Show Production

Operations/Music Production Director

April 2005 - Present (18 years 5 months)

United States

Working within the entertainment industry is not for the weary. My extensive management/director experience with a complete understanding of the entertainment industry combined with extensive executive management offer only the highest level of understanding and dedication towards entertainment production, promotion and direction. I'm proud of the agency and entertainment contacts I've acquired knowing that top names in entertainment are just a phone call away.

- Responsible for venue production and direction addressing operational procedures, departmental communication, sales & marketing review/collaboration, resource responsibility and delegation.

Personnel direction within a positive environment, offering proven methodology, creative thinking, employee participation, listening and rewarding.

- Entertainment contractual review and negotiations, Providing solid business solutions to meet strategic requirements, controlling capital expenditures and operating costs within budgetary constraints. Understanding of departmental responsibilities/procedures towards robustness, resiliency and the ability to make decisions and accommodate out of the ordinary interruptions towards day-to-day operations and if necessary, facilitate prompt restoration without escalating to costly disaster recovery procedures.

- Personally responsible for artist production/development, partnering and/or coordinating the visual/audio and set design while working with the artist to bring the production experience to the highest level.

In summary, there is no question that maintaining a skilled staff to promote smooth, continuous, and efficient operations to meet project demands, deadlines and budget are the normality of business but, the entertainment business is not the norm. It takes years of working it to understand the operations of the industry. Years of business experience along with entertainment experience are what it takes to be on top of your game and succeed with absolute confidence.

Sign Smart, Inc.

President

February 1991 - January 2005 (14 years)

Making the decision to put aside my music career to start a family was emotionally challenging yet was so rewarding. During my development and expansion of Sign Smart, I raised 2 beautiful daughters and still maintained a support base for the local and national music artists by providing and fulfilling their set design needs. Whether those needs were backdrops, graphic services, web design or even as an investing partner in a production resulting in a positive return, I did what I could for the music industry.

As CEO, my duties never ended.

- Responsible for implementing an organizational structure that addresses logistics, procedures and information management towards the sign/graphics/display business.
- Supported multiple operating sites appropriate for supporting the business activities of the institution offering creative, strategic thinking towards marketing development utilizing industry targeting with the approach of "Strategize and Execution".
- Provided solutions which met strategic requirements with reduced resources to control capital expenditures and operating costs.
- Provided training to management personnel for departmental responsibilities/procedures towards robustness, resiliency, handle and accommodate interruptions to operations and to facilitate prompt restoration without escalating to more drastic and costly recovery procedures.
- Maintaining a skilled staff to promote smooth, continuous, and efficient operations to meet project deadlines and demands.

Roadhouse Band - Inducted into LV Rock & Roll Hall of Fame

Drummer/Backup Singer

November 1982 - March 1984 (1 year 5 months)

Las Vegas, Nevada Area

I joined the well known band Roadhouse as their final drummer before their retirement. Roadhouse produced vinyl albums and was very popular during the 70s and 80s. It was this notoriety the brought us to be inducted into the Las Vegas Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 2013. We, as musicians, practice, rehearse, endure long drives every week for years and glad to do it all over again for that moment of glory on stage.
