Respond to each question in each paragraph of this part. Set forth each question and any notes, but not any instructions thereto, in their entirety. If disclosure in response to any question is responsive to one or more other questions, it is not necessary to repeat the disclosure. If a question or series of questions is inapplicable or the response is available elsewhere in the Form, either state that it is inapplicable, include a cross-reference to the responsive disclosure, or omit the question or series of questions.

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

Production Risks: There are numerous factors that affect the yield, size and quality of food crops. For example, weather (drought, floods, heat, ice), crop diseases, pests and infestations, availability and failure of farming equipment and machinery, whether at planting or harvesting, could each and in combination with each other, adversely affect crop production.

Startup Risks. As a newcomer to the farming business, the Company faces many startup challenges. For example, the Company will need to build its reputation as well as its customer, vendor and retailer networks and relationships from the ground up.

Price or Market Risks. The pricing of crops often fluctuates. The nature of price risk may vary significantly from crop to crop. Price fluctuation of the crops in which the Company sells could adversely affect demand for its crops. Moreover, the Company could enter into options or futures contracts in which price fluctuations could adversely affect the Company's profits and financial operations.

Debt and Financial Risks. Farming could be a highly leveraged business. The Company currently and intends to borrow significant capital to acquire land and machinery as well as for general working expenses. Rising interest rate environments, restricted credit and inability of Company to repay its debt obligations as they come due could adversely affect the Company's business and financial position.

Supply Chain and Logistical Risks. The Company heavily relies on farming labor, equipment and machinery for its operations. Labor and equipment shortages and supply chain disruptions, similar to the ones manifesting in the current economy, could adversely affect the Company to conduct its operations.

Competition Risks. Farming is an intensively competitive business for many of the crops that the Company currently intends to plant, harvest and sell. The Company faces competition from other farming operations, many of which are more established, are better funded and have significant more resources and marketing power than the Company. Some of these competitors may also be overseas operations whose crops are produced cheaper and imported and sold to consumers at a lower price than the crops that would be offered by the Company. Moreover, as an early-stage Company and newcomer to the farming business, any of the risks mentioned in this section could have a disproportionate effect on the business and reputation of the Company compared to its more established competitors who may be more isolated or resilient to such risks because of their size.

Accident and Litigation Risks. Farming is a risky business. Diseased crop yields could result in illnesses or even death for consumers, which could subject the Company to devastating lawsuits and investigations as well harm to its reputation. Moreover, injuries and accidents could occur on the farmlands and other Company premises and subject the Company to expensive litigation and threaten its business.

Institutional Risks. The Company faces risks from government actions and policies. For example, changes in tax laws, regulations relating to farming and subsidies could adversely affect the Company's business.

Environmental changes caused by climate change may harm the Company's business. Because the Company acquires and grows crops and plants on agricultural land, it could be subject to various setbacks if global temperatures continue to rise. For example, the increasing global temperature could result in a change to Florida's climate which in turn could result in a reduction in the Company's crop yields due to inadequate soil conditions and the increase of natural disasters. Not only that, but the changing climate could adversely impact the Company's agricultural farmland by increasing the population of various pests and insects that could decimate the Company's otherwise healthy crops even with proper safeguards in place.

There are risks associated with investing in a single-founder company. The Company is founded by Sasi Kanth Vallem. Thus, an investment in the Company will be partly based on the belief that Mr. Vallem will be successful in operating and growing the Company. Even though Mr. Vallem has been successful in his other ventures, there is no guarantee that he will be able to replicate his prior successes with this Company. There is also the risk that any event in which affects Mr. Vallem, whether death, disability, bankruptcy or scandals, could adversely affect the future of the Company.

Lack of demand for tropical crops may harm the Company's business. In addition to environmental risks facing the Company, there are also market risks relating to how customers will react to tropical crops. For example, certain customers may not want to purchase tropical crops and might prefer traditional crops that are already proven to be in demand in major agricultural markets. The Company has identified that tropical crop production has historically been low in the United States which presents a unique opportunity to capitalize. However, it is possible that the lack of efforts to produce tropical crops in the United States indicates that the practice is unlikely to be commercially viable. In such event, the Company may suffer material damage to its reputation and/or incur significant costs, all of which could adversely affect the Company and its business.

