About

Joshua Host is a mission driven founder with a track record of creating over $240 million in real estate development projects, hotels, call centers and tech ventures.

Starting in 2001, Joshua was a securities broker for a California based broker dealer, holding his Series 22 and 63 licenses while raising capital for public and private placements in the entertainment space. In addition to fundraising Joshua held a California Sales Person license and raised debt for developers, and investors.

In 2005, Joshua started a real estate company that focused on re-positioning distressed assets and was named one of the fastest growing private companies in Orange County in 2008/2009.

In 2006, Joshua co-founded a 150 seat call center in Bogota Colombia that managed customer acquisition accounts for 22 companies in 9 countries.

In 2008, Joshua created a community home ownership program which offered over 500 redeveloped homes nationwide to low income families with seller financing for less than they pay in rent.

In 2011, Joshua Co-founded Urban Village, a mixed use land development company dedicated to developing projects in urban infill locations that support the live-work-play revolution.

In 2015, Joshua founded Mariachi Cover Band, an experiential space development company, specializing in adaptive reuse of mixed-use buildings for long term hold.

In 2017, Joshua founded Antiresort, a hospitality development company that acquires, develops and manages international resorts that drip authenticity and adventure. Antiresort has two operating projects and is actively seeking new locations.

In 2020, Joshua founded Thrivelab, a concierge medicine and healthtech platform on a mission to make hormone health accessible and affordable nationwide.

Joshua is the founder of the Mizata English Academy, that provides English classes for El Salvadoran youth and co-founder of the Street Artist in Residence Program, that provides 30-90 day residencies for international street artists. Joshua obtained his MBA, Cum Laude at Pepperdine University.

Co-Founder / Managing Partner at DO Income Fund, LLC

November 15, 2013, Thomas worked with Joshua but they were at different companies

Josh is an incredibly driven individual who seeks out knowledge and has the persistence to outlast anything. He is constantly innovating what modern concepts of work-live means along with how collaborative efforts should be. If I was to ever trust someone to accomplish a project it would be Mr. Host. An excellent businessman, father, and friend.
