Erin Mae Miller

Producer
Nashville Metropolitan Area

Summary

Erin Mae Miller lives in Nashville, TN by way of NYC and founded Ignite Studios which focuses on developing and producing scripted and non-scripted content. Most recently, Ignite produced IF I TELL YOU and RED INK, and has several more projects in development.Previously, Miller worked with Endeavor supported Third Coast Content as their creative development executive and with Big Indie Pictures in NYC as production executive, working closely with Amazon Original Films, where she developed the deliverables system for AOM and oversaw the execution of 5 of their original films. Miller has produced and managed shows for History, Discovery, TLC, OWN, E!, VH1, and ultimately wrote/directed the documentary “Work & Happiness” for PBS. Miller is a board member of Women Independent Producers.

Experience

Ignite Studios, LLC

Film Producer
November 2014 - Present (12 years)
Nashville, Tennessee, United States

Ignite Studios produces long form content for Film and Television that subverts cultural narratives, building our empathy and expanding our worldview beyond the echo chambers of our immediate communities.

The stories we create aim to bring people around the same fire, stoking conversation and connection in an increasingly polarized world.

Third Coast Content

Creative Development Executive
January 2020 - April 2023 (3 years 4 months)
Nashville, Tennessee

A wonderful season of developing content with Ben Howard at TCC in collaboration with WME and Endeavor Content. I continue to follow the projects set up with networks and in production, but am developing and producing new content through my own label primarily.

Fivestone Studios
Creative Development Producer
March 2022 - January 2023 (11 months)
Nashville, Tennessee, United States

Beyond thrilled to join forces and develop original content with the immensely talented team at FiveStone Studios in Nashville, TN! Their vision and culture is exactly what they claim to be honorable, visionary, and excellent - we're cooking up some awesome projects with Farm Journal - the 100+ year old publication that is a voice to those who put food on our plates. Cannot wait for you to see it!

Big Indie Pictures
Production Executive
August 2016 - January 2018 (1 year 6 months)
New York City Metropolitan Area

Big Indie Pictures is the production service company for Amazon Original Movies. The focus of my time as a production executive with Big Indie was to work directly with AOM production and AOM legal to develop the deliverables system for their original films. While developing and streamlining this process, I oversaw 5 AOM films from green-light through delivery. Thoroughly enjoyed my time collaborating with both Big Indie and AOM.
