RISK FACTORS

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. Investors should not invest any funds unless they can afford to lose the entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

The Company may never receive a future equity financing or elect to convert the Securities upon such future financing. In addition, the Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a sale of the Company or an IPO. If neither the conversion of the Securities nor a liquidity event occurs, the Purchasers could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities are not equity interests, have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company's assets or profits and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its actions.

NeigborDrop is an early-stage company with limited operating history. We were incorporated in January 2026 and have completed only a limited number of neighbor-to-neighbor transactions to date. This limited track record makes it difficult for investors to assess our business model, evaluate our prospects, or predict our future performance. We have not yet demonstrated that our hyperlocal neighbor-powered marketplace can achieve sustainable growth, generate sufficient transaction volume, or become profitable. Our business is subject to all the risks inherent in a new enterprise, including the substantial possibility that we will not be able to successfully implement our business plan, achieve market acceptance, or generate adequate revenue to sustain operations. Investors should evaluate an investment in our securities in light of the uncertainties and complexities frequently encountered by early-stage companies in competitive and evolving markets.

Our company currently has only one employee, who serves as our founder and is responsible for all critical aspects of our business operations, including product development, business strategy, customer acquisition, and day-to-day management. Our future success depends almost entirely on the continued services and performance of this individual. The loss of our founder due to death, disability, resignation, or any other reason would have a severe adverse effect on our business and could prevent us from implementing our business plan or continuing operations. We do not maintain key person life insurance on our founder. Additionally, as a one-person operation, we have extremely limited capacity to execute on multiple priorities simultaneously, respond to competitive threats, or scale our operations. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining additional personnel as we attempt to grow, and our inability to build out our team could prevent us from achieving our business objectives.

NeigborDrop operates as a two-sided marketplace that requires a sufficient concentration of both neighbors willing to help with errands and neighbors requesting assistance within the same hyperlocal area (typically within 100-1000 meters). This business model creates a 'chicken and egg' problem where we need enough helpers to attract requesters and enough requesters to attract helpers in each specific neighborhood. Unlike traditional delivery services that can dispatch couriers from a central location, our model only works when there is adequate density of active users in close proximity to one another. We have not yet proven that we can achieve or maintain this critical mass in any market, and the limited number of transactions completed to date does not demonstrate sustainable network effects. If we cannot build sufficient density in targeted neighborhoods, our platform will not provide reliable service, users will abandon the platform, and our business model will fail. The hyperlocal nature of our service means we must replicate this network effect in each new neighborhood or city we enter, significantly increasing the difficulty and cost of expansion.

Our business is dependent on various third-party technology platforms and service providers to operate our mobile applications and deliver our services. We rely on cloud hosting providers for our infrastructure, mobile app stores (Apple App Store and Google Play Store) for distribution of our applications, payment processors for handling transactions, mapping and geolocation services for matching neighbors, and other third-party services for essential functionality. Any disruption, degradation, or termination of these third-party services could significantly impair our ability to operate our platform. We do not control these third-party providers and cannot guarantee their continued availability, performance, or pricing. Changes to app store policies, payment processing terms, or API access could require us to modify our platform or business model. Additionally, if Apple or Google were to remove our application from their app stores for any reason, including alleged violations of their terms of service, our business would be severely harmed. We may also face increased costs if these providers raise their fees or change their service terms.

We have incurred losses since inception and expect to continue incurring losses for the foreseeable future as we invest in customer acquisition, product development, and market expansion. We have limited cash reserves and limited revenue to date. Our ability to achieve profitability depends on numerous factors, many of which are beyond our control, including our ability to generate sufficient transaction volume, establish an effective pricing model that balances affordability for users with adequate revenue for the company, control customer acquisition costs, and achieve operational efficiency. Our Co-Creator Program, which offers free fees for early adopters, and our 'no tip required' positioning may limit our ability to generate revenue from transactions. We cannot assure investors that we will ever achieve profitability or generate positive cash flow from operations. If we are unable to achieve and sustain profitability, investors may lose some or all of their investment.

We will require substantial additional funding beyond this offering to fully develop our business, expand into new markets, and achieve profitability. We have limited cash reserves and our current funding will only support limited operations and growth initiatives. We do not have any commitments or arrangements for additional financing, and there can be no assurance that additional capital will be available on acceptable terms, if at all. Our ability to raise additional capital may be limited by various factors, including market conditions, investor appetite for early-stage companies, our operating performance, and restrictions that may be imposed by existing investors or debt covenants. If we are unable to obtain additional financing when needed, we will be forced to significantly curtail our customer acquisition efforts, delay or abandon product development initiatives, reduce our workforce, or cease operations entirely. Even if additional financing is available, it will likely result in significant dilution to existing investors and may include terms that are unfavorable to current securityholders.

