Enabling millions of people to volunteer remotely for campaigns & nonprofits

LEAD INVESTOR

The Juggernaut Project

The team at Shire has an extraordinary vision for a product that will help solve a challenge that most campaigns and nonprofits face: Managing volunteers remotely is very hard. Crucially, it's a problem they've experienced firsthand, which has allowed them to envision a powerful and innovative solution. Remote organizing is only going to become more important in the years to come. We believe that Shire has a very good chance to build a product that plays a key role in facilitating remote organizing and ensuring that it's accessible to everyone. Samantha has put together an impressive team with the skills, experience and tenacity to build something special. We're thrilled to be supporting this exciting project and can't wait to see how much more political campaigns and nonprofits are able to accomplish with Shire's help.

Highlights

- 1 📈 Early Traction: 75+ campaigns & huge nonprofits on the waitlist, including sitting federal reps
- 2 🏳️‍🌈 LGBTQ+ founder with extensive experience in politics, nonprofits & tech startups
- 3 🏠 Built atop open-source technology, Shire already has feature parity with systems like Slack
- 4 ❤️ Shire is dedicated to supporting only progressive campaigns and causes aligned with our values
- 4 ❤️ Shire is dedicated to supporting only progressive campaigns and causes aligned with our values
- 5 🚫 Existing tools don't scale and aren't priced right for political campaigns or nonprofits
- 6 😞 Progressive political campaigns spent $400 million in 2020 alone on volunteer mobilization tools
- 7 🌱 Once established in the political market, the nonprofit market has huge potential for expansion

Our Team

Samantha Boucher Co-founder & CEO

A serial startup early hire & helped scale early-stage startup companies including Handshake, now at 3.5b+ valuation. Served as campaign manager for Democratic U.S. House and U.S. Senate campaigns, with extensive political industry experience.

As a federal campaign manager during the pandemic, I faced the problems of organizing remotely firsthand. Political tech hasn't caught up. This means that progressives and Democrats will continue to lose campaigns we could otherwise win. Volunteers make all the difference, and Shire will bring more to the fight than ever.

Edward Monical-Vuylsteke Co-founder & CTO

Edward is a backend developer and systems architect with 15+ years of experience in building scalable, integrated systems.

Michael Aponte Engineering Director

Michael is an experienced organizing director and full stack engineer with a deep understanding of the needs of movement organizers. He is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Cory Archibald Member of Advisory Board

Cory is a powerful voice in the progressive movement, formerly serving as chair of the board for Brand New Congress. She has directly worked on or advised over 100 campaigns.

Sammy Lowdermilk Member of Advisory Board

Sammy is a tech educator, former Congressional District Director & Campaign Manager with 20+ years experience in local, regional, and national political campaigns.

Jyn Fairchild Advisor, UI/UX Designer

Jyn is a UI/UX designer who cut her teeth at Google, working on UX for multiple products including Youtube & Search. She's a maker, arduino lover, and graduate of Rochester Institute of Technology.

Chat designed for volunteer-heavy organizations

But that's only the beginning..

SHIRE

Our philosophy: Ecosystem first.

We want Shire to be the launching point for the entire civics ecosystem.

That means an open, collaborative approach, and enabling customers, vendors, and tinkerers to build on top of - and easily integrate with - what we create.

COMPETITIVE ANALYSIS

What Are Shire's Most Similar Alternatives?

While Shire does not have any direct competitors, the features may be described as a combination of:

Okta but with a federated network effect for civics volunteers.

Slack but priced to scale for volunteer-heavy organizations.

Mobilize but with a heavier focus on voter contact shifts & team-level events.

Typeform but with a deeply integrated and easy-to-use permissions system to drive onboarding, content, quizzes, etc.

WHAT MAKES US UNIQUE

	Slack	Shire (Pricing WIP)
Peak Active Volunteers		4500-
Total volunteers		72,000

Why Use Shire Instead of Slack?

If we consider Shire's chat module alone - without considering the power of our onboarding, LMS, SSO & events management modules - the advantage is clear. In 2020, the Bernie Sanders campaign was forced to use the heavily restricted free version of Slack for 72,000+ digital volunteers. Dan Woods, CTO for Biden 2020, referred to Biden's campaign infrastructure as "digital duct tape".

OUR 2024 TARGET

Every single race - local to Presidential.

As campaign experts ourselves, we understand the problem of volunteer onboarding, internal communication & a smooth volunteer experience is so ubiquitous that it affects every campaign, large and small.

Just like Slack is ubiquitous in business, Shire will become ubiquitous for campaigns.

Ways To Invest In Shire

Non-Equity Donation

While we are raising funds, we're collecting grassroots donations, too, because it's the fastest way to get money to our efforts.

We are organized as a C-Corp for maximum flexibility. This means there's no $2800 limit on your donation, but it also means it is not tax deductible.
