Offering Statement

Respond to each question in each paragraph of this part. Set forth each question and any notes, but not any instructions thereto, in their entirety. If disclosure in response to any question is responsive to one or more other questions, it is not necessary to repeat the disclosure. If a question or series of questions is inapplicable or the response is available elsewhere in the Form, either state that it is inapplicable, include a cross-reference to the responsive disclosure, or omit the question or series of questions.

Be very careful and precise in answering all questions. Give full and complete answers so that they are not misleading under the circumstances involved. Do not discuss any future performance or other anticipated event unless you have a reasonable basis to believe that it will actually occur within the foreseeable future. If any answer requiring significant information is materially inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the Company, its management and principal shareholders may be liable to investors based on that information.

RISK FACTORS

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. Investors should not invest any funds unless they can afford to lose the entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

Play Pickup currently has only one employee who is responsible for all aspects of our business operations, including product development, marketing, customer support, and strategic planning. Our future success depends almost entirely on the continued services and performance of this individual. The loss of this person's services for any reason, including illness, injury, resignation, or other circumstances, would have an immediate and severe adverse effect on our ability to operate the business, maintain our platform, serve our users, and execute our growth strategy.

We do not maintain key person life insurance on our employee, and we have no formal succession plan in place. Given our limited resources and early stage, we may face significant challenges in attracting, recruiting, and retaining qualified personnel to replace or supplement our current team member. Any prolonged inability to perform essential business functions due to the loss of our sole employee could result in platform downtime, loss of users, reputational damage, and potentially the failure of our business.

Play Pickup connects strangers for in-person physical activities, which creates inherent safety and security risks. While we have implemented features such as player vetting, commitment ratings, and private vetted clubs, these mechanisms may not be sufficient to prevent all problematic interactions or ensure the safety of our users. Bad actors could misuse our platform, and disputes or conflicts could arise between players during games. Users may misrepresent their skill levels, intentions, or identities, leading to mismatched games, conflicts, or safety concerns.

Any incidents of violence, harassment, theft, or other harmful behavior occurring in connection with games organized through our platform could result in liability claims against us, negative media coverage, and loss of user trust. We have limited resources to conduct thorough background checks or identity verification, and our ability to monitor and enforce community standards is constrained by our small team. If we cannot maintain a safe and positive environment for users, our reputation could be severely damaged, users may abandon the platform, and our business could fail.

Play Pickup's mobile application and platform rely on third-party technology providers for critical functions, including cloud hosting infrastructure, payment processing, mobile app distribution through the Apple App Store and Google Play Store, mapping and location services, and other essential services. We have no control over these third-party providers and are vulnerable to disruptions in their services due to technical failures, security breaches, policy changes, or business decisions that could adversely affect our operations. If Apple or Google were to remove our app from their stores, change their policies in ways that restrict our functionality, or significantly increase their fees, our ability to reach users and operate our business would be severely impaired. Similarly, disruptions to our cloud hosting provider could result in platform downtime, data loss, or degraded performance. Payment processing failures could prevent us from collecting fees and damage user trust. Our limited resources and technical team make it difficult to quickly migrate to alternative providers or build redundant systems. Any significant or prolonged disruption to these third-party services could result in loss of users, revenue, and reputational damage.

Play Pickup has not achieved profitability since inception and has limited cash reserves. We expect to continue incurring operating losses for the foreseeable future as we invest in product development, user acquisition, marketing, and scaling our platform infrastructure. Our ability to achieve profitability depends on our success in growing our user base, increasing engagement, and generating revenue through our freemium business model, payment collection features, and potential subscription tiers. There is no assurance that we will ever achieve or sustain profitability.

Our path to profitability is uncertain and depends on numerous factors, many of which are outside our control, including our ability to attract and retain users, competition from other platforms, market acceptance of our business model, and our ability to effectively monetize our user base. If we are unable to generate sufficient revenue to cover our operating expenses, we will need to raise additional capital or curtail our operations. Our limited cash reserves mean that we have a limited runway to achieve our business objectives, and any delays or setbacks in our growth plans could quickly deplete our available funds.

The proceeds from this offering will not be sufficient to fully execute our business plan and achieve our long-term objectives. We will need to raise substantial additional capital in the future to scale our platform infrastructure to support our target user base, fund marketing and user acquisition efforts, expand to new markets, hire additional employees, and sustain operations until we achieve profitability. We have no commitments or arrangements for additional financing, and there can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain additional capital on acceptable terms, if at all.

Our ability to raise additional capital will depend on numerous factors, including our progress in growing our user base and revenue, market conditions, investor appetite for early-stage companies, and competition for capital. If we are unable to obtain sufficient additional funding, we will be forced to significantly curtail our development and marketing plans, reduce or eliminate planned expenditures, or cease operations entirely. Even if we are able to raise additional capital, it will likely be on terms that result in significant dilution to existing investors and may include terms or preferences that are adverse to current security holders.