The market for delivery, errand, and ride services is highly competitive and dominated by well-established companies with substantially greater financial, technical, marketing, and operational resources than we possess. We compete with large, well-funded platforms such as Uber, DoorDash, Instacart, TaskRabbit, and other delivery and gig economy services, as well as traditional taxi and courier services. These competitors have significant advantages, including established brand recognition, large existing user bases, substantial capital resources, economies of scale, sophisticated technology platforms, and the ability to sustain losses while building market share. Many of these competitors can offer lower prices, faster service, broader geographic coverage, and more extensive marketing campaigns than we can. Additionally, these competitors may enter or expand in our target markets, potentially preventing us from achieving the critical mass necessary for our business model to succeed. We may be forced to reduce our fees, increase our marketing expenditures, or modify our business model in response to competitive pressures, any of which could harm our financial performance. There can be no assurance that we will be able to compete successfully against current or future competitors.

Our business model relies on neighbors trusting other neighbors to help with errands, rides, and pickups, which represents a departure from traditional delivery services that use professional couriers or drivers. This community-powered approach is relatively novel and unproven at scale. Consumers may be reluctant to request help from neighbors due to privacy concerns, safety considerations, social discomfort, or preference for professional services. Similarly, potential helpers may be unwilling to assist neighbors due to liability concerns, time constraints, or lack of sufficient financial incentive. Cultural factors, neighborhood dynamics, and varying levels of community trust in different geographic areas may affect adoption rates in ways that are difficult to predict. If consumers do not embrace our community-powered model in sufficient numbers, or if they try our service but do not find it reliable or convenient enough to use repeatedly, we will not be able to generate the transaction volume necessary to sustain our business. The limited number of transactions completed to date does not demonstrate that we have achieved product-market fit or that our service will gain widespread acceptance.

Our platform facilitates peer-to-peer transactions for rides and delivery services, which may subject us to various federal, state, provincial, and local laws and regulations. These may include transportation regulations, commercial delivery licensing requirements, gig economy worker classification laws, consumer protection statutes, and other regulatory frameworks that vary significantly by jurisdiction. Regulatory authorities may determine that our helpers should be classified as employees rather than independent users of our platform, which could subject us to employment taxes, benefits obligations, minimum wage requirements, and other employment-related liabilities. We may be required to obtain licenses, permits, or regulatory approvals to operate in certain jurisdictions, and we may not be able to obtain or maintain such authorizations. Changes to existing laws or the adoption of new regulations, such as those governing the gig economy, transportation network companies, or peer-to-peer marketplaces, could increase our compliance costs, require changes to our business model, or prohibit certain aspects of our operations. Our expansion into the United States from Canada may subject us to additional regulatory requirements and compliance obligations. Failure to comply with applicable regulations could result in significant fines, penalties, injunctions, or criminal liability, and could force us to cease operations in certain markets or entirely.

Our platform facilitates transactions between neighbors involving transportation of people and goods, entry into homes or vehicles, handling of personal items, and other activities that create potential liability exposure. We may be held liable for injuries, property damage, theft, loss of goods, traffic accidents, or other harm that occurs during neighbor-to-neighbor transactions facilitated through our platform, even if we are not directly responsible for such incidents. Users may bring claims against us for negligence, inadequate vetting of helpers, insufficient safety measures, or failure to warn of risks. We may also face claims related to discrimination, harassment, privacy violations, or other misconduct by users of our platform. While we may attempt to limit our liability through terms of service and user agreements, such limitations may not be enforceable in all jurisdictions or circumstances. We may not have adequate insurance coverage to protect against all potential claims, and insurance may not be available on commercially reasonable terms or at all. A single significant incident or a pattern of smaller incidents could result in substantial liability, damage to our reputation, loss of user trust, and potentially force us to cease operations. The costs of defending against claims, even if ultimately unsuccessful, could be substantial and divert management attention from operating our business.

