Invested $30,000

I really love investing with GoGoIPO. They really make it easy for me to invest in the startups. In the past it was hard to do this kind of investing. I thought it was only for the rich, but now I have discovered through Wefunder the process is very easy.

"Hi, my name is Agnes. I chose to invest $30,000 in Arthur's startup, GoGoIPO, Inc., because I believe in his vision for the future. When Arthur explained the huge potential of the company and how he plans to build it, I was really impressed. He asked me to become the Lead Investor, and I was proud to step into that role. I'm excited about what's ahead for GoGoIPO, and I'd like to encourage others to invest alongside me. Yours Truly, Agnes Mok"

More About Arthur Dresch & GoGoIPO, Inc.

Hi, my name is Arthur Derran Dresch. I am a seasoned entrepreneur and financial strategist with over two decades of success in real estate, finance, and business development. As Founder & CEO of GoGo IPO, I've engineered a platform built on structure, discipline, and a solid financial foundation — not hype.

At GoGo IPO, we utilize secure, high-yield financial products such as fixed annuities, dividend-paying instruments, and other stable yield-based assets that generate consistent returns while protecting capital. This creates a long-term financial engine that strengthens GoGo IPO as we scale — allowing us to grow aggressively while staying financially grounded.

While our financial base continues compounding, we are already building our first major subsidiary — a multi-family residential development division that will construct brand-new rental properties in strategic, high-demand markets. These are real assets that back real growth.

Our long-term roadmap is structured and systematic. After this current raise, GoGo IPO plans to complete four additional Regulation Crowdfunding raises on WeFunder — each one increasing enterprise value, asset backing, investor base, marketing velocity, and market presence. Once these stages are completed, we will transition into a Reg A+ — opening the door for early investors to have the opportunity to exit if they choose, or stay long-term and continue riding the exponential growth curve.

Under my leadership, GoGo IPO operates as a modern startup factory — bridging Main Street access with Wall Street structure — giving everyday investors access to secure, yield-backed opportunities combined with the growth potential of early-stage innovation.

GoGo IPO is not one startup taking one shot. It is a scalable umbrella platform designed to launch many companies — backed by engineered financial architecture — redefining how everyday people participate in real wealth building.

“Arthur Dresch is turning investors into GoGo IPO shareholders by building a startup factory, with financial products as the foundation and launchpad.”

Now it's time to lock in investing.

✅ Investor Snapshot

- Raise Goal: $124,000 (first round)
- Minimum Investment: $100
- Shares Authorized: 500,000,000 (10,000,000 issued at $1 per share, reflecting a $10M valuation)
- Investor Pool: 1,240 people at $100 each (or fewer with larger investments)

? Why does GoGoIPO have 500 million authorized shares if the valuation is only $10 million?

Authorized shares are simply the maximum a company can create — like a ceiling for the future. What really matters today are the issued shares, which represent the company's actual valuation.

- We authorized 500,000,000 shares for long-term growth and flexibility.
- Currently, 10,000,000 shares are issued at $1 each, giving GoGoIPO a $10,000,000 valuation.
- The remaining shares are held in reserve for future rounds, acquisitions, and employee stock incentives.

This is a standard startup practice: authorize a large pool, but only issue what's needed at the current stage.

💡 THE INSIGHT

For decades, banks and institutions have had access to investment strategies like annuities and private equity. These strategies have historically generated annualized returns — but ordinary investors were locked out.

GoGoIPO is opening the door for Main Street investors to access early-stage opportunities once reserved for Wall Street.

GoGo IPO's Market

Main Street investors are locked out of institutional-level returns.

- Trillions managed by Wall Street (~7-20% growth).
- Everyday investors rarely get access.
- GoGo IPO makes it possible with safe, high-yield annuity-backed assets

💰 Illustrative Example

Think of GoGoIPO as a startup factory that grows in stages. An early $100 investment has the potential to grow alongside each stage of valuation:

- At $100M valuation, that same $100 stake could represent a 10× increase in value.
- At $500M valuation, it could reflect a 50× increase.
- At $1B valuation, it could show a 100× increase.
- These numbers are purely illustrative and based on valuation math only. They are not guarantees or projections, but they highlight the upside potential of getting in early.

Scaling to $25M Valuation

- Prove traction by helping startups launch Mini IPOs under GoGo IPO.
- Generate revenue from fees, equity stakes, and annuity-linked products
- Announce early successes → attract more Wefunder Investors to future raises

Forward-looking projections cannot be guaranteed.

🌐 THE BIG GOAL

GoGoIPO aims to empower thousands of investors to share in the growth of potential IPO-ready companies.

Together, we're building a platform designed to scale toward $100M+ and beyond — bridging the gap between Main Street and Wall Street.

Forward-looking projections cannot be guaranteed.

GoGoIPOs Financial Foundation & Startup Growth

GoGoIPO begins with a diversified base of financial products — including dividend-paying stocks, long-term bonds, and other income-generating instruments — that provide stability, predictable cash flow, and downside protection. This disciplined foundation allows us to operate from a position of strength, ensuring that we can pursue growth opportunities without sacrificing security.

On top of this financial base, GoGo IPO operates as a startup factory — creating, funding, and launching new companies under its umbrella. Each startup is structured to grow independently, attract additional outside investment, and, in some cases, pursue an eventual IPO or acquisition.

some cases, pursue an eventual IPO or acquisition.

What makes this model unique is the umbrella structure: GoGoIPO retains ownership in every company it creates. As these startups increase in value, GoGoIPO's stake grows with them. In addition, subsidiaries may generate dividends or create liquidity events that flow back to the parent company. This ensures that shareholders in GoGoIPO are not tied to the success of a single business but benefit from the entire portfolio of ventures.

