Respond to each question in each paragraph of this part. Set forth each question and any notes, but not any instructions thereto, in their entirety. If disclosure in response to any question is responsive to one or more other questions, it is not necessary to repeat the disclosure. If a question or series of questions is inapplicable or the response is available elsewhere in the Form, either state that it is inapplicable, include a cross-reference to the responsive disclosure, or omit the question or series of questions.

Be very careful and precise in answering all questions. Give full and complete answers so that they are not misleading under the circumstances involved. RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

Risk 1 - Product and AI Development Delays: Bespoke platform and AI feature delivery may slip due to technical uncertainty, data-readiness gaps, vendor/infrastructure constraints, and execution complexity. Key exposures include unstable model performance in production, integration friction across services, scope creep from evolving requirements, talent bandwidth constraints, rising compute costs, and compliance/security reviews that extend timelines. Delays at any of these layers can compound, leading to rework, budget overruns, missed launch windows, and reduced user trust.

Risk 2 - Market Adoption Is Not Guaranteed: Demand and willingness to pay may be uneven between India and the U.S. due to different price anchors, purchasing power, and trust in AI-led coaching versus human services. Conversion can be dampened by strong local substitutes (free content, low-cost tutors), misaligned pricing/packaging by segment (students/early career vs. mid-career), payment frictions (UPI vs. cards), and localization gaps in content and support. If ICP targeting or value messaging misses, CAC rises, LTV falls, and churn increases—slowing payback and constraining growth.

Risk 3 - Reliance on Coaching Partners and Creators: Delivery depends on external coaches/creators whose availability, quality, and brand alignment can fluctuate. Risks include inconsistent coaching outcomes, content that drifts from RISEUP standards, sudden churn (due to competing offers or burnout), uneven supply across time zones/skills, and disputes over IP, revenue share, or exclusivity. Dependency on a few high performers heightens fragility; any lapse can erode user trust, spike refunds/support load, and stall scalable growth.

Risk 4 - Dependence on Language Localization Quality: Adoption in target segments may stall if Hindi and Spanish experiences feel translated rather than native. Risks include dialect and regional mismatches, such as Hinglish versus formal Hindi and Latin American Spanish versus U.S. Spanish; incorrect career terminology; awkward tone in coaching prompts; and product copy that breaks layout or misstates intent. Gaps in voice and captions, search and SEO keywords, and support scripts can further erode trust. Any mistranslation, especially around career law or DEI topics, can appear insensitive or misleading, which lowers conversion rates, increases refunds and support tickets, and encourages negative word of mouth.

Risk 5 - Regulatory and Data Privacy Requirements: Compliance across the United States and India may shift as laws on data protection, payments, learning services, accessibility, and AI safety evolve. New or stricter rules can require changes to data flows, consent management, storage locations, age verification, identity checks, KYC and AML reviews, and content moderation. Meeting these standards can involve legal reviews, vendor assessments, security controls, and audits, which raise costs and extend release timelines. Noncompliance can trigger penalties, forced feature changes, integration pauses with payment processors, and loss of user trust.

RISK 6 – Long-Term CEO Outlook: Leadership capacity is intentionally lean until traction and funding justify a full-time CEO. During this period, Dr. Deepak Bhootra serves part-time, supported by advisors and domain experts. This can slow down prioritization and decision-making, dilute day-to-day accountability, and create gaps in cross-functional coordination, partner engagement, and investor communications. It also introduces key person risk and context switching fatigue, which can extend execution timelines and reduce consistency in goal ownership and follow through.

Risk 7 – Competition and Market Fragmentation: Career technology is crowded and fragmented across geographies, price points, and use cases. Users can choose from global platforms, local coaching boutiques, creator led courses, university certificates, job boards, and social networks. Switching costs are low, and features are easy to copy. Noise in channels like SEO, YouTube, and Instagram raises acquisition costs and makes differentiation harder. Incumbents may lock in partnerships, sponsors, or exclusive creators. The result can be higher customer acquisition costs, pressure on pricing, slower trust-building, and a longer path to product-market fit.