Our platform collects, stores, and processes sensitive personal information from users, including names, contact information, payment information, real-time location data, and information about users' movements and activities. This data is subject to various privacy and data protection laws and regulations, including the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) in Canada, the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), and potentially the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) if we have users in Europe. These laws impose significant obligations regarding data collection, use, storage, security, and disclosure, and provide users with various rights regarding their personal information. We may face challenges in complying with these complex and evolving regulations, particularly as we expand into new jurisdictions with different legal requirements. Any actual or perceived failure to comply with privacy laws could result in regulatory investigations, significant fines and penalties, lawsuits, and damage to our reputation. Additionally, we face risks related to cybersecurity and data breaches. If our systems are compromised or we experience unauthorized access to user data, we could face significant liability, loss of user trust, regulatory penalties, and costs associated with remediation and notification. The hyperlocal and real-time nature of our service, which involves tracking users' precise locations and movements, may raise particular privacy concerns that could affect user adoption and regulatory scrutiny.

Our success depends in part on our ability to protect our proprietary technology, business methods, and brand. We rely primarily on trade secrets, proprietary know-how, and confidential information to protect our intellectual property, as we do not appear to have significant patent protection. We cannot be certain that the steps we have taken to protect our intellectual property rights will be adequate or that third parties will not independently develop similar technology or business methods. The concept of neighbor-powered delivery and hyperlocal matching may be difficult to protect, and competitors may be able to offer similar services without infringing any protectable rights we may have. Additionally, we may face claims from third parties alleging that our platform, technology, or business methods infringe their patents, copyrights, trademarks, or other intellectual property rights. The delivery, transportation, and marketplace industries have seen significant patent litigation, and larger competitors may have extensive patent portfolios that could be asserted against us. Defending against intellectual property claims, even if meritless, could be costly and time-consuming and could divert management attention from operating our business. If we are found to infringe on the rights of others, we could be required to pay significant damages, obtain licenses on unfavorable terms, modify our platform, or cease certain operations.

Investors in this offering will receive a Simple Agreement for Future Equity (SAFE), which is not a traditional equity security. A SAFE does not represent current ownership in the company and does not provide voting rights, dividends, or other rights typically associated with stock ownership. Instead, a SAFE represents a contractual right to receive equity in the future upon the occurrence of certain triggering events, such as a future priced equity financing or a liquidity event. There is no guarantee that any such triggering event will occur, and if no triggering event occurs, your SAFE may never convert into equity. A SAFE has no maturity date and does not accrue interest, so if the company does not raise additional capital or achieve a liquidity event, you may never receive any return on your investment. Even if your SAFE does convert, the amount of equity you receive will depend on the terms of the future financing or liquidity event, which are currently unknown and may be unfavorable. The valuation cap and discount rate in your SAFE are intended to provide some protection, but there is no guarantee that these terms will result in a favorable outcome. Additionally, the company may issue other securities with rights, preferences, or privileges that are senior to or more favorable than the equity you receive upon conversion of your SAFE.

An investment in NeigborDrop is highly speculative and involves a high degree of risk. You should invest only if you can afford to lose your entire investment. The company is at an early stage with limited operating history, unproven business model, and significant uncertainty regarding its ability to achieve profitability or a liquidity event. Many early-stage companies fail, and there is a substantial likelihood that the company will not succeed and that you will lose your entire investment. Even if the company achieves some level of success, there is no guarantee that your securities will have any value or that you will be able to realize any return on your investment. The company faces numerous risks and uncertainties, any of which could result in the failure of the business. Investors should not invest any funds in this offering unless they can afford to lose their entire investment and should consider this investment as only one part of a diversified investment portfolio.

There is no public market for the securities being offered, and none is expected to develop in the foreseeable future. The securities have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 or any state securities laws and may not be sold or transferred except in compliance with applicable securities laws, which significantly restricts your ability to sell. You will be required to hold your securities for at least one year from the date of purchase, and even after that period, you will only be able to sell if you can find a buyer and if such sale complies with applicable securities laws and any restrictions imposed by the company. The company is under no obligation to register the securities for resale or to facilitate any secondary market. Even if the company eventually conducts an initial public offering or is acquired, there is no guarantee that your securities will be included in such transaction or that you will be able to sell your securities at that time. You should be prepared to hold your investment indefinitely and should not invest if you may need access to these funds in the future. The lack of liquidity may also make it difficult to value your investment or to use it as collateral for a loan.

In connection with this offering, the founder of NeigborDrop has designated themselves as the lead investor who will sign documents and make decisions on behalf of all investors participating through the special purpose vehicle (SPV) structure. This arrangement creates a significant and inherent conflict of interest because the founder has interests both as the operator and controlling person of the company and as the representative of the investors. Decisions that benefit the company or the founder personally may not align with the interests of crowdfunding investors, and the founder may prioritize the company's interests over investor interests when these conflict. The founder will have access to material non-public information about the company's performance, financial condition, and prospects that other investors do not have, which could influence decisions made on behalf of investors. There is no independent third-party investor advocate or representative to protect the interests of crowdfunding investors or to provide a check on the founder's decision-making. The founder may make decisions regarding amendments to investment documents, waivers of rights, or other matters affecting investors without any independent oversight or approval. Investors will have no practical ability to remove the founder as lead investor or to challenge decisions made in that capacity. This structure significantly diminishes the protections typically available to investors and increases the risk that investor interests will be subordinated to the interests of the company and its founder.

