Hey all, we're raising funds for a movie I've written called Artichoke — a Cold War-era thriller about a brilliant hypnotist recruited by the CIA... where the audience is hypnotized too.

We believe this could offer viewers — and marketers — a whole new kind of cinematic experience, like The Blair Witch Project did for found footage, or Avatar for 3D.

We're raising via Wefunder, where you actually get a stake in the feature film.

Please take a moment.

Consider investing and/or sharing this. Even $100 makes a real difference to making this dream a reality.

Thank you so much!