The market for sports social networking, game organization, and activity scheduling is highly competitive and includes numerous established companies with substantially greater financial resources, technical capabilities, marketing budgets, and brand recognition than Play Pickup. We compete with general-purpose social networking platforms, sports-specific apps, scheduling and event management platforms, and informal coordination methods that players currently use to organize games. Many of our competitors have large existing user bases, established network effects, and the ability to add features similar to ours to their existing platforms. Competitors with greater resources may be able to devote more funds to marketing and user acquisition, develop superior technology and features, offer more attractive pricing or incentives to users, and respond more quickly to market changes or user needs. Some competitors may also choose to offer similar services for free or at a loss to gain market share, making it difficult for us to compete on price. Our ability to compete effectively will depend on our success in differentiating our platform, building a loyal user community, and executing our growth strategy despite our limited resources. If we cannot compete effectively, we may fail to attract and retain users, and our business may not succeed.

Pickup basketball participation may be subject to seasonal variations and weather-related patterns that could cause fluctuations in user engagement and platform usage. In regions with cold winters or extreme weather conditions, outdoor basketball activity typically decreases during certain months, which could lead to reduced platform usage and engagement during these periods. While indoor facilities may mitigate some seasonal effects, access to indoor courts may be more limited or costly, potentially reducing the frequency of pickup games organized through our platform. These seasonal patterns could result in uneven revenue generation and user engagement throughout the year, making it difficult to predict financial performance and plan operations. Reduced engagement during off-peak periods could also lead to user attrition if players form alternative habits for organizing games or lose connection with the platform. Our limited resources make it challenging to implement strategies to smooth out seasonal variations, such as promoting indoor games or expanding to markets with year-round outdoor basketball weather. Significant seasonal fluctuations could adversely affect our ability to grow our user base, generate consistent revenue, and maintain platform momentum.

Our success depends in part on our ability to protect our proprietary technology, brand, and other intellectual property rights. We rely primarily on trade secrets, proprietary know-how, and confidential information to protect our platform's technology and features. We may not have obtained comprehensive patent protection for our technology, and any patents we might pursue may not be granted, may be challenged or invalidated, or may not provide meaningful protection against competitors. Our limited resources make it difficult to pursue extensive patent prosecution or trademark registration strategies. Competitors may be able to independently develop similar features or technology without infringing any intellectual property rights we may have. Additionally, we may face claims from third parties alleging that our platform infringes their intellectual property rights, which could result in costly litigation, licensing fees, or the need to modify our platform. Defending against intellectual property claims or enforcing our own rights could be expensive and time-consuming, diverting resources from our business operations. If we are unable to adequately protect our intellectual property or if we become subject to infringement claims, our competitive position and business prospects could be materially harmed.

Play Pickup's platform includes features that enable game hosts to collect payments from participants, which subjects us to various financial services regulations and payment processing requirements. We must comply with payment card industry data security standards, anti-money laundering regulations, and other financial services laws that govern the collection, processing, and transmission of payments. We rely on third-party payment processors to handle transactions, and we are subject to their terms of service, fees, and operational requirements. Any failure to comply with applicable payment regulations could result in fines, penalties, or loss of our ability to process payments, which would severely impair a key feature of our platform. Payment processing issues, including transaction failures, delays, chargebacks, or fraud, could harm user trust and satisfaction. Our payment processing partners could terminate their relationships with us, increase their fees, or change their terms in ways that adversely affect our business. Additionally, we may face liability for fraudulent transactions or disputes between users regarding payments. Our limited resources and expertise in financial services compliance make it challenging to navigate these complex regulatory requirements and manage payment-related risks effectively.

The securities being offered are Simple Agreements for Future Equity (SAFEs), which are not traditional equity or debt instruments. SAFEs have no maturity date and do not accrue interest, which means there is no assurance that investors will ever receive equity in the Company or any return on their investment. The SAFEs will convert into equity only upon the occurrence of specific future events, such as a qualified equity financing or a liquidity event, which may never occur. If the Company does not raise additional equity financing or experience a liquidity event, the SAFEs may remain outstanding indefinitely without converting. The terms upon which the SAFEs will convert into equity are uncertain and will depend on the terms of future financing rounds or liquidity events that have not yet been determined. While the SAFEs include a valuation cap, the actual conversion price and the amount of equity investors receive will depend on future events and negotiations that are outside of investors' control. Investors may receive less equity than anticipated, and the equity received may be subject to additional terms, preferences, and restrictions imposed in connection with future financing rounds. There is no guarantee that the conversion terms will be favorable to SAFE holders or that the equity received will have any value.

