Experience

Startup Science

Senior VP Operations

May 2021 - Present (4 years 9 months)

Startup Science serves the founders and innovators who are working to make an impact on our world. Our mission is to help founders and startups design their success.

We believe that entrepreneurship is the solution to wealth inequality (and the data backs that up).

Founders need help from accelerators, investors, and collaborators to thrive. They need connections into the ecosystem and education to make those connections possible.

Startup Science provides a platform for founders to educate themselves in startup methodologies (to de-risk and thrive) and to connect into the ecosystem.

The democratization of education is a shared goal. Our educational resources are free for founders.

We help accelerators, incubators, universities, and corporate innovation programs understand where founders are in the startup lifecycle and meet the needs of those founders.
