The First Safe & Secure Reseller Marketplace

 netsave

Fraud, scams and unsafe reseller transactions are in the past. Netsave is a safer and more sustainable resale social marketplace, powered by livestream and same-day delivery, creating a more secure and reliable community.

The reseller market is plagued by numerous issues that hinder its safety, efficiency and reliability. Platforms like OfferUp, Craigslist, Facebook Marketplace, PoshMark, and WhatNot, fall short delivering positive experiences. The lack of standardized processes and inadequate security measures leave users vulnerable to fraud, scams and disappointing transactions.

Common Issues & Challenges

- NO robust verification system for both buyers and sellers: This leads to fake listings, misrepresented items, unreliable buyers and scams.
- Fraud & Misrepresentation: Users frequently encounter situations where sellers don't accurately describe items leading to disputes upon delivery.
- Lack of Follow-up: Buyers may fail to follow through with payments or pick-ups, wasting sellers' time or worse, putting their safety at risk.
- Anonymous Transactions: The anonymity provided by these platforms can also attract malicious actors who exploit the system for fraudulent activities.
- NO Secure Delivery: Current platforms require cumbersome scheduling and can lead to risky in-person meetings, potential theft, or payment fraud.
- NO Support: The absence of a standardized dispute resolution process or 24/7 support leaves users with little recourse when transactions go awry.

These issues collectively contribute to a lack of trust in the reseller ecosystem, deterring potential users and limiting the growth and efficiency of the market as a whole.

The Reseller Revolution

Netsave addresses these challenges with an industry-first comprehensive solution:

- Verified Sellers: Every seller is fully verified to reinforce our trust and safety policies through a reliable platform.

INTERVIEW WITH THE FOUNDER

crowd^{ig}y

Interview with Justin Georges, CEO, Netsave

Q: Was there a defining moment when you knew Netsave had to exist?

Justin:

"When I was setting up my last business, I needed to buy office furniture. I thought it would be simple—just find a few desks, some chairs, and move on. But the reality? It was a nightmare. Every platform I used—Craigslist, Facebook Marketplace, even OfferUp—was full of unreliable sellers, no-shows, and people who either didn't have what they listed or changed the price last minute."

"I remember driving 45 minutes to pick up a set of chairs, only for the seller to ghost me when I arrived. Another time, I showed up with cash in hand, and the seller suddenly decided they 'already sold it' but had something else to offer—something I didn't need. It was frustrating, time-consuming, and made me realize how broken the system is."

"I kept thinking: Why isn't there a better way to buy and sell locally without all this hassle? Why isn't there a platform that actually ensures trust and reliability? That's why we built Netsave—to take the uncertainty out of local selling, to make sure buyers and sellers can actually trust the process."

Q: What is your ultimate dream for Netsave, beyond just financial success?

Justin:

"I want Netsave to become a household name. Not just a company—but a community pillar.

I want people to feel like they can trust their local economy again. To know that when they sell something, they're not taking a risk. To feel safe in their own neighborhood. To empower local sellers, small businesses, and families to make extra income without fear."

Q: Why do you think right now is the best time for investors to get behind Netsave?

Justin:

"At the beginning, I just wanted to see if we had something. I personally took on the risk, tested the idea, and built the foundation before asking anyone else to invest. Now, the product is built. The problem is clearer than ever. The demand is real. It's no longer an idea—it's a movement."

People are tired of marketplace scams. They're tired of sketchy meetups. They're tired of feeling unsafe. And they deserve better. We've done the groundwork. Now, it's time to scale. That's why this is the perfect moment for investors to step in—because Netsave is ready to grow."