The result is a structure where financial stability fuels innovation, innovation drives growth, and that growth ultimately strengthens the holding company for all investors. In short, GoGoIPO is designed to combine the reliability of a strong financial foundation with the upside potential of a continuously expanding startup ecosystem.

A little about Annuities and why GoGoIPO likes them.

Why Annuities Matter

One of GoGo IPO's advantages is the use of annuity-backed financial strategies. Annuities are designed to protect principal and deliver steady returns, making them a safer foundation compared to more volatile assets. By leveraging these stable instruments, GoGo IPO can reduce downside risk, create predictable cash flow, and reinvest into scaling the platform.

This stability helps us plan for growth and pursue opportunities that could support a path toward larger valuations—possibly even reaching the $100M milestone in the future.

(This is an illustrative scenario, not a guarantee of future results.)

💡 How Annuities Can Support Growth

Annuities have long been recognized for their ability to offer predictable interest rates and protection of principal. These characteristics make them useful for organizations that want to approach long-term planning with a focus on discipline rather than speculation. Within GoGoIPO's broader structure, annuities are not intended to serve as a profit engine or guaranteed source of capital. Instead, they are viewed as a conservative financial tool that may be incorporated to help reinforce thoughtful decision-making as the company develops.

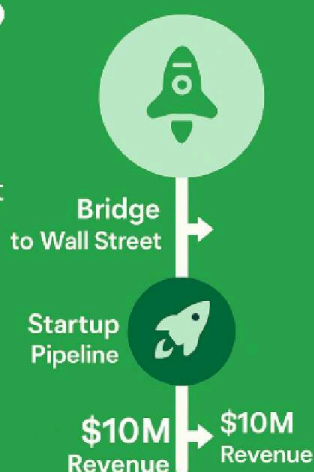

GoGoIPO is not built around a single source of revenue or a single financial instrument. The company's objective is to grow through startup development, investment opportunities, and an ecosystem of business activities that can evolve over time. In this context, annuities may serve as one element within a broader, methodical approach. The use of structured financial products may help the company remain deliberate in how it deploys resources, evaluates opportunities, and constructs its long-term roadmap.

This approach aligns with GoGoIPO's philosophy: expanding through innovation while maintaining financial discipline. Rather than pursuing rapid or speculative expansion, the company aims to pair business development with measured planning. Incorporating conservative financial products alongside entrepreneurial initiatives allows GoGoIPO to approach decision-making with greater consistency, focusing on what is sustainable over time rather than solely what is immediate.

There are no guarantees of any specific outcome, and annuities alone are not expected to determine the company's future performance. However, the presence of structured financial products within GoGoIPO's overall framework may help support a more strategic pace of growth. This balance between calculated business expansion and conservative planning tools reflects a long-term mindset, where building responsibly is prioritized as much as pursuing opportunity.

IPO-Scale Narrative to $100M Valuation

- Market GoGo IPO as the bridge between Main Street and Wall Street IPOs.
- Demonstrate pipeline of startups (real estate, fintech, consumer ventures) raising through GoGo IPO
- Hit $10M+ annual revenue → valuation 10x revenue multiple = $100M milestone

Forward-looking projections cannot be guaranteed.

Annuities: A Proven Foundation of Stability

One of the ways we support GoGo IPO’s income strategy is through the use of annuities—an asset class that has demonstrated steady growth across multiple market cycles. Over the most recent 10 years, annuities delivered an average annual return of 13.25%, compounding into $17.3M. In the best 10-year period, they averaged 20.58%, building to $32.5M. Even in the lowest 10-year stretch, annuities still returned 11.54%, growing to $14.9M.

Future projections are not guaranteed. There is no guarantee of any returns.

This consistency makes annuities one of the safest income-backed instruments available, with built-in safeguards to protect principal. By incorporating annuities into our investment model, we aim to provide our investors with a secure foundation for growth while positioning GoGo IPO to scale toward significantly larger valuations.

Annuity Performance Across 3 Historical Scenarios

✅ The Big Advantage

Unlike a traditional single startup, GoGoIPO operates as a startup factory. That means investors aren't relying on just one exit – they benefit from a portfolio of opportunities, all flowing back up to strengthen GoGoIPO.

GoGo IPO: Investor Exit Pathways

Randall Clark Homes, Inc. is a subsidiary of GoGoIPO, Inc., and will be doing a raise very soon.

Investing Thesis – GoGoIPO At GoGoIPO, our investment strategy is built on diversification, scalability, and accessibility. Rather than focusing on a single startup, we operate as a startup factory – a holding company that builds, funds, and scales multiple subsidiaries across real estate, finance, and emerging industries. Our thesis is simple: investors gain exposure to a portfolio of high-growth companies through one investment. Each subsidiary is strategically chosen to combine stability (real estate and financial services) with growth potential (technology and innovative ventures). This balance reduces risk while maximizing long-term upside. We begin with Regulation Crowdfunding rounds, where everyday investors can join with as little as $100. These early investments fuel our first wave of subsidiaries, while positioning GoGoIPO for larger raises such as Reg A+. Over time, our goal is to scale to unicorn-level valuation and prepare for a public listing. The advantage of our model is that success is not tied to one company. By incubating multiple ventures under a shared structure, we create compounding growth opportunities and provide investors with diversified exposure in a single investment vehicle. Our commitment is to give investors the same access and potential returns traditionally reserved for venture capital and institutional players. With GoGoIPO, you're not only investing in a company — you're investing in a system designed to launch many.

Future projections are not guaranteed.
