Co-Founder at Transcend Network | Inaugural Class at Minerva University | Forbes 30u30

Madrid, Community of Madrid, Spain

Summary

I am the co-founder of Transcend Network, the most global network of founders building the future of learning and work. We have supported 180 founders from 40 countries, who have gone on to raise $160M after joining the Transcend Fellowship. I'm also the General Partner at Transcend Fund, where we are first-check investors in global founders building the future of learning and work.

I was a part of the Inaugural class at Minerva Schools, which took me on a journey through 6 different countries where I spent my time exploring projects in venture capital and startups, economic development and education. I was also a part of the most recent class of Forbes 30 under 30 Education group, but I prefer to talk about education, history, music, basketball or improv