The Offering

USE OF FUNDS

9. What is the purpose of this offering?

The Company intends to use the net proceeds of this offering for working capital and general corporate purposes, which includes the specific items listed in Item 10 below. While the Company expects to use the net proceeds from the Offering in the manner described above, it cannot specify with certainty the particular uses of the net proceeds that it will receive from this Offering. Accordingly, the Company will have broad discretion in using these proceeds.

10. How does the issuer intend to use the proceeds of this offering?

If we raise: $10,000

Use of Proceeds: If only the minimum target amount is raised, NeigborDrop expects to use proceeds approximately as follows: 49% Neighborhood Activation and User Acquisition, 30% Matching, Payments, and Trust Engineering, 13.1% Operations, Hosting, Legal, and Compliance, and 7.9% Wefunder fee and related offering expenses. Management intends to allocate proceeds as described but may adjust priorities based on market conditions, user growth, and operational needs.

If we raise: $124,000

Use of Proceeds: If the maximum target amount is raised, NeigborDrop expects to use proceeds approximately as follows: 60% Neighborhood Activation and User Acquisition, 25% product development, 7.1% Operations, and 7.9% Wefunder fee and related offering expenses. Management intends to allocate proceeds as described but may adjust priorities based on market conditions, user growth, and operational needs.

DELIVERY & CANCELLATIONS

11. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

Book Entry and Investment in the Co-Issuer. Investors will make their investments by investing in interests issued by one or more co-issuers, each of which is a special purpose vehicle ("SPV"). The SPV will invest all amounts it receives from investors in securities issued by the Company. Interests issued to investors by the SPV will be in book entry form. This means that the investor will not receive a certificate representing his or her investment. Each investment will be recorded in the books and records of the SPV. In addition, investors' interests in the investments will be recorded in each investor's "Portfolio" page on the Wefunder platform. All references in this Form C to an Investor's investment in the Company (or similar phrases) should be interpreted to include investments in a SPV.

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline.

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be canceled and the committed funds will be returned.

An Investor's right to cancel. An Investor may cancel his or her investment commitment at any time until 48 hours prior to the offering deadline.

If there is a material change to the terms of the offering or the information provided to the Investor about the offering and/or the Company, the Investor will be provided notice of the change and must re-confirm his or her investment commitment within five business days of receipt of the notice. If the Investor does not reconfirm, he or she will receive notifications disclosing that the commitment was cancelled, the reason for the cancellation, and the refund amount that the investor is required to receive. If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the Investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the Investor's funds will be returned within five business days.

Within five business days of cancellation of an offering by the Company, the Company will give each investor notification of the cancellation, disclose the reason for the cancellation, identify the refund amount the Investor will receive, and refund the Investor's funds.

The Company's right to cancel. The Investment Agreement you will execute with us provides the Company the right to cancel for any reason before the offering deadline.

If the sum of the investment commitments from all investors does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the time of the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.

Ownership and Capital Structure

THE OFFERING

13. Describe the terms of the securities being offered.

To view a copy of the SAFE you will purchase, please see Appendix B, Investor Contracts. The main terms of the SAFEs are provided below.

The SAFEs. We are offering securities in the form of a Simple Agreement for Future Equity ("SAFE"), which provides Investors the right to Preferred Stock in the Company ("Preferred Stock"), when and if the Company sponsors an equity offering that involves Preferred Stock, on the standard terms offered to other Investors.

Conversion to Preferred Equity. Based on our SAFEs, when we engage in an offering of equity interests involving Preferred Stock, Investors will receive a number of shares of Preferred Stock calculated using the method that results in the greater number of Preferred Stock:

i. the total value of the Investor's investment, divided by
   a. the price of Preferred Stock issued to new Investors multiplied by
   b. the discount rate (80%), or
ii. if the valuation for the company is more than $8,000,000.00 (the "Valuation Cap"), the amount invested by the Investor divided by the quotient of
   a. the Valuation Cap divided by
   b. the total amount of the Company's capitalization at that time.
iii. For investors up to the first $50,000.00 of the securities, investors will receive a valuation cap of $7,000,000.00 and a discount rate of 80%. Wefunder VIP investors will be entitled to these terms for the entire duration of the offering, even if the threshold limit noted above is met.