There is no public market for the securities being offered, and none is expected to develop in the foreseeable future. The securities have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 or any state securities laws, and they may not be sold or transferred except in compliance with applicable securities laws, which significantly restricts your ability to sell or otherwise dispose of the securities. Under Regulation Crowdfunding, investors are subject to a one-year holding period during which they generally cannot transfer the securities except in very limited circumstances, such as to the Company, to accredited investors, or as part of a registered offering. Even after the one-year holding period expires, there will likely be no market for the securities, and you may be unable to find a buyer if you wish to sell. The Company has no plans to list its securities on any exchange or to facilitate a secondary market for the securities. You should be prepared to hold your investment for an indefinite period of time, potentially until the Company is acquired or goes public, which may never occur. The lack of liquidity means that you will be unable to access your invested capital and may be unable to respond to changes in the Company's performance or your own financial circumstances by selling your investment.

Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team. The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel we require to successfully grow our business.

Investors in this offering will hold a minority position in the Company and will have no ability to control or significantly influence company decisions, including decisions regarding business strategy, operations, future financings, acquisitions, or a sale of the company. All major decisions will be made by the Company's management and, following conversion of the SAFEs, by holders of voting equity securities. Management will have broad discretion in how to use the proceeds from this offering, and investors will have no say in these decisions. As holders of SAFEs, investors will have very limited information rights compared to traditional equity investors or investors in public companies. The Company is only required to provide the limited financial and operational updates required under Regulation Crowdfunding, which are significantly less comprehensive than the disclosure requirements for public companies. Investors will not have the right to inspect company books and records, attend board meetings, or receive detailed financial information unless the Company voluntarily provides such information. This lack of control and limited information rights means that investors must rely entirely on management's decisions and have limited ability to monitor their investment or protect their interests.

Play Pickup Inc was incorporated in 2026 and has a very limited operating history upon which investors can evaluate our business model, financial performance, and prospects. We are an early-stage company with only one employee and limited resources to execute our business plan. Our mobile app platform for organizing pickup basketball games is still in the early stages of market penetration, and we have not yet demonstrated that our business model is sustainable or scalable. The challenges, risks, and difficulties frequently encountered by early-stage companies in competitive and rapidly evolving markets may be particularly acute for us given our limited resources and operational history.

Investors must evaluate an investment in the Company in light of the uncertainties that any early-stage company encounters. We may not be successful in addressing the risks we face, and our failure to do so could materially harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations. There can be no assurance that we will be able to successfully develop our platform, attract and retain a sufficient user base, generate meaningful revenue, or achieve profitability.

Play Pickup's platform facilitates in-person pickup basketball games where physical injuries are common and expected. While we do not directly organize or supervise these games, our role in connecting players and facilitating game organization may expose us to potential liability claims if participants are injured during games found through our platform. Basketball is a contact sport with inherent risks of injury, including sprains, fractures, concussions, and other serious injuries. Participants or their families may attempt to hold us liable for injuries sustained during games, claiming that our platform failed to adequately warn of risks, properly vet participants, or ensure safe playing conditions. We may not have adequate insurance coverage to protect against all potential liability claims, and defending against such claims could be costly and time-consuming even if ultimately unsuccessful. Any significant liability claim or adverse judgment could exceed our insurance coverage and financial resources, potentially resulting in substantial damages that could threaten our business. Additionally, even claims that are successfully defended could result in negative publicity and reputational harm that damages user trust and adoption of our platform.

The value proposition of Play Pickup's platform is fundamentally dependent on having a sufficient concentration of active users within specific geographic areas to enable players to find games near them. This creates a "network effect" challenge where the platform is only useful if enough players in a given location are using it. If we fail to achieve critical mass in key markets, users will be unable to find games, which will lead to user attrition and make it even more difficult to attract new users, creating a negative feedback loop. Building this local network density requires substantial marketing investment and time in each target market. We are competing for users' attention and adoption against established habits of organizing games through informal channels, text messages, and social media. Our limited resources and single-employee team make it particularly challenging to execute the localized marketing and community-building efforts necessary to achieve critical mass in multiple markets simultaneously. If we cannot successfully build sufficient user density in our target markets, our platform may fail to gain traction and our business model may not be viable.
Play Pickup collects, stores, and processes personal information from our users, including location data, contact information, payment information, and activity data. This subjects us to various federal and state data privacy and security laws and regulations, including state privacy laws such as the California Consumer Privacy Act and similar laws in other states, as well as data breach notification requirements. We must implement appropriate technical and organizational measures to protect user data from unauthorized access, use, or disclosure, and we must provide users with required notices and choices regarding their personal information. Compliance with these evolving and sometimes conflicting privacy and security requirements is complex, costly, and time-consuming, particularly for an early-stage company with limited resources. Any failure to comply with applicable privacy laws could result in regulatory investigations, significant fines and penalties, mandatory changes to our business practices, and litigation. Additionally, any data breach or security incident affecting our users' personal information could result in notification obligations, regulatory scrutiny, loss of user trust, reputational harm, and potential liability. Our limited technical resources and single-employee team make it particularly challenging to implement and maintain robust data security measures and privacy compliance programs.
An investment in Play Pickup is highly speculative and involves a high degree of risk. The Company is an early-stage business with a limited operating history, limited resources, and an unproven business model. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to successfully develop its platform, attract sufficient users, generate meaningful revenue, achieve profitability, or continue operations. The Company faces numerous risks and uncertainties, including intense competition, dependence on a single employee, need for additional capital, and challenges inherent in building a network-effects-based business. Investors should be prepared for the possibility of losing their entire investment. Early-stage companies like Play Pickup have a high failure rate, and there is a substantial risk that the Company will not succeed and that the securities will become worthless. Investors should only invest funds that they can afford to lose entirely and should not rely on this investment for their financial security. This investment is suitable only for investors who understand and can bear the risks of a complete loss of their investment.
The Company may never receive a future equity financing or elect to convert the Securities upon such future financing. In addition, the Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a sale of the Company or an IPO. If neither the conversion of the Securities nor a liquidity event occurs, the Purchasers could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities are not equity interests, have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company's assets or profits and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its actions.