Risk 8 – Economic Downturn Impacting Subscriptions: In a recession or hiring slowdown, consumers and small teams cut discretionary learning spend, compare lower cost substitutes, and delay renewals. Price sensitivity rises, trial to paid conversion falls, and existing users downgrade, pause, or churn. Enterprise and university partners may freeze budgets, lengthen procurement cycles, or shift to annual reviews, which slows pipeline velocity and cash collection. Currency swings between the U.S. dollar and the Indian rupee can also reduce realized revenue and increase payment friction, further pressuring growth.

Deepak Bhootra is a part-time officer. As such, it is likely that the company will not make the same progress as it would if that were not the case.

Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team. The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel we require to successfully grow our business.

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 8: Avoid generalized statements and include only those factors that are unique to the issuer. Discussion should be tailored to the issuer's business and the offering and should not repeat the factors addressed in the legends set forth above. No specific number of risk factors is required to be identified.

The Offering

USE OF FUNDS

9. What is the purpose of this offering?

The Company intends to use the net proceeds of this offering for working capital and general corporate purposes, which includes the specific items listed in Item 10 below. While the Company expects to use the net proceeds from the Offering in the manner described above, it cannot specify with certainty the particular uses of the net proceeds that it will receive from this Offering. Accordingly, the Company will have broad discretion in using these proceeds.

10. How does the issuer intend to use the proceeds of this offering?

If we raise: $50,000

Use of Proceeds: Product and AI Development 35%; Payroll 20%; Marketing, Affiliate Program and Distribution 20%; Wefunder fee 7.9%; Coaching Infrastructure 10%; Scholars Program 3%; Compliance and Analytics 4.1%.

If we raise: $1,235,000

Use of Proceeds: Product and AI Development 35%; Payroll 20%; Marketing, Affiliate Program and Distribution 20%; Wefunder fee 7.9%; Coaching Infrastructure 10%; Scholars Program 3%; Compliance and Analytics 4.1%. If we raise our maximum, we will be able to focus more on product development than we could if we only raised our minimum.

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 10: An issuer must provide a reasonably detailed description of any intended use of proceeds, such that investors are provided with an adequate amount of information to understand how the offering proceeds will be used. If an issuer has identified a range of possible uses, the issuer should identify and describe each probable use and the factors the issuer may consider in allocating proceeds among the potential uses. If the issuer will accept proceeds in excess of the target offering amount, the issuer must describe the purpose, method for allocating oversubscriptions, and intended use of the excess proceeds with similar specificity. Please include all potential uses of the proceeds of the offering, including any that may apply only in the case of oversubscriptions. If you do not do so, you may later be required to amend your Form C. Wefunder is not responsible for any failure by you to describe a potential use of offering proceeds.

DELIVERY & CANCELLATIONS

11. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

If we reach our target offering amount prior to the deadline, we may conduct an initial closing of the offering early if we provide notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to the new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Wefunder will notify investors if we conduct an initial closing. Thereafter, we may conduct additional closings from time to time at our and Wefunder's discretion until the deadline date.

The following describes the process to invest in the Company, including how the Company will complete an Investor's transaction and deliver securities to the investor.