Additional Terms of the Valuation Cap. For purposes of option (ii) above, the Company's capitalization calculated as of immediately prior to the Equity Financing and (without double-counting, in each case calculated on an as-converted to Common Stock basis):

- Includes all shares of Capital Stock issued and outstanding;
- Includes all Converting Securities;
- Includes all (i) issued and outstanding Options and (ii) Promised Options; and
- Includes the Unissued Option Pool, except that any increase to the Unissued Option Pool in connection with the Equity Financing shall only be included to the extent that the number of Promised Options exceeds the Unissued Option Pool prior to such increase.

Liquidity Events. If the Company has an initial public offering or is acquired by, merged with, or otherwise taken over by another company or new owners prior to Investors in the SAFEs receiving Preferred Stock. Investors will receive

- proceeds equal to the greater of (i) the Purchase Amount (the "Cash-Out Amount") or (ii) the amount payable on the number of shares of Common Stock equal to the Purchase Amount divided by the Liquidity Price (the "Conversion Amount")

Liquidity Priority. In a Liquidity Event or Dissolution Event, this Safe is intended to operate like standard nonparticipating Preferred Stock. The Investor's right to receive its Cash-Out Amount is:

i. Junior to payment of outstanding indebtedness and creditor claims, including contractual claims for payment and convertible promissory notes (to the extent such convertible promissory notes are not actually or notionally converted into Capital Stock);

ii. On par with payments for other Safes and/or Preferred Stock, and if the applicable Proceeds are insufficient to permit full payments to the Investor and such other Safes and/or Preferred Stock, the applicable Proceeds will be distributed pro rata to the Investor and such other Safes and/or Preferred Stock in proportion to the full payments that would otherwise be due; and

iii. Senior to payments for Common Stock.

VIP Bonus

NeigborDrop will offer a discount to the normal terms listed in this Form C for all investments that are committed by investors who are part of Wefunder, Inc's VIP program. This means eligible Wefunder investors will receive a discount for any securities they purchased in this offering. For more specific details on the company's discount, please review the description of the terms above.

The discount is only valid until the offering closes. Investors eligible for the bonus will also receive priority if they are on a waitlist to invest and the company exceeds its maximum funding goal. They will be given the first opportunity to invest if space in the offering becomes available due to the cancellation or failure of previous investments.

Securities Issued by the SPV

Instead of issuing its securities directly to investors, the Company has decided to issue its securities to the SPV, which will then issue interests in the SPV to investors. The SPV is formed concurrently with the filing of the Form C. Given this, the SPV does not have any financials to report. The SPV is managed by Wefunder Admin, LLC and is a co-issuer with the Company of the securities being offered in this offering. The Company's use of the SPV is intended to allow investors in the SPV to achieve the same economic exposure, voting power, and ability to assert State and Federal law rights, and receive the same disclosures, as if they had invested directly in the Company. While the Issuer may be required to pay an annual administrative fee for the maintenance of the SPV, investors should note the Company's use of the SPV will not result in any additional fees being charged to investors.

The SPV has been organized and will be operated for the sole purpose of directly acquiring, holding and disposing of the Company's securities, will not borrow money and will use all of the proceeds from the sale of its securities solely to purchase a single class of securities of the Company. As a result, an investor investing in the Company through the SPV will have the same relationship to the Company's securities, in terms of number, denomination, type and rights, as if the investor invested directly in the Company.

Voting Rights

If the securities offered by the Company and those offered by the SPV have voting rights, those voting rights may be exercised by the investor or his or her proxy. The applicable proxy is the Lead Investor, if the Proxy (described below) is in effect.

Proxy to the Lead Investor

The SPV securities have voting rights. With respect to those voting rights, the investor and his, her, or its transferees or assignees (collectively, the "Investor"), through a power of attorney granted by Investor in the Investor Agreement, has appointed or will appoint the Lead Investor as the Investor's true and lawful proxy and attorney (the "Proxy") with the power to act alone and with full power of substitution, on behalf of the Investor to: (i) vote all securities related to the Company purchased in an offering hosted by Wefunder Portal, and (ii) execute, in connection with such voting power, any instrument or document that the Lead Investor determines is necessary and appropriate in the exercise of his or her authority. Such Proxy will be irrevocable by the Investor unless and until a successor lead investor ("Replacement Lead Investor") takes the place of the Lead Investor. Upon notice that a Replacement Lead Investor has taken the place of the Lead Investor, the Investor will have five (5) calendar days to revoke the Proxy. If the Proxy is not revoked within the 5-day time period, it shall remain in effect.

