About

I've led growing technology companies for more than 20 years, operating at the intersection of cutting-edge science and business. My dream is to build a great company - one that will outlive me and that will help transform humanity's fate for the better. History occasionally throws up big discontinuities that give birth to tomorrow's great companies. We are in the midst of such a period. I hope to steer a path through the various chall ...see more

Mike LaMont · 3rd

CTO

July 23, 2020, Mike reported directly to Roy

I worked with Roy for many years, including as a direct report. Roy has a sharp mind, and is able to understand technological principles and science that most CEO's do not. I often would discuss ideas or the current technical path forward, and found Roy to add sound reason and key information to the conversations. Talking with Roy is never an unfruitful use of time. I found Roy approachable to : ...see more

Ramon Gonzalez · 3rd

Professor and Florida 21st Century World Class Scholar, University of South Florida; Editor in Chief, JIMB

July 17, 2020, Ramon worked with Roy but they were at different companies

Roy is a visionary entrepreneur with a talent for identifying transformational technologies that can revolutionize the marketplace. His ability to turn proof-of-concept technologies into successful enterprises is exceptional. Roy is an inspirational leader with great passion and perseverance.

Jeff Lievens · 3rd

Founder & CEO at Lievens Bioengineering LLC (Retired)

April 14, 2020, Jeff worked with Roy but they were at different companies

Roy has all the attributes of a successful entrepreneur, including but not limited to: vision, leadership, ingenuity, persuasion, perseverance, and hard work. I've seen many executives through my long industrial career and consider Roy to be among the very best. As a person, Roy is a pleasure to interact with: engaging, direct, transparent, and intelligent. And he has a wonderful family. ...see more