1. Investor Commitment. The Investor will submit, through Wefunder Portal, a requested investment amount. When doing so, the Investor will also execute an investment contract with the Company ("Investment Agreement"), using the Investor's electronic signature.
2. Acceptance of the Investment. If the Investor Agreement is complete, the Investor's commitment will typically be recorded within a few minutes. The commitment will also be available on the Investor's "My Investments" screen on the wefunder.com website. After the offering closes, the contract will be counter-signed by the Company. The executed investment contract will then be sent to the investor via email, and is also available to download on the "My Investments" screen.
3. Investor Transfer of Funds. Upon receiving confirmation that an investment has been accepted, the Investor will be responsible for transferring funds from a source that is accepted by Wefunder Portal into an escrow account held with a third party bank on behalf of issuers offering securities through Wefunder Portal.
4. Progress of the Offering. The Investor will receive periodic email updates on the progress of the offering, including total amounts raised at any given time, and will be notified by email and through the "My Investments" screen when the target offering amount is met.
5. Closing: Original Deadline. Unless we meet the target offering amount early, Investor funds will be transferred from the escrow account to the Company on the deadline date identified in the Cover Page to this Form C and the Company's Wefunder Portal Profile.
6. Early Closings. If the target offering amount is met prior to the original deadline date, we may close the offering earlier, but no less than 21 days after the date on which information about the Company, including this Form C, is posted on our Wefunder Portal Profile. We will reschedule the offering deadline, and at least five days prior to the new deadline, investors will receive notice of it by email and through the "My Investments" screen. At the time of the new deadline, your funds will be transferred to the Company from the escrow account, provided that the target offering amount is still met after any cancellations.
7. Book Entry. Investments may be in book entry form. This means that the Investor may not receive a certificate representing his or her investment. Each investment will be recorded in our books and records and will be recorded in each Investors' "My Investments" screen. The Investor will also be emailed the Investment Agreement again. The Investment Agreement will also be available on the "My Investments" screen. At the option of the Company, you may receive an electronic certificate.

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment).

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned.

An Investor's right to cancel. An Investor may cancel his or her investment commitment at any time until 48 hours prior to the offering deadline.

If there is a material change to the terms of the offering or the information provided to the Investor about the offering and/or the Company, the Investor will be provided notice of the change and must re-confirm his or her investment commitment within five business days of receipt of the notice. If the Investor does not reconfirm, he or she will receive notifications disclosing that the commitment was cancelled, the reason for the cancellation, and the refund amount that the investor is required to receive. If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the Investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the Investor's funds will be returned within five business days.

Within five business days of cancellation of an offering by the Company, the Company will give each investor notification of the cancellation, disclose the reason for the cancellation, identify the refund amount the Investor will receive, and refund the Investor's funds.

The Company's right to cancel. The Investment Agreement you will execute with us provides the Company the right to cancel for any reason before the offering deadline.

If the sum of the investment commitments from all investors does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the time of the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.

Conversion and Repayment

(a) Conversion Upon Qualified Financing Conversion upon a Qualified Financing. In the event that the Company issues and sells its shares of equity securities to investors (the "Investors") while this Note remains outstanding in an equity financing with total proceeds to the Company of not less than $1000000 (excluding the conversion of the Notes or other convertible securities issued for capital raising purposes (e.g., Simple Agreements for Future Equity)) (a "Qualified Financing"), then the outstanding principal amount of this Note and any unpaid accrued interest shall automatically convert in whole without any further action by the Holder into Equity Securities sold in the Qualified Financing at a conversion price equal to the lesser of (i) the price paid per unit for Equity Securities by the Investors in the Qualified Financing multiplied by 0.85, and (ii) the quotient resulting from dividing $500000 by the number of outstanding the quotient resulting from dividing $500,000 by the number of outstanding common units of the Company immediately prior to the Qualified Financing (assuming conversion of all securities convertible into common units and exercise of all outstanding options and warrants, but excluding the units of equity securities of the Company issuable upon the conversion of the Notes or other convertible securities issued for capital raising purposes (e.g., Simple Agreements for Future Equity)). The issuance of Equity Securities pursuant to the conversion of this Note shall be upon and subject to the same terms and conditions applicable to Equity Securities sold in the Qualified Financing. Notwithstanding this paragraph, if the conversion price of the Notes as determined pursuant to this paragraph (the "Conversion Price") is less than the price per unit at which Equity Securities are issued in the Qualified Financing, the Company may, solely at its option, elect to convert this Note into units of a newly created series of preferred unit having the identical rights, privileges, preferences and restrictions as Equity Securities issued in the Qualified Financing, and otherwise on the same terms and conditions, other than with respect to (if applicable): (i) the per unit liquidation preference and the conversion price for purposes of price-based anti-dilution protection, which will equal the Conversion Price; and (ii) the per unit dividend, which will be the same percentage of the Conversion Price as applied to determine the per unit dividends of the Investors in the Qualified Financing relative to the purchase price paid by the Investors.