The Offering

USE OF FUNDS

9. What is the purpose of this offering?

The Company intends to use the net proceeds of this offering for working capital and general corporate purposes, which includes the specific items listed in Item 10 below. While the Company expects to use the net proceeds from the Offering in the manner described above, it cannot specify with certainty the particular uses of the net proceeds that it will receive from this Offering. Accordingly, the Company will have broad discretion in using these proceeds.

10. How does the issuer intend to use the proceeds of this offering? ⓘ If we raise: $50,000 Use of Proceeds: If the minimum target is reached, proceeds will be allocated approximately as follows: 6.5% to Wefunder's platform fee, 55% to scale platform infrastructure, 25% to marketing, and 13.5% to general and administrative expenses; actual allocations may vary at management's discretion based on evolving operational needs, and no specific outcomes or growth milestones are guaranteed. If we raise: $124,000 Use of Proceeds: If the maximum target or oversubscriptions are reached, proceeds may be allocated approximately as follows: 6.5% to Wefunder's platform fee, 45% to scale platform infrastructure, 35% to marketing, and 13.5% to general and administrative expenses; raising our maximum will also enable us to hire a full time founding engineer that can fully focus on building the best product as fast as possible.

DELIVERY & CANCELLATIONS

11. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

Book Entry and Investment in the Co-Issuer. Investors will make their investments by investing in interests issued by one or more co-issuers, each of which is a special purpose vehicle ("SPV"). The SPV will invest all amounts it receives from investors in securities issued by the Company. Interests issued to investors by the SPV will be in book entry form. This means that the investor will not receive a certificate representing his or her investment. Each investment will be recorded in the books and records of the SPV. In addition, investors' interests in the investments will be recorded in each investor's "Portfolio" page on the Wefunder platform. All references in this Form C to an investor's investment in the Company (or similar phrases) should be interpreted to include investments in a SPV.

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline.

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be canceled and the committed funds will be returned.

An investor's right to cancel. An Investor may cancel his or her investment commitment at any time until 48 hours prior to the offering deadline.

If there is a material change to the terms of the offering or the information provided to the Investor about the offering and/or the Company, the Investor will be provided notice of the change and must re-confirm his or her investment commitment within five business days of receipt of the notice. If the Investor does not reconfirm, he or she will receive notifications disclosing that the commitment was cancelled, the reason for the cancellation, and the refund amount that the investor is required to receive. If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the Investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the Investor's funds will be returned within five business days.

Within five business days of cancellation of an offering by the Company, the Company will give each investor notification of the cancellation, disclose the reason for the cancellation, identify the refund amount the investor will receive, and refund the Investor's funds.

The Company's right to cancel. The Investment Agreement you will execute with us provides the Company the right to cancel for any reason before the offering deadline.

If the sum of the investment commitments from all investors does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the time of the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.

Ownership and Capital Structure

THE OFFERING

13. Describe the terms of the securities being offered.

To view a copy of the SAFE you will purchase, please see Appendix B, Investor Contracts. The main terms of the SAFEs are provided below.

The SAFEs. We are offering securities in the form of a Simple Agreement for Future Equity ("SAFE"), which provides investors the right to Preferred Stock in the Company ("Preferred Stock"), when and if the Company sponsors an equity offering that involves Preferred Stock, on the standard terms offered to other Investors.

Conversion to Preferred Equity. Based on our SAFEs, when we engage in an offering of equity interests involving Preferred Stock, Investors will receive a number of shares of Preferred Stock calculated using the method that results in the greater number of Preferred Stock:

- i. the total value of the Investor's investment, divided by
 - a. the price of Preferred Stock issued to new Investors
- ii. if the valuation for the company is more than $5,000,000.00 (the "Valuation Cap"), the amount invested by the Investor divided by the quotient of
 - a. the Valuation Cap divided by
 - b. the total amount of the Company's capitalization at that time.
- iii. For investors up to the first $70,500.00 of the securities, investors will receive a valuation cap of $4,000,000.00 Wefunder VIP Investors will be entitled to these terms for the entire duration of the offering, even if the threshold limit noted above is met.

