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of the Company. Upon full execution hereof, this Subscription Agreement shall constitute a valid and binding agreement of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with its terms, except (i) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, and other laws of general application affecting enforcement of creditors' rights generally, (ii) as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief, or other equitable remedies and (iii) with respect to provisions relating to indemnification and contribution, as limited by considerations of public policy and by federal or state securities laws.

(f) No filings. Assuming the accuracy of the Subscriber's representations and warranties set forth in Section 4 hereof, no order, license, consent, authorization or approval of, or exemption by, or action by or in respect of, or notice to, or filing or registration with, any governmental body, agency or official is required by or with respect to the Company in connection with the execution, delivery and performance by the Company of this Subscription Agreement except (i) for such filings as may be required under Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act or the rules promulgated thereunder or under any applicable state securities laws, (ii) for such other filings and approvals as have been made or obtained, or (iii) where the failure to obtain any such order, license, consent, authorization, approval or exemption or give any such notice or make any filing or registration would not have a material adverse effect on the ability of the Company to perform its obligations hereunder.

(g) Financial statements. Complete copies of the Company's financial statements consisting of the statement of financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2021, and the related consolidated statements of income and cash flows for the two-year period then ended or since inception (the "Financial Statements") have been made available to the Subscriber and appear in the Offering Statement and on the site of the Intermediary. The Financial Statements are based on the books and records of the Company and fairly present the financial condition of the Company as of the respective dates they were prepared and the results of the operations and cash flows of the Company for the periods indicated. WorthPrime Accounting Services, which has reviewed the Financial Statements, is an independent accounting firm within the rules and regulations adopted by the SEC. The Financial Statements comply with the requirements of Rule 201 of Regulation Crowdfunding, as promulgated by the SEC.

(i) Litigation. There is no pending action, suit, proceeding, arbitration, mediation, complaint, claim, charge or investigation before any court, arbitrator, mediator or governmental body, or to the Company's knowledge, currently threatened in writing (a) against the Company or (b) against any consultant, officer, manager, director or key employee of the Company arising out of his or her consulting, employment or board relationship with the Company or that could otherwise materially impact the Company.

4. Representations and Warranties of Subscriber. By executing this Subscription Agreement, Subscriber (and, if Subscriber is purchasing the Securities subscribed for hereby in a fiduciary capacity, the person or persons for whom Subscriber is so purchasing) represents and warrants, which representations and warranties are true and complete in all material respects as of the date of the Subscriber's Closing Date(s):

(a) Requisite Power and Authority. Such Subscriber has all necessary power and authority under all applicable provisions of law to execute and deliver this Subscription Agreement, the Operating Agreement, and other agreements required hereunder and to carry out their provisions. All action on the Subscriber's part required for the lawful execution and delivery of this Subscription Agreement and other agreements required hereunder have been or will be effectively taken prior to the Closing. Upon their execution and delivery, this Subscription Agreement and other agreements required hereunder will be valid and binding obligations of Subscriber, enforceable in accordance with their terms, except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other laws of general application affecting enforcement of creditors' rights and (b) as limited by general principles of equity that restrict the availability of equitable remedies.

(b) Investment Representations. Subscriber understands that the Securities have not been registered under the Securities Act. Subscriber also understands that the Securities are being offered and sold pursuant to an exemption from registration contained in the Act based in part upon Subscriber's representations contained in this Subscription Agreement.

(c) Illiquidity and Continued Economic Risk. Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that there is no ready public market for the Securities and that there is no guarantee that a market for their resale will ever exist. Subscriber must bear the economic risk of this investment indefinitely and the Company has no obligation to list the Securities on any market or take any steps (including registration under the Securities Act or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended) with respect to facilitating trading or resale of the Securities. Subscriber acknowledges that Subscriber is able to bear the economic risk of losing Subscriber's entire investment in the Securities. Subscriber also understands that an investment in the Company involves significant risks and has taken full cognizance of and understands all of the risk factors relating to the purchase of Securities.

(d) Resales. Subscriber agrees that during the one-year period beginning on the date on which it acquired Securities pursuant to this Subscription Agreement, it shall not transfer such Securities except:

- (i) To the Company;
- (ii) To an "accredited investor" within the meaning of Rule 501 of Regulation D under the Securities Act;
- (iii) As part of an offering registered under the Securities Act with the SEC; or
- (iv) To a member of the Subscriber's family or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the Subscriber, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the Subscriber or equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the Subscriber or other similar circumstance.

(e) Investment Limits. Subscriber represents that either:

- (i) Either of Subscriber's net worth or annual income is less than $107,000, and that the amount it is investing pursuant to this Subscription Agreement, together with all other amounts invested in offerings under Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act within the previous 12 months, is either less than (A) 5% of the greater of its annual income or net worth, or (B) $2,200;
- (ii) Both of Subscriber's net worth and annual income are more than $107,000, and that the amount it is investing pursuant to this Subscription Agreement, together with all other amounts invested in offerings under Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act within the previous 12 months, is less than 10% of the greater of its annual income or net worth, and does not exceed $107,000; or
- (iii) Subscriber is an "accredited investor" within the meaning of Rule 501 of Regulation D under the Securities Act, and no investment limits shall apply.