(b) Conversion upon a Change of Control. If the Company consummates a Change of Control (as defined in the Convertible Note) while this Note remains outstanding, the Company shall repay the Holder in cash in an amount equal to the outstanding principal amount of this Note plus any unpaid accrued interest on the original principal. For purposes of this Note, a "Change of Control" means (i) a consolidation or merger of the Company with or into any other corporation or other entity or person, or any other corporate reorganization, other than any such consolidation, merger or reorganization in which the units of the Company immediately prior to such consolidation, merger or reorganization continue to represent a majority of the voting power of the surviving entity immediately after such consolidation, merger or reorganization; (ii) any transaction or series of related transactions to which the Company is a party in which in excess of 50% of the Company's voting power is transferred; or (iii) the sale or transfer of all or substantially all of the Company's assets, or the exclusive license of all or substantially all of the Company's material intellectual property; provided that a Change of Control shall not include any transaction or series of transactions principally for bona fide equity financing purposes in which cash is received by the Company or any successor, indebtedness of the Company is cancelled or converted or a combination thereof. The Company shall give the Holder notice of a Change of Control not less than 10 days prior to the anticipated date of consummation of the Change of Control. Any repayment pursuant to this paragraph in connection with a Change of Control shall be subject to any required tax withholdings, and may be made by the Company (or any party to such Change of Control or its agent) following the Change of Control in connection with payment procedures established in connection with such Change of Control.

(c) Procedure for Conversion. Procedure for Conversion. In connection with any conversion of this Note into units, the Holder shall surrender this Note to the Company and deliver to the Company any documentation reasonably required by the Company (including, in the case of a Qualified Financing, all financing documents executed by the Investors in connection with such Qualified Financing). The Company shall not be required to issue or deliver the units into which this Note may convert until the Holder has surrendered this Note to the Company and delivered to the Company any such documentation. Upon the conversion of this Note into units pursuant to the terms hereof, in lieu of any fractional units to which the Holder would otherwise be entitled, the Company shall pay the Holder cash equal to such fraction multiplied by the price at which this Note converts.

(d) Interest Accrual. If a Change of Control or Qualified Financing is consummated, all interest on this Note shall be deemed to have stopped accruing as of a date selected by the Company that is up to 10 days prior to the signing of the definitive agreement for the Change of Control or Qualified Financing.

"Senior Indebtedness" shall mean, unless expressly subordinated to or made on a parity with the amounts due under this Note, all amounts due in connection with (i) indebtedness of the Company to banks or other lending institutions regularly engaged in the business of lending money (excluding venture capital, investment banking or similar institutions and their affiliates, which sometimes engage in lending activities but which are primarily engaged in investments in equity securities), and (ii) any such indebtedness or any debentures, notes or other evidence of indebtedness issued in exchange for such Senior Indebtedness, or any indebtedness arising from the satisfaction of such Senior Indebtedness by a guarantor.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

The holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company could limit the Investor's rights in a material way. For example, those interest holders could vote to change the terms of the agreements governing the Company's operations or cause the Company to engage in additional offerings (including potentially a public offering). These changes could result in further limitations on the voting rights the Investor will have as an owner of equity in the Company, for example by diluting those rights or limiting them to certain types of events or consents. To the extent applicable, in cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional equity, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted. Based on the risk that an Investor's rights could be limited, diluted or otherwise qualified, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns. Additional risks related to the rights of other security holders are discussed below, in Question 20.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the unitholders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the value of the Investor's securities in the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, the unitholders may change the terms of the operating agreement for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The unitholders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. They may also vote to engage in new offerings and/or to register certain of the Company's securities in a way that negatively affects the value of the securities the Investor owns. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the Investor, leaving the Investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns.

The unitholders have the right to redeem their securities at any time. Unitholders could decide to force the Company to redeem their securities at a time that is not favorable to the Investor and is damaging to the Company. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability.

In cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional units, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

The initial amount invested in a Convertible Note is determined by the investor, and we do not guarantee that the Convertible Note will be converted into any particular number of units. As discussed in Question 13, when we engage in an offering of equity involving Unit, Investors may receive a number of units of Preferred Unit calculated as either the conversion price equal to the lesser of (i) 85% of the price paid per unit for Equity Securities by the Investors in the Qualified Financing or (ii) the price equal to the quotient of the valuation cap of $5,000,000.00 (the "Valuation Cap") divided by the aggregate number of outstanding units of the Company's unit as of immediately prior to the initial closing of the Qualified Financing (assuming full conversion or exercise of all convertible and exercisable securities then outstanding, but excluding the units of equity securities of the Company issuable upon the conversion of the Notes or any other debt). Because there will likely be no public market for our securities prior to an initial public offering or similar liquidity event, the price of the Unit that Investors will receive, and/or the total value of the Company's capitalization, will be determined by our board of directors. Among the factors we may consider in determining the price of Unit are prevailing market conditions, our financial information, market valuations of other companies that we believe to be comparable to us, estimates of our business potential, the present state of our development and other factors deemed relevant. In the future, we will perform valuations of our units that take into account, as applicable, factors such as the following:

- unrelated third party valuations;
- the price at which we sell other securities in light of the relative rights, preferences and privileges of those
- our results of operations, financial position and capital resources;
- current business conditions and projections;
- the marketability or lack thereof of the securities;
- the hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management;
- the introduction of new products;
- the risk inherent in the development and expansion of our products;
- our stage of development and material risks related to our business;
- the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a sale of our company given the
- market conditions and the nature and history of our business;
- industry trends and competitive environment;
- trends in consumer spending, including consumer confidence;
- overall economic indicators, including gross domestic product, employment, inflation and interest rates; and
- the general economic outlook.

We will analyze factors such as those described above using a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value. For example, we may use methodologies that assume that businesses operating in the same industry will unit similar characteristics and that the Company's value will correlate to those characteristics, and/or methodologies that compare transactions in similar securities issued by us that were conducted in the market.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company, and thus be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Management, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Management of the Company.

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional issuances of securities. Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from unitholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for unitholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company. If the Management of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its unitholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

24. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

None.

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 24: name the creditor, amount owed, interest rate, maturity date, and any other material terms.

25. What other exempt offerings has the issuer conducted within the past three years?

Offering Date	Exemption	Security Type	Amount Sold	Use of Proceeds
	Regulation Crowdfunding	Convertible Note	$55,603	General operations

26. Was or is the issuer or any entities controlled by or under common control with the issuer a party to any transaction since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year, or any currently proposed transaction, where the amount involved exceeds five percent of the aggregate amount of capital raised by the issuer in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act during the preceding 12-month period, including the amount the issuer seeks to raise in the current offering, in which any of the following persons had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest:

1. any director or officer of the issuer;
2. any person who is, as of the most recent practicable date, the beneficial owner of 20 percent or more of the issuer's outstanding voting equity securities, calculated on the basis of voting power;
3. if the issuer was incorporated or organized within the past three years, any promoter of the issuer.

4. or any immediate family member of any of the foregoing persons.

- Yes
 No

INSTRUCTIONS TO QUESTION 26: The term transaction includes, but is not limited to, any financial transaction, arrangement or relationship (including any indebtedness or guarantee of indebtedness) or any series of similar transactions, arrangements or relationships.

Beneficial ownership for purposes of paragraph (2) shall be determined as of a date that is no more than 120 days prior to the date of filing of this offering statement and using the same calculation described in Question 6 of this Question and Answer format.

The term "member of the family" includes any child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the person, and includes adoptive relationships. The term "spousal equivalent" means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

Compute the amount of a related party's interest in any transaction without regard to the amount of the profit or loss involved in the transaction. Where it is not practicable to state the approximate amount of the interest, disclose the approximate amount involved in the transaction.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE ISSUER

27. Does the issuer have an operating history?

- Yes
 No

Overview

Building Career Infrastructure for Intentional Growth at Work.