Additional Terms of the Valuation Cap. For purposes of option (ii) above, the Company's capitalization calculated as of immediately prior to the Equity Financing and (without double-counting, in each case calculated on an as-converted to Common Stock basis):

- Includes all shares of Capital Stock issued and outstanding;
- Includes all Converting Securities;
- Includes all (i) issued and outstanding Options and (ii) Promised Options; and
- Includes the Unissued Option Pool, except that any increase to the Unissued Option Pool in connection with the Equity Financing shall only be included to the extent that the number of Promised Options exceeds the Unissued Option Pool prior to such increase.

Liquidity Events. If the Company has an initial public offering or is acquired by, merged with, or otherwise taken over by another company or new owners prior to Investors in the SAFEs receiving Preferred Stock, Investors will receive

- proceeds equal to the greater of (i) the Purchase Amount (the "Cash-Out Amount") or (ii) the amount payable on the number of shares of Common Stock equal to the Purchase Amount divided by the Liquidity Price (the "Conversion Amount")

Liquidity Priority. In a Liquidity Event or Dissolution Event, this Safe is intended to operate like standard nonparticipating Preferred Stock.

The Investor's right to receive its Cash-Out Amount is:

- i. Junior to payment of outstanding indebtedness and creditor claims, including contractual claims for payment and convertible promissory notes (to the extent such convertible promissory notes are not actually or notionally converted into Capital Stock);
- ii. On par with payments for other Safes and/or Preferred Stock, and if the applicable Proceeds are insufficient to permit full payments to the Investor and such other Safes and/or Preferred Stock, the applicable Proceeds will be distributed pro rata to the investor and such other Safes and/or Preferred Stock in proportion to the full payments that would otherwise be due; and
- iii. Senior to payments for Common Stock.

VIP Bonus

Play Pickup Inc will offer a discount to the normal terms listed in this Form C for all investments that are committed by investors who are part of Wefunder, Inc's VIP program. This means eligible Wefunder investors will receive a discount for any securities they purchased in this offering. For more specific details on the company's discount, please review the description of the terms above.

The discount is only valid until the offering closes. Investors eligible for the bonus will also receive priority if they are on a waitlist to invest and the company exceeds its maximum funding goal. They will be given the first opportunity to invest if space in the offering becomes available due to the cancellation or failure of previous investments.

Securities Issued by the SPV

Instead of issuing its securities directly to investors, the Company has decided to issue its securities to the SPV, which will then issue interests in the SPV to investors. The SPV is formed concurrently with the filing of the Form C. Given this, the SPV does not have any financials to report. The SPV is managed by Wefunder Admin, LLC and is a co-issuer with the Company of the securities being offered in this offering. The Company's use of the SPV is intended to allow investors in the SPV to achieve the same economic exposure, voting power, and ability to assert State and Federal law rights, and receive the same disclosures, as if they had invested directly in the Company. While the Issuer may be required to pay an annual administrative fee for the maintenance of the SPV, investors should note the Company's use of the SPV will not result in any additional fees being charged to investors.

The SPV has been organized and will be operated for the sole purpose of directly acquiring, holding and disposing of the Company's securities, will not borrow money and will use all of the proceeds from the sale of its securities solely to purchase a single class of securities of the Company. As a result, an investor investing in the Company through the SPV will have the same relationship to the Company's securities, in terms of number, denomination, type and rights, as if the investor invested directly in the Company.

Voting Rights

If the securities offered by the Company and those offered by the SPV have voting rights, those voting rights may be exercised by the investor or his or her proxy. The applicable proxy is the Lead Investor, if the Proxy (described below) is in effect.

Proxy to the Lead Investor

The SPV securities have voting rights. With respect to those voting rights, the investor and his, her, or its transferees or assignees (collectively, the "Investor"), through a power of attorney granted by Investor in the Investor Agreement, has appointed or will appoint the Lead Investor as the Investor's true and lawful proxy and attorney (the "Proxy") with the power to act alone and with full power of substitution, on behalf of the Investor to: (i) vote all securities related to the Company purchased in an offering hosted by Wefunder Portal, and (ii) execute, in connection with such voting power, any instrument or document that the Lead Investor determines is necessary and appropriate in the exercise of his or her authority. Such Proxy will be irrevocable by the Investor unless and until a successor lead investor ("Replacement Lead Investor") takes the place of the Lead Investor. Upon notice that a Replacement Lead Investor has taken the place of the Lead Investor, the Investor will have five (5) calendar days to revoke the Proxy. If the Proxy is not revoked within the 5-day time period, it shall remain in effect.

Restriction on Transferability

The SPV securities are subject to restrictions on transfer, as set forth in the Subscription Agreement and the Limited Liability Company Agreement of Wefunder SPV, LLC, and may not be transferred without the prior approval of the Company, on behalf of the SPV.

