Summary

As the founder of Live BFF, I am on a mission to reinvent the home engineering process and solve the housing crisis, for good. With over 15 years of experience in the construction and maintenance industry, I have created a manufacturing process that produces the highest quality minimalistic homes on the market today.

I am also the founder and chief solutions officer of Better Future Facilities, Inc., a company that accelerates the world's transition to self-empowerment through high-quality products, installation methods, and exceptional attention to detail. I have a strong focus on client sales, strategic planning, and business development, ensuring that our customers are well educated on various construction and maintenance options. I am passionate about using common sense and solid business practices when building any organization, especially a world-class problem-solving and people-connecting platform.