Restriction on Transferability

The SPV securities are subject to restrictions on transfer, as set forth in the Subscription Agreement and the Limited Liability Company Agreement of Wefunder SPV, LLC, and may not be transferred without the prior approval of the Company, on behalf of the SPV.

14. Do the securities offered have voting rights?

☐ Yes
☑ No

15. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above?

See the above description of the Proxy to the Lead Investor.

16. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

Any provision of this Safe may be amended, waived or modified by written consent of the Company and either:

i. the Investor or

ii. the majority-in-interest of all then-outstanding Safes with the same "Post-Money Valuation Cap" and "Discount Rate" as this Safe (and Safes lacking one or both of such terms will be considered to be the same with respect to such term(s)), provided that with respect to clause (ii):

A. the Purchase Amount may not be amended, waived or modified in this manner,

B. the consent of the Investor and each holder of such Safes must be solicited (even if not obtained), and

C. such amendment, waiver or modification treats all such holders in the same manner. "Majority-in-interest" refers to the holders of the applicable group of Safes whose Safes have a total Purchase Amount greater than 50% of the total Purchase Amount of all of such applicable group of Safes.

Pursuant to authorization in the Investor Agreement between each Investor and Wefunder Portal, Wefunder Portal is authorized to take the following actions with respect to the investment contract between the Company and an investor:

A. Wefunder Portal may amend the terms of an investment contract, provided that the amended terms are more favorable to the investor than the original terms; and

B. Wefunder Portal may reduce the amount of an investor's investment if the reason for the reduction is that the Company's offering is oversubscribed.

Restrictions on Transfer of the Securities Being Offered:

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

1. to the issuer;
2. to an accredited investor;
3. as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or
4. to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

NOTE: The term "accredited investor" means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person.

The term "member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent" includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term "spousal equivalent" means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

Description of Issuer's Securities

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Class of Security	Authorized	Outstanding	Voting rights
Common Stock	10000000	6400000	☑

Class of Security	Total Pool
Warrants	None
Options	None

Describe any other rights:

The company has not yet authorized preferred stock, which investors in the note (if converted) will receive. Preferred stock has liquidation preferences over common stock.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

The holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company could limit the Investor's rights in a material way. For example, those interest holders could vote to change the terms of the agreements governing the Company's operations or cause the Company to engage in additional offerings (including potentially a public offering).

These changes could result in further limitations on the voting rights the Investor will have as an owner of equity in the Company, for example by diluting those rights or limiting them to certain types of events or consents.

To the extent applicable, in cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional equity, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risk that an Investor's rights could be limited, diluted or otherwise qualified, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

Additional risks related to the rights of other security holders are discussed below, in Question 20.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the shareholders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the value of the Investor's securities in the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, the shareholders may change the terms of the articles of incorporation for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The shareholders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. They may also vote to engage in new offerings and/or to register certain of the Company's securities in a way that negatively affects the value of the securities the Investor owns. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the Investor, leaving the Investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns.

The shareholders have the right to redeem their securities at any time. Shareholders could decide to force the Company to redeem their securities at a time that is not favorable to the Investor and is damaging to the Company. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability.

In cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional stock, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

The initial amount invested in a SAFE is determined by the investor, and we do not guarantee that the SAFE will be converted into any particular number of shares of Preferred Stock. As discussed in Question 13, when we engage in an offering of equity interests involving Preferred Stock, Investors may receive a number of shares of Preferred Stock calculated as either (i) the total value of the Investor's investment, divided by the price of the Preferred Stock being issued to new Investors, or (ii) if the valuation for the company is more than the Valuation Cap, the amount invested divided by the quotient of (a) the Valuation Cap divided by (b) the total amount of the Company's capitalization at that time.

Because there will likely be no public market for our securities prior to an initial public offering or similar liquidity event, the price of the Preferred Stock that Investors will receive, and/or the total value of the Company's capitalization, will be determined by our board of directors. Among the factors we may consider in determining the price of Preferred Stock are prevailing market conditions, our financial information, market valuations of other companies that we believe to be comparable to us, estimates of our business potential, the present state of our development and other factors deemed relevant.