The lack of viable agricultural land available for purchase may harm the Company's business. The Company's business model is partially dependent on the Company's ability to acquire agriculturally viable land to produce crops and, eventually, to develop the land purchased for future real estate development. Many factors entirely outside the Company's control could impact the availability of agricultural land for purchase and development. For example, increased consumer demand to purchase agricultural land, urban expansion into otherwise viable agricultural land, and changing environmental conditions impacting the availability and viability of agricultural land could all limit Company's ability to purchase agricultural land. If the Company is unable to buy additional land for farming and development on commercially reasonable terms, then the Company could suffer adverse impacts to its business.

Our success depends on our ability to successfully yield crops and plants as well as our ability to innovate. The overall economic outlook for agriculture in the United States is uncertain. As a result of supply chain shortages and rising consumer demand, inflation is expected to play a major role in the agricultural economy in the future. Moreover, beyond the economic uncertainties facing the agricultural economy, the ever-worsening climate crisis facing the global population presents existential threats to the entire farming industry. Our ability to attract new customers and increase revenue from existing customers will depend in large part on our ability to successfully grow crops and develop or enhance our existing agricultural land to provide new real estate and ecotourism opportunities to customers. To achieve market acceptance for our crops and plants, we must effectively anticipate and offer crops, plants, and experiences that meet changing customer demands in a timely manner. We may experience difficulties that could delay or prevent our timely production of various crops and plants, or our eventual development of real estate properties on our agricultural land. If we are unable to successfully navigate the worsening global climate change crisis, enhance our existing crops to anticipate and meet customer preferences, acquire and develop new agricultural land, or adapt to changing industry standards, our revenue and results of operations would be adversely affected.

See Offering Memorandum for additional non-exhaustive risk factors relating to the Company its business and the shares and this offering.

Sarat Vemuri and Prabhakar Mamidipudi are part-time officers. As such, it is likely that the company will not make the same progress as it would if that were not the case.

Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team. The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel we require to successfully grow our business.

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 8: Avoid generalized statements and include only those factors that are unique to the issuer. Discussion should be tailored to the issuer's business and the offering and should not repeat the factors addressed in the legends set forth above. No specific number of risk factors is required to be identified.

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 10: An issuer must provide a reasonably detailed description of any intended use of proceeds, such that investors are provided with an adequate amount of information to understand how the offering proceeds will be used. If an issuer has identified a range of possible uses, the issuer should identify and describe each probable use and the factors the issuer may consider in allocating proceeds among the potential uses. If the issuer will accept proceeds in excess of the target offering amount, the issuer must describe the purpose, method for allocating oversubscriptions, and intended use of the excess proceeds with similar specificity. Please include all potential uses of the proceeds of the offering, including any that may apply only in the case of oversubscriptions. If you do not do so, you may later be required to amend your Form C. Wefunder is not responsible for any failure by you to describe a potential use of offering proceeds.

DELIVERY & CANCELLATIONS

11. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

Book Entry and Investment in the Co-Issuer. Investors will make their investments by investing in interests issued by one or more co-issuers, each of which is a special purpose vehicle ("SPV"). The SPV will invest all amounts it receives from investors in securities issued by the Company. Interests issued to investors by the SPV will be in book entry form. This means that the investor will not receive a certificate representing his or her investment. Each investment will be recorded in the books and records of the SPV. In addition, investors' interests in the investments will be recorded in each investor's "Portfolio" page on the Wefunder platform. All references in this Form C to an Investor's investment in the Company (or similar phrases) should be interpreted to include investments in a SPV.

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment).

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned.

An Investor's right to cancel. An Investor may cancel his or her investment commitment at any time until 48 hours prior to the offering deadline.

If there is a material change to the terms of the offering or the information provided to the investor about the offering and/or the Company, the investor will be provided notice of the change and must re-confirm his or her investment commitment within five business days of receipt of the notice. If the investor does not reconfirm, he or she will receive notifications disclosing that the commitment was cancelled, the reason for the cancellation, and the refund amount that the investor is required to receive. If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the Investor's funds will be returned within five business days.

Within five business days of cancellation of an offering by the Company, the Company will give each Investor notification of the cancellation, disclose the reason for the cancellation, identify the refund amount the Investor will receive, and refund the Investor's funds.

The Company's right to cancel. The Investment Agreement you will execute with us provides the Company the right to cancel for any reason before the offering deadline.

If the sum of the investment commitments from all investors does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the time of the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.