The Company plans to generate revenue through operating as a digital-first career growth and post-hiring development platform designed to help professionals build clarity, confidence, and sustainable long-term career success through subscription-based digital products, AI-enhanced career tools, structured coaching programs, and community-driven learning experiences built around the RISEUP methodology.

Milestones

Since then, we have:

- Focused on career growth after hiring, not job search or recruitment prep
- Addresses a $30B+ post-hiring career growth market
- Built on 20+ years of coaching experience and frameworks used by 1,500+ professionals
- Career infrastructure, not just content: strategy, accountability, and measurable outcomes
- AI-enabled tools to scale guidance without replacing the human layer
- Subscription model with coaching and institutional expansion over time
- Scholarship program expanding access for first-generation professionals and underserved communities

The Company is subject to risks and uncertainties common to early stage

The Company is subject to risks and uncertainties common to early-stage companies. Given the Company's limited operating history, the Company cannot reliably estimate how much revenue it will receive in the future.

Historical Results of Operations

Our company was organized in July 2025 and has limited operations upon which prospective investors may base an evaluation of its performance.

- Revenues & Gross Margin. For the period ended December 31, 2025, the Company had revenues of $0.
- Assets. As of December 31, 2025, the Company had total assets of $1,664, including $1,664 in cash.
- Net Loss. The Company has had net losses of $27,767 through December 31, 2025.
- Liabilities. The Company's liabilities totaled $0 through December 31, 2025.

Liquidity & Capital Resources

To-date, the company has been financed through approximately $10,089 in capital contributions from the founder.

After the conclusion of this Offering, should we hit our minimum funding target, our projected runway is 4 months before we need to raise further capital.

We plan to use the proceeds as set forth in this Form C under "Use of Funds". We don't have any other sources of capital in the immediate future.

We will likely require additional financing in excess of the proceeds from the Offering in order to perform operations over the lifetime of the Company. We plan to raise capital in 6 months. Except as otherwise described in this Form C, we do not have additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the offering. Because of the complexities and uncertainties in establishing a new business strategy, it is not possible to adequately project whether the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to enable us to implement our strategy. This complexity and uncertainty will be increased if less than the maximum amount of securities offered in this offering is sold. The Company intends to raise additional capital in the future from investors. Although capital may be available for early-stage companies, there is no guarantee that the Company will receive any investments from investors.

Runway & Short/Mid Term Expenses

RISEUP AT WORK LLC cash in hand is $3,713, as of March 2026. Over the last three months, revenues have averaged $0/month, cost of goods sold has averaged $0/month, and operational expenses have averaged $8,000/month, for an average burn rate of $8,000 per month. Our intent is to be profitable in 6 months.

RISEUP Career Studio was registered on 20 July 2025. Since then, we have focused on setting up and content creation. We have incurred specific expenses that are fully documented. However, given that we have not completed a full-year review.

Over the next three to six months following launch in Q1 2026, we expect to generate approximately $100,000 in revenue. This figure is based on the conservative 2026 revenue projection of $211,000 outlined in our finalized plan, with early revenue coming from paid subscriptions, AI toolkits for resumes, interviews, and LinkedIn optimization, as well as upgrades into cohort and one-to-one coaching programs. This places early monthly revenue in the $15,000-$20,000 range as the subscriber base begins converting from free to paid tiers. We are targeting a 50 percent gross margin. On $100,000 of revenue during this initial operating window, direct delivery costs will be capped at $50,000. These costs include coaching delivery tied specifically to paying users, AI inference usage, scalable hosting and platform fees directly linked to paid activity, and payment processing fees. This produces a gross profit of $50,000 and maintains the 50 percent gross margin required for long-term scalability. Operating expenses for the same three-to-six-month period are expected to total approximately $105,000. These expenses represent the work needed to build and operate the platform but are not tied to per-user delivery. The expected allocation includes $40,000 for product and AI development, $25,000 for marketing and affiliate distribution, $25,000 for a lean core team covering content, operations, community, and technology, $10,000 for coaching infrastructure and community operations, and $5,000 for compliance, analytics, and the scholars program. Total operating expenses for the period are $105,000. With gross profit of $50,000 and operating expenses of $105,000, the net cash burn over the next 3 to 6 months is approximately $55,000. This is the amount of capital required to move from pre-launch into revenue-generating operations.