In the future, we will perform valuations of our stock (including both common stock and Preferred Stock) that take into account, as applicable, factors such as the following:

- unrelated third party valuations;
- the price at which we sell other securities in light of the relative rights, preferences and privileges of those securities;
- our results of operations, financial position and capital resources;
- current business conditions and projections;
- the marketability or lack thereof of the securities;
- the hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management;
- the introduction of new products;
- the risk inherent in the development and expansion of our products;
- our stage of development and material risks related to our business;
- the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a sale of our company given the prevailing market conditions and the nature and history of our business;
- industry trends and competitive environment;
- trends in consumer spending, including consumer confidence;
- overall economic indicators, including gross domestic product, employment, inflation and interest rates; and
- the general economic outlook.

We will analyze factors such as those described above using a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value. For example, we may use methodologies that assume that businesses operating in the same industry will share similar characteristics and that the Company's value will correlate to those characteristics, and/or methodologies that compare transactions in similar securities issued by us that were conducted in the market.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company, and thus be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Board Of Directors, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Board Of Directors of the Company.

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional issuances of securities. Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company. If the Board Of Directors of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Overview of the Business and Financial Condition

FutureNexus US Labs Inc. is a US AI-driven technology company that built NeigborDrop, a proximity marketplace platform connecting neighbors for hyperlocal errands, rides, and pickups within 100-1000 meters. The platform activates existing community movement instead of dispatching distant couriers, making local coordination seamless and affordable.

We are an early-stage company and have incurred operating losses and negative cash flows from operations since inception. We expect to continue to incur operating losses in the near term.

As of November 9, 2026, we had cash and cash equivalents of approximately $20,400.

Our ability to continue operations is dependent on managing our expenses and, if necessary, obtaining additional financing.

This discussion should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and related notes included in this offering statement.

Business and Operating Uncertainty

Our business operates in an environment subject to various risks, uncertainties, and changing conditions, which makes it difficult to evaluate our business, financial condition, and prospects and may limit the comparability of our results of operations from period to period.

Financial Condition

As of January 8, 2026, our total assets were $0 and our current and non-current liabilities, as reflected in available financial statement fields, were $148.

Our financial statements reflect an early-stage company with limited operating history. Investors should not place undue reliance on historical financial information given the company's limited operating history and the likelihood that future results will differ from historical results.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of January 8, 2026, we did not have any cash or cash equivalents on hand.

Based on our current operations, we have a monthly net cash burn of approximately $920.

Our monthly net cash burn or profit may vary significantly from month to month due to the timing of receipts and expenditures and other short-term factors. As a result, period-to-period comparisons may not be meaningful.

Based on our current plan, we do not expect to have sufficient cash to fund operations for at least the next 12 months. The main drivers of our limited runway include:

Cash runway depends on planned marketing and development spending, the timing of revenue generation, and whether additional financing is secured.

Our historical operations have been funded primarily through external financing.

Liquidity Assumptions

Our assessment of our liquidity and ability to fund operations is not a projection and is based on current assumptions regarding operating expenses, cash requirements, and capital needs. These assumptions may change, and actual results may differ materially due to changes in operating conditions, timing of receipts and payments, and other factors.

Dependence on Additional Financing

There can be no assurance that additional financing will be available on acceptable terms, or at all. If we are unable to raise additional capital when needed, we may be required to materially reduce or suspend operations.

Indebtedness and Capital Structure

As of the date of this offering statement, we did not have any outstanding indebtedness.

(For the avoidance of doubt, SAFEs are not treated as indebtedness.)

During the past three years, we have conducted exempt offerings, resulting in the issuance of securities in aggregate amounts of approximately $27,500.

Known Trends, Events, and Uncertainties

Management is not currently aware of any known trends, events, or uncertainties that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or results of operations over the next 12 months.

The absence of a discussion of any particular trend, event, or uncertainty should not be interpreted to mean that such matters do not exist; rather, it reflects management's judgment based on information currently available.

Changes Since the Date of the Financial Statements

Since January 8, 2026, there were material changes in our operations and financial condition, including the issuance of 6,400,000 common shares to Sunill Kumaar on July 29, 2026, and receipt of $27,500 in SAFE financing in November 2026.

Impact of This Offering

The proceeds from this offering are expected to be used for customer acquisition and neighborhood activation, product development and engineering, and operations, hosting, legal, accounting and compliance. The timing and extent of our use of proceeds will depend on the amount of proceeds raised and future operating conditions. Additional detail regarding our planned use of proceeds is provided in Item 10 of this Form C.

There can be no assurance that the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to fund our operations or achieve our business objectives.

Certain information relevant to understanding our financial condition and liquidity is presented elsewhere in this offering statement, including in the financial statements, related notes, and the sections describing indebtedness and prior financings.

Forward-Looking Statements

This discussion contains forward-looking statements that are based on management's current expectations and assumptions. Actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by these statements.

