• Net Loss: The company incurred a net loss of $150,446.94 for the year, primarily driven by operating expenses required to support our product development and marketing activities. • Capital Investments: The company invested in essential technology assets, including a MacBook Pro and brand awareness. While no revenue was generated during this period, the company strategically invested in general and administrative costs, sales and marketing efforts, and essential professional services.

operational and marketing expenses to establish a foundation for future growth. Significant expenses included an iPhone 15 Pro Max, to support the team's operations. These investments reflect the commitment to equipping the team with necessary tools for productivity and success. • Funding Activities: Cyasoon received additional paid-in capital from founders and early investors, contributing $267,019.98 in financing, ensuring sufficient liquidity for ongoing operations.

The company is actively pursuing its fundraising efforts to support further development, marketing, and operational scaling. Management remains optimistic about future revenue growth as the app gains traction in the and expenses.

Cyasoon did not generate revenue during 2023. Future revenues will be recognized when earned and realizable, typically when services are provided, and payment is reasonably assured.

Depreciation and Amortization: Fixed assets such as computers, phones, and cameras are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. Intangible assets, including domains, are amortized on a straight-line basis over their expected benefit period. Expense Recognition:

Use of Estimates:

Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Expenses are recognized when incurred. Operating expenses include costs related to general and administrative, sales and marketing, and professional services that support business operations and development.