(f) Subscriber information. Within five days after receipt of a request from the Company, the Subscriber hereby agrees to provide such information with respect to its status as a shareholder (or potential shareholder) and to execute and deliver such documents as may reasonably be necessary to comply with any and all laws and regulations to which the Company is or may become subject. Subscriber further agrees that in the event it transfers any Securities, it will require the transferee of such Securities to agree to provide such information to the Company as a condition of such transfer.

(g) Company Information. Subscriber has read the Offering Statement. Subscriber understands that the Company is subject to all the risks that apply to early-stage companies, whether or not those risks are explicitly set out in the Offering Materials. Subscriber has had an opportunity to discuss the Company's business, management and financial affairs with managers, officers and management of the Company and has had the opportunity to review the Company's operations and facilities. Subscriber has also had the opportunity to ask questions of and receive answers from the Company and its management regarding the terms and conditions of this investment. Subscriber acknowledges that except as set forth herein, no representations or warranties have been made to Subscriber, or to Subscriber's advisors or representative, by the Company or others with respect to the business or prospects of the Company or its financial condition.

(h) Valuation. The Subscriber acknowledges that the price of the Securities was set by the Company on the basis of the Company's internal valuation and no warranties are made as to value. The Subscriber further acknowledges that future offerings of Securities may be made at lower valuations, with the result that the Subscriber's investment will bear a lower valuation.

(i) Domicile. Subscriber maintains Subscriber's domicile (and is not a transient or temporary resident) at the address shown on the signature page.

(j) Foreign Investors. If Subscriber is not a United States person (as defined by Section 7701(a)(30) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended), Subscriber hereby represents that it has satisfied itself as to the full observance of the laws of its jurisdiction in connection with any invitation to subscribe for the Securities or any use of this Subscription Agreement, including (i) the legal requirements within its jurisdiction for the purchase of the Securities, (ii) any foreign exchange restrictions applicable to such purchase, (iii) any governmental or other consents that may need to be obtained, and (iv) the income tax and other tax consequences, if any, that may be relevant to the purchase, holding, redemption, sale, or transfer of the Securities. Subscriber's subscription and payment for and continued beneficial ownership of the Securities will not violate any applicable securities or other laws of the Subscriber's jurisdiction.

5. Revisions to Manner of Holding.

In the event that statutory or regulatory changes are adopted such that it becomes possible for companies whose purpose is limited to acquiring, holding and disposing of securities issued by a single company ("Crowdfunding SPVs") to make offerings under Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act, Subscriber agrees to exchange the Securities for securities issued by a Crowdfunding SPV in a transaction complying with the requirements of Section 3(a)(9) of the Securities Act. Subscriber agrees that in the event the Subscriber does not provide information sufficient to effect such exchange in a timely manner, the Company may repurchase the Securities at a price to be determined by the Board of Directors. Subscriber further agrees to transfer its holdings of securities issued under Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act into "street name" in a brokerage account in Subscriber's name, provided that the Company pay all costs of such transfer. Subscriber agrees that in the event the Subscriber does not provide information sufficient to effect such transfer in a timely manner, the Company may repurchase the Securities at a price to be determined by the Board of Directors.

6. Indemnity. The representations, warranties and covenants made by the Subscriber herein shall survive the closing of this Agreement. The Subscriber agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Company and its respective officers, directors and affiliates, and each other person, if any, who controls the Company within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act against any and all loss, liability, claim, damage and expense whatsoever (including, but not limited to, any and all reasonable attorneys' fees, including attorneys' fees on appeal) and expenses reasonably incurred in investigating, preparing or defending against any false representation or warranty or breach of failure by the Subscriber to comply with any covenant or agreement made by the Subscriber herein or in any other document furnished by the Subscriber to any of the foregoing in connection with this transaction.

Independent Accountant's Review Report

The Board of Directors
Jumpstart Main Street Corporation

I have reviewed the accompanying financial statements of Jumpstart Main Street Corporation, dba America's Real Deal, which comprise the balance sheets as of December 31, 2021 and 2020, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended and the related notes to the financial statements. A review includes primarily applying analytical procedures to management's financial data and making inquiries of company management. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements as a whole. Accordingly, I do not express such an opinion.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Accountant's Responsibility

My responsibility is to conduct the review engagements in accordance with Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services promulgated by the Accounting and Review Services Committee of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Those standards require me to perform procedures to obtain limited assurance as a basis for reporting whether I am aware of any material modifications that should be made to the financial statements for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. I believe that the results of my procedures provide a reasonable basis for our report

Accountant's Conclusion

Based on my reviews, I am not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