Ownership and Capital Structure

THE OFFERING

13. Describe the terms of the securities being offered.

Priced Round: $18,327,958.00 pre-money valuation

See exact security attached as Appendix B, Investor Contracts

VVF AgTech, Inc. is offering up to 600,000 shares of Series Seed-6 Preferred Stock, at a price per share of $2.

The campaign maximum is $1,200,000 and the campaign minimum is $100,000.

Securities Issued by the SPV

Instead of issuing its securities directly to investors, the Company has decided to issue its securities to the SPV, which will then issue interests in the SPV to investors. The SPV is formed concurrently with the filing of the Form C. Given this, the SPV does not have any financials to report. The SPV is managed by Wefunder Admin, LLC and is a co-issuer with the Company of the securities being offered in this offering. The Company's use of the SPV is intended to allow investors in the SPV to achieve the same economic exposure, voting power, and ability to assert State and Federal law rights, and receive the same disclosures, as if they had invested directly in the Company. The Company's use of the SPV will not result in any additional fees being charged to investors.

The SPV has been organized and will be operated for the sole purpose of directly acquiring, holding and disposing of the Company's securities, will not borrow money and will use all of the proceeds from the sale of its securities solely to purchase a single class of securities of the Company. As a result, an investor investing in the Company through the SPV will have the same relationship to the Company's securities, in terms of number, denomination, type and rights, as if the investor invested directly in the Company.

Voting Rights

If the securities offered by the Company and those offered by the SPV have voting rights, those voting rights may be exercised by the investor or his or her proxy. The applicable proxy is the Lead Investor, if the Proxy (described below) is in effect.

Proxy to the Lead Investor

The SPV securities have voting rights. With respect to those voting rights, the investor and his, her, or its transferees or assignees (collectively, the "Investor"), through a power of attorney granted by Investor in the Investor Agreement, has appointed or will appoint the Lead Investor as the Investor's true and lawful proxy and attorney (the "Proxy") with the power to act alone and with full power of substitution, on behalf of the Investor to: (i) vote all securities related to the Company purchased in an offering hosted by Wefunder Portal, and (ii) execute, in connection with such voting power, any instrument or document that the Lead Investor determines is necessary and appropriate in the exercise of his or her authority. Such Proxy will be irrevocable by the Investor unless and until a successor lead investor ("Replacement Lead Investor") takes the place of the Lead Investor. Upon notice that a Replacement Lead Investor has taken the place of the Lead Investor, the Investor will have five (5) calendar days to revoke the Proxy. If the Proxy is not revoked within the 5-day time period, it shall remain in effect.

Restriction on Transferability

The SPV securities are subject to restrictions on transfer, as set forth in the Subscription Agreement and the Limited Liability Company Agreement of Wefunder SPV, LLC, and may not be transferred without the prior approval of the Company, on behalf of the SPV.

14. Do the securities offered have voting rights?

- Yes
 No

15. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above?

See the above description of the Proxy to the Lead Investor.

16. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

The terms of the securities being offered are set forth in the Company's Second Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation and may be amended in accordance with the terms therein and Delaware corporate law. The terms of the securities being offered are set forth in the definitive documents and may be amended pursuant to the terms set forth therein.

RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER OF THE SECURITIES BEING OFFERED:

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

1. to the issuer;
2. to an accredited investor;
3. as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or
4. to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

NOTE: The term "accredited investor" means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person.

The term "member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent" includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term "spousal equivalent" means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

DESCRIPTION OF ISSUER'S SECURITIES

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Series Seed-3 Preferred Stock	1,500,000	1,250,000	Yes ▾

Series Seed-1 Preferred Stock	1,666,670	1,388,866	Yes ▾

Series Seed-6 Preferred	600,000	0	Yes ▾

Securities Reserved for Issuance upon Exercise or Conversion

Warrants: _____
Options: 860,624

Describe any other rights:

The Preferred Stock has a liquidation preference such that if the company is sold or its assets are distributed, holders of Preferred Stock will get paid back their investment amount before holders of Common Stock receive anything.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

The rights of the securities being offered are set forth in the Company's Second Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation. The securities being offered may be diluted by additional issuances of securities in the future.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the shareholders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the value of the Investor's securities in the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, the shareholders may change the terms of the Articles of Incorporation for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The shareholders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. They may also vote to engage in new offerings and/or to register certain of the Company's securities in a way that negatively affects the value of the securities the Investor owns. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the Investor, leaving the Investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns. The shareholders have the right to redeem their securities at any time. Shareholders could decide to force the Company to redeem their securities at a time that is not favorable to the Investor and is damaging to the Company. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability. In cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional stock, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risks described above, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

