Financial Services Consultant

May 2013 - September 2019 (6 years 5 months)

Illinois, United States

Based on my background in finance and operations, I have been consulting with small to medium size companies in all industries. My focus is on operational waste, improving financial reporting, and team building. Part of my practice has also been to help companies improve their existing or new banking relationships.

In addition to working with companies, I have also been consulting with individuals on personal finances as well as job coaching.
