Pro Tip

When you invite a friend, later, ask what they thought of your pitch. Use their feedback to refine it.

The saying is, "ask for advice when you want money." People like being useful.

Besides giving valuable feedback on how to make your pitch easier to understand, your friend will be more likely to invest.

Compliance Information

By law, all public statements made before your Form C is filed (including emails and social media posts) must contain these required disclosures. You should save screenshots of any email templates you use off our platform, since you'll need to file them with your Form C.

Hi, Travis

Many thanks for your kind words.

Wefunder has 1.4 million investors more than 2x than startengine, however they will not promote unless there is $50k in the reserve and our tag will not show up in their general category or tagged section for key words unless there is 50k in it. so we will be looking to look around for that money to get in in the initial stage. wefunder will not charge anything if it is above $25k.

Are you available for a call this weekend or next Monday?

We can discuss about your specific involvement going forward...

Thank you again!

-Ying