14. Do the securities offered have voting rights?

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No

15. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above?

See the above description of the Proxy to the Lead Investor.

16. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

Any provision of this Safe may be amended, waived or modified by written consent of the Company and either:

- i. the Investor or
- ii. the majority-in-interest of all then-outstanding Safes with the same "Post-Money Valuation Cap" and "Discount Rate" as this Safe (and Safes lacking one or both of such terms will be considered to be the same with respect to such term(s)), provided that with respect to clause (ii):

A. the Purchase Amount may not be amended, waived or modified in this manner,

B. the consent of the Investor and each holder of such Safes must be solicited (even if not obtained), and

C. such amendment, waiver or modification treats all such holders in the same manner. "Majority-in-interest" refers to the holders of the applicable group of Safes whose Safes have a total Purchase Amount greater than 50% of the total Purchase Amount of all of such applicable group of Safes.

Pursuant to authorization in the Investor Agreement between each Investor and Wefunder Portal, Wefunder Portal is authorized to take the following actions with respect to the investment contract between the Company and an investor:

- A. Wefunder Portal may amend the terms of an investment contract, provided that the amended terms are more favorable to the investor than the original terms; and
- B. Wefunder Portal may reduce the amount of an investor's investment if the reason for the reduction is that the Company's offering is oversubscribed.

Restrictions on Transfer of the Securities Being Offered:

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

1. to the issuer;
2. to an accredited investor;
3. as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or
4. to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

NOTE: The term "accredited investor" means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person.

The term "member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent" includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term "spousal equivalent" means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

Description of Issuer's Securities

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Class of Security	Authorized	Outstanding	Voting rights
Common Stock	10000000	9050000	☒
Class of Security	Total Pool	Issued
Warrants	None
Options	1000000

Describe any other rights:

The Company has not yet authorized Preferred Stock, which investors in the SAFE (if converted) may receive. Preferred Stock has liquidation preference over common stock.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

The holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company could limit the Investor's rights in a material way. For example, those interest holders could vote to change the terms of the agreements governing the Company's operations or cause the Company to engage in additional offerings (including potentially a public offering).

These changes could result in further limitations on the voting rights the Investor will have as an owner of equity in the Company, for example by diluting those rights or limiting them to certain types of events or consents.

To the extent applicable, in cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional equity, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risk that an Investor's rights could be limited, diluted or otherwise qualified, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

Additional risks related to the rights of other security holders are discussed below, in Question 20.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the shareholders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the value of the Investor's securities in the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, the shareholders may change the terms of the articles of incorporation for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The shareholders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. They may also vote to engage in new offerings and/or to register certain of the Company's securities in a way that negatively affects the value of the securities the Investor owns. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the Investor, leaving the Investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns.

The shareholders have the right to redeem their securities at any time. Shareholders could decide to force the Company to redeem their securities at a time that is not favorable to the Investor and is damaging to the Company. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability.

In cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional stock, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

The initial amount invested in a SAFE is determined by the investor, and we do not guarantee that the SAFE will be converted into any particular number of shares of Preferred Stock. As discussed in Question 13, when we engage in an offering of equity interests involving Preferred Stock, Investors may receive a number of shares of Preferred Stock calculated as either (i) the total value of the Investor's investment, divided by the price of the Preferred Stock being issued to new Investors, or (ii) if the valuation for the company is more than the Valuation Cap, the amount invested divided by the quotient of (a) the Valuation Cap divided by (b) the total amount of the Company's capitalization at that time.

Because there will likely be no public market for our securities prior to an initial public offering or similar liquidity event, the price of the Preferred Stock that Investors will receive, and/or the total value of the Company's capitalization, will be determined by our board of directors. Among the factors we may consider in determining the price of Preferred Stock are prevailing market conditions, our financial information, market valuations of other companies that we believe to be comparable to us, estimates of our business potential, the present state of our development and other factors deemed relevant.

In the future, we will perform valuations of our stock (including both common stock and Preferred Stock) that take into account, as applicable, factors such as the following:

- unrelated third party valuations;
- the price at which we sell other securities in light of the relative rights, preferences and privileges of those securities;
- our results of operations, financial position and capital resources;
- current business conditions and projections;
- the marketability or lack thereof of the securities;
- the hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management;
- the introduction of new products;
- the risk inherent in the development and expansion of our products;
- our stage of development and material risks related to our business;
- the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a sale of our company given the prevailing market conditions and the nature and history of our business;
- industry trends and competitive environment;
- trends in consumer spending, including consumer confidence;
- overall economic indicators, including gross domestic product, employment, inflation and interest rates; and
- the general economic outlook.

