BRING PETS AND OWNERS CLOSER TOGETHER

We know how important pets are. And we know how hard it can be for people who can't have a pet due to allergies or who lose a pet way too soon. As a pet biotech leader, Dr. Chin Co-Founded AdoraPet with the goal of using technology that will give people and their pets more time together.

PEOPLE CAN'T HAVE PETS DUE TO ALLERGIES¹

And even “hypoallergenic” pets currently on the market still make the protein that causes allergies, meaning pet-allergy sufferers are still likely to experience symptoms.²

WE PLAN TO ELIMINATE GENES IN PETS THAT CAUSE ALLERGIES IN OWNERS

CRISPR is a Nobel Prize-winning technology scientists can use for gene therapy. We know the genes that cause allergies and shedding in our pets. We plan to use CRISPR technology to edit these genes in embryos, creating allergy-free, long-living pets for everyone.

CRISPR IS A NOBEL PRIZE- WINNING TECHNOLOGY

CRISPR is a natural process where bacteria use special enzymes to find and cut up the DNA of viruses. Scientists realized they could harness this process to edit any DNA strand, opening up the possibility of modifying the genes that causes diseases or repairing mutant DNA. The first scientists who discovered how to use CRISPR won the Nobel Prize.

1. 30% of households can't have pets due to allergies. Source.
2. Currently, there is no such thing as a truly hypoallergenic dog. Although some individual dogs may indeed elicit fewer allergy symptoms than others, studies suggest that there is no specific breed that is truly hypoallergenic. Source.
3. Each person who qualifies for a "Company Perk" will be assigned a spot in line in their respective tier. Once the allotment for each tier is exhausted, there will be no more company perk for that tier this round. The company perks are transferrable and apply to the first animals that are commercialized to the public. Not applicable to those sold to breeders as breeding stock, those provided free of charge, or those used for clinical studies. The perk is not for the animal itself but for the spot in line. Investors who satisfy the criteria for each tier are still required to pay for their AdoraPet animal.