OTHER MATERIAL INFORMATION

31. In addition to the information expressly required to be included in this Form, include:

- (1) any other material information presented to investors; and
- (2) such further material information, if any, as may be necessary to make the required statements, in light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

The Lead Investor. As described above, each Investor that has entered into the Investor Agreement will grant a power of attorney to make voting decisions on behalf of that Investor to the Lead Investor (the "Proxy"). The Proxy is irrevocable unless and until a Successor Lead Investor takes the place of the Lead Investor, in which case, the Investor has a five (5) calendar day period to revoke the Proxy. Pursuant to the Proxy, the Lead Investor or his or her successor will make voting decisions and take any other actions in connection with the voting on Investors' behalf.

The Lead Investor is an individual that is chosen to act in the role of Lead Investor on behalf of Investors that have a Proxy in effect. The Lead Investor will be chosen by the Company and approved by Wefunder Inc. and the identity of the initial Lead Investor will be disclosed to Investors before Investors make a final investment decision to purchase the securities related to the Company.

The Lead Investor can quit at any time or can be removed by Wefunder Inc. for cause or pursuant to a vote of investors as detailed in the Lead Investor Agreement. In the event the Lead Investor quits or is removed, the Company will choose a Successor Lead Investor who must be approved by Wefunder Inc. The identity of the Successor Lead Investor will be disclosed to Investors, and those that have a Proxy in effect can choose to either leave such Proxy in place or revoke such Proxy during a 5-day period beginning with notice of the replacement of the Lead Investor.

The Lead Investor will not receive any compensation for his or her services to the SPV. The Lead Investor may receive compensation if, in the future, Wefunder Advisors LLC forms a fund ("Fund") for accredited investors for the purpose of investing in a non-Regulation Crowdfunding offering of the Company. In such circumstances, the Lead Investor may act as a portfolio manager for that Fund (and as a supervised person of Wefunder Advisors) and may be compensated through that role.

Although the Lead Investor may act in multiple roles with respect to the Company's offerings and may potentially be compensated for some of its services, the Lead Investor's goal is to maximize the value of the Company and therefore maximize the value of securities issued by or related to the Company. As a result, the Lead Investor's interests should always be aligned with those of Investors. It is, however, possible that in some limited circumstances the Lead Investor's interests could diverge from the interests of Investors, as discussed in section 8 above.

Investors that wish to purchase securities related to the Company through Wefunder Portal must agree to give the Proxy described above to the Lead Investor, provided that if the Lead Investor is replaced, the Investor will have a 5-day period during which he or she may revoke the Proxy. If the Proxy is not revoked during this 5-day period, it will remain in effect.

Tax Filings. In order to complete necessary tax filings, the SPV is required to include information about each investor who holds an interest in the SPV, including each investor's taxpayer identification number ("TIN") (e.g., social security number or employer identification number). To the extent they have not already done so, each investor will be required to provide their TIN within the earlier of (i) two (2) years of making their investment or (ii) twenty (20) days prior to the date of any distribution from the SPV. If an investor does not provide their TIN within this time, the SPV reserves the right to withhold from any proceeds otherwise payable to the Investor an amount necessary for the SPV to satisfy its tax withholding obligations as well as the SPV's reasonable estimation of any penalties that may be charged by the IRS or other relevant authority as a result of the investor's failure to provide their TIN. If applicable, the Company may also be required to pay Wefunder certain fees for the preparation of tax filings. Such fees and the Company's obligation to deliver required tax documents are further specified in the related Tax Services Agreement ("TSA").

Investors should carefully review the terms of the SPV Subscription Agreement for additional information about tax filings.

Potential Dissolution of the SPV. The Company has agreed that it will pay an administrative fee and / or certain tax fees to Wefunder, in addition to delivering required tax information in the manner prescribed by the TSA, where applicable. Failure to pay such fees or provide Wefunder with required tax information could result in the dissolution of the SPV (an "SPV Dissolution Event"). Subsequent to an SPV Dissolution Event, the securities held by the SPV would be distributed directly and proportionally to the individual investors. This could create administrative complexities, as investors would need to manage the securities themselves rather than having them held and administered by the SPV. Additionally, the unplanned distribution of securities may not align with investors' intended investment strategy or asset allocation.

Upon an SPV Dissolution Event, the Investor hereby consents to and agrees to accept direct assignment of the SPV's rights and obligations under any investment agreements between the SPV and the Company that is located in the Form C or C/A offering materials. The Investor acknowledges they will be bound by all terms and conditions of such agreements as if they were an original party thereto.
