U.C. San Diego Validates SofPulse® as Breakthrough in Post-Op Pain Relief

The pilot study results validate that SofPulse® reduces pain and inflammation. It is now positioned to become a breakthrough post operative pain relief device.

“Pulsed shortwave therapy reduced pain significantly in just one week - with no adverse events reported.” - Neuromodulation: “Technology at the Neural Interface” published June 2025.

The study provides compelling new clinical evidence that reinforces the core promise of SofPulse®: to accelerate recovery while reducing reliance on opioids and other pain medicines.

According to this study, SofPulse® - our FDA-cleared PEMF® device reduced:

- Post-operative pain by 38.2%
- Opioid use by 41%

All within the first 3 days of recovery!

This data underscores what we’ve long believed: SofPulse® is not just a device - it’s a needed drug-free solution to combat opioid use in patient surgical care.

Link to U.C. San Diego study

<https://lnkd.in/e6GdAHbY>

Next Step:

We are building on this momentum by negotiating a multi-clinical trial with U.C. San Diego to expand treatment validation.

Your investment in SofPulse® does more than fund a device. It fuels a future where post-surgical pain doesn’t become lifelong addiction.

Here's what your support enables:

- A definitive multi-site study for medical insurance reimbursement;
- Expansion into eldercare, VA, and global markets; and
- Continued clinical validation and market access.

We are already in the Federal Supply Schedule for distribution to over 15 million patients in the VA and Dept of Defense.

SofPulse is not just another medical device. It is a game-changing advancement in post-surgical pain management. Our technology uses pulsed electromagnetic fields to activate the body's natural recovery processes. The result is a 275 percent faster reduction in pain, swelling, and inflammation than the alternative. All without a single pill.

We are solving a critical gap in modern healthcare. Patients are often sent home from surgery with only two options: opioids or outdated anti-inflammatory drugs. We offer a third option that is non-invasive, effective, and trusted by medical professionals across the country.

With more than fourteen clinical studies behind us and real-world adoption already underway, this is the perfect time to reserve your shares. Be part of a company with real traction, a clear vision, and a mission that matters.