We will analyze factors such as those described above using a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value. For example, we may use methodologies that assume that businesses operating in the same industry will share similar characteristics and that the Company's value will correlate to those characteristics, and/or methodologies that compare transactions in similar securities issued by us that were conducted in the market.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company, and thus be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Board Of Directors, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Board Of Directors of the Company.

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional issuances of securities. Following the investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company. If the Board Of Directors of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

24. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Overview of the Business and Financial Condition

A mobile app platform that organizes pickup basketball games by connecting local players, enabling game discovery, stat tracking, and community building. The app helps basketball players find games near them, track their performance, and build crews with other hoopers.

The Company has a predecessor entity, Pickup LLC. The Company received substantial assets from the predecessor entity. As such, financials from inception to EOY 2025 have been included for Pickup LLC.

We are an early-stage company and have incurred operating losses and negative cash flows from operations since inception. We expect to continue to incur operating losses in the near term.

As of June 25, 2026, we had cash and cash equivalents of approximately $25,049.01.

Our ability to continue operations is dependent on managing our expenses and, if necessary, obtaining additional financing.

This discussion should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and related notes included in this offering statement.

Business and Operating Uncertainty

Our business operates in an environment subject to various risks, uncertainties, and changing conditions, which makes it difficult to evaluate our business, financial condition, and prospects and may limit the comparability of our results of operations from period to period.

Financial Condition

As of July 8, 2026, our total assets were $23,448.99 and our current and non-current liabilities, as reflected in available financial statement fields, were $564.42.

Our financial statements reflect an early-stage company with limited operating history. Investors should not place undue reliance on historical financial information given the company's limited operating history and the likelihood that future results will differ from historical results.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of July 8, 2026, we had cash and cash equivalents of approximately $23,448.99.

Based on our current operations, we have a monthly net cash burn of approximately $4,033.

Our monthly net cash burn or profit may vary significantly from month to month due to the timing of receipts and expenditures and other short-term factors. As a result, period-to-period comparisons may not be meaningful.

Based on our current plan, we expect to have sufficient cash to fund operations for at least the next 12 months.

Our historical operations have been funded primarily through external financing.

Liquidity Assumptions

Our assessment of our liquidity and ability to fund operations is not a projection and is based on current assumptions regarding operating expenses, cash requirements, and capital needs. These assumptions may change, and actual results may differ materially due to changes in operating conditions, timing of receipts and payments, and other factors.

Dependence on Additional Financing

There can be no assurance that additional financing will be available on acceptable terms, or at all. If we are unable to raise additional capital when needed, we may be required to materially reduce or suspend operations.

Indebtedness and Capital Structure

As of the date of this offering statement, we had total outstanding indebtedness consisting of 2 loans and approximately $2,564.42 in aggregate principal obligations. The indebtedness consists of $564.42 and $2,000 (related party). The material terms of such indebtedness are described in Item 24 of this Form C and include no stated interest rate, no stated maturity date and no stated interest rate, no stated maturity date.

(For the avoidance of doubt, SAFEs are not treated as indebtedness.)

During the past three years, we have conducted exempt offerings, resulting in the issuance of securities in aggregate amounts of approximately $30,000.

Known Trends, Events, and Uncertainties

Management is not currently aware of any known trends, events, or uncertainties that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or results of operations over the next 12 months.

The absence of a discussion of any particular trend, event, or uncertainty should not be interpreted to mean that such matters do not exist; rather, it reflects management's judgment based on information currently available.

Changes Since the Date of the Financial Statements

Since July 8, 2026, there were material changes in our operations and financial condition, including New SAFE Investments.

Impact of This Offering

The proceeds from this offering are expected to be used to Funds will be used to scale platform infrastructure and marketing to support first 100,000 players and hosts. The goal of this raise is to establish Pickup as the go to place to find a quality, consistent run in our target markets. The timing and extent of our use of proceeds will depend on the amount of proceeds raised and future operating conditions. Additional detail regarding our planned use of proceeds is provided in Item 10 of this Form C.

There can be no assurance that the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to fund our operations or achieve our business objectives.

Certain information relevant to understanding our financial condition and liquidity is presented elsewhere in this offering statement, including in the financial statements, related notes, and the sections describing indebtedness and prior financings.

Forward-Looking Statements

This discussion contains forward-looking statements that are based on management's current expectations and assumptions. Actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by these statements.

If you would have answered "Yes" to any of these questions had the conviction, order, judgment, decree, suspension, expulsion or bar occurred or been issued after May 16, 2016, then you are NOT eligible to rely on this exemption under Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act.

OTHER MATERIAL INFORMATION

31. In addition to the information expressly required to be included in this Form, include: ⓘ

- (1) any other material information presented to investors; and

- (2) such further material information, if any, as may be necessary to make the required statements, in light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

The Lead Investor: As described above, each Investor that has entered into the Investor Agreement will grant a power of attorney to make voting decisions on behalf of that Investor to the Lead Investor (the "Proxy"). The Proxy is irrevocable unless and until a Successor Lead Investor takes the place of the Lead Investor, in which case, the Investor has a five (5) calendar day period to revoke the Proxy. Pursuant to the Proxy, the Lead Investor or his or her successor will make voting decisions and take any other actions in connection with the voting on Investors' behalf.