In the future, we will perform valuations of our common stock that take into account factors such as the following:

1. unrelated third party valuations of our common stock;
2. the price at which we sell other securities, such as convertible debt or preferred Stock, in light of the rights, preferences and privileges of our those securities relative to those of our common stock;
3. our results of operations, financial position and capital resources;
4. current business conditions and projections;
5. the lack of marketability of our common stock;
6. the hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management;
7. the introduction of new products;
8. the risk inherent in the development and expansion of our products;
9. our stage of development and material risks related to our business;
10. the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a sale of our company given the prevailing market conditions and the nature and history of our business;
11. industry trends and competitive environment;
12. trends in consumer spending, including consumer confidence;
13. overall economic indicators, including gross domestic product, employment, inflation and interest rates; and
14. the general economic outlook.

We will analyze factors such as those described above using a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value. For example, we may use methodologies that assume that businesses operating in the same industry will share similar characteristics and that the Company's value will correlate to those characteristics, and/or methodologies that compare transactions in similar securities issued by us that were conducted in the market.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company, and thus be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Board Of Directors, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Board Of Directors of the Company.

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional issuances of securities. Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company. If the Board Of Directors of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Some of the information contained in this discussion and analysis, including information regarding the strategy and plans for our business, includes forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. You should review the "Risk Factors" section for a discussion of important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the results described in or implied by the forward-looking statements contained in the following discussion and analysis.

Overview

VVF AgTech, Inc.'s vision is to make farming a profitable venture with the combination of safe farmland, real estate assets, and technology utilization in diversified farming businesses. With multiple lines of farming-related businesses, the Company takes necessary steps to ensure risks of farming are mitigated. #### Historical Results of Operations

Our company was organized in January 2022 and has limited operations upon which prospective investors may base an evaluation of its performance.

Liquidity & Capital Resources

To-date, the company has been financed with $2,340,000 in debt and $4,161,900 in equity.

After the conclusion of this Offering, should we hit our minimum funding target, our projected runway is 3 months before we need to raise further capital. We plan to use the proceeds as set forth in this Form C under "Use of Funds". We don't have any other sources of capital in the immediate future. We will likely require additional financing in excess of the proceeds from the Offering in order to perform operations over the lifetime of the Company.

We plan to raise capital in 6 months. Except as otherwise described in this Form C, we do not have additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the offering. Because of the complexities and uncertainties in establishing a new business strategy, it is not possible to adequately project whether the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to enable us to implement our strategy. This complexity and uncertainty will be increased if less than the maximum amount of securities offered in this offering is sold. The Company intends to raise additional capital in the future from investors. Although capital may be available for early-stage companies, there is no guarantee that the Company will receive any investments from investors.

Runway & Short/Mid Term Expenses

VVF AgTech, Inc. cash in hand is $177,867.33, as of December 2023. Over the last three months, revenues have averaged $33,082/month, cost of goods sold has averaged $91,025/month, and operational expenses have averaged $19,396/month, for an average burn rate of $77,339 per month. Our intent is to be profitable in 12 months.

Since the date of our financials cover we:

- Increased in sales volume
- Our previous year's Revenue of $500k was achieved in less than 8 months
- Addition of New Product lines
- Sharp Drop in sales returns
- Increase in Employee/ Staff Strength
- Increase Order volume by Regular Customers
- Increase in the number of new regular Customers
- Investments into Farm Land & Biological Assets
- Increased Investor Confidence and inflow of Angel Investments at regular intervals

We are a revenue generating business in Greenhouse segment of our business with improving margins we expect to break even in 12 months in this segment. Capital shall be mainly required in our Tropical Tree segment as it takes typically 3 years to reach it's potential to generate revenues. To sustain for this time frame estimated capital required shall be $1 million approximately for 1 year. Our projected revenue and expenses in next 3-6 months is 25% increased from "Financial Information" below. The company is not profitable as of now, as mentioned above Tropical tree segment of our business takes around 3 years to generate revenue and this segment is at its nascent stages and has great future potential. Our Greenhouse business is a regular revenue generating business. We are changing the crops in the greenhouse from commodity cucumbers to speciality vegetables for higher revenue and profitability. Angel Investors invest in our company regularly. Due to the long term nature of our company, it would take 3 years for tropical trees part of the business to be profitable. Cucumber greenhouses part of the business breakeven and profitability is within 12 months. We have farmland assets that we sell through our platform which will give us necessary cashflow.

