Hey Matt,

Thanks again for the time. To just repeat what we just said, I actually haven't told my team we are doing this, so if it can stay in the "cone of silence" for a few more weeks, that would be much appreciated.

If anyone on your team has any more questions, I'd be happy to hop on a call, or even fly out to answer them in person. I attached our preliminary deck, and I'll send over the more polished assets when they become available.

I appreciate the time, and as always, consider me a resource even if you want to bounce any big ideas you are kicking around.
