Zusammenfassung

Born in Germany, with a Bachelor's degree in Finance & Economics and a Master's degree in Management, I worked as the Head of Operations & Finance for internationally operating companies in a variety of industries before turning my passion for the outdoors and sustainability into my life's purpose and starting a whole new chapter. Today, I run the North American business of GOT BAG out of beautiful Portland, Oregon. As a father, I try to set an example by contributing to a better future for my daughter by helping to clean our oceans from plastic pollution with innovative products made from recycled ocean plastic. #