All projections in the above narrative are forward-looking and not guaranteed.

OTHER MATERIAL INFORMATION

31. In addition to the information expressly required to be included in this Form, include:

- (1) any other material information presented to investors; and
- (2) such further material information, if any, as may be necessary to make the required statements, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

The Lead Investor. As described above, each Investor that has entered into the Investor Agreement will grant a power of attorney to make voting decisions on behalf of that Investor to the Lead Investor (the "Proxy"). The Proxy is irrevocable unless and until a Successor Lead Investor takes the place of the Lead Investor, in which case, the Investor has a five (5) calendar day period to revoke the Proxy. Pursuant to the Proxy, the Lead Investor or his or her successor will make voting decisions and take any other actions in connection with the voting on Investors' behalf.

The Lead Investor is an experienced investor that is chosen to act in the role of Lead Investor on behalf of Investors that have a Proxy in effect. The Lead Investor will be chosen by the Company and approved by Wefunder Inc. and the identity of the initial Lead Investor will be disclosed to Investors before Investors make a final investment decision to purchase the securities related to the Company.

The Lead Investor can quit at any time or can be removed by Wefunder Inc. for cause or pursuant to a vote of investors as detailed in the Lead Investor Agreement. In the event the Lead Investor quits or is removed, the Company will choose a Successor Lead Investor who must be approved by Wefunder Inc. The identity of the Successor Lead Investor will be disclosed to Investors, and those that have a Proxy in effect can choose to either leave such Proxy in place or revoke such Proxy during a 5-day period beginning with notice of the replacement of the Lead Investor.

The Lead Investor will not receive any compensation for his or her services to the SPV. The Lead Investor may receive compensation if, in the future, Wefunder Advisors LLC forms a fund ("Fund") for accredited investors for the purpose of investing in a non-Regulation Crowdfunding offering of the Company. In such a circumstance, the Lead Investor may act as a portfolio manager for that Fund (and as a supervised person of Wefunder Advisors) and may be compensated through that role.

Although the Lead Investor may act in multiple roles with respect to the Company's offerings and may potentially be compensated for some of its services, the Lead Investor's goal is to maximize the value of the Company and therefore maximize the value of securities issued by or related to the Company. As a result, the Lead Investor's interests should always be aligned with those of Investors. It is, however, possible that in some limited circumstances the Lead Investor's interests could diverge from the interests of Investors, as discussed in section 8 above.

Investors that wish to purchase securities related to the Company through Wefunder Portal must agree to give the Proxy described above to the Lead Investor, provided that if the Lead Investor is replaced, the Investor will have a 5-day period during which he or she may revoke the Proxy. If the Proxy is not revoked during this 5-day period, it will remain in effect.

Tax Filings. In order to complete necessary tax filings, the SPV is required to include information about each investor who holds an interest in the SPV, including each investor's taxpayer identification number ("TIN") (e.g., social security number or employer identification number). To the extent they have not already done so, each investor will be required to provide their TIN within the earlier of (i) two (2) years of making their investment or (ii) twenty (20) days prior to the date of any distribution from the SPV. If an investor does not provide their TIN within this time, the SPV reserves the right to withhold from any proceeds otherwise payable to the Investor an amount necessary for the SPV to satisfy its tax withholding obligations as well as the SPV's reasonable estimation of any penalties that may be charged by the IRS or other relevant authority as a result of the investor's failure to provide their TIN. Investors should carefully review the terms of the SPV Subscription Agreement for additional information about tax filings.

INSTRUCTIONS TO QUESTION 30: If information is presented to investors in a format, media or other means not able to be reflected in text or portable document format, the issuer should include:

- (a) a description of the material content of such information;*
- (b) a description of the format in which such disclosure is presented; and*
- (c) in the case of disclosure in video, audio or other dynamic media or format, a transcript or description of such disclosure.*

ONGOING REPORTING

120 days after the end of each fiscal year covered by the report.

33. Once posted, the annual report may be found on the issuer's website at:

<https://vfvagtech.com/invest>

The issuer must continue to comply with the ongoing reporting requirements until:

1. the issuer is required to file reports under Exchange Act Sections 13(a) or 15(d);

3. the issuer has filed at least three annual reports and has total assets that do not exceed $10 million;