We are not profitable at this stage. Based on our financial model, RISEUP enters the market in Q1 2026 and begins generating revenue immediately, but we operate at a net burn during the initial scale-up period. Using our conservative revenue outlook and a 50 percent gross margin, we expect to generate approximately $100,000 in revenue during the first three to six months post-launch, with direct delivery costs capped at $50,000 and operating expenses of approximately $105,000. This creates an early net burn of roughly $55,000 as we transition from pre-launch to operating mode.

To reach profitability, we require enough funding to cover both the early operating burn and the continued investment in AI development, marketing, coaching infrastructure, and core team capacity. With the Wefunder raise, the capital required to reach breakeven is approximately $250,000. This amount enables us to: complete Phase 1 and Phase 2 of the product roadmap (resume builder, interview simulator, LinkedIn optimizer, dashboards); acquire and activate early users through marketing and affiliates; maintain a lean team to deliver core content, operations, and community infrastructure; and support coaching delivery and AI usage while keeping COGS aligned with our 50 percent margin target.

We expect to reach profitability once total revenue scales beyond $500,000 annually, which requires approximately 2,500-3,000 active paying users across subscription tiers and AI toolkit upgrades. Based on the finalized growth plan, we project reaching this level of recurring revenue in late 2027. This timeline accounts for gradual expansion across the five English-speaking launch markets, continued improvements in user conversion and retention, and the introduction of higher-value features and partnerships.

In summary, we are not yet profitable. We require approximately $250,000 in funding to reach a sustainable operating position, and we expect to achieve profitability by late 2027 as subscription, AI toolkit, and coaching revenues expand and operating leverage increases.

Outside of Wefunder, our additional sources of capital include founder investment, in kind contributions, and internal reinvestment from early revenue. The founding team has already provided the initial funding required for prototype AI development, content and curriculum creation, branding work, and core operational setup. Founders are also supplying significant non cash support in the form of product development time, coaching expertise, and strategic operations, which reduces the amount of external capital needed at this stage. We are not yet profitable. Our short term burn will be covered through three sources during the campaign period. The first source is the capital raised on Wefunder, which provides the primary working capital needed to support operating expenses while we bring the platform to market. The second source is continued founder support, which keeps payroll and vendor costs low because substantial development and operational responsibilities remain in house. The third source is revenue from paying users, as we begin generating income immediately once the Explore and Builder tiers launch in Q1 2026. Even conservative early user conversion provides recurring monthly revenue that offsets a meaningful portion of our operating costs. Together, these three capital sources create a stable financial structure during the pre-profit period. Wefunder provides working capital. Founder investment and in-kind contributions reduce the cost base. Early user revenue begins contributing to operating expenses from the first month of launch. This combined approach ensures that we can cover short-term burn throughout the campaign and maintain uninterrupted progress on product development, AI features, coaching infrastructure, and market expansion.

All projections in the above narrative are forward-looking and not guaranteed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO QUESTION 28: The discussion must cover each year for which financial statements are provided. For issuers with no prior operating history, the discussion should focus on financial milestones and operational, liquidity and other challenges. For issuers with an operating history, the discussion should focus on whether historical results and cash flows are representative of what investors should expect in the future. Take into account the proceeds of the offering and any other known or pending sources of capital. Discuss how the proceeds from the offering will affect liquidity, whether receiving these funds and any other additional funds is necessary to the viability of the business, and how quickly the issuer anticipates using its available cash. Describe the other available sources of capital to the business, such as lines of credit or required contributions by shareholders. References to the issuer in this Question 28 and these instructions refer to the issuer and its predecessors, if any.