The Lead Investor is an individual that is chosen to act in the role of Lead Investor on behalf of Investors that have a Proxy in effect. The Lead Investor will be chosen by the Company and approved by Wefunder Inc. and the identity of the initial Lead Investor will be disclosed to Investors before Investors make a final investment decision to purchase the securities related to the Company.

The Lead Investor can quit at any time or can be removed by Wefunder Inc. for cause or pursuant to a vote of investors as detailed in the Lead Investor Agreement. In the event the Lead Investor quits or is removed, the Company will choose a Successor Lead Investor who must be approved by Wefunder Inc. The identity of the Successor Lead Investor will be disclosed to Investors, and those that have a Proxy in effect can choose to either leave such Proxy in place or revoke such Proxy during a 5-day period beginning with notice of the replacement of the Lead Investor.

The Lead Investor will not receive any compensation for his or her services to the SPV. The Lead Investor may receive compensation if, in the future, Wefunder Advisors LLC forms a fund ("Fund") for accredited investors for the purpose of investing in a non-Regulation Crowdfunding offering of the Company. In such circumstances, the Lead Investor may act as a portfolio manager for that Fund (and as a supervised person of Wefunder Advisors) and may be compensated through that role.

Although the Lead Investor may act in multiple roles with respect to the Company's offerings and may potentially be compensated for some of its services, the Lead Investor's goal is to maximize the value of the Company and therefore maximize the value of securities issued by or related to the Company. As a result, the Lead Investor's interests should always be aligned with those of Investors. It is, however, possible that in some limited circumstances the Lead Investor's interests could diverge from the interests of Investors, as discussed in section 8 above.

Investors that wish to purchase securities related to the Company through Wefunder Portal must agree to give the Proxy described above to the Lead Investor, provided that if the Lead Investor is replaced, the Investor will have a 5-day period during which he or she may revoke the Proxy. If the Proxy is not revoked during this 5-day period, it will remain in effect.

Tax Filings. In order to complete necessary tax filings, the SPV is required to include information about each investor who holds an interest in the SPV, including each investor's taxpayer identification number ("TIN") (e.g., social security number or employer identification number). To the extent they have not already done so, each investor will be required to provide their TIN within the earlier of (i) two (2) years of making their investment or (ii) twenty (20) days prior to the date of any distribution from the SPV. If an investor does not provide their TIN within this time, the SPV reserves the right to withhold from any proceeds otherwise payable to the investor an amount necessary for the SPV to satisfy its tax withholding obligations as well as the SPV's reasonable estimation of any penalties that may be charged by the IRS or other relevant authority as a result of the investor's failure to provide their TIN. If applicable, the Company may also be required to pay Wefunder certain fees for the preparation of tax filings. Such fees and the Company's obligation to deliver required tax documents are further specified in the related Tax Services Agreement ("TSA").

Investors should carefully review the terms of the SPV Subscription Agreement for additional information about tax filings.

Potential Dissolution of the SPV. The Company has agreed that it will pay an administrative fee and / or certain tax fees to Wefunder, in addition to delivering required tax information in the manner prescribed by the TSA, where applicable. Failure to pay such fees or provide Wefunder with required tax information could result in the dissolution of the SPV (an "SPV Dissolution Event"). Subsequent to an SPV Dissolution Event, the securities held by the SPV would be distributed directly and proportionally to the individual investors. This could create administrative complexities, as investors would need to manage the securities themselves rather than having them held and administered by the SPV. Additionally, the unplanned distribution of securities may not align with investors' intended investment strategy or asset allocation.

Upon an SPV Dissolution Event, the Investor hereby consents to and agrees to accept direct assignment of the SPV's rights and obligations under any investment agreements between the SPV and the Company that is located in the Form C or C/A offering materials. The Investor acknowledges they will be bound by all terms and conditions of such agreements as if they were an original party thereto.

ONGOING REPORTING

32. The issuer will file a report electronically with the Securities & Exchange Commission annually and post the report on its website, no later than:

120 days after the end of each fiscal year covered by the report.

33. Once posted, the annual report may be found on the issuer's website at:

<https://www.playpickup.app/invest>

The issuer must continue to comply with the ongoing reporting requirements until:

1. the issuer is required to file reports under Exchange Act Sections 13(a) or 15(d);
2. the issuer has filed at least one annual report and has fewer than 300 holders of record;
3. the issuer has filed at least three annual reports and has total assets that do not exceed $10 million; or
4. the issuer or another party purchases or repurchases all of the securities issued pursuant to Section 4(a)(6), including any payment in full of debt securities or any complete redemption of redeemable securities; or the issuer liquidates or dissolves in accordance with state law.
