

Craig,

Thanks again for letting me crash at your place. Would you be willing to be the lead investor for our Wefunder campaign? Here's the deal. Wefunder changed a bit in the past month and it turns out that the lead investor is shown in the investment profile but does not get highlighted anymore. That means it's less about sending signals to future investors but more about controlling votes. The lead investor has power of attorney to control the votes over whatever we raise through Wefunder. In other words, I want a friend to do it. The minimum is $5k and if things go bad, you have my word I'll make you whole.
